NOTIFICATION.

The 30th November 1886.—The following draft of revised rules for the grant of leases of lands for tea cultivation in Julpigoree and Darjeeling, and of arable lands in the former district, is published for general information; and it is hereby notified that the draft will be taken into consideration by the Government of Bengal on the 15th January 1887. Any remarks and criticisms which may be made by any person with respect to the draft should be submitted to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Revenue Department before the date specified above.

P. NOLAN,
Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules for the grant of leases of waste lands for tea cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling.

THE following rules for the grant of leases for tea cultivation in the districts of Julpigoree and Darjeeling supersede all those previously passed:—

1. The lands that are generally available under these rules in the district of Julpigoree are the unsettled lands, excepting reserved forests, which lie within that tract of country, bounded on the north by Darjeeling and Bhootan, west by the Teesta river, south by the State of Cooch Behar, east by the Sunkos river. Any lots of waste land belonging to Government, lying in any other parts of the district of Julpigoree, and which are not reserved for other purposes, may also be made available for tea cultivation under these rules.

The lands that are generally available in the Darjeeling district lie in the Kalimpong or Daling sub-division of the district, east of the Teesta. They are in two blocks, bounded as follows:—

I.—North.—The Labah forest block.
South.—The Lehti, Noam, Pugo, and Mal forest blocks.
West.—The Jeet Chu.
East.—The Nim Chu to its junction with the Chu Chu, then the Chu Chu to a point about ¼ miles below Ambiokh, then a line northwards up to the Ambiokh forest block, and thence southward the boundary of the Dalingkote forest block and the Gooroobathan khas mehal: area about 19·95 square miles, II.—North.—The Mo forest block.

West.—The East Nar block.
South and South-west.—The Mochu, up its junction with the Khoomanee.
East.—The Khoomanee and Rougo forest block: area about 8·50 square miles.

2. The following lands will not ordinarily be available under these rules:—

(a).—Lands which, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, are held to constitute a reserve for the supply of timber, fuel, grazing, or any other article of general and public consumption.

(b).—Lands not included in the above category, but which now bear India-rubber trees or other valuable timber (such as sâl, khair, chelownee, sissoo, &c) in considerable quantities and in compact blocks or patches.

(c).—Lands in respect of which any person or persons, or any village community, possess rights of occupancy, or such other rights or privileges as render it impolitic or unadvisable to grant such lands to any other person or persons for the purpose of tea cultivation.

(d).—Lands lying within a distance of 60 feet on either side from the centre of any public road or thoroughfare: provided that such road or thoroughfare shall have been constructed, or shall be kept in repair, from public funds.

(e).—Lands which the Local Government may at any time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, expressly exempt from the operation of these rules.

3. Every person, company, or association, or promoter of a company or association, desirous of obtaining a grant of land under these rules, must in person, or by a duly authorized agent, present an application on stamped paper of the value of 8 annas to the Deputy Commissioner of the district in which the land lies.

4. The application must specify—

(a).- The name or names and address or addresses of the applicant or applicants, and of his or their authorized agent, if any.

(b).—The area, situation, and boundaries of the land applied for, as far as they can be ascertained without a detailed survey.

(c).—The particulars, if any, which may appear to the applicant to bring any part of the land applied for within the exceptions mentioned in Rule 2. The application must also state whether the land, or any part of it, is, or has ever been, cultivated in any manner.

As settled in 1883.

5. Every lot applied for must be compact and capable of being enclosed in a ring fence; and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage must not exceed one-half the breadth of the lot applied for.

6. Not more than 800 acres will ordinarily be granted to any one applicant, company, or association; and when more than 800 acres are applied for, the applicant must set forth specially the grounds for such application, and give primâ facie guarantees that he possesses the requisite capital for working such larger area.

The Deputy Commissioner may, when he has reason to believe it to be necessary, demand such a guarantee when the area applied for does not exceed 800 acres.

As proposed in 1886.

5. Every lot applied for must be compact and capable for being enclosed in a ring-fence; and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage must not exceed one-half the breadth of the lot applied for.

The exact boundaries will be settled by the Deputy Commissioner, who will decide the point on a consideration of what is best in the public interests.

6. Not more than 800 acres will ordinarily be granted to any one applicant, company, or association; and when more than 800 acres are applied for, the applicant must set forth specially the grounds for such application, and give primâ facie guarantees that he possesses the requisite capital for working such larger area.

The Deputy Commissioner may, when he has reason to believe it to be necessary, demand such a guarantee when the area applied for does not exceed 800 acres.

If, upon proceeding to survey and map out the grant, the Deputy Commissioner finds that it is desirable in the public interests, or for the sake of good boundaries, to include a larger area than 800 acres within the area to be granted on the application, it shall be in his discretion, with the sanction of the Commissioner, to grant to one applicant so much land, not exceeding 1,000 acres, as may be necessary to obtain good boundaries and to avoid waste, &c.

7. All applications for more than 800 acres will be forwarded by the Deputy Commissioner to the Commissioner, who, if he desires to recommend compliance therewith, will forward them to the Board of Revenue, who will take the orders of Government upon each case.

8. The holder of a grant of 800 acres shall not be debarred from applying for a second grant if he has complied with the clearance and other conditions of the preliminary lease in respect of the first grant. Tea lease-holders may obtain arable grants contiguous to their tea lots.

9. On receipt of an application for any area not exceeding 800 acres, the Deputy Commissioner must satisfy himself, as far as lies in his power, that the requirements of the rules have been complied with. If he considers that the application should be rejected, he will record an order to that effect, giving his reasons for such rejection. An appeal will lie from such order of rejection to the Commissioner of the division, if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order. If the Deputy Commissioner considers that an application for such area as it is within his power to grant should be entertained, or in the case of application for areas over 1,000 acres, when the orders of Government accepting the application are received, the applicant or his agent will be required to deposit the estimated cost of the enquiry referred to in the next rule, and the cost of survey and demarcation to be made as hereinafter provided. The amount to be so deposited must be calculated at one rupee per acre of the total area applied for. If the area is found to be greater, the sum of one rupee per acre must be paid on account of such excess area before a preliminary lease is granted.

Payments under this rule do not cover the cost of erecting permanent boundary marks under Rule 24.

In the event of the applicant withdrawing his application before any enquiry has been made under Rule 10, or in the event of its being found that the land has been previously applied for, the applicant shall be entitled to a refund of the survey fee paid by him.

If the cost of survey is not paid within one month of demand, the application may be struck off.

10. On receipt of the sum payable under the preceding rule, and of an agreement signed by the applicant, or by his authorized agent, to pay such further sum as may be required for the purposes above mentioned, the Deputy Commissioner will record an order appointing a tehsildar or other officer to visit the land, and to make full and detailed enquiries into its condition and circumstances.

11. The general object of such enquiry shall be to ascertain whether or not the land applied for can be granted under the rules in force; but the Deputy Commissioner may instruct the officer making the enquiry to furnish him with such other specific and detailed information as may seem to him to be necessary.

12. On completion of this enquiry, the officer making it will record the result thereof, and submit a report for the orders of the Deputy Commissioner. If the Deputy Commissioner, after considering the report, and after calling for such further explanations, oral or written, as he may deem necessary, shall be of opinion that the land applied for cannot be granted under the rules, and should not therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect. An appeal will lie from such order to the Commissioner of the division if preferred within 30 days from the date of the order.

13. If the Deputy Commissioner decides that the land applied for can be granted under the rules, and should therefore be surveyed, he will record an order to that effect.

14. The Deputy Commissioner shall at once send a copy of any order passed under Rule 13 to the Conservator of Forests, in order that an estimate may be made by the Forest Department of the value of any forest trees standing on the land. The Conservator of Forests will depute an officer to examine the land, and make a detailed report suggesting the average rate per acre at which payment should be made for such trees. Such officer, in valuing the timber, shall have regard to its present market value on the spot, and to the local circumstances of the case, the accessibility of the grant, and the prospect of markets for timber becoming available during the currency of the lease. The Conservator will carefully examine the report, and forward it to the Deputy Commissioner with such remarks and alterations as he may think necessary. If the Deputy Commissioner, on receipt of the Conservator's decision, sees reason to object to the proposed rate per acre, he may refer the matter to the Commissioner, who shall take the orders of the Board of Revenue and of Government on any point on which he and the Conservator may eventually differ.

15. If the Deputy Commissioner finds the land, or any part of it, in the occupation of any person or persons or of any village community, he will submit a full report of the circumstances for the orders of the Commissioner, stating in detail how he proposes to deal with such prior occupants; and if it is proposed to remove them, the compensation, if any, which the applicant undertakes to pay to such persons. If the Deputy Commissioner declines to propose the removal of such occupants, an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner within thirty days after the record of an order by the Deputy Commissioner declining to propose the removal. The Commissioner will report his orders in all such cases for the information of the Board of Revenue

16. If any claim or objection be preferred under Act XXIII of 1863, the Deputy Commissioner will proceed to dispose of the same in accordance with the provisions of that Act.

17. The officer who made the enquiry provided for by Rules 10 to 12 will, on receipt of an order to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner, proceed to point out to the surveyor the boundaries of the land applied for, and such prominent features in it as may be useful for the purposes of the survey, and which should, in his opinion, be entered in the preliminary lease as hereinafter provided. The boundaries and other features above mentioned should be clearly marked and defined by the officer in presence of the surveyor, and the latter should be furnished with a list of them signed by the said officer.

As settled in 1883

18. The surveyor will then proceed to make the survey and put up such temporary boundary marks as are necessary for that purpose. He must prepare a map showing—

(a).—All natural features of the country lying within the boundaries as fixed by the officer who made the enquiry under Rules 10 to 12, e.g., bheels, streams, forest clumps, &c.

(b).—Such features of the country lying outside the boundary of the land to be surveyed as may serve to identify the latter and connect it with the revenue survey or other existing map.

The surveyor is bound to bring to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner any fact which may come to his knowledge in the course of the survey, rendering it advisable that the land he is surveying should not be granted under these rules.

As proposed in 1886.

18. The surveyor will then proceed to make the survey and put up such temporary boundary marks as are necessary for that purpose He must prepare a map showing—

(a).—All natural features of the country lying within the boundaries as fixed by the officer who made the enquiry under Rules 10 to 12, e.g., bheels, streams, forest clumps, &c.

(b).—Such features of the country lying outside the boundary of the land to be surveyed as may serve to identify the latter and connect it with the revenue survey or other existing map.

(c).—The total area within the boundaries after deductions of areas for roads or other Government reserves, jotes, &c., and the net area of the grant.

(d).—Points at which permanent or other marks should be erected by the lessee.

The surveyor is bound to bring to the notice of the Deputy Commissioner any fact which may come to his knowledge in the course of the survey, rendering it advisable that the land he is surveying should not be granted under these rules. He is particularly bound to bring to notice any need for public roads across the lands he surveys, and if the Deputy Commissioner concurs with the surveyor in this matter, the road or roads should be marked off on the ground and on the map, and the area to be occupied thereby should be deducted from the rent-paying area of the grant.

19. The map should ordinarily be on a scale of 16 inches to the mile. If possible, the surveyor's field book should be copied at the back of it If not, a copy of the field-book should be attached to or accompany the map. If the map be made originally in the vernacular, the Deputy Commissioner will cause it to be translated into English.

20. On the map being completed, it must be checked by an officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. If found to be incorrect, it will be amended by the surveyor in conjunction with the officer above mentioned. If found to be correct, it will be laid before the Deputy Commissioner with the report of the officer who made the preliminary enquiry under Rules 10 to 12, and with all other papers connected with the case.

21. The Deputy Commissioner will then proceed to consider the application. A date for this purpose must be previously fixed by him, and due notice of it given to the applicant or to his authorized agent.

22. The Deputy Commissioner shall have power to reject an application at any stage of the proceedings under the rules, if he sees reason to do so, refunding in such case to the applicant the deposit made by him on account of survey, minus such an amount as it may seem to the Deputy Commissioner fair to retain in consideration of the expenses incurred. If, however, the application is rejected for a reason which could not reasonably be anticipated under these rules, no portion of the deposit money shall be retained. He is authorized to reject an application when he does not consider that there is a bonâ fide intention on the part of the applicant to cultivate in tea the land applied for, or when it appears desirable to reserve the land for cultivation other than tea, or to preserve any forest standing on it. An appeal against every such order of rejection shall lie to the Commissioner of the division, if preferred within thirty days of the date of the order.

As settled in 1883.

23. If the Deputy Commissioner grant the application, he will without delay grant the applicant a lease in form G of the appendix, and call upon him to execute a counterpart thereof, which must be registered, and to pay for forest trees the sum assessed under Rule 14. Payment for these may be made by instalments with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which will only be given when the Board is fully satisfied of the good faith and solvency of the applicant. In such case the dates and amounts of the instalments shall be endorsed upon the lease, and the lessee must covenant that, in the event of his throwing up his lease, all outstanding instalments shall be forthwith recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not; but he shall have no further right to fell or remove timber from the grant. When granting the lease, the Deputy Commissioner will also direct the lessee to mark out the land leased by a continuous trench, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. Within three months of the grant of such lease the lessee must, on pain of forfeiture of all rights in the land leased, mark out the land as above directed, and must further erect, at his own expense, such permanent boundary* marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct. On the expiry of the three months, the surveyor must test the correctness of the boundary line and permanent marks, and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative by written notice any corrections that may be required. If the corrections indicated are not made by the lessee or his representative within thirty days of the receipt of such notice, all rights in the land shall be liable to forfeiture to Government.

* These boundary marks shall ordinarily consist of a masonry platform at every point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other lands meet, with large stones or mounds at every angle and at every 100 yards of boundary line between such platforms and other marks.

24. Whenever, after receipt of an application, as provided for in Rule 3, and after making such enquiries as he may deem necessary, the Deputy Commissioner shall be of opinion that there is no primâ facie objection whatever to the grant under the rules of the land applied for, he may put the

As proposed in 1886.

23. If the Deputy Commissioner grant the application, he will without delay grant the applicant a lease in form G of the appendix, and call upon him to execute a counterpart thereof, which must be registered, and to pay for forest trees the sum assessed under Rule 14. Payment for these may be made by instalments with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, which will only be given when the Board is fully satisfied of the good faith and solvency of the applicant. In such case the dates and amounts of the instalments shall be endorsed upon the lease and the lessee must covenant that, in the event of his throwing up his lease, all outstanding instalments shall be forthwith recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not; but he shall have no further right to fell or remove timber from the grant.

24. When granting the lease the Deputy Commissioner shall also direct the lessee to mark out the land leased, within three months of the granting of the lease, by a continuous trench, or by clearing the jungle for a breadth of at least twelve feet along the boundaries, or in such other manner as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and by erecting boundary marks at the points indicated on the map.

These boundary marks may be of masonry, or of stone, or hollow iron telegraph posts filled with clay or shingle, as the Deputy Commissioner may direct; and he will decide on their shape and dimensions.

25. On the expiry of the three months, the surveyor shall test the correctness of the boundary lines and ascertain if the boundary marks have been erected and in their proper places, and report the result to the Deputy Commissioner, at the same time pointing out to the lessee or his representative, by written notice, any mistakes or omissions that may be found. If the mistakes or omissions are not rectified or supplied by the lessee or his representative within thirty days of the receipt of such notice, the lessee or his representative shall be liable to a fine, not exceeding Rs. 50 per day, from the date of the expiry of such notice till the requirements of the notice have been complied with. If at the expiration of thirty more days the mistakes and omissions are not rectified, the lessee's rights in the land will be liable to forfeiture.

26. Fines, cost of notices served, of clearing boundaries, of erecting or repairing boundary marks, or any other money that may become due from lessees to Government, shall be deemed to be a demand under the Bengal Council Act VII of 1880, or any other law that may be in force at the time, and shall be recoverable as such

27. Whenever, after receipt of an application, as provided for in Rule 3, and after making such enquiries as he may deem necessary, the Deputy Commissioner shall be of opinion that there is no primâ facie objection whatever to the grant under the rules of the land applied for, he may put the applicant in preliminary and provisional possession of an area not exceeding one-eighth of the estimated area of the land applied for, with the object of enabling the applicant to make preparations for commencing cultivation and getting the land in order: provided that the applicant, before obtaining such preliminary possession, shall have erected such boundary marks as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and that the amount of all estimated charges incurred in connection with such preliminary occupation shall have been deposited by the applicant: provided further that the applicant shall engage in writing to pay the cost of any trees felled, at such rate as may be determined by the Forest Department after inspection of the land under rule 14.

25. The order for, and conditions of, such preliminary occupation shall be in the form H in the appendix, and shall be addressed to the tehsildar or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the applicant, who shall, after receipt of occupation, acknowledge such receipt by signing a copy of the order and depositing it with the Deputy Commissioner.

26. If after the survey an applicant shall fail to comply with any request of the Deputy Commissioner made in accordance with the rules, or fail to deposit any sums of money for which the applicant is liable under them, within two months, the application may be struck off

27. Grantees are not permitted to club or amalgamate their grants otherwise than by transfers duly registered, as provided for in the preliminary lease. Any unauthorized amalgamation will subject the holders of the grants in question to forfeiture of all rights in the lands so amalgamated.

28. In the event of the amalgamation of two separate grants held by two different lessees for the purpose of forming an association, the fee of two annas per acre, prescribed under the conditions of the lease for registry of the transfer, shall be levied on the aggregate area of both grants.

As proposed in 1886.

applicant in preliminary and provisional possession of an area not exceeding one-eighth of the estimated area of the land applied for, with the object of enabling the applicant to make preparations for commencing cultivation and getting the land in order: provided that the applicant, before obtaining such preliminary possession, shall have cleared the boundaries, and erected such temporary boundary marks round the whole of the area applied for as the Deputy Commissioner may direct, and that the amount of all estimated charges incurred in connection with such preliminary occupation shall have been deposited by the applicant: provided further that the applicant shall engage in writing to pay the cost of any trees felled, at such rate as may be determined by the Forest Department after inspection of the land under Rule 14; and provided further that the applicant shall take on himself all risk of loss occasioned by other claims being preferred to the land, or by his application being eventually rejected, or from any other cause whatsoever.

28 The order for, and conditions of, such preliminary occupation shall be in the form H in the appendix, and shall be addressed to the tehsildar or other officer appointed by the Deputy Commissioner. A copy of the order shall be delivered to the applicant at the time of giving preliminary possession by the officer who gives it, the officer signing and dating it then and there. The original order addressed to the tehsildar or other officer shall be signed by the applicant on the date he receives it in acknowledgment thereof, and the tehsildar or other officer shall forward such original order, with his report written on the back of it, to the Deputy Commissioner, for record in his office.

29. If any transfer of an application for land is desired before the grant of the preliminary lease, and if such a transfer is allowed,* it must be registered within twenty-one days of the issue of the order allowing the transfer, and a registration fee of two annas an acre must be paid.

30. If after the survey an applicant shall fail to comply with any request of the Deputy Commissioner made in accordance with the rules, or fail to deposit any sums of money for which the applicant is liable under them, within two months, the application may be struck off.

31. Grantees are not permitted to club or amalgamate their grants otherwise than by sanctioned transfers duly registered, as provided for in the preliminary lease. Any unauthorized amalgamation will subject the holders of the grants in question to forfeiture of all rights in the lands so amalgamated.

32. In the event of the amalgamation of two separate grants held by two different lessees for the purpose of forming an association, or for any other purpose, the fee of two annas per acre, prescribed under the conditions of the lease for registry of the transfer, shall be levied on the aggregate area of both grants.

33. The lessee shall maintain the boundaries of the grant clear of jungle, and all the boundary marks in good repair Where roads (kept clear of jungle) or streams do not form the boundaries, the lessee shall clear the boundaries of jungle at least once a year not later than the end of February in each year.

* No transfer will be allowed, for instance, when the proposed transferee already holds a Tea Lease Grant, 15 per cent. of the area of which does not yet contain growing tea-plants.

As settled in 1883.

29. The Deputy Commissioner should annually, or as often as possible, himself inspect, or cause to be inspected, the boundary lines and permanent marks referred to in Rule 23, and should he find any out of order, shall by letter instruct the lessee or his representative to place the same in order, and failing his doing so within thirty days of the receipt of the said letter, shall cause the same to be put in order, and shall recover from the lessee or his representative the cost of doing so, if need be, under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

FORM OF PRELIMINARY LEASES FOR TEA CULTIVATION TO CAPITALISTS IN THE DISTRICTS OF JULPIGOREE AND DARJEELING.

Form of Preliminary Lease of land in granted by the Deputy Commissioner of to (name) of (address).

1. The lands covered by this lease are situated within the boundaries shown by the red lines in map No. , dated , and attached to the lease. The lands may be described as being bounded as follows:—

North.—

East.—

South.—

West.—

Their area is more or less acres, and they are situated in the pergunnahs and tehsils detailed in the margin.

If the lessee is found by survey or otherwise to be in possession of land in excess of the acreage herein declared, he shall pay rent for such excess land within or without the boundaries above described from the date of occupation at the rates entered in clause 3.

In case of dispute the date of occupation will be settled by the Deputy Commissioner, subject to an appeal, to be preferred within thirty days, to the Commissioner.

As proposed in 1886.

34. The Deputy Commissioner should annually, or as often as possible, himself inspect, or cause to be inspected, the boundary lines and permanent marks referred to in Rule 24, and should he find any out of order, shall by letter instruct the lessee or his representative to place the same in order, and failing his doing so within thirty days of the receipt of the said letter, shall cause the same to be put in order, and shall recover from the lessee or his representative the cost of doing so, if need be, under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

35. If the lessee is at any time found, by survey or otherwise, to be in possession of land in excess of the acreage for which he has paid rent, he shall pay rent at the rates payable by him for the grant itself for such excess land, whether it be within or without the boundaries described in the lease or map, from one year after the date he received possession (preliminary or otherwise) of the grant, or any portion of it, unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner that no possession of the excess land was taken until after the grant of the renewed lease, in which case rent shall be payable from the date of the expiration of the preliminary lease. Provided that such unauthorized occupation of excess land, and payment of rent for it, shall give the trespasser no right to continued occupation, and the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled, if he thinks fit to do so, to recover possession of the excess lands.

FORM OF PRELIMINARY LEASES FOR TEA CULTIVATION TO CAPITALISTS IN THE DISTRICTS OF JULPIGOREE AND DARJEELING.

As settled in 1883.

2. The rights conveyed by this lease are heritable and also transferable: provided (a) that the entire grant, and not a portion of it, be transferred; (b) that the clearance conditions are duly observed by the transferrer and transferree respectively; (c) that the transfer is registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office within twenty-one days of the date thereof; and (d) that a registration fee of two annas per acre be paid to the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion of every such transfer. If any transfer of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions, all rights in the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government. After the expiry of this preliminary lease, no right shall be claimed otherwise than as expressly provided for hereinafter.*

As proposed in 1886.

2. The rights conveyed by this lease are heritable and also transferable: provided (a) that the entire grant, and not a portion of it, be transferred; (b) that the clearance conditions are duly observed by the trasferrer and transferree respectively; (c) that the transfer is registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office within twenty-one days of the date thereof, or within three months if the deed be executed out of India; and (d) that a registration fee of two annas per acre be paid to the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion of every such transfer. If any transfer of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions and the rules,† all rights in the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government. If any transfer not registered within the prescribed time is allowed by the Deputy Commissioner, a fine for the delay in registration, not exceeding one anna for every acre for every month of such delay, or any lesser sum, shall be payable* by the transferree at the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner.

After the expiry of this preliminary lease, no right shall be claimed otherwise than as expressly provided for hereinafter.

3. The rent to be paid shall be as follows:—

Year of entry (i.e. from actual date of entry to 31st March following)	...	Nil.
1*st* full year (from 1st April following date of entry)	...	Nil.
2*nd* year	...	3 annas per acre.
3*rd* „	...	6 „ „
4*th* „	...	9 „ „
5*th* „	...	12 „ „

In Julpigoree.

The rent shall be paid to the tehsildar of or other officer appointed by Government in the following instalments:—

1st September	...	One-half.
1st March	...	„

In Darjeeling.

The rent shall be paid to the Deputy Commissioner in the following instalments:—

On or before 28th June	...	One-half.
„ „ 12th January	...	„

4. The lessee shall either himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease, or he shall appoint a manager or agent who shall reside on or near to such lands, and who shall be provided with a full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of or concerning the lands covered by the lease.

5. The lessee binds himself to conform to all the provisions of the rules for the grant of tea leases under which this lease is granted.

* NOTE.—A shareholder in a registered Joint-Stock Company may transfer his shares, or any part of them, without registering the transfer or paying any fee under this rule. A partner in any other form of company or association may transfer his interest, or any part of it, but in that case the transfer must be registered under this rule, and a fee paid which shall bear to the maximum fee payable on transfer of the entire grant the ratio that the interest transferred bears to the sum of all the interests of the partners in the grant.

† For instance, a transfer to the holder of a tea lease for another grant of 500 acres, fifteen per cent. of which is not under tea plants, would be a violation of Rules 7 and 8.

6. Five per cent. of the area of the land leased shall be cleared by the end of the second year after the grant of this lease, and 10 per cent. by the end of the third year

7. Any land covered by the lease which may at any time be required for a public purpose may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease, proportionate to the area taken by Government for the class of land taken. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

8. All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government, together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals.

9. No right of fishery, and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream, is given by this lease. A public right of way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, however much the bank may shift by action of the stream or otherwise, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved.

Public access shall be allowed at all times to any springs of water on the lands leased, whenever such access is, in the opinion of the Deputy Commissioner, necessary for the convenient supply of good water to persons residing in the vicinity; and the lessee is bound not to injure the springs, or allow others to do so.

10. Standing timber must be paid for at the average rate per acre intimated to the lessees by the Deputy Commissioner before possession is given under this lease, unless, with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, payment by instalments has been allowed. In the latter case, payment must be made according to the schedule of instalments endorsed upon the lease. In the event of the lessee throwing up the lease while any instalments due to Government on account of timber are unpaid, the lessee hereby agrees that all such instalments shall forthwith become due and be recoverable from him under the Public Demands Recovery Act, 1880, whether all the timber on the grant has been cut by him or not. But he shall have no right of any kind over any timber on the grant, cut or uncut, after the date of his so throwing up the lease.

11 Whenever on an inspection being made the boundary lines and marks referred to in Rule 23 are found to be out of order, the lessee shall be bound to put them in order at his own expense on receipt of a requisition to that effect from the Deputy Commissioner. Should the lessee fail to do so within thirty days from the receipt of the requisition, the Deputy Commissioner shall cause it to be done, and if the lessee fails to pay, the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled to recover from the lessee, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, all costs incurred in doing so.

12 The lessee shall be bound to furnish the Deputy Commissioner with information as to the births and deaths of residents in his tea garden, and as to progress and outturn thereof, in such form as may be approved by Government.

13 After the expiration of the second, third, and fifth year of the lease, the Deputy Commissioner, or any officer appointed by him, shall enter on, inspect, and measure the areas cleared and under cultivation, and the lessee may at any time demand that such inspection and measurement be made. The expenses of any such inspections and measurements as are made before the due date on demand of the lessee (but of no others) shall be paid by the lessee as rent due. The Deputy Commissioner may at other times enter on, inspect, and measure the area under cultivation. If on any inspection being made during the first five years of this lease, or if on the first inspection being made after the five years, it is found that 15 per cent. of the total area held under the lease has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and actually bears tea plants, the lessee shall be entitled to the renewal of the lease for a further period of thirty years, and to renewals for similar periods in perpetuity, subject to the rules and the terms and conditions of renewed leases.

14. If, by the end of the fifth year after the grant of this preliminary lease, less than 15 per cent. of the total area held under it has been brought under cultivation by means of good husbandry, and less than 15 per cent. actually bears tea plants, the land may be resumed, or on the application in writing of the lessee, he may be allowed to hold on from year to year as a tenant-at-will for three more years, if he agrees in writing to pay rent at double the rates for which he would have been liable if he had complied with the condition about bringing 15 per cent. under tea cultivation. On the application of the lessee an inspection and measurement shall be made as soon as convenient after the expiration of any one of the three years, and the Deputy Commissioner may make such inspection and measurement of his own accord after the expiration of the third year. If after any such inspection and measurement it is found that 15 per cent. of the area bears tea plants, a renewed lease shall be granted on the terms that would have been in force if the condition had been complied with by the end of the fifth year. At the expiration of the three years all rights in the lands leased will lapse to Government, if 15 per cent. of the area does not then bear tea plants. The cost of all inspections and measurements made during the three years' grace shall be paid by the lessee.

15. All expenses connected with inspections and measurements, for which the lessee is liable under these rules, shall be recoverable under the Public Demands Recovery Act.

16. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

TEA LEASE RULES.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF RENEWED LEASES

1. Subject to any general or special orders of Government, the rent to be paid on the renewal of the lease for a term of thirty years shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner on each occasion of renewal, but shall not exceed the rate* of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time of renewal for the highest class of lands under ordinary cultivation.

Provided that in no case shall the total rent payable under the renewed lease be less than twelve annas an acre on the entire area of the land leased

If at any future time the administration of the tracts under tea cultivation should entail on the State any considerable increase of expenditure, it will be competent to the Government, with the sanction of the legislature, to impose such special taxation as may be deemed necessary, either by raising the rent or in some other mode. But under no other circumstances will the rent, which has been fixed for a term of years on the principle above enunciated, be raised during the currency of such term.

Lands actually planted with tea in the Dooars will for the present be assessed at the rate fixed for roopit land in the pergunnah wherein they lie. Waste lands will be assessed at six annas an acre in all pergunnahs, and the rest of the lands in each grant will pay the pergunnah rate of bastoo, bamboo, roopit, and faringhatta according to the area of the land answering to each of these descriptions that may be found in the grant.

In the case of the tract of Daling transferred to the Julpigoree district by Government notification, dated 9th January 1882, the rates to be imposed will, for the present, be those paid for similar lands in the adjoining pergunnah of the Dooars, on the principle just stated, waste lands paying six annas an acre.

The rate to be charged for the present in the case of lands in the Darjeeling hills is a single uniform rate of one rupee an acre for all the lands in the grant.

2. Where half the area of the grant has not been brought under cultivation during the term of the preliminary lease, as required by that lease, the renewed lease shall ordinarily include an area of waste land equal to the extent of land brought under cultivation during the currency of the preliminary lease It will be in the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner, subject to the supervision of the Commissioner, to grant or refuse renewal of the lease in such cases, and also to include, if necessary, a larger area of waste, so as to make the grant under the renewed lease equal to the whole area granted under the preliminary lease. In the exercise of this discretion, the Deputy Commissioner should be guided by the consideration whether the excess waste is likely to be separately taken up by other applicants or

* The rates per acre paid at present in the Western Dooars of Julpigoree are as follows:—

DESCRIPTION OF SOIL.	In Amlaree, Falimcottah, Cheugmaree, Moraghat, and North Mynagoree.	In Lukheepore and West Madaree.	In East Madaree and Chukwakatee.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.

not If it is likely to be so taken up, he should settle it separately; if it is likely to remain on the hands of Government, he should include it in the new lease.

3. When extra waste land is included in the lease under these orders, such portion of it as ought to have been brought under cultivation during the preliminary lease will be assessed at the rate prescribed for cultivated land, and not at the rate of waste land.

4. The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable, provided that the prior sanction of the Commissioner of the division be procured to the transfer of any portion of the grant less than the whole, and that no transfer shall be valid as against the Government, but shall, on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given by the transferree to the Deputy Commissioner within twenty-one days of the date thereof, or within three months if the deed be executed out of India, together with a registration fee of two annas per acre of the area leased.

5. In other respects the condition of the renewed lease will be the same as those of clauses 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 11, 12, and 16 of the preliminary lease

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF ORDINARY LEASES OF ARABLE LAND IN THE WESTERN DOOARS.

PART I.

What lands will ordinarily be available.

1. The lands that will be generally available under these rules lie within that tract of country in the Western Dooars which extends in an easterly direction from the east bank of the river Teesta to the west bank of the river Sankos.

What lands will not ordinarily be available.

2. The following lands will not ordinarily be available under these rules:—

(a). Lands which by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette are held to constitute a reserve for the supply of timber, fuel, grazing, or any other article of general and public consumption.

(b). Lands not included in the above category, but which now bear India-rubber trees or other valuable timber (such as sâl, khair, chelownee, sissoo, &c.), in considerable quantities in compact blocks or patches.

(c). Lands in respect of which any person or persons or any village community possess rights of occupancy, or such other rights or privileges as would, in the opinion of the Local Government, render it impolitic or unadvisable to grant such lands to any other person or persons.

(d). Lands lying within a distance of 60 feet on either side from the centre of any public road or thoroughfare, provided that such road or thoroughfare shall have been constructed or shall be kept in repair from public funds.

(e). Lands which the Local Government may at any time, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, expressly exempt from the operation of these rules.

How and to whom application is to be made.

3. Every person desirous of obtaining a grant of land under these rules shall, in person, present an application on stamped paper of the value of eight annas to the tehsildar of the tehsil in which the land lies.

What the application is to specify

4. The application shall specify—

(a) The name, father's name, and address of the applicant.

(b) The area, situation, and boundaries of the land applied for, as far as they can be ascertained without a detailed survey.

(c) A statement of the particulars, if any, which may appear to the applicant to bring the land applied for, or any part of it, within the exceptions mentioned in rule 2. The application shall also state whether the land or any part of it is, or has ever been, cultivated in any manner.

5. Every lot applied for shall be compact and capable of being enclosed in a ring-fence; and if any part of the land touches on a public road or navigable river, the length of such road or river frontage shall not exceed one-half the breadth of the lot applied for.

As settled in 1883.

6. No application in respect of an area greater than 200 acres or less than 10 acres, and not more than this quantity of land, shall be granted under these rules to any one lessee. The Deputy Commissioner may, with the sanction of the Commissioner, grant a larger area than 200 acres, except in cases coming under clause 13 of the Preliminary Lease. In every case it shall be the duty of the tehsildar to satisfy himself that the applicant is possessed of sufficient means to cultivate the area applied for. Should the tehsildar be of opinion that a smaller area than that applied for should be granted, he will refer the point to the Deputy Commissioner for final orders.

As proposed in 1886.

6. No application for an area exceeding 200 acres or less than 10 acres shall be registered, nor shall a larger area than 200 acres be granted to any one lessee without the previous sanction of the Commissioner. In every case it shall be the duty of the tehsildar to satisfy himself that the applicant is possessed of sufficient means to cultivate the area applied for. Should the tehsildar be of opinion that a smaller area than that applied for should be granted, he will refer the point to the Deputy Commissioner for final orders.

7. The tehsildar shall require the applicant to pay in a sum of three annas an acre on the area applied for to cover cost of survey and enquiry. No further sum shall be required except the actual cost of the work described in Rule 9, and no refund will be made.

8. The tehsildar shall then in person, or by an ameen, inspect the land and ascertain whether it is khas land and available under the above rules; and if it appear to be so, the ameen shall proceed to lay down the boundary and make a survey as follows.

9. The ameen shall fix the boundary, in accordance with the Rules 5 and 6, as indicated by the applicant, and shall then clear it from end to end, and afterwards survey it with compass and chain, placing mounds of earth or stone not less than waist-high at every angle and at every point where more than two lots or patches of waste or other properties meet. One mound shall be not less than six feet high, and shall be marked on the map as the base mark, two bearings of which, or bearing and distance of which from good points of reference, shall be recorded on the map.

10. The ameen shall prepare a map which shall show—

(a) All natural features of the country lying within or on the boundaries fixed, such as streams, or the edge of forests, and also public pathways.

(b) Such features of the country lying outside the boundary as may serve to identify the land and connect it with the revenue survey or with any other map made of other lands in the neighbourhood.

11. The map shall ordinarily be on the scale of 16 inches to the mile. If possible, the field-book shall be copied on the back of it If not, a copy of the field-book shall be attached to or accompany the map. In submitting his report, the ameen shall state whether he had a clear line for his compass from end to end of the boundary, and whether the mounds are erected as ordered.

12. The tehsildar shall then report the case to the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Divisional Officer according to the tehsil in which the land lies, stating whether he is satisfied that the ameen's work has been properly done, and giving any further information which may be required.

13. The Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Divisional Officer aforesaid shall consider the report, and finally pass orders granting or refusing a lease.

14. The order on the case and on any objection decided on by the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Divisional Officer shall be appealable to the Commissioner within one month.

15. On receipt of an order to grant a lease, the tehsildar shall deliver to the applicant a preliminary lease in the form annexed, signed by the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Divisional Officer as aforesaid, together with a copy of the map, and shall place him in possession by planting a bamboo or in any other way locally acknowledged, and shall report delivery and registration of the tenant in a separate register of preliminary leaseholders.

As settled in 1883.

16. The Deputy Commissioner may in special cases of leases of 200 acres or less, and in all cases of leases of greater area, alter the terms of the lease so as to allow a lessee to manage his land by an authorised agent. In such case the agent must reside on or near to the land, and be provided with full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of the land.

As proposed in 1886.

16. The Deputy Commissioner may, in special cases of leases of 200 acres or less, and in all cases of greater area, alter the terms of the lease so as to allow a lessee to manage his land by an authorised agent. In such case the agent must reside on or near to the land, and be provided with full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of the land.

17. If the lessee is at any time found by survey or otherwise to be in possession of land in excess of the acreage for which he has paid rent, he shall pay rent at the rates payable by him for the grant itself for such excess land, whether it be within or without the boundaries described in the lease or map, from one year after the date he received possession (preliminary or otherwise) of the grant, or any portion of it, unless it is established to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner that no possession of the excess land was taken until after the grant of the renewed lease, in which case rent shall be payable from the date of the expiration of the preliminary lease. Provided that such unauthorised occupation of excess land and payment of rent for it shall give the trespasser no right to continued occupation, and the Deputy Commissioner shall be entitled, if he thinks fit to do so, to recover possession of the excess land.

18. If any transfer of an application for land is desired before the grant of the preliminary lease, and if such a transfer is allowed,* it must be registered within twenty-one days of the issue of the order allowing the transfer, and a registration fee of two annas an acre must be paid.

Draft form of preliminary lease of arable land in the Western Dooars.

1. A preliminary lease for five entire years of land in , granted by the of to of

The rent shall be paid to the tehsildar of in the following instalments:—

3. The lessee shall himself reside on or near the lands covered by the lease. He shall keep all boundary lines or marks in good order and repair and clear off jungle, and shall, within one year from the date of this preliminary lease, make such continuous boundary mark as he shall be required to do by a written order. If he fail to do so, the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Divisional Officer may cause the boundary to be made, and recover the cost thereof as an arrear of rent, or he may call on the lessee to make it within a specified time on pain of forfeiture of the lease.

3. The lessee shall himself reside on or near the lands covered by the lease. He shall keep all boundary lines or marks in good order and repair and clear off jungle, to the satisfaction of the Deputy Commissioner, and shall, within one year from the date of this preliminary lease, make such continuous boundary mark as he shall be required to do by a written order. If he fail to do so, the Deputy Commissioner or Sub-Divisional Officer may cause the boundary to be made, and recover the cost thereof as an arrear of rent, or he may call on the lessee to make it within a specified time on pain of forfeiture of the lease.

4. Any land covered by the lease which may at any time be required for a public purpose may be taken up by Government free of cost on a reduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of land for public purposes.

5 All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government, together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting, and carrying away such minerals.

As settled in 1883.

6. No right of fishery and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any stream is given by this lease. A public right-of-way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved. Public access shall be allowed at all times to any springs of water on the lands leased.

As proposed in 1886.

6. No right of fishery and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any streams is given by this lease. A public right-of-way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved. Public access shall be allowed at all times to any springs of water on the lands leased, whenever such access is, in the opinion of the tehsildar or the Deputy Commissioner, necessary for the convenient supply of good water to person residing in the vicinity.

7. All sissoo, sâl, and chelownee trees of a girth of over three feet at a distance of three feet from the ground, and all such khair trees as may be fit to cut are to be paid for by the lessee at the rates at which they may be valued by the Forest Department. All other trees may be disposed of by the lessee. The four kinds of trees above specified shall be counted and paid for previous to possession being given.

8. The Deputy Commissioner may at any time, and shall as soon as possible after the expiration of the lease, enter on, inspect, or measure the area under cultivation, and the lessee may at any time demand that such measurement be made. Provided that the expenses of any such inspection or measurement demanded by the lessee shall be paid by him as rent due. If after such inspection by any officer deputed for the purpose it shall appear that one-half of the total area held under the lease is occupied by homesteads or is cultivated, or left fallow, according to good husbandry or otherwise fairly turned to account for agricultural purposes, the lessee shall be entitled to renewal of this lease for such further period as shall coincide with the termination of the settlement period then current, and thereafter to renewal for the period of each fresh settlement of the taluk, subject always to the following conditions:—

8. The Deputy Commissioner may at any time, and shall as soon as possible after the expiration of the lease, enter on, inspect, or measure the area under cultivation, and the lessee may at any time demand that such measurement be made. Provided that the cost of any such inspection or measurement as may be made before the expiration of the lease on demand of the lessee shall be paid by him as rent due. If after such inspection by any officer deputed for the purpose it shall appear that one-half of the total area held under the lease is occupied by homesteads or is cultivated, or left fallow, according to good husbandry or otherwise fairly turned to account for agricultural purposes, the lessee shall be entitled to renewal of this lease for such further period as shall coincide with the termination of the settlement period then current, and thereafter to renewal for the period of each fresh settlement of the taluk, subject always to the following conditions:—

(a) The rent to be paid shall be fixed by the Deputy Commissioner on the order of Government on each occasion of renewal, but without the special order of Government shall not exceed double the rent previously paid.

(b) The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable, provided that no transfer shall be made of less than the whole, and that no transfer shall be valid as against the Government, but shall, on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given by the transferee to the Deputy Commissioner at the time of transfer together with a fee of two annas per acre of the area leased.

(c) In all other respects the conditions of the renewed lease shall be the same as those of the preliminary lease

(d) Should the cultivated, fallow, and other land otherwise fairly turned to account be found on inspection and measurement to be less than one-half of the total area held under the lease, the whole or such portion of the said area as the Deputy Commissioner may decide, shall be liable to be resumed.

(c) Should the cultivated, fallow, and other land otherwise fairly turned to account be found on inspection and measurement to be less than one-half of the total area held under the lease, the whole of the waste land, or such portion of it as the Deputy Commissioner may decide not exceeding half of the entire acreage of the jote, shall be liable to be resumed.

If the Deputy Commissioner grants under such circumstances a renewed lease to include an area of waste land in excess of the area brought under cultivation during the currency of the preliminary lease, then such excess area of waste lands will be assessed at the rates prescribed for cultivated lands.

9. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

10. If before the expiration of this preliminary lease, no application for a renewal of the lease shall have been made in accordance with the above provisions, the lessee may be allowed to hold as a tenant-at-will, but not otherwise, until other arrangements may have been made by the Deputy Commissioner.

As settled in 1883.

11. The lessee may sublet any part of the land covered by this lease on such terms as he pleases, provided that he gives the same promise of renewal of the tenure to his sub-tenant on condition of bringing his land into cultivation as is given to himself by this lease. The rent to be paid on renewal shall be determined on the application of either party by the Deputy Commissioner, who has the power to fix equitable rates of rent as he has, under sections 76 to 79 of Act X of 1859, to fix terms of pottah.

12. No sub-tenant under the lessee shall sublet any part of his land on pain of forfeiture of his tenure; but this rule and the last shall not be held to prevent the employment of adhairs, projahs, and other labourers supplied with seed and paid by giving them half the crop. The Government reserve power to make rules to be observed by the lessee and his tenants for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this and the last preceding clause, and the lessee agrees to abide by such rules when published for general observance, and to hold the land subject to such rules.

14. No clubbing or amalgamation of grants is allowed, and all land bearing tea will be forfeited to Government if more than one grant becomes the property of the same owner.

As proposed in 1886

11. The lessee may sublet any part of the land covered by this lease on such terms as he pleases, provided that he gives the same promise of renewal of the tenure to his sub-tenant on condition of bringing his land into cultivation as is given to himself by this lease. The rent to be paid on renewal shall not be more than 50 per cent. in excess of the rent paid by the lessee to Government for the area leased.

12. No sub-tenant under the lessee shall sublet any part of his land on pain of forfeiture of his tenure; but this rule and the last shall not be held to prevent the employment of adhairs, projahs, and other labourers supplied with seed and paid by giving them half the crop. If a sub-tenant under the lessee sublets any of his land, no suit or proceeding for the recovery of rent in money or kind on his part shall lie in any court. The Government reserve power to make rules to be observed by the lessee and his tenants for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this and the last preceding clause; and the lessee agrees to abide by such rules when published for general observance, and to hold the land subject to such rules on pain of forfeiture.

13. Tea may not be cultivated on the area covered by this lease if that area exceeds 200 acres.

14. No clubbing or amalgamation of grant is allowed, and all land bearing tea will be forfeited to Government if more than one grant becomes the property of the same owner, except by inheritance.

Terms and conditions of renewed leases of arable lands.

PART II.

1. Subject to any general or special orders of Government, the rent to be paid on the renewal of the lease shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner and Commissioner on each occasion of renewal, but shall not exceed the rates of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time* of renewal for the different classes of lands included in the lease.

* The rates per acre paid at present in the Western Dooars of Julpigoree are as follows:—

DESCRIPTION OF SOIL.	In Ambaree, Pallacottah, Chengmaree, Moraghat, and North Mynaguree.	In Lukhcepore and West Madaree.	In East Madaree and Chukwakatee.
	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.	Rs. A. P.
Rastee and bamboo ...	2 0 0	1 12 0	1 8 0
Roopit	1 8 0	1 4 0	1 2 0
Faringhatta	1 2 0	0 12 0	0 9 0
Waste	0 3 0	0 3 0	0 3 0

2. The term of every renewed lease shall coincide with the unexpired period of the then current settlement in the pergunnah in which the lands are situated.

3. The title conveyed by the renewed lease shall be heritable and transferable, provided that the whole, and not a part, of the grant be transferred, and that no transfer shall be valid as against the Government, but shall, on the contrary, be equivalent to a surrender of the lease, unless notification of the transfer shall have been given and the transfer registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office within twenty-one days of the transfer, or within three months, if the deed of transfer be executed out of India; and that a registration fee of two annas per acre on the area transferred be paid to the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion of every such transfer.

4. Where half the area of the grant has not been brought under cultivation during the term of the preliminary lease, as required by that lease, the renewed lease shall ordinarily include an area of waste land equal to the extent of land brought under cultivation during the currency of the preliminary lease. It will be in the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner, subject to the supervision of the Commissioner, to grant or refuse renewal of the lease in such cases, and also to include, if necessary, a larger area of waste, so as to make the grant under the renewed lease equal to the whole area granted under the preliminary lease. In the exercise of this discretion, the Deputy Commissioner should be guided by the consideration whether the excess waste is likely to be separately taken up by other applicants or not. If it is likely to be so taken up, he should settle it separately; if it is likely to remain on the hands of Government, he should include it in the new lease.

5. When extra waste land is included in the lease under these orders, such portion of it as ought to have been brought under cultivation during the preliminary lease will be assessed at the rate prescribed for cultivated land, and not at the rate of waste land. Unless this condition is insisted upon, it is probable that lessees will neglect cultivation during the term of the preliminary lease, in the hope of getting a renewal of their tenure at lower rates.

6. The Deputy Commissioner may, in special cases of leases of 200 acres or less, and in all cases of leases of greater area, alter the terms of the lease so as to allow a lessee to manage his land by an authorised agent. In such cases the agent must reside on or near to the land, and be provided with full legal power to act on behalf of the principal in all matters arising out of the land.

7. In other respects the conditions of the renewed lease will be the same as those of clauses 3, 4, 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14 of the preliminary lease.

Form of Renewed Lease of arable waste lands in the district of Julpigoree granted to of

1. The lands covered by this lease, the term of which is years, viz, from 18 to , coinciding with the period remaining of the current settlement in the pergunnah in which the lands lie, are situated within the boundaries shewn by

North. —
East. —
South.—
West.—

Their area is more or less acres, and they are situated in pergunnah , talook in the tehsil of in the Western Dooars.

If the lessee is found by survey or otherwise to be in possession of land in excess of the acreage herein declared, he shall pay rent for such excess land within or without the boundaries above described from the date of occupation at the rates entered in clause 3.

He shall also be liable to eviction at the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner from any lands that he may have occupied outside the boundaries specified in the lease. In case of dispute the date of occupation shall be held to be the date of giving or taking possession under the preliminary lease, or where any subsequent survey has been held, the date of the last survey if the acquisition of such excess area be subsequent to such survey. All disputes to be decided on this basis by the Deputy Commissioner, subject to an appeal, to be preferred within 30 days, to the Commissioner.

2. The rights conveyed by this lease are heritable and also transferable, provided (a) that the entire grant, and no a portion of it, be transferred; (b) that the transfer is registered in the Deputy Commissioner's office within 21 days of the date thereof, or three months of the final execution, if the deed of transfer take place out of India; and (c) that a registration fee of 2 annas per acre be paid to the Deputy Commissioner on the occasion of every such transfer. If any transfer of the rights conveyed by this lease is made otherwise than in accordance with the foregoing provisions and the rules, all rights in the land leased shall be liable to be forfeited to Government. After the expiry of this lease, no right shall be claimed otherwise than as expressly provided for hereinafter.

3. The rent shall be as follows:—

			Rs

Faringhatta	do.	...
Waste	do.	...
	Total	...

The rent shall be paid to the tehsildar of in the following instalments:—

4. The lessee shall himself reside on or near to the lands covered by this lease He shall keep all boundary lines and marks in good order and repair and clear of jungle to the satisfaction of the Deputy ommissioner If he fails to do so, the Deputy Commissioner or the Sub-Divisional Officer may cause the boundary to be made or put in order, and may recover the cost thereof from the lessee or his representative under the Public Demands Recovery Act, or any provision of law for the time being in force for the recovery of arrears of Government revenue, or he may call on the lessee to put the boundary lines and marks in order by a specified date on pain of forfeiture of the lease

5. Any land covered by the lease which may at any time be required for a public purpose may be taken up by Government free of cost on a deduction being made in the rent payable under the lease proportionate to the area taken by Government. But the value of any improvements or property thereon shall be paid to the lessee, and shall be assessed under the provision of the law in force for the time being for the acquisition of the land for public purposes.

6. All rights to minerals or quarries of all kinds are reserved to Government, together with such rights-of-way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, getting out, and carrying away such minerals.

7. No right of fishery and no right to dam up or otherwise obstruct the passage of any streams is given by this lease. A public right-of-way over twenty yards on either bank of every stream, available at any time of the year for local boat traffic, is reserved Public access shall be allowed at all times to any springs of water on the lands leased, whenever such access is, in the opinion of the tehsildar or the Deputy Commissioner, necessary for the convenient supply of good water to persons residing in the vicinity.

8 This lease shall be renewable on a rent the rates of which, subject to any general or special orders of Government, shall be fixed by the Board of Revenue on the report of the Deputy Commissioner on each occasion of renewal, but shall not exceed the rates of rent per acre paid in the neighbourhood at the time of renewal for the different classess of lands covered by the lease. Provided that in no case shall the total rent payable under the renewed lease be less than eight annas an acre for the entire area leased.

9. The rights and privileges conveyed by this lease, and by any renewed lease granted in accordance with its provisions, shall be liable to be forfeited on failure of the lessee to comply with any condition thereof.

10 If before the expiration of this lease no application for a renewal of the lease shall have been made, the lessee may be allowed to hold on as a tenant at-will, but not otherwise, until other arrangements may have been made by the Deputy Commissioner.

11. The lessee may sublet any part of the land covered by this lease on such terms as he pleases, provided that he gives the same promise of the renewal of the tenure to his sub-tenant as is given to himself by this lease. The rent to be paid on renewal shall not be more than 50 per cent in excess of the rent paid by the lessee to Government for the area leased.

12. No sub-tenant under the lessee shall sublet any part of his land on pain of forfeiture of his tenure; but this rule and the last shall not be held to prevent the employment of adhairs, projahs and other labourers supplied with seed and paid by giving them half the crop. If a sub-tenant under the lessee sublets any of his land, no suit or proceeding for the recovery of rent in money or kind on his part shall lie in any court. The Government reserve power to make rules to be observed by the lessee and his tenants for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this and the last preceding clause; and the lessee agrees to abide by such rules when published for general observance, and to hold the land subject to such rules, on pain of forfeiture.

13. Tea may not be cultivated on the area covered by this lease if that area exceeds 200 acres.

14. No clubbing or amalgamation of grants is allowed, and all land bearing tea will be forfeited to Government if more than one grant becomes the property of the same owner, except by inheritance.

CHARLES H. TAWNEY,

Offg. Registrar.

SENATE HOUSE,

The 2nd December 1886.

Rules for Private Students desiring to appear at the ensuing Entrance Examination from the Eastern Circle.

Definition.—A private student is one who has not been a pupil of any one school continuously since the 1st November next preceding the examination.

Rule 1.—Every candidate from the Eastern Circle who desires to appear at the ensuing Entrance Examination will, at least fifteen days before the date on which the test examination of the school begins, submit an application to the head-master of the zillah school of his district for permission to appear at the said examination.

Rule 1 (a).—As it often happens that candidates repeatedly fail at the Entrance Examination, Rule 1 will be strictly enforced in regard to all failed candidates who wish to appear a second or third time.

2. Every candidate will be required to pay a fee of Rs. 2 on the first day of the test examination.

3. Immediately after the result of the examination is known, the head-master will send to this office the name of each private student who has successfully passed the test, together with the form of application, to the Registrar of the Calcutta University, duly filled up by the candidate. The application, with the necessary certificate, will be returned to the head-master for delivery to the candidate, who will forward it to the Registrar with the usual entrance fee of Rs. 10.

4. The head-master will send separately the names of those private students who appeared at the test examination but failed to pass.

N. B.—By the permission of the Principal of the College, the words "zillah school, include the Dacca Collegiate School.

C. A. MARTIN,

DACCA, the 19th November 1886. Inspector of Schools, Eastern Circle.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs. 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making all payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bond fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1885-86, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

C. E. BUCKLAND, Offg. Secretary.

Hooghly Collectorate, the 11th November 1886. G. TOYNBEE, Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estates, situate in the district of Mymensingh, will be put up to sale at the Mymensingh Collectorate on 12th January 1887, corresponding with 29th Poush 1293 B.S., Wednesday.

The purchase will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

Conditions of Sale.

1*st*.—The estates to be sold to the highest bidders above the upset price. The purchasers of these estates will be considered as the proprietors of the estates, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estates will be transferred to them, with revenue fixed in perpetuity at the amount of the present revenue.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceeds Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the 15th day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issuing of advertisement as in the case of original sale:—

Dated Mozufferpore, the 25th November 1886. H HOLMWOOD, Covenanted Deputy Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Noakhally, will be put up to sale at the Noakhally Collectorate on Monday, the 10th of January 1887, corresponding with 27th Pous 1293B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

Conditions of sale.

1*st.*—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and the purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3*rd.*—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th.*—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

JOHN ELIOT, M.A., Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

CALCUTTA, the 26th August 1875.

THE following Reports of the Bengal Meteorological Department, issued by orders by the Government of Bengal, can be supplied to the public at the prices annexed:—

1*st*.—Bay of Bengal Daily Report giving observations taken at 20 stations on or near the coast of the Bay, with a chart and summary. This is published in connection with the Calcutta Storm Signal Service. The report giving 10 A.M. observations of the day is distributed by peon in Calcutta after 4 P.M. Price to subscribers in Calcutta, Rs. 2 per mensem.

2*nd*.—Bengal Daily Report containing observations taken at 37 meteorological stations, and transmitted to Calcutta by weather telegrams, with a brief summary of the weather in Bengal during the preceding 24 hours. The report giving the 10 A.M. observations of each day is printed in time for the evening mail. This report for the present will only be published during the south-west monsoon, i e, from May 15th to November 15th. Price Rs. 2-8 per mensem, including postage.

3*rd*.—A Weekly and Monthly Statement of Meteorological Observations taken at 44 observing stations, and of rainfall recorded at 245 sub-divisional stations, together with summaries of the more important features of the meteorology of the past week or month of the province, and of the distribution of the rainfall and its variation from the normal. Price of the Weekly Report including postage, Rs. 6 per annum, payable in advance, and of the Monthly Summary Report, Rs. 2 per annum, payable in advance.

Subscriptions payable to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of Bengal for the Bay of Bengal Daily Report, and to the Accountant and Treasurer, Bengal Secretariat, for the other reports.

Meteorological Office, Bengal, the 17th March 1880.

NOTICE.

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that subscriptions to the complete series of the Indian Law Reports should be registered during the first three months of each calendar year. Subscribers are therefore requested to send in their subscriptions for the complete series before the 31st March in each year. Those who register their names after that date will understand that copies will be supplied only if available.

H. A. D. PHILLIPS,

Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 24th November 1886.

The following revised advertisement is published in substitution of that which appeared at page 1084, Part II of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1884:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

Terms of subscription payable annually in advance.

For the complete series, including postage, Rs. 22-8.

Feb., 26th	181	12mo dy	2nd	1,000	ditto ..	1 8 0	.....	The conversation embraces several topics connected with the position, education, accomplishments, &c., of Bengal women. The writer suggests improvement in all these points.	5172
May, 3rd	50	12mo dy	1st	500	ditto ...	0 4 0	Sashibhusan Guha, Faridpore.	Discusses the nature of the sentiment of love and argues that the system on which wives and husbands are selected among Englishmen is not so well calculated to produce conjugal love as the Hindu system of selection. The Hindu idea of the conjugal bond is also stated to be far higher and deeper than the English idea. The writer regrets, however, that the points which according to the Hindu Sastras demand careful consideration in selecting brides and bridegrooms are not much attended to at present.	5173
May 25th	43	12mo dy	1st	1,000	ditto ...	0 1 0	Gopál Chandra Mukharji, 40, Sankar Háldár's Lane, Calcutta	Man's obligations are manifold—moral and religious obligations to himself, the obligation to make himself healthy and strong, domestic obligations, social and political obligations, and obligations to his own country. The modern Bengali does not properly discharge any of these obligations. He gets no moral and religious education at school, performs no physical exercises to maintain and improve health, does not behave properly to his relations at home, endeavours to revolutionise his society without much thought or reflection, and does not seem to know that every man is under an obligation to free his country from foreign domination. In politics the writer would like to see Robespierre's creed acted upon everywhere.	5174

„ 21st	12	12mo dy	1st ...	1,000	ditto ...	0 2 0	Ságar Chandra Dás, Rajarampur, Midnapore.	The writer advises men to follow four precepts if they would be healthy, happy, and religious. The precepts are:—eat when you are hungry; bathe when it is time to bathe, give alms in the name of Hari to those who are in want; take the name of Krishna.	5183

Mar., 10th	4	12mo dy	3rd ..	5,000	Printed	.....	The Calcutta Tract and Book Society, 23, Chowringhee Road, Calcutta.	Indian parents do not know where children go after death, and they therefore weep and wail disconsolately when they lose their children. If they become Christians they will know that children go to God after death, and will therefore be able to find consolation in grief.	5277
„ 29th	4	12mo dy	4th ..	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	Jesus Christ is the best of friends	5278
„ 27th	4	12mo dy	5th ...	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	The voice of conscience is the voice of God, and it should be obeyed as soon as it is heard Otherwise it will cease to speak and it will become difficult to believe in Jesus Christ.	5279
„ 28th	4	12mo dy	4th ...	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ..	Condemns the Hindu worship of the Tulasi plant, and says that salvation cannot be obtained by such worship. There can be no salvation without faith in Jesus Christ.	5280
Mar., 16th	4	12mo dy	3rd ..	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	There should be no need of salvation if there were no pâp or sin. The first P of salvation is therefore the P of pâp, and there can be no salvation without four things, namely, Prayaschitta (atonement), Prem (love), Paramanan (repentance), and Pratyaya (belief), words which all begin with the letter P.	5281
May, 18th	8	12mo dy	4th ..	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	Condemns the worship of the Bambino by the Roman Catholics of Italy as more heinous than the idol-worship of this country.	5282

„ 22nd	4	12mo dy	3rd ...	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	Relates the story of a man who had at one time resolved not to pray, and was induced to do so by Christian influence, and describes the spiritual benefits which may be derived from prayer.	5288
„ 22nd	4	12mo dy	3rd ..	5,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ..	The sending down of Jesus Christ is a proof of God's love for man	5289
Mar., 1st	4	12mo dy	1st ...	8,000	ditto ...	.....	ditto ...	God is the true and unfailing friend of the widow and her orphan	5290
„ 4th	4	16mo ...	1st ...	8,000	ditto ...	.....	.....	Sinful men, like engaged birds with clipped wings, are themselves unable to come out of the prison house of their guilt, and require some power from outside to drag them out of it. That power is Jesus Christ.	5291
„ 4th	4	16mo ...	1st ...	8,000	ditto ...	.....	.....	Mary, a Christian girl, who did not fear death, herself died in order to save her father from death. This operated so powerfully upon the father's feelings that from being a hater he became a great lover of Jesus Christ.	5292

NEW MEMBERS.

The Hon. Mr. Macaulay, the Hon. Mr. Allen, and the Hon. Baboo Kally Nath Mitter took their seats in Council.

STATEMENT OF PENDING LEGISLATION.

HIS HONOR THE PRESIDENT said :—Gentlemen, the business before the Council to day is purely of a formal character, and refers to a proposal to submit the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Municipal affairs of the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta to a Select Committee; and, though introduced under this unassuming title, it is a subject which has been under the consideration of the Government and the public for a very long time, and has been examined by a Special Committee of which my hon. friend Mr. Reynolds was Chairman, and of which, I believe, two of our hon. colleagues were members. I think the result of all these discussions and examinations up to this point has clearly established the principle that it is desirable that the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta should be amalgamated in one Municipal Administration, on the general and broad ground that the interests of two communities so contiguous to each other are positively identical, especially as regards sanitary considerations. The Bill has passed through its earliest stages, leave has been given to introduce it, and it has been introduced. It has received the general affirmation of the Government of India; and upon this point I may refer to some misapprehension which has existed, and found expression in the papers, that recently we have received from the Secretary of State some communications which affected the Bill very seriously. I may say that up to yesterday no intimation of any kind had been received by me from the Secretary of State upon the subject. The Council may doubtless be aware that the rule which has been laid down by the Government of India as regards all local legislation is that, before a local Legislature can proceed to introduce any measure, it should submit, for the consideration of the Government of India, the general principles upon which the proposed legislation is based, and the Secretary of State has also expressed a wish that, in the case of all measures of extended scope and importance, he also may have an opportunity of seeing the lines upon which the measure is drawn, before the local Legislature proceeds to deal with it. If within two months from the time when the Bill is sent home no answer arrives, we understand that the Secretary of State is willing that we should proceed with it. In this case we have received an intimation from the Government of India that, although all the papers were sent to the Secretary of State some time ago, no reply had been received, and under these circumstances they have authorized us to proceed with the Bill, and have suggested in their letter certain matters for the consideration of the Council in dealing with the further progress of the measure. That letter will be laid before the Select Committee. One point which has pressed upon all who have been concerned in the matter, is the question of cost. We all agree that for general purposes, for sanitary purposes especially, the two Municipalities should now be brought under a single and united administration. The difficulty has arisen as to how a poor Municipality like that of the Suburbs can be brought under a system of control and direction from the Calcutta Municipality, without involving the rate-payers of Calcutta in heavy burdens. Obviously to do so would be very undesirable and improper, and the difficulty has been met by the Government undertaking to do what they have for a long time desired to do, that is, to relieve the Calcutta Municipality of the charge which they now bear for the Police of the Town. If that proposal is carried out, as I have no doubt it will be—it has been accepted by the Government of India—the Government of Bengal will assume responsibility for three lakhs of rupees a year, to which extent the Calcutta Municipality will be relieved. Those three lakhs of rupees may well be utilized in extending the advantages which Calcutta has received from its own Municipal administration to all parts of the Suburbs as far as they can be so used. It is not necessary for me at this atage of the proceedings to enter into any discussion or express any opinion as to the details of the Bill. I think we have chosen a Select Committee which is fairly representative of all interests; the only omission, I am sorry to mark, is the name of my hon. friend Mr. Reynolds, and with his permission I propose to add that also. So constituted, I think we shall have a Committee which represents all interests. For although we may be agreed and unanimous on the merits of the principle, it is a subject which, I freely admit, opens out opportunities for very wide differences of opinion as regards the details. I have suggested that the 10th of January should be fixed as the date on which the Committee should present their report. I recognize that that affords not so long a time as I could have wished; but in the present case the Government of India have made, it seems to me, the rather unusual request, to which I need not further allude at present, that the report of the Select Committee should be submitted to them before any further proceedings are taken with the measure. We shall have, therefore, to obey that order, and some delay may occur in obtaining the result of their consideration of the report, before we can finally proceed to dispose of the Bill. Clearly, in a measure of this extent and importance, we shall require at least six weeks or two months, after the Select Committee have concluded their enquiries, in order to deal with the matter in full Council; and if it is an object that the Bill should be passed within the present session, I hope we may come to the consideration of the measure in full Council by a date not later than February. Although I am unwilling to say anything as to the direction the Bill should take, I may perhaps simply, in a few words, express this view: that assuming that the constitution of the Town Council and of the Commissioners will be somewhat on the lines suggested already by the Government in dealing with the matter, as far as my personal views are concerned, I should be willing to concede that the fullest independence should be accorded to the Municipal Commissioners under this Bill to deal with all matters comprised in the Bill within the terms of the law, without any intervention on the part of the Government. I can assure you that, having had now nearly five years' experience of Bengal administration, and having had the subject of Municipal administration specially brought under my cognizance in all its forms, both in the mofussil and in Calcutta, there is nothing which the Lieutenant-Governor—I speak not for myself only, but any Lieutenant-Governor—is more glad to be relieved of than the duty of interference, partly on account of the extraordinary amount of work which it throws upon him in this matter of Municipal administration, and partly on the wider ground that it is the best to leave Municipal administration free from such interference. In very many places we have seen in the mofussil, where harmonious co-operation exists, the very best results accruing from the measure of independence we have conceded, and I have not the slightest doubt that if we are to frame a Bill upon sound and proper lines, the right course, and the only proper course, is to leave to the Municipal Commissioners the utmost freedom to deal with the affairs of the Municipality under the power which the law gives them, without the annoyance which results from the interference of Government. But having said this much, I must repeat what I have said on other occasions in reference to the Acts relating to mofussil Municipal administration, that there should be and there must be a provision in the Act which shall reserve to the Government the absolute power and right to intervene in all cases where circumstances show that, whether from apathy, or indifference, or from quarrels, or any other causes, the public interests are neglected; and when I say that a clause to that effect must be provided in the present Bill, I only give expression to that which obtains, I believe, in every legislation of the kind in any part of the world where Municipal institutions exist. I believe I am right in saying that, in English law, nothing is more clearly settled than that, while giving the freest independence to local bodies, there is at the head of them all a Board, presided over generally by a Cabinet Minister, which has the most absolute right of interfering in cases of the kind I have referred to. And if such is necessary in England, in a community where the population is homogeneous, I am sure that in a capital like Calcutta, where there are a thousand interests, different sections of natives of creed and colour, and a large body of Europeans, there should be an external power to intervene in cases where intervention is necessary.

There are two other items standing on the list of business, viz, the Bill to provide for the registration of permanent tenures, which is said to be in Select Committee; and the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to Canoongoes and Putwarris, which is also in Select Committee. The first was introduced as a measure of relief to the zemindars of the Province. When the Bengal Tenancy Act was under consideration, it was thought that the registration of tenures, if carried out, would afford relief to the zemindars in the realization of their rents, which was a constant subject of complaint; but since the Bill has been before the public, an expression of opinion generally prevails that the zemindars do not want it. As far as I am concerned, if the zemindars do not want the measure, although the provisions of the Bill are such that they have been supported strongly by the High Court, and especially by the late Chief Justice, if the zemindars do not want it, the Government will certainly not press it on them; and though I should not propose the absolute withdrawal of the Bill, it will not be proceeded with. Similarly as regards the Putwari Bill that was introduced in connection with the measure of cadastral survey throughout Behar. You are aware that the survey was initiated in Mozufferpore, and carried to a very successful conclusion, so far as regards the last cold weather, and is yielding good results. But the Secretary of State, for financial reasons, desired that the survey should be temporarily abandoned, and with its abandonment of course the Putwari Bill, as a measure subsidiary to that cadastral survey and record of rights, will also remain in abeyance. The Bill, therefore, will not be proceeded with this session.

It is also proposed to introduce a Bill for the survey of the town of Calcutta. The last survey of Calcutta was made in the year 1847. It may readily be imagined, therefore, that the results of that survey are now almost useless. The subject was considered by a small Committee presided over by Mr Cotton, with Mr. A. Forbes and Baboo Gopal Lall Mitter as members, with the result that they drafted the Bill which is the basis of the measure which will be brought into this Council. The reasons generally are that, during the past thirty years, many changes have occurred with regard to Government holdings in Calcutta, which have been in many instances subdivided and amalgamated, so that it is necessary to have them again demarcated and their boundaries defined. The number of those holdings is 11,984. A new survey is also desired by Government on account of its topographical utility. But, as Mr. Cotton has reported, the measure is more necessary in the interests of the Municipality than it is in those of the Government; and it is for this reason that the Municipal Commissioners have agreed to pay a large share of the cost of the work. We have been in communication with the Government of India, and have obtained their sanction to the employment of a professional party for the conduct of the work, which we intend to commence as soon as we are given the power to proceed. My hon. friend Mr. Reynolds will take charge of the Bill, and I hope it will be passed into law with as little delay as possible.

Then there is a Bill to provide for the regulation of the rural police in the Chota Nagpore Division. The Police there are on a different footing to those in any other part of the province, on account of the backward condition of the division. Without entering into the practical details of the Bill, which is a very small measure, I may say that power is required to give assistance to the headmen now employed in collecting the police dues and to legalize the agency which they employ, and also to increase the actual assessment of those villages from 15 to 20 per cent., in order to admit of funds being available. It is, as I have said, a very small measure, but it is one of considerable importance to that part of the country.

It is also intended to introduce a Bill to create a Port Trust for Chittagong. You may be aware that the trade of that port has within recent years developed and grown to a very marvellous extent. Chittagong is situated on the river only sixteen miles from the sea. It possesses a very fair harbour, and has now risen to a position in which circumstances justify us in establishing some kind of special body to regulate the affairs of the port: and after considerable consultation, it has been decided to introduce a Port Trust on the lines of the bodies constituted in places like Rangoon, Kurrachee, and other ports. The elective principle will be introduced, as far as possible, in the selection of the mercantile members of the Trust; and when that is established, you may be sure that, as in all other cases, and as in Calcutta especially, the means will be available to the Port Commissioners for introducing all the appliances which are so necessary and useful for the development of mercantile interests in a place like Chittagong.

That, and another Bill of a similar character, which is to amend the present Calcutta Port Trust Act with a view to establish the principle of election by the Chamber of Commerce of mercantile members, will be in charge of my hon. friend Mr. Macaulay. I may say, with regard to this latter Bill, that I received a representation from a gentleman belonging to the mercantile community in Calcutta, in February or March last, taking exception to the practice of the Government reserving in its own hands the right of nomination of all the members of the Calcutta Port Trust. I pointed out to him that, whatever I might personally wish in the matter, any compliance with the representation was barred by the Act of 1870, under which all members of the Port Trust were to be appointed by the Local Government; but I said, what I have always said, that, as regards the appointment of Port Commissioners connected with the mercantile communities, I should be always glad to discover the wish of the Chamber of Commerce. Upon that principle I have always acted. It has since been stated that it is desirable to place upon the Statute book power to the Chamber of Commerce to elect their own representatives; and though at first it was suggested to me that the Chamber of Commerce did not represent the whole of the mercantile community of Calcutta, I have since been informed that those interests which are not represented in the Chamber of Commerce are practically so few that they need not be considered in a Bill of this kind. Therefore, I purpose by the amending Bill to establish twelve members of the Port Commission in addition to the Chairman: four members to be elected by the Chamber of Commerce, one by the Trade's Association, two members will always be natives, and then there will be left five to be nominated by Government to represent not only the official element, but also interests like those of the railways, and large shipping interests which possibly do not find a place in the Chamber. I have received from the Secretary of the Chamber the expression of the opinion of the Chamber that they are ready to accept a Bill based on these lines, and I hope in a very short time to be able to say that we have passed the measure.

I will now call upon the hon Mr. Harrison to make the motion which stands in his name.

CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon. Mr. Harrison said that the Municipal Bill had now been before the public for the greater part of the year, and it would probably be not out of place if he made a few remarks on its present position. He had pointed out, on a previous occasion, that the Bill consisted of two very unequal parts: first, the portion which contained the constitution of the proposed enlarged Municipality and the general outlines of the terms upon which the amalgamation was to take place; and, secondly, the rest of the Bill, which prescribed the procedure for the guidance of the Municipality on all other matters. It had then been explained that the larger portion of the Bill had not up to that time been recast. But it was clearly recognised that the part of the Bill with which the public would be generally most interested would be that which marked out the lines of the future constitution of the Municipality, and therefore that portion was fully prepared. Other parts were reserved for the receipt of reports from Committees of the Corporation and the Suburbs, besides other bodies, and for such leisure as to the details as he might be able to give to it for he need scarcely say that a Bill of this kind required very full consideration on many matters of detail which were of little interest to the public, but of very great practical importance. He was now prepared to go on with the second part, which the Committee would have to consider in detail. That portion was not at present before the public; but what was before them, and what had been before them for the last six months, was the constitution of the new body. He would therefore on this occasion confine his remarks entirely to that part of the Bill, and say nothing as regards the other portion till the labours of the Committee had terminated.

His Honor had already stated that the necessity for the measure had now been generally admitted. It was a measure which, by its very nature, was bound to elicit criticism from all sides. In the first place the inhabitants of the Suburbs apprehended an increase of taxation, and the inhabitants of Calcutta apprehended additional burdens on account of the improvements necessary in the Suburbs. All those who thought that the system introduced in 1876 had been a failure desired to see that system more or less undone. On the other hand, those who thought it a success desired to see it still further extended. But this Bill, as regarded the constitution of the Corporation, was for the most part constructed on the old lines. On these grounds he could scarcely hope that it would satisfy any one. Looking to the certainty that the views of parties were likely to be extreme, he did not think he was wrong in saying that a Bill which satisfied no party was probably the fairest and most equitable measure. The Act of 1876 had been introduced with considerable hesitation. They knew that the then Chairman of the Municipality made no secret of his being strongly opposed to the elective system, especially on the ground, as he stated, that the improvements in the Municipality would come to a standstill. He said that all the great measures of reform which had been introduced had been introduced against the wishes of the people of the Town, and that every one of them, in the first instance, had been opposed, though after a time the value of nearly all had been admitted. Therefore he said that if the elective system was introduced, it was certain the work of the Municipality must come to a standstill. On the other hand, there were many who anticipated that the system would be satisfactory in the highest degree. The results showed that the views of neither party were entirely wrong nor entirely right. As was foreseen, the main object of the elected Commissioners was at first economy, and that had been markedly the case for the first year or two.

But, on the other hand, those who were opposed to the elective system did not allow sufficiently for the extremely valuable effects of practical experience on the education of those who were engaged in Municipal administration; they did not realise how soon a sense of responsibility would grow up among the Commissioners when called upon, when pressed on all sides, to carry out improvements, and to consider the welfare of the Town, and that there would gradually grow up a conviction that economy was not the only object at which to aim, and that after a time the new Municipality would begin to follow on the lines of the old Justices. This had proved to be the actual result: for he was glad to say that very considerable work had been done by the Commissioners, of which the public were not fully aware, chiefly for this reason. The work which was done by the old Justices was work done in the south of the Town, before the eyes of those who criticised them, and the work which was now taken up was work which was done in the northern part of the Town, where it was more withdrawn from view, and where those in the south were not conscious that it was going on. Of this work Mr. Harrison thought he could give a very fair test The accounts which were kept by the official auditors, and which were above suspicion, showed as "block" the total amount of the work done by the present Commissioners; that was the total amount of permanent work done. The debt, on the other hand, showed clearly the amount to which the Corporation had mortgaged its resources for the purpose of carrying out those works. The result of the assessment, although by no means perfect, was also a very fair test of the increasing value of the Town. So here there was, first, the means of showing how much money had been spent; then they could see how far the Corporation, to carry out permanent works, had mortgaged its resources; and, lastly, they had a practical test for the purpose of showing how far the value of the Town property had increased or decreased during the period covered by the improvements.

The figures as to these particulars were as follow:—The cost of the work done in the twelve-and-a-half years of the Justices was 170 lakhs in round numbers. The cost of the work done during the nine-and a-quarter years up to the period of the last year of the Commissioners was 68 lakhs. So that, whereas the average yearly rate of work during the time of the Justices was Rs. 13,60,000, the average rate in the time of the Commissioners had been Rs. 7,30,000. Now, as by law they were only bound to spend Rs. 1,50,000 on permanent works annually, this, he thought, clearly showed that it was an entire mistake to suppose that they had been entirely negligent or idle. As regarded debt, the gross debt in the time of the Justices was nearly the same as it was now; but against this they had a large reserve fund, which was now gone in paying off debts. Allowing for this, the Justices had borrowed 119 lakhs, with which they carried on work to the extent of 170 lakhs. The Commissioners had augmented the debt by only 27½ lakhs, and showed work done to the extent of 68 lakhs, so that they had, proportionately to the work done, mortgaged the revenues of the Town less than their predecessors. He did not say this was wise, because the amount borrowed increased the value of the property of the Town; but it showed that the management had been prudent and economical. Lastly, as to the value of the Town. The assessed value of the Town was 85 lakhs when the Justices first came into existence, and it rose to 123 lakhs during the 12¾ years of their reign. In the time of the Commissioners, the value had been augmented to 141 lakhs. If they multiplied it by 16 years' purchase, which was probably the fairest multiplier in the case of bricks and mortar, the value of the Town had increased by 614 lakhs, whereas, in the time of the Commissioners, the value of the Town had increased by 296 lakhs. Though the rate of progress was thus better under the Justices, proportionately better value had been obtained under the Commissioners. Therefore the apprehension that the work of improvement would come to a standstill had not been fulfilled. On the contrary, it had been shown that, as the Commissioners had become more experienced and learned more of the necessities of the Town, they had, in spite of the demands of their clients on the side of economy, found their way to spend very considerable sums, which had been laid out to very great advantage indeed, so much so that the assessed value of the Town had risen more than ten rupees for every rupee of augmented debt.

Having said this, he felt bound to say something in reply to those who argued that, if this elective system had produced all these results—if it had worked so well—it should be extended more fully. On this point he was justified in making some remarks, because it was well-known that he held a very strong opinion on this point. Calcutta differed entirely from small homogeneous municipalities in the mofussil, such for instance as Midnapur or Burdwan or Krishnagar. In those towns, if the people came forward and petitioned the Government that, as the elective system had worked well, they should have a larger proportion of elected Commissioners, the main question would be whether the contention was true, and if true, the prayer might be granted. In Calcutta the problem was totally different. It was the capital of the whole Empire during part of the year. It was also the seat of the Government of the wealthiest province of the Empire, containing a population of 70 millions. Besides that, its wealth was entirely due to its commercial and trading bodies, and it was no exaggeration to say that, if its trade was taken away, the value of the land in it would fall 75 per cent. In Madras land was not one quarter of the value it was in Calcutta. Calcutta was the chief commercial city on this side of India, and it was probably the medium by which exports and imports for scarcely less than 100 millions of people found their way out of and into the country. On the other hand, the permanent residents of Calcutta did not exceed 250,000, the remainder being attracted to it by its trade. Therefore, it was evident that the Government were perfectly justified in safeguarding all those large interests which had contributed so much to the wealth and importance of the city; that they had to look to those interests, and not merely to the interests of the residents. Under these circumstances, the proportion to be nominated by the Government was intended to represent those views and those interests which would not find adequate representation by mere election, and also those large minorities which similarly might be more or less ousted by it He was perfectly certain that the work done would be far better done if the interests of those minorities were carefully conserved, than if they were ignored. Individually he was bound to say that he hardly thought one-third was sufficient. If the question was a perfectly open one, he thought it would be doubtful whether the system of election ought not to be cast on somewhat different lines, which would more equitably represent all interests and communities than mere numbers and parallelograms. But it was very difficult to undo what had existed for ten years. It was a great mistake to say that those who believed in the necessity for these safeguards therefore distrusted the people. The greatest of all advocates of Liberalism, Mr. Gladstone, defining on one occasion Liberalism and Conservatism, said that the latter was distrust tempered by fear, while Liberalism was trust tempered by caution. Whether this definition of Conservatism was a fair one or not it was unnecessary to say, but Mr. Gladstone admitted clearly that in his own policy trust must be tempered with caution. All Mr. Harrison asked for was that the policy of Government should be trust tempered by caution. It would no doubt be said that the Hindus formed a very large proportion of the inhabitants, and that the representatives of this religion should be in proportion to their numbers. He could hardly conceive that people who used that argument could have any appreciation of the real problem which lay before them. There was no possible reason why representation should be entirely according to numbers, and not according to capital and interests. The elective system should be so managed that no party should be left with an overwhelming majority He spoke from considerable experience, and he said that this was the best way of providing for the welfare of the Corporation. In ordinary cases there would be no difficulty, but every now and then questions came up in which the interests were wider than personal. In these cases it was of great importance that one community should not have a preponderating voice. It was well known that the Hindu members of the Corporation were the most energetic, active, and painstaking, and had taken a greater share in the work of the Town than others, and on that ground alone wielded greater influence. This was unquestionably true. Therefore it was argued that, if the Hindus had proved to be pre-eminent by their attention to business, their capacity for details and experience, instead of having four to seven, a proportion of three to four would be better. He said deliberately that, though the Hindus worked hardest, at the same time, if they had been more numerous, instead of doing better, they would have done worse—if less, they would have done better. This might sound paradoxical, but the reason was that if they were more numerous they could exercise their supremacy by the effect of mere numbers, when less numerous the must do so by the goodness of their cause and a knowledge of their case; if more numerous they would be more tempted to yield to interest and prejudice. He had said that Calcutta was not like a mofussil town, where the Government could leave its interests entirely in the hands of the Commissioners. But he might be allowed to draw attention to a further point. It had been over and over recognised that Calcutta was a field in which the capacity of the people for administration could be tested. He hoped that this capacity would ere long find a wider field. At present this was the largest arena. That being so, it was specially in their interests that the qualities for carrying on the administration should be acquired under favourable conditions. If it was possible for prejudice to carry weight without reference to reason or argument, it was certain that the quality of the Commissioners would fall off.

He had one more word to say. A new system of qualification had been introduced by the law. Previously all who paid a certain amount of rates were entitled to vote. Now all who held property of a certain amount a year, or who took out licenses, were entitled to vote. The reason for this change was one of very great importance. Under the old system it was perfectly impossible for the Corporation to prepare lists of those who were entitled to vote. The preparation of these lists rested before entirely in the hands of the candidates and their agents. He was glad to find that there was no serious opposition to the proposed change. Under the new system it was possible to have a list prepared of those entitled to vote independently of the assistance of the candidates or their agents, and many who had hitherto not voted would now find themselves enrolled.

He moved that the Bill to consolidate and amend the law relating to the municipal affairs of the Town and Suburbs of Calcutta be referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Reynolds, the Hon'ble Mr. Macaulay, the Hon'ble Mr. Allen, the Hon'ble Moulvie Abdul Jabbar, the Hon'ble Mr. Irving, the Hon'ble Baboo Kali Nath Mitter, and the mover, with instructions to submit their report on the 10th of January next.

The Hon'ble Mr. Irving said—Sir, I have no intention of occupying much of the time of the Council, but I have great pleasure in expressing my cordial approval of the main objects of the Bill. There can be no doubt that the time has come when the Suburbs must be amalgamated under one municipal system with the city of Calcutta, if we are to derive full advantage from the schemes of improvement which have lately been introduced in the city, and if the general standard of health is to be raised. At present it is not too much to say that the good work of sanitation that has been wrought by the Calcutta Municipality is to a large extent neutralised by the condition of the Suburbs, and that, until the amalgamation scheme is carried out, we have failed to take a very obvious precaution against occasional visitations of very deadly disease. It is all the more incumbent upon us to take every possible precaution to guard against the recurrence of such outbreaks, as the city is the centre of vast commercial interests which are very directly affected by the question of health. Only the other day the Egyptian Board of Health placed arrivals from Calcutta under quarantine, and the loss and inconvenience which are thus caused are no light matter, and have an important bearing not only on the welfare of Calcutta, but on the trade and commerce of the country at large. Appreciating as I do to the full the necessity for such a measure as the present, and approving of the main features of the Bill, I cannot now refrain from stating that there are certain important points in which I think it will bear improvement. The constitution of the proposed Municipal body is a matter of the very greatest importance, and I think experience has clearly shown that the smaller and more compact the Municipality the better it is for all working purposes. It seems to me that Europeans and Anglo-Indians should have an equal voice with the Natives in the Municipal government of the city, and it is gratifying to know that the hon. member in charge of the Bill so far agrees in this.

It is also a question whether a Town Council within the Municipality will work as well as a set of special standing Committees having charge of the various departments of municipal administration. The latter plan is certainly found to work well in England, and there is good reason to believe that small Committees, dealing with special matters, will be able to do so with great efficiency.

Again, the sections of the Bill respecting sanitation, buildings, and bastis will all require very close attention, which they will no doubt receive in Committee. There are certain important questions in connection with these sections which will have to be very carefully considered, but when this is duly done, the measure will I doubt not be one that will commend itself to all sections of the community.

The motion was then put to the vote and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 4th December next.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON EMIGRATION FROM INDIA TO THE COLONIES DURING THE LAST NINE MONTHS OF 1885.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—COLONIAL EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 7th December 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report by the Protector of Emigrants on Emigration to British and Foreign Colonies during the last nine months of 1885.

The Protector's report was not submitted until six weeks after the date on which it was due, and the delay has not been explained. The previous report was for the financial year 1884-85; but as it has now been decided that in dealing with Colonial Emigration the calendar year shall be followed, the present returns give the operations of nine months only, April to December 1885; and in the comparison instituted by the Protector, only the corresponding nine months of the previous year have been considered.

General.

2. Emigration was still regulated by Act VII of 1871 during the year under review. Act XXI of 1883, which has now taken its place, did not come into force until the 1st April 1886, owing to the necessity of framing rules on which the working of the Act depends, so as to bring them into harmony both with the provisions of the law, and with the views of the Colonial Governments, as represented by their accredited Agents in Calcutta. In August 1885 a Conference was held, in which the Agents for all Colonies now receiving Indian emigrants took part, and most of the alterations suggested by the Conference were adopted by Government and finally incorporated in the rules. Dr. Grant should take special notice of the working of the new rules in his report for 1886.

Decrease in emigration.

3. The year was marked by a striking falling off in the demand for Indian labourers. Of ten colonies which sent requisitions in 1884-85, seven ceased to do so altogether during the year under report, namely, Jamaica, St. Lucia, Grenada, Natal, Mauritius, Surinam, and Guadeloupe; while of the three remaining, Demerara, Trinidad, and Fiji, the two former indented for a smaller number. On the whole, requisitions were received for 6,430 coolies against 18,639 in 1884-85, and an average of 14,734 in the four preceding years The falling off is not explained in the Protector's report, but is understood to be due to the declining state of the sugar industry, in which the emigrants are mainly employed. In Jamaica it appears that the abandonment of the system is connected, also, with the introduction of representative legislation in the island, the importation under Government auspices of foreign workmen being distasteful to a large part of the population, as reducing the prospect of the employment of the local labourers on remunerative terms. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that in spite of the decline elsewhere there has been an increased demand for Indian labour in Fiji, for the proximity of these islands to Australia and New Zealand give them a special value as future fields for emigration. The great colonies beyond the Indian Ocean are somewhat nearer to this country than are the other settlements to which coolies are taken; ordinary wages in that region are very high, and there is an amount of reclaimable land which suggests the possibility of emigration at some future time on a scale large enough to give appreciable relief to the over-populated districts of Bengal.

Recruiters' licenses.

4. The cases in which it was found necessary to punish licensed recruiters were not excessive in number, and the Lieutenant-Governor has no reason to doubt that, under the system as at present administered, sufficient precautions are taken against the danger of ignorant persons being enlisted under false pretences. Of 306 licenses six were cancelled—two for working in partnership with a debarred recruiter, two for recruiting married women, one for detaining two girls found by the registering officer to be minors, and one for instigating a woman to pass off some of her children as those of another female recruit. The 306 recruiters collected 7,567 persons, an average of 24·1 to each recruiter.

Recruitment.

5. Classified according to districts of registration, the largest number of emigrants were found, as usual, in the 24-Pergunnahs (945); but Patna (918) and Shahabad (830) approximated very closely in this respect to the metropolitan district. Benares (626), Gya (612), and Allahabad (489) come next in order: and no other district registered as many as 400 emigrants. The North-Western Provinces formerly supplied the largest number of emigrants, but during the last two years Bengal has headed the list, and in the year under report 4,692 emigrants were recruited in Bengal, while the North-Western Provinces only supplied 2,223. Dr. Grant attributes the change in great measure to continued dearness of food in Bengal and Behar; but some allowance should also be made for the natural tendency in the Emigration Agencies to work the nearer and more accessible districts first, to save the expense of going to a greater distance to secure the labour required. In a year in which so few coolies were needed, it could hardly have been necessary to recruit as actively as formerly in the North-West. If a further classification be made according to the native districts of the recruits, it will appear that Gya sent the largest number, 980, Shahabad 879, Patna 684, Monghyr 341, and Ghazipur, in the North-Western Provinces, 338. These five districts form a compact tract, thickly populated by a fine and enterprising race, and may be looked upon as the most promising recruiting ground in Hindustan. Of districts in the North-Western Provinces, Ghazipore, with 338, stands first. As regards possible competition between recruiters for the colonies and the labour-districts of Assam, Dr. Grant remarks—

"From a consideration of the facts that recruitment for the colonies was most active in Bengal and Behar during those five months—June to October—when recruitment for the tea districts was least active; that it began to decrease rapidly in November when recruitment for the tea districts began to increase; that the class of coolies (chiefly Beharis) collected for the colonies differed from the class (chiefly Bengalis) collected for the tea districts, it would appear that competition between colonial and inland recruiters must have been comparatively trifling."

Depôts.

6. Seven thousand four hundred and eighteen out of the 7,567 persons recruited were admitted into depôt. Of the casualties accounting for this decrease, 119 were desertions, an unusually large proportion; and there were 337 more desertions after arrival at the depôt, a percentage of 4·13 to 2·58 in the corresponding period of the previous year. The Protector attributes this to the desire to emigrate being less strong than in the previous year, and to the greater number of rejections, the intimate companions of those rejected being disposed to desert. The number rejected by the agencies as unfit was 1,126, or 13·80 per cent. of the whole, against 11·70 per cent. in the previous year. Dr. Grant suggests that sickness leading to increased rejections was more prevalent than in the preceding year: but as the mortality was less, it is probable that the Agents were more ready to refuse doubtful cases, being able to select with greater strictness the small number required. The health of the emigrants was good on the whole, the general average mortality being below the usual figures; but the disease recently diagnosed as cerebro-spinal fever appeared with fatal results in the Demerara depôt. The following remarks of the Officiating Medical Inspector on the subject are quoted by the Protector:—

"This disease has recently been recognised as occurring throughout India in a non-epidemic form, and has usually been looked upon as remittent fever of bad type with cerebral symptoms Post-mortem examinations, which can rarely be performed except in jails, have shown conclusively that the disease, cerebro-spinal fever, is widely spread throughout the country, and occurs both in the hot and rainy season, and in the cold dry weather, both in Lower Bengal and Upper India."

Dr Grant adds—"Considering that Bengal and Behar, the principal source whence the supply of labour was drawn, were even more unhealthy during the last nine months of 1885 than during the corresponding nine months of the previous year, and that the increased sickness and mortality in these provinces, especially during the last six months of 1885, was due chiefly to fever, the greater prevalence of and mortality from this disease in the depôts is traceable to its greater prevalence and fatality generally throughout the Lower Provinces."

Including the balance of the previous year, there were 8,157 persons in depôt; death and desertions reduced this number by 410, and 1,858 were discharged for various reasons by the agencies. The number eventually despatched was 5,884, or 72·13 per cent. of the whole number recruited. The average period of detention was longest in the Fiji depôt, 39 days. The Protector explains this by referring to two cases in which illness necessitated a stay of 130 days. But even excluding these two cases, the average period during which the rest of the persons who actually embarked for Fiji were detained was 38·6 days. The Emigration Agent for Fiji should be requested to furnish the Protector with further information on this head. The sanitary condition of the depôts is reported to have been satisfactory throughout the year.

Outward voyages.

7. Of the 5,884 emigrants who actually embarked for the colonies, 3,502 were men, 1,560 women, and 822 children. Four hundred and eighteen of both sexes and all ages were "return emigrants," the majority having come back to India from Demerara, Trinidad, and Surinam. The rule regulating the proportion of women to men in each shipment was fully complied with, and it is satisfactory to note that the Demerara Agency was able to forward 149 women over and above the prescribed number. The aggregate mortality on the voyages was 109—a percentage of 1·85 on the whole number embarked. On five of the ten ships the death-rate was below 1 per cent., but the total average was raised by rates of 4·25 and 2·60 on board two vessels for Demerara, due to the prevalence of fever of the cerebro-spinal type during the early part of the voyage, and by a considerable mortality among infants and young children in two other cases. The Protector has already been requested to hold a special medical enquiry into the cases of cerebro-spinal fever reported on the outward voyages.

Return emigrants.

8 Four thousand two hundred and thirty-three emigrants re-embarked from the colonies for India during the period under review, bringing with them the considerable sum of Rs. 4,67,6[illegible]5-6-9, an average of Rs. 111-0 11 per head. 5,884 emigrants having embarked during the year, and 4,077 (excluding deaths on the voyage) having returned, the net result of the nine months' operations was that emigration from the Port of Calcutta reduced the population of India by only 1,807. Those returning from Demerara brought most money—their savings averaging Rs. 251-9-11 each, while the Mauritius emigrants returned with only Rs. 42-10-2 each—an amount far below the average of the last few years. The Protector notices a clerical error in his annual report of the previous year. The true aggregate amount of savings brought from the French colony of Guadeloupe in 1884-85 was Rs. 31,332, giving an average of Rs. 78 to each returning emigrant, not Re. 0-12-6 as erroneously entered. The death-rate on the return voyages, as usual, ranged higher than on outward voyages, and on board the Neva, bringing emigrants back from Guadeloupe, the mortality reached so high a figure as 9 87 per cent. of the whole number on board. The mortality on the two previous return voyages from Guadeloupe was also excessive, and the explanation given, the feeble health of many of the passengers, seems to indicate that the country is not one in which Indian coolies thrive.

Property of deceased emigrants.

9. An important and burdensome part of the Protector's duties is the tracing of heirs to the vacant estates of emigrants dying in the colonies. Of a total amount of Rs 16,377-11-8, Rs. 6,137-13-3 is reported to have been paid, or to be in course of payment, and for Rs. 1,590-5-9 no heirs can be found, and the remainder (Rs 8,649-5-8) is under enquiry. Considering the difficulties placed in the way of these investigations by the prevalence among emigrants of the custom of giving false particulars of names and residence on leaving India, these results are fairly satisfactory.

Dr. Grant performed his duty as Protector of Emigrants very efficiently during the year.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten
The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional stations for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 3rd December 1886.

CALCUTTA, the 7th December 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 3RD OF DECEMBER 1886.

THERE is little to note respecting the meteorology of the past week. The diffused disturbance which prevailed after the breaking up of the storm of the previous week passed away on Saturday. A few showers fell on that day in Orissa, South-West and East Bengal, heaviest and most general in the Bancoorah district, which received an average of one-third of an inch. The conditions established on Sunday (the 28th) were those that accompany fine, clear, cool weather during the north-east monsoon period. During the remainder of the week light northerly winds prevailed throughout the province. The temperature and humidity of the air decreased rapidly, and at the end of the week were generally slightly below the average. Fine clear weather with moderate north-easterly winds obtained over the whole of the Bay during the week, excepting the extreme south, where weather has been slightly disturbed.

The barometer has oscillated slowly and within narrow limits during the week. The mean pressure of the week was slightly in excess at Dacca, normal at Hazaribagh, and from ·01″ to ·02″ below the normal at other stations.

Temperature, more especially the night temperature, was unusually high at the commencement of the week. The change in the weather on the 28th was followed by a rapid reduction of the night temperature, more rapid than usual in December. The fall in the minimum temperature between the 27th and the 3rd varied from 10° to 15° at the great majority of stations. The minimum day temperature also fell, but to a much less extent, from 2° to 4°. The mean temperature of the week was generally above the average by amounts ranging from ·7° in South-West Bengal to 1·8° in Orissa. The minimum temperature was slightly more above the normal than the maximum. The following table gives data for eight representative stations in different parts of the province:—

Darjeeling	51 2	52·9	+1·7	38·0	41·0	+3·0	44·6	47·0	+2·4

As already remarked, some sporadic showers occurred on the 27th in a few districts of Orissa, South-West Bengal, and East Bengal. The amount was practically nil, excepting in the Bankoora district, which received an average of ·33 inch. November is usually the driest month of the year in Bengal, the average rainfall of the month barely exceeding a tenth of an inch

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 3rd of December 1886:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of former years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 1·6° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE principal Municipalities in Bengal registered, during the week ending 13th November 1886, births and deaths at the rates of 25·6 and 41·0 per 1,000 of population, respectively, as opposed to 23·7 and 41·1 per 1,000, respectively, in the preceding week ending 6th November, indicating an improvement in the record of births.

2. With regard to local distribution of the births and deaths of the week in question, the following Municipalities show the highest rates :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Naraingunge	82·8	Puri	167·9
Utterpara	66·1	Serampore	109·9
Comillah	50·1	Bali	91·3
Beauleah	49·9	Bhagulpore	66·1
Serampore	47·1	Mozufferpore	60·8
Monghyr	42 5	Suburbs of Calcutta...	58·3
Gya	39·7	Comillah	53·9
Chittagong	35·2	Monghyr	52·4
Howrah	34·9	Gya	51·9
Bhagulpore	32·6	Utterpara	47·2
Hughli	30·9	Purneah	41·5
		Beauleah	39·1
		Patna	38·3
		Burdwan	38·1
		Hughli	36·2
		Midnapore	35·6

3. The following figures represent the rates of mortality from the principal diseases under record, during the week under review, contrasted with similar information for the preceding week :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	13th Nov. 1886.	6th Nov. 1886.
Cholera	11 5	9·8
Small-pox	...	...
Fever	16·1	15·3
Bowel-complaints	4·9	5·3
Injury	·3	·4
Other causes	9·0	10·3

indicating that there was an enhancement of mortality from cholera and fever, markedly from the former, with a decrease in that from the unspecified maladies recorded under the head of "Other causes."

4. Of the diseases mentioned in the foregoing table, cholera, fever, bowel-complaints, and the maladies grouped under the head of "Other causes," are reported to have been conspicuously fatal in the following Municipalities :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Bowel-complaints.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Puri ...	132·2	Comillah ...	42·4	Serampore ...	13·7	Serampore ...	25·5

Midnapore ...	7·7	Bhagulpore ...	23·5
Gya ...	7·5	Suburbs of Calcutta	21·1
Howrah ...	3·4

The above record indicates that Puri, Serampore, Bali and Mozufferpore suffered inordinately from cholera, and Comillah, Beauleah, Bali and Purneah from fever.

5. The death-rates under the heads of Sex, Class and Age, stood as follows :—

According to Sex.	Ratio per mille.
Males	41·7
Females	42·0
Ratio of male deaths to every 100 female deaths	112

According to Class.	Ratio per mille.
Christians	8·7

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans, above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

PART I.

Orders and Notifications by the Lieut.-Governor of Bengal, the High Court, Government Treasury, &c.

ORDERS BY THE LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF BENGAL.

No. 3857A.

GENERAL.—The 7th October 1886.—The following promotions are made in the "Behar Light Horse":—

Lieutenant John Mannin Macnamara to be Captain, vice Captain P. Nolan, resigned.

Sergeant Herbert Alexander Erskine Manners to be Lieutenant, vice Lieutenant A. Ogilvey, resigned.

Corporal Thomas Lowten Layton Jenkins to be Lieutenant, vice Lieutenant J. M. Macnamara, promoted.

Sergeant Ernest Alexander Mackintosh to be Lieutenant, vice Lieutenant J. Hodding, promoted.

The Lieutenant-Governor accepts the resignation tendered by Captain L. J. Crowdy of his commission in the "Behar Light Horse."

The 7th December 1886.—Baboo Hem Chunder Mookerjee, Temporary Sub-Deputy Collector, in charge of the Khas Tehsil Office, Contai, Midnapore, is appointed to perform the functions of a Collector, under section 4 of Act VII (B.C.) of 1880, vice Baboo Kali Sunker Sen, on leave.

The 8th December 1886.—Baboo Sarut Chunder Chatterjee, Temporary Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector, Dinagepore, is appointed to have charge of the Thakurgaon sub-division of that district.

The 9th December 1886.—Mr. W. Barclay Brown, who was, in 1885, appointed to be a member of the Covenanted Civil Service, but has now reported his arrival in India, is appointed to be an Assistant Magistrate and Collector in the Bhagulpore Division, and is posted to the Sudder station of the district of Monghyr.

Mr. T. W. Richardson, who has recently been appointed to be a member of the Covenanted Civil Service, is appointed to be an Assistant Magistrate and Collector in the Presidency Division, and is posted to the Sudder station of the district of Moorshedabad.

Baboo Kasi Kinker Sen, Deputy Magistrate and Deputy Collector, Mymensingh, is transferred to the Sudder station of the Moorshedabad district.

F. B. PEACOCK,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 14th December 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Public Service Commission will be glad to receive the opinions of any Association or Society, or of any gentleman, official or non-official, on the subject set forth in the Resolution of the Government of India, in the Home Department, No. 34—1573-80, dated the 4th October last, viz., the admission of Natives of India to the various branches of the Public Service connected with the civil administration of this country.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 9th December 1886.—The following alterations affecting the Public Works Department in the rules for the examination of civil officers in the Lower Provinces of Bengal in the vernacular languages, contained in Appendix IV of the Departmental Examination Rules, dated the 21st March 1883, are published for the information of officers of the Public Works Department.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

In Appendix IV, at page 7 of the rules, for the words "by G. G. O. No. 734, dated 9th September 1864, and G. G. O. No. 294, dated 24th March 1866," in clause (II), under Rule 2, read "in the Bengal Army Regulations, section 24."

In clause (III) under, above Rule 2, at page 8, for "by the G. G. O. above quoted" read "in the above section of the Regulations."

Substitute the following for Rule 3, at page 8:—

"Officers of the Public Works Department are required to pass the examination specified in grade III above, or a similar examination in the language of the district in which they may be employed."

The present Rule 3 should be numbered 3(a), and the words "Public Works" expunged therefrom.

Substitute the following for the Military Higher and Lower Standards of Examinations at pages 10 to 12 of the revised Departmental Examination Rules:—

SECTION 24 OF THE BENGAL ARMY REGULATIONS—NATIVE LANGUAGES.

I.—HIGHER AND LOWER STANDARDS.

Grade III.—Military Lower Standard of Examination.

Tests for examination.

1. The following are the tests laid down for this examination:—

(a).—Reading fairly, and construing with accuracy, not less than half an octavo page of the undermentioned works, the passages being selected by the examining officer himself before the examination—

1. Bágh-o-Báhar, the second Darvesh, including the story of King Azád Bakht.
2. Captain Jarrett's translation of Marshman's History of India, Hindu period.

(b).—Conversing with an educated native in the presence of the examiner on subjects likely to occur in the performance of regimental or professional duty in the transaction of ordinary business, or in the course of every day life. The candidate should be required to ask or reply to at least 30 questions or answers in this test to the satisfaction of the examining officer. The questions and answers to be written down by the candidate in the English character.

Assembly of Committees of examination.

2. Examinations will be conducted quarterly under the orders of the Officer Commanding on the first Monday in January, April, July, and October at all Military stations where there are candidates, and where the services of a qualified examiner (paragraph 3) are available.

Composition of Committees.

3. One officer who has passed at least the higher standard in Hindustani will be appointed to conduct the examination, assisted by a medical officer, who has passed at least the lower standard, whenever medical officers or subordinates present themselves for examination; but when a "passed" medical officer is not available, a medical officer of long standing and experience may be nominated, a certificate to that effect from the Officer Commanding the station being attached to the proceedings. The decision of the examining officer is final, and not subject to review by Officers Commanding stations.

Decision of Committee final.

Proceedings of the Committee.

4. The report of the examining officer is to be in the following form. A separate report is required for each candidate. The remarks are to be expressed definitely and concisely, thus:—

"Excellent," "very good," "good," "tolerable," "indifferent," "very indifferent," "bad," "very bad" (paragraphs 14 and 15).

Proceedings on the examination of———————by the Lower Standard in Hindustani, held this day as laid down in paragraphs 1 to 5, section 24 of the Bengal Army Regulations.

Dated at 188

REMARKS.

1. Bágh-o-Báhar 1
2. Captain Jarrett's translation of Marshman's History of India, Hindu period 2
3. Colloquial 3

I, the undersigned, do hereby declare that the above is a fair and impartial report on the examination of the candidate which was held by me on the day of 188 between the hours of and ; and, in conclusion, I am of opinion that the acquirements of do (or do not) come up to the prescribed standard.

(Signature of the examining officer, and medical officer attending, when necessary).

Names of candidates to be printed by hand (paragraph 1, section 22).

5. The examining officer will inform the unsuccessful candidates on the spot that they have failed, and will forward the reports (with the written portion of the colloquial examination) of the successful candidates only direct to the Adjutant-General in India, Simla.

Grade II.—Military Higher Standard of Examination.

Tests for the higher standard examination.

6. The following are the tests laid down for this examination :—

(a).—Reading fluently, and construing with readiness and accuracy, not less than an ordinary octavo page of the undermentioned works—

1. Bágh-o-Báhar.
2. Selections from the prose of the Prem Ságar.

(b).—Translating accurately, and with correctness of idiom and grammar, not less than half an ordinary octavo page of plain English into language similar to that of the Bágh-o Báhar in the Persian character, and an equal amount in Hindi character in language similar to that of the Prem Ságar (paragraph 32).

(c).—Reading fairly, and translating readily and correctly, Hindustani manuscripts written in both the Persian and Hindi characters. These manuscripts may be selected from the proceedings of a case in court, from reports or petitions addressed to civil or military authorities, from letters passing between natives of India in the ordinary course of business, or from private correspondence. They should not be written with the clearness of a printed book, nor yet in a very cramped or crabbed hand, but in such a manner as fairly and honestly to represent the written characters as practically employed in the presidency or province in which the examination is held.

(d).—Vivâ voce translation into the Oriental language of a paper of English sentences, and conversing with the examiners, or, in their presence, with persons selected by them, with fluency and with such correctness of pronunciation, grammar, and idiom as to be at once intelligible.

Assembly of Committees.

7. Committees for the examination of candidates for the higher standard are to assemble annually on the first Monday of July, at Simla, Landour, Muree, and Naini Tal, and quarterly on the first Monday of January, April, July, and October at Quetta and the head-quarter stations of divisions, districts, and brigades. Should the 1st of January fall on a Monday, the examination will be held on the following day. Notice of the assembly of the Committees should be given in station orders, and candidates wishing to attend should submit applications to the staff officer. Civil subordinates of the Public Works Department should submit their applications through the Executive Engineer.

Composition of Committees.

8. The Committees will be composed, when practicable, of one officer of the Civil Service, and two or more military officers, who have passed the interpreter's examination or the higher standard, the senior to preside. As a general rule, the senior available qualified officers are to be appointed to the important duty of examiners on these Committees, except when the local authorities may consider it expedient to select junior officers in consequence of their known proficiency in the languages, or for other sufficient reasons.

Supply of test books.

9. Three copies of the test books, of the same editions as those used by the Board of Examiners at Fort William, are provided by the State for the Staff Office of every station where a Committee is ordered to assemble. These books are to be sent, at the appointed time, to the place directed for the meeting of the Committee into whose hands they are to be delivered.

Exercises for the examination to be supplied from Calcutta to staff officers of stations.

10. The exercises intended for the written examination will be printed under the orders of the Board of Examiners at Fort William, by whom also the exercises for the oral examination will be fixed. The printed papers, accompanied by lists of exercises and blank forms of reports, together with a letter of instructions, will be forwarded under the Board's seal to the staff officer of the station. These envelopes are to remain in the hands of the staff officers of stations with the seals unbroken, until the day and hour of the examination, when they are to be delivered by the staff officer with the letter of instructions into the hands of the Committee at the appointed place of examination, in order that they may be then opened and given to the candidates.

Certificate of candidate.

11. When the candidate has completed his task, he is to be required to write and sign, in the presence of the Committee, a declaration upon honour, to the effect that he has neither given nor obtained any aid or assistance whatever, and that, previous to undergoing his examination, he was aware what exercise would be submitted to him, what part of the test books he would be called upon to read, and what questions would be asked him.

Proceedings of the Committees.

12. Committees are to record their proceedings on the printed forms furnished to them, and in the prescribed manner. The reports are to be accompanied by the written exercises of each candidate, and are to contain the opinion of the Committee on the manner in which they have severally passed the vivâ voce part of their examination. Each candidate's papers are to be separately made up, and designated by figures or letters assigned by the Committee, and not by his name. The whole are then to be forwarded direct by the President of the Committee to the Secretary to the Board of Examiners at Fort William.

Names of candidates to be sent to head-quarters.

13. The declaration certificates (paragraph 11), and a memorandum of the names of the candidates and of their respective distinctive marks, as affixed to the report of the Committee, are to be furnished by the President of the Committee to the Staff Officer of the station, for transmission, through the regular channel, to the Adjutant-General's Office, Simla. This memorandum is to be considered by all concerned as strictly confidential, and candidates or others are on no account to be made acquainted with the distinctive marks or figures which have been assigned. The memorandum is to be prepared according to the form given in Appendix No. 51.

Duties of Presidents of Committees in preventing irregularities.

14. Officers appointed to conduct either the lower standard or higher standard examinations will be held responsible that the examinations are conducted with propriety, and it will be their special duty to take proper precautions against candidates becoming acquainted, before examination, with the passages set in the books, or holding conversation with any one except when required to do so for the purpose of their examination; also that the oral examination of one candidate is not overheard by others, and that in the higher standard examination the candidates do not render each other assistance in the preparation of their exercises. Should any of these irregularities occur, the examination will be considered as vitiated.

Place to be selected for the examination.

15. The place selected for the assembly of Examination Committees should be the most spacious room in the station, which may be available for the purpose, and the Committee should meet there about one hour before the time appointed, in order to make the necessary arrangements for the examination. All the candidates are to be placed as far apart from each other and from the Committee, except when under examination, as the size of the room will admit.

NOTIFICATION.

NOTIFICATION.

The 14th December 1886.—Under the provisions of section 37, Act XVIII of 1879, the following rule is passed by Government for the regulation of the examination for Revenue Agents and for the appointment of Examiners:—

"The examination for Revenue Agents will be in the following subjects:—

I.—The permanent settlement, the Government lien on land, and the mode in which estates can be brought to sale for arrears of revenue.

II.—The law of undertenures, and the mode in which the same can be brought to sale for arrears of revenue and rent.

III.—The law for the division of estates.

IV.—The rent law.

V.—The law relating to survey and settlement.

VI.—The law of evidence.

VII.—The stamp laws.

VIII.—General, in which are included more particularly the Cess Act, the laws relating to land acquisition, license-tax and excise, and the rules of the Board of Revenue.

(b). The examination of applicants for admission as Revenue Agents shall be held by a Committee composed of the Subordinate Judge, and where there is no such officer the Sudder Munsif, ex-officio, and a selected Deputy Collector at the head-quarters of each district. The Deputy Collector should be selected, from time to time, by the Commissioner of the Division, as occasion may require. The Collector or a Covenanted Deputy Collector should also be an Examiner, and one of these officers should alternately preside at each examination, in order to avoid the possibility of the Examiners being divided.

(c). The examination shall be held once in each year, on the second Monday in August, or on such other date as the Government may direct, and shall be by questions in writing and viva voce.

(d). The examination shall be conducted in English or in the vernacular of the district at the option of the candidate.

(e). Previously to each examination, the Board shall prepare written questions on the subjects mentioned in paragraph 8 of these rules.

(f). There shall be ten written questions The number of marks to which each candidate shall be entitled for a full answer to each question shall be separately specified by the Board at the time of preparing the questions. The viva voce questions shall be prepared by the Local Committee: at least four questions shall be asked of each candidate.

(g). The aggregate number of marks for full answers to the whole of the ten written questions shall be 160, and the full number of marks for the viva voce questions shall be 40.

(h). To be entitled to pass, a candidate must obtain 100 marks at least in the written paper, and 25 in the viva voce examination.

(i). The number of marks, whether full or less than full, to which each candidate shall be entitled for his answers, as well to the written questions as upon viva voce examination, shall be determined by the Committee in each district, who shall thereupon declare, as to each candidate, whether he has or has not passed the examination, and report the result to the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, who shall transmit the same to the Government, for the publication of the names of the successful candidates in the Calcutta Gazette."

P. NOLAN,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

CADIAPATAM OR MUTTUM POINT.

Further particulars of the dangers off Muttum Point.

WITH reference to this Department Notice to Mariners, No. 57, of the 16th October 1886, on the dangerous rocks between Crocodile rock and Muttum point, the following further particulars resulting from a recent examination by the Indian Marine Surveying steamer Investigator have been received:—

Crocodile Rock—Lies 3 miles S. W. ¾ S. of the Muttum point light-house, as formerly reported in 1882. A shoal of 3 fathoms having been found 3½ cables S. by E. of Kotah island, the channel between Crocodile rock and this island is not recommended.

Kotah Island—Which is 12 feet high, is black and steep-to, with foul ground all round it within 4½ cables; foul ground also exists 1¾ miles N. ¾ W. of this island. Kotah bears from the Cadiapatam light-house W. by S., distant 2⅛ miles.

Adundah Island—Is low (8 feet high) and smooth and barely visible from seaward; foul ground extends 1½ cables all round. Adundah bears from Muttum light-house S. W. ¼ S., distant 1¼ miles.

Rocky ground—Extends 1¼ cables off Cadiapatam point.

Note.—Only vessels bound to Kolachel or Cadiapatam should think of passing inshore of Kotah and Adundah islands.

The bearings are magnetic.

CALCUTTA, the 9th December 1886.

Rules for Private Students desiring to appear at the ensuing Entrance Examination from the Eastern Circle.

Definition.—A private student is one who has not been a pupil of any one school continuously since the 1st November next preceding the examination.

Rule 1.—Every candidate from the Eastern Circle who desires to appear at the ensuing Entrance Examination will, at least fifteen days before the date on which the test examination of the school begins, submit an application to the head-master of the zillah school of his district for permission to appear at the said examination.

Rule 1 (a).—As it often happens that candidates repeatedly fail at the Entrance Examination, Rule 1 will be strictly enforced in regard to all failed candidates who wish to appear a second or third time.

2. Every candidate will be required to pay a fee of Rs. 2 on the first day of the test examination.

3. Immediately after the result of the examination is known, the head-master will send to this office the name of each private student who has successfully passed the test, together with the form of application, to the Registrar of the Calcutta University, duly filled up by the candidate. The application, with the necessary certificate, will be returned to the head-master for delivery to the candidate, who will forward it to the Registrar with the usual entrance fee of Rs. 10.

4. The head-master will send separately the names of those private students who appeared at the test examination but failed to pass.

N. B.—By the permission of the Principal of the College, the words "zillah school include the Dacca Collegiate School.

C. A. MARTIN,
Inspector of Schools, Eastern Circle.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT:—
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1885-86, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

,, ,, ,, 550, ,, ,,	600	...	7	0

No additional charge will be levied for the telegram advising the remittance. The above rates will cover both postal and telegraph charges.

2. The maximum amount for which a single inland telegraphic money order can be issued will be raised to Rs. 600; the minimum amount will be Re. 1.

3. No telegraphic money order can include the fraction of a rupee. Up to Rs. 150 these orders will be available for sums in even rupees: beyond that limit the order must be for sums which are multiples of Rs. 10.

4. Under existing rules a private message can be added by the remitter to the telegram advising the remittance on payment of the prescribed separate charges. This will not be permissible under these revised rules.

5. The remitter will not be able in future to prepay a reply from the payee acknowledging the remittance; but he will obtain the ordinary money order acknowledgment by post.

Telegraphing amounts of foreign sterling money orders.

6. The amount of a foreign money order expressed in sterling can be telegraphed, as at present, to Bombay, whence the order will be communicated by post to the foreign country of payment. The limit of value for a single foreign money order expressed in sterling and telegraphed as above will be raised to £40, and no such money order may be for less than £1 or contain a fraction of £1. The rates of commission (including telegraph charges) will be as follows:—

PART IV.

Bill of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 11th December 1886, and was referred to a Select Committee :—

A Bill to appoint Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the management of the affairs of the Port of Chittagong, and for that purpose to appoint Commissioners : It is hereby enacted as follows :— Preamble.

CHAPTER I.

PRELIMINARY.

1. This Act may be called "The Chittagong Port Commissioners' Act, 1886." Short title.

And it shall come into force on such date as the Local Government may, by notification, direct. Commencement.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context— Interpretations.

"High-water mark" means a line drawn through the highest points reached by ordinary spring tides at any season of the year. "High-water mark."

"Land" includes the bed of the river below high-water mark, and also things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth. "Land."

"Low-water mark" means the lowest point reached by ordinary ebb spring tides at any season of the year. "Low water mark"

"Master," when used in relation to any vessel, means any person (except a pilot or harbour-master) having for the time being the charge or control of such vessel. "Master"

"Notification" means a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette. "Notification."

"Owner" includes also any agent to whom a vessel is consigned. "Owner"

"Pilot" means a person for the time being authorized by the Local Government to pilot vessels. "Pilot."

"Port" means the Port of Chittagong as defined for the purposes of this Act. "Port"

"River" means any flowing water within the port navigable by vessels, and includes the bank up to high-water mark. "River."

"Vessel" includes any ship, barge, boat, raft or craft, or any other thing whatever made for the conveyance by water of human beings or of property. "Vessel"

3. The Local Government may, by notification, define the limits of the port for the purposes of this Act, and may from time to time, by a like notification, alter such limits. Power to define and alter limits of port.

Such limits may extend to any part of the navigable approaches to Chittagong, and may include any wharves, quays, stages, jetties, piers, tramways, warehouses, sheds and other works made on behalf of the public for the convenience of traffic, for the safety of vessels, or for the improvement, maintenance and good government of the port or river, whether within or without high-water mark, and (subject to any rights of private property therein) any portion of the shore or bank within fifty yards of high-water mark.

CHAPTER II.

APPOINTMENT AND ELECTION OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

Commissioners incorporated.

4. The duty of carrying out the provisions of this Act shall, subject to such conditions and limitations as are hereinafter contained, be vested in the "Commissioners of the Port of Chittagong," hereinafter called "The Commissioners," and the Commissioners shall be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal, and shall sue and be sued by the name first aforesaid.

Appointment and election of Commissioners.

5. There shall be nine Commissioners, of whom six shall be appointed by the Local Government, and three shall be elected by such body, bodies or firms engaged in commerce in the Port as the Local Government may from time to time direct.

In default of election, Local Government to appoint.

6. In the event of default being made by such body, bodies or firms in electing any Commissioner under the last preceding section, it shall be lawful for the Local Government to appoint a person, and the person so appointed shall be deemed to be a Commissioner as if he had been elected by such body, bodies or firms.

Tenure of office.

7. Every Commissioner shall, unless he becomes in the meantime disqualified under section eight, hold office for a term of two years; and any person on ceasing to be a Commissioner may, unless he has become disqualified under section eight, be re-appointed or re-elected.

The Local Government may at any time accept the resignation of any Commissioner.

Disqualification for office of Commissioners.

8. No person shall be qualified to be a Commissioner during such time as he

(a) is an uncertificated bankrupt or insolvent, or

(b) holds any office or place of profit under the Commissioners, or

(c) has, directly or indirectly, any share or interest in any work done by order of the Commissioners, or in any contract, or employment with, by or on behalf of the Commissioners;

and any Commissioner who

(d) becomes disqualified for any of the aforesaid reasons, or

(e) is absent from the meetings of the Commissioners for a period exceeding twelve consecutive months, or without the permission of the Commissioners from six consecutive meetings of the Commissioners, or shall cease to be a Commissioner, and his office shall thereupon become vacant:

(f) is sentenced to imprisonment,

Provided always that no Commissioner shall vacate his office by reason only of his

(g) having a share in any joint stock company which shall contract with, or be employed by, or on behalf of, the Commissioners, or

(h) having a share or interest in any newspaper in which any advertisement relating to the affairs of the Commissioners may be inserted, or

(i) being interested in any loan of money to the Commissioners.

Casual vacancies.

9. Any casual vacancy in the office of a Commissioner occasioned by the death, resignation or disqualification of such Commissioner shall be filled up within one month by the local Government, if the office vacated was that of a Commissioner appointed by the Local Government, or by the body, bodies or firms for the time being invested by the Local Government with the power of electing Commissioners under this Act, if it was that of an elected Commissioner, in the same manner and subject, as far as may be, to the same provisions as are applicable in the case of original appointments and elections of Commissioners,

Provided that the Commissioner so appointed or elected shall retain his office so long only as the vacating Commissioner would have retained it if such vacancy had not occurred.

Chairman and Vice-Chairman.

10. The Local Government may from time to time appoint one of the Commissioners to be Chairman and another of the Commissioners to be Vice-Chairman, and may cancel such appointment. Such Chairman and Vice-Chairman, respectively, shall receive such remuneration, if any, as the Local Government may from time to time determine.

Appointments and elections to be notified.

11. The names of all persons appointed or elected under sections five, six and nine shall be notified in the Calcutta Gazette.

CHAPTER III.

POWERS AND DUTIES OF COMMISSIONERS.

Power to hold property.

12. With the previous sanction of the Local Government, the Commissioners may acquire and hold moveable or immoveable property within or without the limits of the port; and, with the same sanction, may lease, mortgage, sell or exchange such property.

Transfer of Government property to Commissioners.

13. The property specified in the first schedule of this Act shall be vested in the Commissioners:

Provided that—

(a) no buildings or other permanent structures shall be erected thereon, except with the sanction of, and in accordance with plans to be previously approved by, the Local Government;

(b) any portion of such property required by Government for a public purpose may be resumed by Government without claim to compensation on the part of the Commissioners, except for buildings or other permanent structures erected thereon with the sanction of the Local Government subsequently to the date on which this Act comes into force;

(c) if any question arises between the Government and the Commissioners as to the boundaries of any portion of such land, the Local Government may define and demarcate such boundaries, and the decision of the Local Government in respect to such boundaries shall be final.

Acquisition of land.

14. When any land is required for the purposes of this Act, the Local Government may, on the request of the Commissioners, proceed to acquire it under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1870; and on payment by the Commissioners of the compensation awarded under that Act, the land shall vest in the Commissioners.

Property to be in trust.

15. All property vested in, or acquired or held by, and all moneys paid or payable to, the Commissioners shall be held and applied by them in trust for the purposes of this Act.

Works to be constructed.

16. The works to be constructed and carried out by the Commissioners may include the following:—

(a) wharves, quays, stages, jetties and piers with all necessary and convenient drains, arche, landing-places, stairs, fences and approaches;

(b) tramways, warehouses, sheds, engines and other appliances for conveying, receiving and storing goods and merchandize landed or to be shipped;

(c) laying down moorings and erecting cranes, scales, and all other necessary appliances for loading and unloading vessels;

(d) reclaiming, enclosing and raising any part of the bank or bed of the river within the limits of the port;

(e) the construction and application of dredges and other machines for cleansing, deepening and improving the bed of the river within the limits of the port;

(f) procuring and employing steam-vessels for towing vessels into, out of, in or upon, the river of the port;

(g) such works without the limits of the port as shall be necessary for the protection of works executed under this Act;

(h) the excavation and maintenance of the Moheshkhali channel or any other navigable channel communicating therewith which may hereafter be placed under the management of the Commissioners by the Local Government by notification

(i) all such other works and appliances as may, in the opinion of the Commissioners, be necessary for carrying out the provisions of this Act.

Power to make port rules.

17. With the previous sanction of the Local Government, the Commissioners may make rules consistent with this Act and with the Indian Ports Act, 1875, for any of the following purposes:—

(a) for regulating, declaring and defining the wharves, quays, stages, jetties and piers on and from which goods shall be landed from and shipped in vessels within the port;

(b) for the safe and convenient use of such wharves, quays, stages, jetties, piers and of landing-places, tramways, warehouses, sheds and other works in and adjoining them;

(c) for regulating the reception and removal of goods within and from the premises of the Commissioners, and for declaring the procedure to be followed in taking charge of goods which may have been damaged before landing, or may be alleged to be so damaged;

(d) for the mode of payment of tolls, charges, dues and rates levied under this Act;

(e) for providing water for ships and for licensing and regulating water-boats within the port;

(f) for the removal of wrecks from the port or the river and keeping clean the port, the river, the bank of the river and the works of the Commissioners, and for preventing filth or rubbish being thrown therein or thereon;

(g) for otherwise carrying out the purposes of this Act;

And may from time to time, with the like sanction, repeal or alter such rules.

Such rules when sanctioned shall be published in such manner as the Local Government may direct, and shall thereupon have the force of law.

Control of pilots within the port.

18. Within the limits of the port, pilots in charge of vessels shall obey all lawful orders issued to them by the Commissioners in respect to such vessels.

Free public landing-places.

19. The Commissioners shall make a sufficient number of landing-places within the port, from and upon which the public may be permitted to embark and land free of charge.

Removal of bathing and landing places.

20. The Commissioners may occupy or remove or alter any bathing-place or landing-place within the port, and prohibit the public from resorting to or using such bathing-place or landing place:

Provided that the Commissioners shall provide for the use of the public such other bathing-places or landing-places, if any, as the Local Government may, by notification, direct.

Appliances for the convenient shipment and landing of goods in and from sea-going vessels.

21. For the expeditious and convenient landing and shipment of goods from and in sea-going vessels within the port, and for the storing of such goods, the Commissioners may provide and maintain sufficient wharves, quays, stages, jetties, piers, warehouses and sheds, and sufficient servants and appliances, and may by their servants land and ship all goods from and in any such vessel coming to such wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier, except where there is a lawful excuse for refusing to land or ship such goods, or such vessel is under any enactment for the time being in force not entitled to have her cargo shipped or discharged:

provided that—

(a) the Commissioners shall not be bound to land, ship or move any single article or package exceeding ten tons of twenty hundredweight in weight, except at such special charge as may be agreed on in respect of such article or package;

(b) the Commissioners may, by special agreement with the masters of vessels or the owners of goods, permit goods to be landed and shipped by others than the servants of the Commissioners.

Sea-going vessels compelled to use wharves, &c.

22. When any wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier has been made and completed, with sufficient warehouses, sheds and appliances for landing and shipping, or for landing or or shipping goods from and in sea-going vessels, the Commissioners may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, by a notification published in three consecutive numbers of the Calcutta Gazette, declare that such wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier is ready for receiving, landing and shipping, or for landing or for shipping, as the case may be, goods from and in sea-going vessels.

From and after such publication the Commissioners may from time to time, when there is room at such wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier, order to come alongside of such wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier for the purpose of landing and shipping goods, or for landing or for shipping the same, as the case may be, any sea-going vessel within the port which has not commenced to discharge cargo, or which, being about to take in cargo, has not commenced to take in cargo.

If accommodation sufficient, all sea-going vessels compelled to use wharves, &c.

23. When a sufficient number of wharves, quays, stages, jetties, piers, warehouses, sheds and appliances have been provided as aforesaid, the Commissioners may, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, by an order published in three consecutive numbers of the Calcutta Gazette, direct that no goods shall be landed or shipped from or in sea-going vessels within the port, save at such wharves, quays, stages, jetties and piers.

The Commissioners may in like manner, with the like sanction, alter, vary, or revoke such order.

Inland vessels compelled to use wharves, &c.

24. When any wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier for receiving, landing or shipping goods from or in vessels, not being sea-going vessels, has been made and completed by the Commissioners, with sufficient warehouses, sheds and appliances in that behalf, the Commissioners may, with the sanction of the Local Government, by an order published in three consecutive numbers of the Calcutta Gazette, declare that such wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier is ready for receiving, landing and shipping goods from or in vessels, not being sea-going vessels, and that, within certain prescribed limits within the port to be specified in such order, it shall not be lawful to land or ship any goods from or in any vessel, not being a sea-going vessel, of any class specified in such order, except at such wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier, or for any such vessel while within such limits to anchor, fasten or lie within fifty yards of low-water mark without the consent of the Commissioners.

If after such publication any such vessel, while within such limits, so anchors, fastens or lays, the Commissioners may cause the same to be removed out of the said limits.

The Commissioners may in like manner, with the like sanction, alter, vary or revoke any such order.

Power to order removal of vessels from wharves, &c.

25. The Commissioners may, by notice in writing, order the master or owner of any vessel to remove such vessel from any wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier belonging to the Commissioners, and unless such vessel is removed therefrom within thirty-six hours after service of such notice on the master or owner thereof, the Commissioners may charge in respect of such vessel such sum as they think fit not exceeding one hundred rupees for each day of twenty-four hours or portion of such day after the expiry of such thirty-six hours during which such vessel remains at such wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier.

Power to exempt from obligation to use wharves, &c.

26. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections twenty-two, twenty-three and twenty-four, the Local Government may, by notification, from time to time permit certain specified vessels or classes of vessels to discharge or ship cargo, or certain specified cargo or classes of cargo, at such part of the port, in such manner, during such period, subject to such payments and on such conditions, as the Local Government may think fit, and otherwise grant exemption from the provisions of such sections.

The Local Government may also, by like notification, cancel or modify any such notification.

Discharge of liability on goods landed.

27. Whenever any goods are landed by the Commissioners from any vessel, the Commissioners shall, if so required, give to the master of such vessel a receipt in the form set forth, or to the effect set forth, in the second schedule of this Act, and may in any such receipt include all goods landed from such vessel during one day:

Provided that no master or owner of a vessel, from which the goods in respect of which such receipt is given may have been landed, shall be liable for any loss or damage to such goods which may occur after they have been so landed.

Wharves, &c., to be appointed under Customs Acts.

28. When the Local Government appoints, under the provisions of any Act for the regulation of duties of customs, any wharf, quay, stage, jetty, pier, warehouse or shed provided under this Act for the use of sea-going vessels to be a wharf for the landing or shipping, or a warehouse for the storing, of goods within the meaning of such Act, the Commissioners shall set apart, maintain and secure on or in such wharf, quay, stage, jetty, pier, warehouse or shed such portion thereof or place herein, or adjoining thereto, for the use of the officers of Customs as the Local Government approves of or appoints in that behalf.

Dues at Customs wharves, &c.

29. Notwithstanding that any wharf, quay, stage, jetty, pier, warehouse or shed or portion thereof, has, under the provisions of the last foregoing section, been set apart for the use of the officers of Customs, all dues, rates, tolls, charges and rents payable under this Act in respect thereof, or for the use thereof, or for the stowage of goods therein, shall be paid and be payable to the Commissioners or to such persons as they may appoint to receive such dues, rates, tolls, charges or rents.

Private wharves, &c., prohibited.

30. Save as is hereinafter provided, no person except the Commissioners shall, after the date on which this Act comes into force, make, erect or fix below high-water mark within the port any wharf, dock, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection or mooring.

Any matter or thing so made, erected or fixed may be removed by the Commissioners, and the person who has so made, erected or fixed any such matter or thing shall be punished with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, and with a further fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for every day during which such matter or thing has been permitted to remain so made, erected or fixed after notice to remove it has been given to him, and shall also be liable to pay all expenses which may have been incurred by the Commissioners in removing such matter or thing.

Power to permit erection of private wharves, &c., within the port subject to conditions.

31. The Commissioners may, by an order in writing, and subject to the conditions contained in the same, permit any person to make, erect or fix below high-water mark within the port any wharf, dock, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection or mooring.

Wharves, &c., beyond port limits.

32. In case any wharf, dock, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection or mooring is, after the date on which this Act comes into force, without the consent in writing of the Commissioners, made, erected or fixed below high-water mark without the limits for the time being of the port, and thereafter the limits of the port are extended so as to include the place in which such wharf, dock, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection or mooring has been made, erected or fixed, the Commissioners may remove, fill up or destroy such wharf, dock, quay, stage, jetty, pier, erection or mooring without making any compensation therefor

33. The Commissioners shall frame—

Scale of tolls and charges to be framed.

(a) A scale of tolls, dues, rates and charges for the landing and shipment of goods from and in sea-going vessels and vessels not being sea-going vessels respectively, at the wharves, quays, stages, jetties and piers, and for the use of such wharves, quays, stages, jetties and piers by such vessels, and for the storing and keeping of any goods stored in any premises belonging to the Commissioners, and for the removal of goods, and for the use of any mooring.

(b) A scale of tolls for the use of the said wharves, quays, moorings, stages, jetties and piers by any such vessels, in case the Commissioners permit the goods to be landed or shipped by others than their own servants.

(c) A scale of charges for any services to be performed by the Commissioners or their servants in respect of any vessels or goods, or for the use of any works or appliances to be provided by the Commissioners.

Such scales shall be submitted to the Local Government, and, after approval or modification by the Local Government, shall be published by the Commissioners in the Calcutta Gazette.

The Commissioners may from time to time in like manner, with the like approval or modification and publication, alter such scales.

Every such scale shall be printed in the English and Bengalee languages and characters, and shall be hung up, and kept hung up, in some conspicuous place at the several wharves, quays, stages, jetties, piers, warehouses and sheds.

Commissioners' lien for tolls and charges.

34. For the amount of all tolls, dues, rates and charges levied under this Act in respect of any goods, the Commissioners shall have a lien on such goods, and shall be entitled to seize and detain them until such tolls, dues, rates and charges are fully paid.

Tolls, dues, rates and charges in respect of goods to be landed shall become payable immediately on the landing of the goods, and in respect of goods to be removed from the premises of the Commissioners or to be shipped for export, shall be payable before the goods are removed or shipped.

The lien for such tolls, dues, rates and charges shall have priority over all other liens and claims, except a lien for freight, primage and general average where such lien has been preserved in the manner hereinafter provided, and a lien for money payable to Her Majesty or the Secretary of State for India in Council under any law for the time being in force.

Owner's lien for freight.

35. If the master or owner of any vessel, at or before the time of landing from such vessel of any goods at any wharf, quay, stage, jetty or pier, gives to the Commissioners notice in writing that such goods are to remain subject to a lien for freight, primage or general average of an amount to be mentioned in such notice, such goods shall continue liable after the landing thereof to such lien.

Such goods shall be retained either in the warehouses and sheds of the Commissioners, or, with the consent of the Chief Officer of Customs, in the public warehouses, at the risk and expense of the owners of the said goods, until the lien is discharged as hereinafter mentioned.

Discharge of ship owner's lien for freight.

36. Upon the production to any officer appointed by the Commissioners in that behalf of a document purporting to be a receipt for, or a release from, the amount of such lien, executed by the person by or on whose behalf such notice has been given, the Commissioners may permit such goods to be removed without regard to such lien:

Provided that they shall have used reasonable care in respect to the authenticity of such document.

Goods may be removed to warehouses.

37. Whenever goods have, without any default on the part of the Commissioners, been left for two clear days on or in any wharf or shed belonging to the Commissioners, the Commissioners may cause such goods to be removed either to any warehouse belonging to them, or, with the consent of the Chief Officer of Customs, to the public warehouses; and the removal to and detention in any such warehouse shall be at the risk and expense of the owners of the said goods.

Whenever any goods are so removed, the Commissioners shall give notice to the consignee or owner of such goods of such removal, if his address be known, by letter sent by post to such address or left thereat; and shall also publish by notification and in the local newspaper or newspapers notice of such removal, and shall specify therein the numbers, marks and descriptions of such goods so far as the same appear; and the consignee or owner of such goods, in addition to the expenses of their removal, shall be liable, in case the goods are removed to any warehouse of the Commissioners, to a charge for warehousing for the time during which the goods shall remain in the said warehouse.

If the goods are removed to the public warehouses, the said consignee or owner shall be liable to the charges for warehousing goods in such public warehouses; and the said goods shall remain subject to all liens to which they would have been liable if they had remained in the possession of the Commissioners, and shall be subject to the power of sale hereinafter given.

Recovery of tolls and charges by sale of goods.

38. If the tolls, dues, rates and charges payable to the Commissioners in respect of any goods under this Act are not paid, or if the lien for freight, primage or general average where such notice as aforesaid has been given is not discharged, the Commissioners may, and in the latter event, if required by or on behalf of the person claiming such lien for freight, primage or general average, shall, at the expiration of four months from the time when the goods were placed in their custody, sell by public auction the said goods, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amounts hereinafter directed to be paid out of the produce of such sale.

Before making such sale, ten days' notice shall be given by publication thereof in the Calcutta Gazette and in the local newspaper or newspapers.

If the address of the owner of the goods has been stated on the manifest of the cargo, or in any of the documents which have come into the hands of the Commissioners, or is otherwise known, notice shall also be given to the owner of the goods by letter delivered at such address or sent by the post; but the title of a bonâ fide purchaser of such goods shall not be invalidated by reason of the omission to send such notice, nor shall any such purchaser be bound to enquire whether such notice has been sent:

Provided that, if such goods are of so perishable a nature as, in the opinion of the officer appointed by the Commissioners in that behalf, to render early or immediate sale necessary or advisable, the Commissioners may, within such period not less than twenty-four hours after the landing of the goods as they think fit, sell by public auction the said goods or such portion of them as aforesaid, in which event such notice, if any, shall be given to the owner of the goods as the urgency of the case admits of.

Application of sale proceeds.

39. The proceeds of every such sale shall be applied as follows :—

(a) in payment of the expenses of the sale ;

(b) in payment, according to their respective priorities, of the liens and claims excepted in section thirty-two from the priority of the lien of the Commissioners ;

(c) in payment of the tolls, dues, rates and charges of landing, removing, storing or warehousing the same, and of all other charges due to the Commissioners in respect thereof.

The surplus, if any, shall be paid to the importer, owner or consignee of the goods, or to his agents, on his applying for the same :

Provided that such application is made within one year from the sale, or reason is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners why such application was not so made ; and in case such application shall not be so made, nor reason shown, such surplus shall be held by the Commissioners upon trust for the purposes of this Act.

Recovery of tolls and charges by distraint of vessel.

40. If the master of any vessel in respect of which any tolls, dues, rates, charges or penalties are payable under this Act, or any rules or orders made in pursuance thereof, refuses or neglects to pay them or any part of them on demand, the Commissioners may apply to the Collector of Customs of the port, and such Collector shall distrain or arrest such vessel and the tackle, apparel and furniture belonging thereto, or any part thereof, and detain the same until the amount so due to the Commissioners is paid.

And in case any part of the said tolls, dues, rates, charges or penalties, or of the costs of the distress or arrestment, or of the keeping of the same, remains unpaid for the space of five days next after any such distress or arrestment has been so made, the Collector of Customs may cause the vessel or other thing so distrained or arrested to be sold, and, with the proceeds of such sale, shall satisfy such tolls, dues, rates, charges or penalties and costs, including the costs of sale remaining unpaid, rendering the surplus, if any, to the master of such vessel on demand.

Port clearance not to be granted till tolls, &c., are paid.

41. If the Commissioners give to the officer of Government whose duty it is to grant the port clearance of any vessel a notice stating that an amount therein specified is due in respect of tolls, dues, rates, charges or penalties chargeable under this Act, or any rules or orders made in pursuance thereof, against such vessel, or by the owner or master of such vessel, in respect thereof, or against or in respect of any goods on board such vessel, such officer shall not grant such port clearance until the amount so chargeable has been paid.

Compensation for damage to property of Commissioners.

42. In case any damage or mischief is done to any wharves, docks, quays, jetties, stages, piers or works constructed or acquired by the Commissioners under this Act by any vessel, through the negligence of the master thereof or of any of the mariners or persons employed therein, any Magistrate of the town of Chittagong may, on the application of the Commissioners, and on declaration by them that payment for such damage or mischief has been refused or has not been made on demand, issue a summons to the master or owner of such vessel, requiring him to attend on a day and at an hour named in the summons to answer touching such damage or mischief.

If at the time appointed in the summons, and whether the person summoned appears or not, it is proved that the alleged damage was done through such negligence as aforesaid, and that the pecuniary amount of the same does not exceed five hundred rupees, the Magistrate may issue his warrant of distress, under which a sufficient portion of the boats, masts, spars, ropes, cables, anchors or stores of the vessel may be seized and sold to cover the expenses of and attending the execution of the distress, and the pecuniary amount of damage as aforesaid, and such amount shall be paid to the Commissioners out of the proceeds of the distress :

Provided that if, at the time of the damage or mischief, the vessel was under the orders of a duly authorized officer belonging to the Pilot Service or the Harbour-Master's or Master-Attendant's Department, the case shall not be cognizable by the Magistrate under this section.

"River police."

43. The Commissioners shall provide such sums as the Local Government may from time to time require for the establishment and maintenance of police, to be called "River Police," for the protection of the port, the approaches to the port and the river. Such sums shall be a first charge on any property vested in, and on any moneys paid or payable to, the Commissioners under this Act.

The River Police shall be enrolled under Act V of 1861 (for the Regulation of Police).

CHAPTER IV.

GENERAL CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT.

Commissioners' acts subject to approval.

44. All acts and proceedings of the Commissioners shall be subject to the approval of the Local Government who may cancel, suspend, or modify any such acts or proceedings, and may grant exemption from the payment of any tolls, charges, dues or rates leviable under this Act.

Control over works and expenditure.

45. The Local Government may from time to time make rules consistent with this Act as to the cost and class of works which the Commissioners may execute, and the objects to which the receipts of the Commissioners shall be applied.

Local Government may order survey.

46. The Local Government may at any time order a survey and examination of any works of the Commissioners under this Act, or the site thereof, and the cost of such survey or examination shall be borne and paid by the Commissioners.

Local Government may carry out neglected works.

47. If the Commissioners allow any work acquired or constructed by them under this Act to fall into disrepair, or do not complete any work commenced by them or duly estimated for and sanctioned, and do not, after notice given by the Local Government in writing, proceed effectually to repair or complete such work, the Local Government may cause such work to be restored, completed or constructed, and the cost thereof shall be borne and paid by the Commissioners.

Local Government may revoke powers of Commissioners.

48. If at any time the Local Government is satisfied that the purposes intended to be accomplished under this Act have not been, and are not likely to be, properly accomplished by the Commissioners, the Local Government may, by notification, give notice that, unless within six months the Commissioners take measures to the satisfaction of the Local Government for properly accomplishing such purposes, the powers by this Act conferred on the Commissioners will, at the end of such period, be withdrawn and revoked.

On the expiration of the period aforesaid, the Local Government may, if no such measures to its satisfaction have been taken by the Commissioners, declare such powers to be withdrawn or revoked, and may assume such powers; and thereupon such powers shall be withdrawn and revoked accordingly, and all the powers, rights and authorities and all the property vested by this Act in the Commissioners shall thereupon vest in the Local Government.

CHAPTER V.

SUITS BY AND AGAINST THE COMMISSIONERS.

Commissioners not personally liable.

49. No Commissioner shall be personally liable for any contract made or expense incurred by or on behalf of the Commissioners; but the funds from time to time in the hands of the Commissioners shall be liable for, and chargeable with, all contracts made in manner hereinafter provided.

Commissioners liable for breach of trust

50. Every Commissioner shall be liable for any misapplication of money entrusted to the Commissioners to which he has been a party, or which happens through, or is facilitated by, the neglect of his duty.

Limitation of suits.

51. No suit shall be brought against the Commissioners or any of their officers, or any person acting under their direction, for anything purporting to be done under this Act until the expiration of one month next after notice in writing has been delivered or left at the office of the Commissioners, or at the place of abode of such person, stating the cause of suit and the name and place of abode of the intending plaintiff.

Unless such notice be proved, the Court shall dismiss the suit.

Every such suit shall be commenced within six months next after the accrual of the right to sue, and not afterwards.

If any person to whom any such notice of suit is given before suit is brought tender sufficient amends to the plaintiff, such plaintiff shall not recover.

Indemnity to Commissioners for acts of harbour-master, &c.

52. The Commissioners shall not be answerable for any act or default of any master-attendant or harbour-master, or of any pilot, or of any deputy or assistant of any of the officers above mentioned, or of any person acting under the authority or direction of any such officer or assistant, done within the limits of the port; nor for any damage sustained by any vessel in consequence of any defect in any of the moorings, hawsers or other things within the said limits which may be used by such vessel:

Provided that nothing in this section shall protect the Commissioners from a suit in respect of any act done by or under their express order or sanction.

CHAPTER VI.

MEETINGS, ESTABLISHMENT, CONTRACTS AND THE GENERAL CONDUCT OF BUSINESS.

A Commissioner may be Secretary.

53. The Commissioners may, if they think fit, elect one of their number to be Secretary to the Commissioners.

Seal and place of business.

54. The Commissioners shall have a common seal inscribed "Commissioners of the Port of Chittagong," and an office where the Commissioners shall meet for the transaction of business.

Monthly meetings and remuneration for attendance.

55. The Commissioners shall meet for the transaction of business at least once in every month; and for attendance at every such meeting the Commissioners shall receive such fees, subject to such conditions, as the Local Government may from time to time prescribe.

Chairman and Vice-Chairman to attend.

56. The Chairman and Vice-Chairman shall, unless prevented by sickness or other reasonable cause, attend all meetings of the Commissioners.

Ordinary and special meetings.

57. The Chairman, or, in the event of his illness or absence from Chittagong, the Vice-Chairman may, whenever he thinks fit, and shall upon a requisition made in writing by not less than three Commissioners, convene a meeting of the Commissioners for the transaction of any special business.

Meetings so convened are special meetings: all other meetings are ordinary meetings.

Notice of meetings.

58. At least three days' notice shall be given of every meeting of the Commissioners, and the notice shall state the nature of the business to be transacted.

Conduct of business at meetings.

59. At all meetings of the Commissioners the business shall be conducted in accordance with the following rules:—

(a) The Chairman, or, in his absence, the Vice-Chairman, shall be President; if both be absent, the Commissioners may elect one of their number to be President.

(b) The President may, with the consent of the meeting, adjourn the meeting from time to time.

(c) At special meetings no business shall be transacted other than the special business for the consideration of which the meeting was specially called: at ordinary meetings any business may be transacted of which due notice has been given.

(d) The quorum necessary for the transaction of business shall be such number, not less than four, as the Commissioners may from time to time prescribe.

(e) All questions which may come before the Commissioners at any meeting shall be decided by a majority of votes. Each Commissioner shall have one vote; and, in case of equality of votes, the President shall have a second or casting vote.

(f) Minutes of the proceedings at all meetings of the Commissioners shall be drawn up after each meeting, and shall be signed by the President and at least one other member who was present at such meeting. A copy of all such minutes shall, as soon as conveniently may be, be transmitted to the Local Government.

Mode of giving effect to resolutions

60. The Commissioners may appoint one or more of their number to carry out their resolutions, and to enforce any of the rules made under the provisions of this Act, or they may appoint a special officer for such purpose.

Proceedings not invalidated by defect of notice or form.

61. No proceedings of the Commissioners at any special or ordinary meeting shall be deemed invalid solely by reason of defect of notice or defect of form.

Schedule of establishment.

62. The Commissioners shall from time to time prepare and submit to the Local Government a schedule setting forth the number of officers and servants necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act, and of the salaries, fees and allowances which it is proposed to assign to such officers and servants.

The Local Government may sanction such schedule, or modify and sanction the same.

Every such schedule so sanctioned shall remain in force till some other such schedule has been so prepared and sanctioned.

It shall not be lawful for the Commissioners to employ any officer or servant for any office or employment not sanctioned in such schedule, nor to pay or allow to any officer or servant any salary, allowance or fee greater than, or beyond, that sanctioned therein.

Nothing in this section applies to artizans, porters or labourers.

Commissioners are public servants.

63. The Commissioners and the servants of the Commissioners, other than artizans, porters and labourers, shall be deemed to be public servants within the meaning of section twenty-one of the Indian Penal Code.

Commissioners may make bye-laws.

64. The Commissioners may from time to time make bye-laws, consistent with this Act, for regulating the time and place of their meetings, the conduct of their business, the division of the duties among themselves, the guidance of persons employed by them, the appointment, payment, leave, suspension and removal of their officers and servants mentioned in the schedule last aforesaid, and for other similar matters.

The making of contracts.

65. Such one of their number as the Commissioners may from time to time, with the previous sanction of the Local Government, appoint in this behalf may, for and on behalf of the Commissioners, enter into any contract whereof the value or amount shall not exceed two hundred rupees, in such manner and form as, according to the law for the time being administered in Chittagong, would bind him if such contract were on his own behalf; but every other contract by or on behalf of the Commissioners shall be in writing and signed by the Chairman or Vice-Chairman and by two other Commissioners, of whom one shall be an ex-officio Commissioner, and shall be sealed with the common seal of the Commissioners:

Provided that no contract under or by virtue of which a sum greater than ten thousand rupees may in any event be payable by the Commissioners shall be valid without the sanction in writing of the Local Government.

No contract not executed as in this section provided shall be binding on the Commissioners.

Manner in which work to be sanctioned.

66. No new work, the estimated cost of which exceeds one thousand rupees, shall be commenced by the Commissioners, nor shall any contract be entered into by the Commissioners in respect of any such work, until a plan and estimate thereof has been approved by the Commissioners at a meeting.

In case the estimated cost of such new work exceeds five thousand rupees, it shall not be commenced, nor shall any contract be entered into in respect of it, until such plan and estimate have been submitted to the Local Government and sanctioned by it in an order published in the Calcutta Gazette.

And in case the estimated cost of such new work exceeds ten thousand rupees, it shall not be commenced, nor shall any contract be entered into in respect of it, without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

Money to be kept in treasury.

67. All moneys raised by and paid to the Commissioners under this Act shall be placed in the Chittagong treasury, and no disbursement of such funds or any part thereof shall be made—

(a) in excess of such sum as may in that behalf be from month to month appropriated by the Commissioners at a meeting; or

(b) except under the signature of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman.

Submission of reports, accounts and estimates.

68. The Commissioners shall annually, or oftener if directed by the Local Government so to do, submit in such form and at such time as the Local Government may from time to time direct—

(a) statements of their receipts and disbursements under this Act;

(b) reports of all works executed and proceedings taken by them under this Act;

(c) an estimate of their probable receipts for the financial year next following, with proposals for the expenditure of the same.

Audit of accounts and sanction and publication of estimates.

69. The accounts of the Commissioners shall be examined and audited in such manner as the Local Government may from time to time direct; and, subject to the provisions of this Act, the estimate of probable receipts, and the proposals for expenditure as aforesaid, may on submission be sanctioned by the Local Government, or may be modified or altered and sanctioned.

An abstract of such estimates and proposals shall, when sanctioned, be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

CHAPTER VII.

BORROWING POWERS OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

Local Government may advance money to the Commissioners.

70. The Local Government, acting on behalf of the Secretary of State for India in Council, may, with the previous consent of the Governor-General of India in Council, from time to time advance money to the Commissioners for the general purposes of this Act; or

With consent of Government the Commissioners may raise loan.

The Commissioners may, with the previous consent of the Governor-General in Council, from time to time raise money for the said purposes or for the purpose of repaying, either in whole or in part, any monies heretofore or hereafter borrowed, or owing, by the Commissioners: Provided always that no expenditure shall be charged by the Commissioners to capital except with the express sanction of the Local Government.

Manner of raising such loans to be determined by Government.

71. Whenever the consent of the Governor-General in Council has been obtained to the raising of money by the Commissioners under the last preceding section, the Local Government shall, with the previous consent of the Governor-General in Council, direct and appoint the manner in which money shall be raised.

Forms of debentures.

72. When money is raised by the Commissioners on debentures, the debentures shall be in the form in the third schedule, or in such form as the Commissioners, with the previous consent of the Local Government, shall from time to time determine. The holder of any debenture in the form in the third schedule or in any form duly authorized under this section, may obtain, in exchange therefor, upon such terms as the Commissioners shall from time to time determine, a debenture in any other form so authorized.

Transfer of debenture.

Every debenture issued by the Commissioners shall be transferable—

(a) if it be in the form in the third schedule by endorsement; and

(b) if it be in any other form, in such manner as shall be therein expressed.

The right to sue in respect of the monies ecured by debentures issued under this sections shall vest in the respective holders thereof for the time being, without any prefcrence by reason of some of such debentures being prior in date to others.

CHAPTER VIII.

PENALTIES.

Commissioners not to be interested in contract, &c.

73. Any Commissioner, or servant of the Commissioners, who, directly or indirectly, lends money to the Commissioners, or becomes interested in any contract made by, or on behalf of, the Commissioners, or participates, or agrees to participate, in any profits of any work done by order or on behalf of the Commissioners, shall forfeit his office or employment, as the case may be, and shall be incapable afterwards of being a Commissioner or holding employment under the Commissioners, and shall further be punished with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees:

But may be shareholder in a company so interested.

Provided that no Commissioner or servant of the Commissioners shall be liable to a penalty under this section solely by reason of his being a shareholder in any duly incorporated or registered company which may lend money to, or make contracts with, or do work for or on behalf of, the Commissioners.

Infringement of sections 22, 23, 24, 26, 31.

74. Whoever infringes any order issued under sections twenty, twenty-one or twenty-two, or any condition prescribed under sections twenty-six or thirty-one shall be punished with fine which may extend to one hundred rupees; and if the infringement be continuing, with a further fine which may extend to one hundred rupees for every day such order is infringed.

Infringement of rules.

75. Whoever infringes any rule framed by the Commissioners under section seventeen shall be liable to a fine which may extend to fifty rupees; and if the infringement be continuing, to a further fine which may extend to ten rupees for every day after notice of such infringement has been given by the Commissioners.

Punishment in default of fine.

76. Whenever any person is sentenced to a fine under this Act, the convicting Court may direct that, in default of payment of the fine, such person shall suffer simple imprisonment for a term which shall not exceed the following scale :—

(a) two months in the case of continuing infringement of section thirty ;

(b) one month in the case of continuing infringement of sections twenty-two, twenty-three and twenty-four ;

(c) fourteen days if the fine does not exceed fifty rupees ;

(d) one month if the fine does not exceed one hundred rupees ;

(e) two months if the fine exceeds one hundred rupees.

Prosecutions.

77. Prosecutions under this Act may be instituted by the Commissioners or any person authorized by them in this behalf and not otherwise.

CHAPTER IX.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Saving of previous port regulations.

78. All acts done and proceedings taken by the Port Officer before this Act comes into force, and all orders, rules and regulations relating to the port and to wharves, quays, stages, jetties, piers, landing-places, tolls, charges, rates and dues within the port made and issued before this Act comes into force, shall, whenever such acts, proceedings, orders, rules or regulations would have been lawful if this Act had been in force, be deemed to have been respectively done, taken, made and issued under the provisions of this Act.

Recovering of dues as revenue.

79. All fees and sums due on account of property for the time being vested in the Commissioners, and all arrears of tolls, charges, rates and dues imposed under this Act, may be recovered as if they were arrears of land revenue, in addition to the other modes hereinbefore provided.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE necessity for this measure has arisen from the large increase which has taken place during the past few years in the trade of the Port of Chittagong. In 1875-76 1,773 vessels, with a tonnage of 94,839 tons, visited the Port. In 1878-79 the number was 2,140 and the tonnage 185,672 tons, and in 1885-86 the number of vessels had increased to 2,856 and the tonnage to 256,260 tons. The value of the trade, which in 1875-76 was Rs. 58,85,568, in 1885-86 was Rs. 2,08,11,041. But while the trade has increased so largely, the Port is still dependent for improvements and convenience of every kind on the current income derived from the fees levied under the Indian Ports Act. Certain works, however, which are required are such as cannot be constructed from current revenue. These are the provision of a tug steamer to be permanently stationed in the port, the improvement of the approaches of the river, the provision of moorings, the erection of salt golahs, and the construction of a good strand road. The object of the Bill is to create a Port Trust, which will be able to raise capital secured on the income of the Port for the purposes of carrying out these and other works of a similar character, which will be of permanent benefit to the shipping.

COLMAN MACAULAY.

The 11th December 1886.

GORDON LEITH,
Offg. Asst. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, Legislative Dept.

THE following Bill was read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 11th December 1886, and was referred to a Select Committee :—

A Bill to provide for a Survey of the Town of Calcutta.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the survey and demarcation of lands in the Town of Calcutta, it is hereby enacted as follows :—

Preamble.

1. This Act shall be called "The Calcutta Survey Act, 1886," and shall come into force from the date on which it may be published with the assent of the Governor-General.

Commencement.

It extends to the Town of Calcutta within the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of Her Majesty's High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

Local extent.

2. In this Act, unless there be something repugnant in the subject or context,— Interpretation clauses.

"Survey" includes identification of boundaries and all other operations antecedent to, and connected with, survey.

"Survey."

"Superintendent" means the Superintendent of Survey under this Act.

"Superintendent."

"Land" includes anything attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth.

"Land."

"Premises" means any land described as such in the Registers of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta or as a holding in the Registers of the Calcutta Collectorate.

"Premises."

"Owner."

"Owner" includes—

(a) the person having permanent interest in any land or premises;

(b) an agent of or manager on behalf of such person;

(c) a trustee of such person;

(d) a body corporate in which land is vested by operation of Statute.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor may, whenever he shall think fit, order, by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette, that a survey shall be made of the lands situated in the Town of Calcutta, and for such purpose may appoint a Superintendent of Survey and one or more Assistant Superintendents of Survey. The Assistant Superintendents of Survey shall exercise such powers as may be delegated to them by the Superintendent of Survey.

Lieutenant-Governor may order survey and appoint Superintendent.

4. The Superintendent of Survey shall, for the purposes of this Act, have power either by himself or by the Assistant Superintendent of Survey, or by other officers employed in the survey, between the hours of sunrise and sunset, to enter upon any land or premises within the local limits aforesaid, without being liable to any legal proceedings whatsoever on account of such entry or of anything done on such land or premises in pursuance of this Act, provided that no such entry shall be made upon lands or premises which may be occupied at the time, unless with the consent of the occupier thereof or without previously giving the said occupier twenty-four hours' notice of the intention to do so.

Superintendent may enter upon land.

5. Before entering on any land or premises for the purposes of survey, the Superintendent of Survey may cause an order in writing under his hand to be served on the owner of the land or premises about to be surveyed, and on the owners of conterminous lands or premises, calling upon them to attend either personally or by agent before him or before such officer as may be authorized by him in that behalf, within a specified time (which shall not be less than three days after the service of such notice), for the purpose of pointing out boundaries and of affording such information as may be needed for the purposes of this Act, and every person on whom such notice may be served shall be legally bound to attend as required by the notice and to give any information which may be required so far as he may be able to give it.

Superintendent to give notice before entering on land.

6. On the appearance of the parties mentioned in the last preceding section, the Superintendent of Survey or any officer authorized by him in that behalf, may, after the provisions of section 4 have been complied with, enter upon such land or premises and do all things and make all enquiries necessary for effecting the survey and demarcation of the boundaries thereof.

Superintendent may do all things necessary for effecting the survey.

7. If after due service of notice under section 5, any person fails to appear without showing sufficient cause to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Survey, the Superintendent, or such officer as may be authorized by him, may proceed with the survey, and the person who is so absent shall be bound by the results of the survey in the same manner and to the same extent as if the survey were made in his presence.

Persons summoned failing to appear are bound by the survey.

8. If in the course of survey it shall come to the notice of the Superintendent of Survey that a dispute exists as to any boundaries which should be surveyed, the Superintendent shall hold an inquiry as hereinafter provided and determine such boundaries.

In case of dispute Superintendent to hold an enquiry.

9. When any dispute exists as to any boundaries, the Superintendent may cause an order in writing under his hand to be served on the parties concerned requiring them to appear before him in person, or by an authorised agent on a specified day, and to produce evidence of possession of the land in dispute. The Superintendent shall, on the specified day or on such other day to which the hearing may be adjourned, hear the parties, receive the evidence produced by them respectively, consider the effect of such evidence, take such further evidence as he may think necessary, and without reference to the merits of the claim of any of such parties to a right to possess the land in dispute, decide which of the parties is in possession of the said land at the time of the survey.

Procedure in case of dispute as to boundaries

Power of Superintendent to enforce attendance of witnesses.

10. For the purposes of the enquiry aforesaid, the Superintendent of Survey shall have power to summon and enforce the attendance of witnesses, and compel the production of documents by the same means and in the same manner as is provided in the case of a Court under the Code of Civil Procedure.

After an enquiry, Superintendent to record his decision.

11. After the enquiry mentioned in section 8 has been completed, the Superintendent of Survey shall pass an order in writing, defining clearly the subject of dispute and record his decision and the reasons for such decision.

An appeal shall lie to the Board of Revenue.

12. An appeal shall lie from the order of the Superintendent of Survey to the Board of Revenue if preferred within thirty days from the date of such order.

Power to refer to arbitration.

13. In all cases of disputed boundaries, the Superintendent of Survey may, on the written application of the parties, refer the dispute to one or more arbitrators nominated by the parties respectively, and shall fix such time, and allow such extension of time as may seem reasonable, for the delivery of the award:

Provided that if it appears to the Superintendent of Survey that the Local Government or the Corporation of Calcutta is interested in any such dispute, he shall appoint in the former case, the Collector of Calcutta, and in the latter case, the Chairman of the Corporation the arbitrator or one of the arbitrators.

On failure of an arbitrator to act, another may be appointed

14. Where an arbitrator nominated by a party refuses to act or becomes incapable of acting by reason of death or other sufficient cause, the party by whom he may have been nominated may, by a written application to the Superintendent of Survey, nominate another arbitrator, and the Superintendent on being satisfied that the application has been made on sufficient grounds shall confirm such nomination, and the arbitrator so appointed may thereupon proceed with the enquiry.

Appointment of an umpire

15. If the arbitrators differ, the award shall be in accordance with the opinion of the majority; if they are equally divided in opinion, it shall be competent to the Superintendent of Survey on the written application of the arbitrators or of the parties to the arbitration to appoint an umpire, and the decision of the umpire determining the boundaries in dispute shall have the force of an award of the arbitrators.

Power to enforce attendance of witnesses in an arbitration

16. The Superintendent of Survey shall on the application of the arbitrators or umpire issue the same processes to parties and witnesses as he may issue in enquiries held by himself.

On failure to make an award, Superintendent may supersede the arbitration.

17. If the arbitrators or the umpire appointed under the foregoing sections fail to deliver the award within the time allowed by the Superintendent of Survey, he may make an order superseding the arbitration, and in such case he shall proceed with the enquiry.

The award

18. The award shall be made in writing and shall be signed by the persons making it, and shall be filed in the office of the Superintendent of Survey with any evidence which may have been taken by the arbitrators or the umpire. The Superintendent of Survey shall lay down the boundaries in accordance with the award.

All documents connected with the survey to be sent to the Municipal Office.

19. After the survey has been completed, the Superintendent shall deposit all maps, field books, proceedings, awards, and all other documents connected with the survey in the Municipal Office of the Corporation of Calcutta.

Any person interested in the survey may, at any time within one month from the date of such deposit, inspect such documents free of charge.

And if during such period any objection to the survey be lodged with the Superintendent of Survey, such objection shall be decided by the Superintendent of Survey or by such officer as the Local Government may appoint in this behalf.

Approval of the survey by the Local Government to be notified.

20. After all objections lodged under the last preceding section have been decided, the Local Government shall, if it approves the survey, signify such approval by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

No suit shall lie unless brought within one year

21. No suit shall lie to set aside any demarcation of boundaries made under the provisions of this Act unless brought within one year from the date of the notification mentioned in the last preceding section.

The Local Government may make rules under the Act.

22. The Local Government may lay down rules not being inconsistent with this Act to provide for the preparation of maps and for the collection and record of any information in respect of any land to be surveyed under this Act, and generally for the proper performance of all things to be done and for the regulation of all proceedings to be taken under this Act.

How notices may be served.

23. Every notice in and by this Act required to be served on any person may be served—

(a)—by delivering the same to the person to whom it is directed, or on failure of such service, by posting the same on some conspicuous part of the house in which the said person usually resides or holds his office, or carries on his business, or by delivering the same to an agent or servant of such person or to a male adult member of his family.

(b)—by sending a registered cover through the post office containing such notice directed to the said person at the place where he may be known to reside:

Provided that the survey made under this Act shall not be vitiated for any defect in the service of notice.

Penalty for failure to comply with requisition in notice.

24. Whoever fails to comply with a requisition contained in any notice served under section 5 or section 9 of this Act shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees.

Proceedings not to be affected by informality.

25. No proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of any informality, provided the directions of this Act be in substance and effect complied with; and no proceedings under this Act shall be affected by reason of the omission to serve any notice on an owner whose name is not registered as owner in the Calcutta Collectorate or in the registers of the Corporation of the Town of Calcutta.

Power of Lieutenant-Governor to extend this Act to the Suburbs.

26. The Lieutenant-Governor may at his discretion extend the whole or any of the provisions of this Act to the whole or any part of the Suburbs of Calcutta, which may hereafter be amalgamated for municipal purposes with the Town of Calcutta.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE last survey of Calcutta having been made in 1847, under Act XV of that year, has to a great extent become obsolete owing to the numerous changes which have since occurred. A new survey is therefore necessary. The legal advisers of Government have expressed an opinion that the Bengal Survey Act (V of 1875) is not applicable to the survey of Calcutta, and have recommended that a special Act should be passed for carrying out the survey.

The present Bill has accordingly been prepared.

The 11th December 1886.

SURVEY OF CALCUTTA.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS said—I rise to move for leave to introduce a Bill for the survey of the Town of Calcutta. I believe, Sir, that after what you said on the subject of this Bill at the last meeting of the Council it will be unnecessary for me to detain Hon. Members with any lengthy explanation of the objects of the Bill, or of the reasons which have led the Government to propose its introduction. The last survey of Calcutta was undertaken so long ago as 1847, and a special Act of the Legislature, Act XV of 1847, was passed for the purpose. This survey, which was entrusted to Mr. Simms, a Civil Engineer, was only a topographical survey, and showed no particulars of the boundaries of tenures and holdings, or of the names of the persons responsible for the revenue. It was afterwards supplemented in 1851 by enquiries conducted by Mr. Heysham, a Deputy Collector, who demarcated the boundaries of holdings, and prepared a register of the owners, the areas, and the rentals. During the thirty-five years which have since elapsed many changes have occurred, and the features both of the topographical and of the revenue survey have to a large extent been effaced Many holdings have been sub-divided : numerous plots of land have been taken up for public purposes—by the Government, by the Municipality, and by the Port Commissioners: new streets and squares have been laid out : in fact, to those who can remember (as I can remember) what Calcutta was like thirty years ago, it is hardly necessary to say that the work of Mr. Simms and Mr. Heysham has practically become obsolete, and that a new survey is required. A general survey law (Act V of 1875) has since been passed by this Council for Bengal, but the legal advisers of Government are of opinion that this Act is not applicable to the survey of such an area as Calcutta, and the Government has therefore determined to follow the precedent established in 1847, and to apply to the Legislature for the necessary powers. The Bill has already been drafted, and, if leave is now given, I hope to be able to introduce it at the next meeting of the Council.

The motion was put and agreed to.

REGULATION OF THE RURAL POLICE IN CHOTA NAGPORE.

The Hon. Mr. Allen said—The motion which stands against my name is to introduce a Bill to regulate the rural police in the Chota Nagpore Division. The existing law under which the police are paid is Act VIII (B C.) of 1878, but it has been found in practice that the state of things assumed by this Act has no existence in fact. By this Act provision was made that the pay of the police should be raised through the village headman ; but it is said that as a fact there is no such person generally throughout Chota Nagpore, and, as a consequence, in order to turn the corner of the law, a paid agency being necessary, these tehsildars or agents have been appointed assistants to the headman In this way, and through means of the penal clauses of the Act, some sort of police has been maintained ; but the violence done to the existing law by this arrangement has at last called for redress, and the Bill which has been given to me in charge is intended simply to so alter the law that it shall conform to the actual state of things throughout the districts of Chota Nagpore. The only important particular in which the law is changed is with reference to the system of legalizing the tehsildars; the other amendments which are embodied in the Bill are unimportant. The papers have reached my hands so late that I am unable to say anything more on the necessity or the nature of the Bill; but if permission is given, when the Bill is introduced into Council, I shall go more fully into the details of the measure.

The motion was put and agreed to.

CHITTAGONG PORT TRUST.

The Hon. Mr Reynolds, in the absence of the Hon Mr Macaulay, moved for leave to introduce a Bill to appoint Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong. He said—The Council, I believe, are aware that this Bill is necessitated by the rapid development which the trade of Chittagong has undergone during recent years—a development which has affected not only the local trade, but also the direct trade with the United Kingdom, as well as with other parts of India. The finances of the Port have hitherto been administered by the ordinary local officers, but the time appears to have come when, in the opinion of Government, the growing magnitude of the trade and the importance of the interests concerned, require that the constitution of the Port should be placed under a Port Trust of the same kind as exists in Calcutta and the other larger ports of India. It is proposed to make this Port Trust partly elective. The number of Commissioners is intended to be nine, of whom six will be nominated by the Lieutenant-Governor, and three others elected by those firms which are engaged in commerce in the port. The Bill has been drafted, and if leave is given it will be introduced at the next meeting of the Council.

HIS HONOR the President said:—I may add that there is a general concurrence of opinion locally that some steps should be taken to promote the objects of this Bill, partly on account of the growing importance of the port, and the very large development of the trade of the place, and partly from the possibility that in a few years Chittagong will be connected with the railway system of Eastern Bengal; and still further the, I hope, not distant prospect that Chittagong will be connected also with Comilla and Sylhet, and the north-eastern frontier province of Assam. The facts which have most directly brought to the notice of the Government the necessity of establishing a Port Trust in Chittagong are as follow. There have been constant demands made upon the Government for the supply of all kinds of appliances for the port—dredgers, jetties, steam-tugs, and the means of supplying water to the shipping, and various other things were brought under our consideration, and which, in the present state of the finances, we were unable to supply. Thereby the question arose whether the establishment of a Port Trust would not enable them locally, by borrowing money on the credit of the port-dues, like any other Port Trust, to raise the revenue which will enable them to carry out those very necessary improvements at Chittagong. So that on every ground—on the ground of demands which have been locally made that some such measure should be introduced, and the necessity of spending a good deal more money in the improvement of the port than the Government are able to supply, and also the fact that Chittagong is coming within reach of the railway systems which are being established throughout the province—a measure like this seems to be urgently demanded. We have desired to adopt some system of election in the appointment of members of the Port Trust; but although there are several European and many native mercantile firms established in Chittagong, there is no such thing as a Chamber of Commerce; and the difficulty will be how to arrange that the elective principle as regards mercantile interests should be applied. However, when the Bill comes into Select Committee, that difficulty will, I hope, be overcome.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 11th instant, at 11 A.M.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE LICENSE TAX FOR 1885-86.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—LICENSE TAX.

Calcutta, the 10th December 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the License Tax for 1885-86.

The license tax in Bengal was, as heretofore, levied under Act II (B C.) of 1880. Out of a total number of 248,134 villages in the province, 26,735 were found to contain assessees, and 26,232 villages, including 580 streets in Calcutta, were visited by the assessing officers against 25,619 in the preceding year. Only 1,810 villages are said to have been specially visited by officers of the regular executive staff against 2,677 in 1884-85; but as district and sub-divisional officers frequently keep no record of the number of villages in which enquiries are made during their cold weather tours, these figures show only a part of the work done.

2. After exclusion of double entries, and allowance for revision of the lists by Collectors, the number of persons assessed was 75,396. Of these, 5,215 were exempted on objection and 299 on appeal, leaving 69,882 persons on the list of assessees on the 30th June as compared with 70,259 in 1884-85. This, however, is not a fair comparison, for the outstanding balance on the 30th June 1885 was Rs. 10,223, and of this the greater part had to be remitted, the number of persons finally assessed in 1884-85 being reduced to 69,530. The following table shows the number of assessees in each class in each of the last two years:—

	Tax assessed.	Number of Assessees.
		On the final lists in 1884-85.	On the lists of 30th June 1886
	Rs.
Class I	5 0	388	395
„ II	200	697	681
„ III	100	1,411	1,377
„ IV	50	3,584	3,534
„ V	20	14,602	14,821
„ VI	10	48,848	49,064
Total ...	.....	69,530	69,882

These figures show an increase of 352 in the number of assessees, but this will eventually be reduced when the enquiries into the outstanding balance on the 30th June 1886, amounting to rather more than Rs. 7,000, have been completed. The population of Bengal being 66½ millions, one person in every 951 paid the tax, and the average incidence was Re. 1 to every 46 persons. The incidence was highest in Calcutta and lowest in Singbhoom.

3. The number of objections lodged was 18,678, or 24·7 per cent. of the gross number of assessments made, the corresponding percentage in 1884-85 being 25·4. In 11,258 cases the original assessments were upheld; in 2,204 they were modified by the transfer of the objector to a lower class; and in 5,215 cases the assessments were cancelled. These results are most disappointing in the eighth year of the administration of the tax. The number of appeals pending on the 30th June was 9 against 69 in the previous year. The number of applications to Commissioners outside Calcutta under section 21 of the Act was 79, of which 64 were rejected, 6 were granted in part, 7 were cancelled, and 2 were pending at the close of the year.

4. The following table shows the demand, remissions, collections, and balances up to the end of June for each of the last two years:—

Class.	Rate of tax.	Gross demand.		Remissions before realization.		Remaining demand		Collections.		Refunds		Net collections		Balances.

It must be borne in mind that the system under which the above figures, except those showing "Net collections" and "Balances" are produced, is somewhat complicated. It is a system of double entry under which transfers from one grade to another are effected by exhibiting the full amount in one grade as assessed and remitted, and in the other as assessed. Such assessments thus appear twice over, and swell the apparent demand. There was again a falling off in the net collections, which the Board ascribe to the general depression in trade and to revision of original assessments. The net receipts from the tax fell off in 22 districts, and increased in the remainder. The districts which showed a large percentage of decrease are—

	Collections in 1884-85.	Collections in 1885-86.	Decrease in 1885-86.	Percentage of decrease.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Maldah	20,048	17,414	2,634	13 1
Beerbhoom... ...	9,150	8,122	1,028	11 2
Monghyr	43 836	40,068	3,768	8·5
Mozufferpore ...	34.858	32.126	2,732	7 8
Dacca	47,564	44.216	3.348	7 0.3
Hooghly	18,983	17,678	1,305	6·8

The decrease in Maldah is ascribed to the reduced circumstances of the assessees, brought about by the floods of last year, following upon a succession of bad harvests. The general depression of trade, aggravated more or less by local circumstances, is alleged as the cause of the decrease in Beerbhoom, Hooghly, and Dacca; while the falling off in Monghyr is attributed to faulty assessment In Mozufferpore the failure of some banking firms, coupled with destructive fires and scanty harvests, affected for the worse the economic condition of the people. and many petty dealers and money-lenders closed their business.

5. The largest increase in the collections occurred in—

	Collections in 1884-85.	Collections in 1885 86.	Increase in 1885-86	Percentage of increase
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Chumparun ...	17,235	18,970	1,735	10·06
Dinagepore ...	34,290	37.570	3,280	9 5
Gya ...	27,040	29,633	2,593	9·5
Burdwan ...	14,790	15,850	1,060	7 1
Nuddea ...	17,200	18,330	1,130	6·5

In Chumparun, Dinagepore, Gya, and Nuddea the increase is due to revision of assessments. The increase in Burdwan is unexplained

6 The actual remissions and refunds, after eliminating double entries, amounted to Rs. 2,07,820, or 12·6 per cent. of the total demand, as compared with Rs. 1,53,410, or 9·6 per cent. in the previous year. This result is unsatisfactory. The explanations given appear to be hardly sufficient, and the Lieutenant-Governor entertains serious doubts whether in some cases remissions have not been granted without sufficient cause to the detriment of the revenues of the State. The balance on 30th June 1886 amounted to Rs. 7,005, the bulk of which is irrecoverable, and will have to be written off. The charges for the collection of the tax amounted to Rs. 85,000 against Rs. 87,000 in the previous year.

7. The license tax has, from the beginning of the current year, been replaced by the income tax, and the year whose transactions are recorded in the Board's present report is the last of the operation of the former impost. The license tax in its recent form was the outcome of Sir John Strachey's scheme of famine finance. This scheme proposed to improve the financial position of the Empire to the extent of two crores of rupees a year, of which 50 lakhs were to be regarded as a normal working balance, while 150 lakhs were to be devoted to famine insurance, being expended either on actual relief, on reduction of debt, or on the construction of remunerative works calculated to prevent or mitigate the severity of the famine. Part of this sum it was proposed to provide by new taxation (i.e., by the license tax), the remainder being obtained by throwing additional charges on the Provincial Governments.

8. The year 1878-79 was the first year of the operation of the License Tax Act I (B.C.) of 1878. This Act imposed a duty on all trades, dealings, and industries, the profits of which were not less than Rs. 100 a year. The minimum taxable income was, however, raised in 1879-80 to Rs. 250, and in the following year was further raised to Rs. 500 under the amending Act II (B.C.) of 1880. This measure, which exempted from taxation 66,567 of the poorest class of assessees, and relieved from harassment a still larger number of persons with incomes slightly below the former minimum, did much to allay the discontent with which the tax was, as a direct tax, necessarily received. The Act of 1880 further assimilated the law for Calcutta and the districts in the interior; absolved the assessees from the liability to take out more than one license, however many places of business they might have; exempted municipal bodies from the performance of license tax work; granted the right of reference to the Commissioner by a person aggrieved by the order of the Collector in cases of objection and appeal; and imposed the obligation on the license tax authorities to serve notices on assessees of all classes. The alteration in the minimum taxable income necessitated a complete revision of the assessment lists of the lowest class; and as the assessments in the higher grades also required careful scrutiny, a complete assessment of the province was undertaken in 1880. This assessment has formed the basis of the administration of the tax since then, though the lists for each district have of course been carefully revised in each year.

9. In the first few years of the administration of the tax, the collections were disproportionately small compared with the gross demand, the percentages being 44·0 in 1878-79, 61·7 in 1879-80, and 55·4 in 1880-81. This result could scarcely have been avoided in the initiation of so large and difficult an undertaking without a specially trained staff, and without the assistance of the permanent revenue establishments which did so much to facilitate the work in the North-Western Provinces and other temporarily-settled provinces. The assessing officers not being allowed to make any precise enquiry into income, were compelled to settle on general grounds the classes in which the assessees should in the first instance be placed, leaving them to object if so advised. The disparity was further due to the want of adequate supervision by District Collectors. In the commencement the circle officers were left too much to their own resources, and it is certain that whether from pressure of other business or from trusting to the possibility of correcting errors at a later stage of proceedings, many Collectors failed to give sufficient time and attention to the guidance of circle officers in making the original assessments, and much trouble was thereby occasioned at a subsequent stage of the work. Gradually the proportion which the amount collected bore to the gross demand became more satisfactory. The following figures show the total receipts from license tax from 1878-79 to 1885-86:—

	Rs.
1878-79	20,19,400
1879-80	25,61,700
1880-81	16,53,000
1881-82	16,38,900
1882-83	15,20,300
1883-84	15,17,600
1884-85	14,96,400
1885-86	15,33,800

The large decrease in receipts in 1880-81 was chiefly due to the raising of the minimum taxable income to Rs. 500. This measure also resulted in a large reduction in the cost of collection. In 1878-79 the charges aggregated Rs. 3,34,069 ; in 1879-80, Rs. 1,47,785 ; in 1880-81, Rs. 1,62,694 ; in 1881-82, Rs. 83,034 ; in 1882-83, Rs. 89,371 ; in 1883-84, Rs. 91,249 ; in 1884-85, Rs. 87,159 ; and in 1885-86, Rs. 85,182.

10. According to the figures of the last census, the proportion of assessees was—

1 in every 78	...	in 1878-79.
1 in every 480	...	in 1879-80.
1 in every 921	...	in 1880-81.
1 in every 965	...	in 1881-82.
1 in every 951	...	in 1882-83.
1 in every 932	...	in 1883-84.
1 in every 946	...	in 1884-85.
1 in every 951	...	in 1885-86.

It is a common remark that Bengal pays much less in proportion to its population than the other provinces of India. This impression is not altogether borne out by the facts. In 1884-85 every hundred persons in Bengal paid Rs. 2·15 in the shape of license tax, while an equal number of persons paid Rs. 2·42 in the Central Provinces, Rs. 2·53 in the Punjab, Rs. 2·75 in the North-Western Provinces, Rs. 1·38 in Madras, and Rs. 7·63 in Bombay. Bengal ranks lower than might have been expected; but an inspection of these figures points to the conclusion that it is the conditions of Bombay, rather than those of Bengal, that are exceptional.

11. It remains to notice the attitude of the people towards the license tax. Since the amendment of the law in 1880, which exempted from liability all incomes less than Rs. 500 per annum, the tax has affected only a small fraction of the people. Those who had to pay it had little difficulty after the first year in ascertaining the extent of their legal liability, and came to look upon it as an inseparable item of expenditure, on account of their trade or business. The great mass of the people, however, felt no concern about it, and probably were not aware even of its existence. Practically such discontent as existed was confined to the sufferers from individual instances of carelessness or misconduct on the part of the assessing or collecting staff, and to districts where the minds of the people had been disturbed by the fluctuations in the policy pursued by the officers in charge of the administration. The experience acquired by the assessing agency enabled them to make fairer valuations in later years, while the supervision of the superior officers tended greatly to reduce the evils connected with the assessment and realization of a direct tax.

12. The names of the officers specially mentioned by the Board for their services in connection with the license tax operations during 1885-86 will be noted in the Appointment Department. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to convey his thanks to the Board for their efficient administration of this branch of the revenue.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

COLMAN MACAULAY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

CUSTOMS DUTY ON CERTAIN ARTICLES IMPORTED INTO THE PORTS OF THE OTTOMAN EMPIRE.

No. 2908, dated Calcutta, the 16th November 1886.

Endorsed by the Government of India, Department of Finance and Commerce.

COPY of the following forwarded to the Government Bengal, with a request that the papers may be communicated to Collector of Customs, and their substance published for general information.

READ the following:—

No. 37, dated 19th October 1886.

From—The Consul General for the Ottoman Empire,
To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay.

WITH reference to a communication received from the Imperial Ottoman Embassy at London, I have the honour to state that as the Roumanian Government, contrary to the interest of the Turkish Government, has increased the duties on the articles imported into that country from the Ottoman dominions, the Government of Sublime Porte have been compelled to make a similar increase, from the 21st of January 1886, in duty on the articles mentioned in the accompanying list, imported into Ottoman dominions from Roumania.

I am therefore desired to request that the Government of this country will be kind enough to instruct the authorities concerned to require the parties sending those articles from this country to any Turkish port to get their manifests verified in the Turkish Consulates, in order that those articles may not be taken as exported from Roumania. Where there is no Turkish Consulate, the Customs authorities may be instructed to verify such manifests. In case of there being no such verification on the manifests, the goods will be considered as exported from Roumanian ports.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY OF THE PROVINCE OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1886.

Normal meteorological conditions of the month —The normal features of the meteorology of the month of November are simple. North-east winds blow over the centre and north of the Bay. These are the continuation of the feeble northerly land winds that prevail in Bengal. These latter winds are dry, continental winds, and during their prevalence in November, skies are clear, the temperature decreases steadily and rapidly, the decrease taking place chiefly in the night temperature The normal weather is, however, liable to be interrupted by two kinds of disturbances. The first originate in the south of the Bay, from which the south-west monsoon current does not retreat usually until the beginning or middle of December, and therefore continues to bring up supplies of aqueous vapour to the Bay. If this be discharged as rain in the Bay, it may, under suitable conditions, give rise to rain squalls and stormy weather over a portion of the Bay. If this action becomes intensified and concentrated or localized, the stormy weather gradually develops into a large cyclonic disturbance. These, in the month of November, are usually generated in the south of the Bay, and march westwards or north-westwards to the Madras coast. These cyclones modify the weather over the whole of the Bay and the adjacent coast districts. In Bengal the dry land winds are replaced by sea winds blowing over the outer area of disturbance. The humidity and temperature of the air increase rapidly, the sky becomes more or less clouded, and rain in moderate amounts occasionally falls, chiefly in the most southerly districts of East Bengal (during the earlier stages of the cyclonic march) and Orissa, when the cyclone is approaching the Madras coast.

The second disturbing element in the weather of November arises from the formation and eastward march of land depressions generated usually in Upper India. It is to this class of depression that the cold weather rains of Northern India, and much of the snowfall of the Himalayas, is due. They very seldom occur in November. The majority of these depressions appear to form in the Punjab and drift eastwards into the North-West Provinces, and the Central Provinces or Behar, where they usually fill up; but they occasionally advance through Bengal, causing the formation of cloud for some days and giving light rain

Hence, so far as rainfall in Northern India is concerned, the month of November is a month of transition. Previously, rainfall is given by the moisture current of the south-west monsoon, and afterwards, during the cold weather, by the upper current of the north-east monsoon circulation in India. The average rainfall of the month is hence less than that of any other month of the year. The average rainfall of the month in all districts of the province, excluding the Chittagong, Backergunge, and Noakhaily districts of East Bengal, and the Pooree and Cuttack districts of Orissa, ranges from one to six-tenths of an inch. In the excepted districts it varies from one to three inches.

Meteorological summary of the month.—The south-west monsoon retreated from the province during the last week of October, when the distribution of pressure and wind characteristic of the cold weather were gradually established. There were two periods during the month when the formation and march of cyclonic storms gave rise to much cloud, a marked change in the wind directions, a considerable increase of the temperature and humidity of the air, and some local rainfall. The following gives a brief sketch of the two storms:—

(1) Storm of November 6th to the 13th or 14th The weather in the centre and south of the Bay was unsettled from the 3rd to the 6th. During this interval, winds increased in force and rain-squalls became more frequent and intense; a definite centre of convergence began to show itself on the 6th, and a large cyclonic disturbance was rapidly formed. It marched to the west-north-west, and struck the Madras coast, the centre crossing the coast a little to the north of Madras shortly before noon on the 10th. It advanced across the Peninsula unbroken, and thence passed into the Arabian Sea, marching to the north-west. The P. and O. steamer Peshawar was involved in it on the 13th.

Skies clouded over in South Bengal and Orissa on the 8th and 9th. The humid winds in the outer area of the disturbance gave light showers to the Pooree and Cuttack districts on the 8th, 9th and 10th, and to the Chittagong district on the 8th, 10th and 11th. Temperature increased rapidly on the 7th and 8th, and was considerably above the average until the 12th, when the ordinary cold-weather conditions were re-established, and dry cool weather continued from that date until the 18th or 19th.

(2) Cyclonic storm of November 18th to the 24th. For some days previously, weather had been squally and much rain had fallen in the south-east of the Bay and in the Martaban Gulf There is some evidence which seems to indicate that the storm centre was formed in the Martaban Gulf, and passed into the Bay of Bengal to the north of the Andamans. Whether this be the case or not, the land observations show that there was a centre to the north-west of the Andamans on the 19th. The centre of the disturbance was in about 16° N. latitude, and 89° E. longitude at noon of the 22nd, and 16½° N. latitude, and 84½° E. longitude at noon of the 23rd. It struck the coast between Vizagapatam and Coconada late on the evening of that day, and broke up a few hours afterwards. The inner storm area (of hurricane winds and of rapid fall of the barometer) appears to have been unusually small, not more than 50 or 60 miles in diameter.

The disturbance initiated the usual increase of humidity, temperature, and cloud amount in South Bengal on the 21st. The breaking up of the storm near the coast gave rise to a small diffused disturbance which passed north-westwards into South Behar. The indraught of sea winds to this depression gave moderate and fairly general rain to Chutia Nagpur, and South Behar on the 25th and 26th. Orissa obtained general rain (largest in amount in the southern districts) on the 23rd, 24th and 25th. The effect of this disturbance on the temperature and humidity did not pass away until the 29th or 30th, when cool dry weather, with westerly or northerly winds, was once more established over the province.

Pressure.—The oscillations of the barometer during the month have been of the kind that occur during fine weather in Northern India, and hence of no importance. The two storms of the month diminished pressure in Bengal during their existence, but the effect was remarkably small, and was chiefly felt in Orissa and to a less extent in South-West Bengal, Chutia Nagpur and South Behar.

The mean pressure of the month is approximately normal for South-West Bengal, Chutia Nagpur and South Behar, and ·01″ in defect for Orissa. It is ·01″ in excess for East Bengal and ·04″ for North Behar, and probably ·02″ to ·03″ in excess for North Bengal.

Temperature.—The mean temperature of the month is above the average. This is mainly due to the unusually prolonged effect of the cyclonic disturbances of the month in increasing temperature. From the 1st to the 5th the day temperature was approximately normal, and the night temperature from 1° to 3° above the average of the period. From the 6th to the 12th or 13th, the day temperature was from 1° to 3° above the average, and the night temperature from 1° to 5° above it. During the third week, from the 13th to the 19th, the variations were similar in amount and character to those of the first week of the month. During the remainder of the month temperature was considerably above the average. At many stations the change of weather caused by the second cyclone of the month increased the night temperature from 8° to 12°. The day temperature differed very slightly from the normal, but the mean minimum night temperature of the last week of the month was from 4° to 9° above it The mean temperature of South Behar for the month was 2½° above the average, of South-West Bengal and Orissa 2°, of Chutia Nagpur 1½°, and of North Behar, North and East Bengal, ½° to 1° above it. The following table shows the variations of the maximum and minimum temperature from the normal during the month at eight representative stations :—

Rainfall.—The character of the rainfall of the month has been already stated. Orissa received moderate rain on the 8th, 9th, and 10th. A very slight local disturbance, apparently originating in the hills, gave light showers in the Julpigori, Cooch Behar and Darjeeling districts on the 13th, 14th and 15th. The second disturbance of the month gave moderate rain to Orissa on the 23rd, 24th and 25th, and to Chutia Nagpur and South Behar on the 25th and 26th. A few light local showers fell in other districts, but the month was practically rainless in Bengal and North Behar. South Behar received an average of one quarter of an inch, Chutia Nagpur of six-tenths of an inch (double its average November fall), and Orissa of 1·8 inches (·65 inch above its normal amount for the month). It is interesting to note that the tendency for an influx of aqueous vapour to be drawn to and discharged over the districts of Gya and Shahabad, which was a very prominent feature of the month of October, was a minor feature of the meteorology of the past month (November).

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven Meteorological Divisions of the Province for the month of November 1886 :—

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional stations for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredths of an inch fell.

* Day minimum readings have been rejected.

The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater.
Rainfall amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "District observations of rainfall" the normal means
The means of the district are the numerical averages of the rainfall return received in the district, i.e., from the total rainfall at the sub-division

CALCUTTA, the 14th December 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 10TH OF DECEMBER 1886.

THE weather during the greater part of the past week has been to some extent dependent upon a cyclonic disturbance in the south of the Bay. On the 29th and 30th of last month, moderately heavy rain began to fall on the South Coromandel and East Ceylon coasts, and the north-east winds which brought up the rain gradually strengthened. The irregularity of the barometric changes and shift of winds indicated that weather was unsettled and squally over the adjacent portion of the Bay. No further change appears to have occurred until the 5th, when the rainfall at the Ceylon and Coromandel coast stations decreased rapidly in amount, the wind began to increase in force at Diamond Island, and the skies in Pegu to cloud over. The rainfall over the land area was practically nil on the 6th and 7th, but the general strengthening of the winds at the coast stations, the extension of cloud northwards into Bengal, and the westerly shift of winds at the west coast stations, indicated clearly that the rainfall was concentrating over the sea area in the south of the Bay, and hence producing a cyclonic disturbance with a clearly marked centre of wind convergence. The centre was probably nearly midway between Madras and the Andamans on the morning of the 8th. It advanced rather rapidly during that day to the west-north-west, and general rain began to fall on the west coast districts of the Bay. It apparently crossed the coast north of Madras in the afternoon or evening of the 9th, and passed westwards, gradually filling up, on the 10th, when it disappeared.

The usual changes occurred in Bengal. Skies which had been quite clear for some days previously began to cloud over on the morning of the 7th. The cloud amount slowly increased until the 10th, when skies were densely clouded in Orissa, South-West Bengal and the adjacent districts of Chutia Nagpur and South Behar, and lightly clouded in the remainder of the province; the temperature and humidity of the air also increased from the 7th. The change was first shown at the coast stations, and gradually extended into the interior. The southern districts of Orissa received light to moderate rain on the 9th and 10th from the disturbance. No rain fell in the remainder of the province. Hence the week has on the whole been marked by excessive humidity and temperature, much cloud, and by the prevalence of northerly winds with an easterly instead of a westerly element.

The variations of pressure during the week were of the usual oscillatory character. The disturbance in the south of the Bay did not affect the barometric movement in Bengal directly to any appreciable extent, except in Orissa. The mean pressure was hence practically normal over the greater part of the province. It was slightly below the average in Orissa (·02″). The only persistent abnormal feature in the distribution of pressure at present is in North Behar, where pressure is relatively to the remainder of the province in excess. In that area the mean pressure of the week was 0·3″ above the normal mean.

Temperature was slightly below the average at the commencement of the week. No marked change occurred until the 9th and 10th, when a sudden rise occurred, chiefly shewn by a large increase in the night temperature. The following are two most striking examples of the change:—At Calcutta the minimum temperature of the 8th was 58·3° and that of the 9th 73·2°, showing an increase of 14·9° in the night temperature during the 24 hours. The minimum night temperature at Cuttack was 14·4° higher on the night of the 10th than on that of the 9th. The temperature changes were least in East and North Bengal, and greatest in Orissa and South-West Bengal, where the day temperature was also increased, but to a less extent than the night temperature. In South and Central Behar and Chutia Nagpur the change was in the night temperature only, and occurred on the evening of the 10th, when the rise varied from 7·7° at Gya and 7·5° at Dehree to 3·8° at Motihari and 2° at Buxar. The mean temperature of the week is hence above the average, the excess being most marked in the minimum temperatures, and in the southern and western districts of the province. The following table gives data for eight representative stations in different parts of the province:—

No rain fell except in the Pooree and Cuttack districts of Orissa. The former received an average of ·85 inch, the mean average fall of that district for the week being ·39 inch, and the latter an average fall of ·29 inch, or ·01 inch less than the mean (·3 inch). The mean average district rainfall of the week varies from nil over the greater part of Behar to ·79 inch in the Noakhally district.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 10th of December 1886 :—

The 14th December 1886.

JOHN ELIOT,
Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE birth and death returns of the principal Municipalities in Bengal, for the week ending 20th November 1886, present the following results :—

1. That births and deaths were recorded in these Municipalities in the proportions per 1,000 of population of 24·9 and 48·0, respectively, as opposed to 25·6 and 41·9 per 1,000, respectively, during the preceding week ending 13th November, indicating great improvement in the registration of deaths.

2. That the undermentioned Municipalities returned the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Comillah	53·9	Puri	102·8
Naraingunge	53·9	Serampore	86·4
Monghyr	50 6	Mozufferpore	80·3
Durbhanga	39·4	Suburbs of Calcutta...	68·7
Bhagulpore	32·6	Hughli	68·5
Hughli	32·2	Beauleah	63·1
Gya	31·5	Purneah	58·9
		Bhagulpore	58·0
		Monghyr	54·2
		Burdwan	50·4
		Durbhanga	48·0
		Kishnaghur	47·3
		Gya	46·4
		Patna	45·8
		Howrah	41·2
		Bali	38·6
		Comillah	38·5
		Darjiling	32·6

3. That the mortality from the principal diseases (exhibited below) contrasted with the death-rates from the same causes in the preceding week, stands as follows :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	20th Nov. 1886.	13th Nov. 1886.
Cholera	13 9	11·5
Small-pox	...	...
Fever	18 7	16·1
Bowel-complaints	5·2	4·9
Injury	·3	·3
Other causes	9·9	9·0

denoting chiefly an increase of mortality from cholera, fever, and the maladies returned under the head of "Other causes," prominently from the two first-named diseases.

4. That excluding small-pox, from which no death was reported to have occurred, injury, the casualties from which were nowhere noticeably large, and bowel-complaints, which proved conspicuously fatal only in the Purneah town, viz. at the rate of 13·8 per 1,000 of population, the rest of the diseases, above specified, caused the greatest loss of life in the following Municipalities :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Puri	65·0	Beauleah	49·9	Comillah	34·7
Mozufferpore	46·2	Purneah	34·6	Serampore	23·5

Howrah	15·5	Suburbs of Calcutta ...	24·0	Monghyr	10·8
				Puri	10·5

It will be noticed that the mortality from cholera still continues high in Puri town, and that Mozufferpore also suffered severely from the same disease, and Beauleah from fever.

5. That with regard to mortality referable to Sex, Class and Age, the rates stood as follows :—

According to Sex.	Ratio per mille.
Males	51·8
Females	43·8
Ratio of male deaths to every 100 female deaths	134

According to Class.	Ratio per mille.
Christians	39·1

N. ST.L. CARTER,
Traffic Manager.

TRAFFIC MANAGER'S OFFICE, JAMALPUR, the 10th December 1886.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during five weeks ended 30th October 1886.

INCREASES.

Coal, up.—This increase is accounted for by heavier despatches to Sonepur, Bhagulpore, Benares, Allahabad and other stations up-country.

Cotton.—Firm market and good demand are the reasons assignable for the increase in this commodity.

Other fibres, raw.—A good traffic in hemp and other fibres from the North-Western Provinces accounts for the increase under this head.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—This increase was due to both supply and demand being good.

Iron.—Due to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

Government Stores.—There was a decrease in the weight carried, but the traffic being for longer distances there was an increase in the earnings.

DECREASES.

Coal, down.—Owing to the flooding of the principal collieries at Sitarampur in consequence of heavy rain and want of demand at Calcutta, there was a decrease in the downward coal traffic.

Wheat.—The heavy decrease in this staple is attributable to the sharp advance in exchange which commenced at the end of September and continued through October, with want of active demand for export attended with limited supplies of wheat of good quality in the Calcutta market

Piece-goods.—The falling off in this staple is due to a dull market with declining prices.

Gram and pulses.—Want of local demand may be assigned as the reason for the decrease in this staple.

Gunny.—This decrease is explained by the heavy falling off in the wheat traffic.

Hides.—Want of supplies may be accepted as the reason for this decrease.

Railway material, Foreign.—Due to completion of works which were under construction last year.

Salt.—Competition and a weak demand are the causes of the decrease in this commodity.

Seeds.—The large falling off in seeds is assignable to want of stocks of tilseed and rapeseed being poor in quality, coupled with a stagnant market.

Sugar.—The decrease in this staple may be attributed to fluctuation in supply and demand.

GOVERNMENT NOTIFICATION.

THE following order by His Excellency the Governor in Council is published for general information.

COLONIAL SECRETARY'S OFFICE,
Singapore, 27th October 1886.

WHEREAS by Indian Act No. XIII of 1854, entitled "an Act to repeal Act No. VI of 1852, and to make provision for defraying the cost of the Light-house on Pedra Branca and for maintaining the same and also a Floating Light established in the Straits of Malacca to the West of Singapore and for the establishment and maintenance of such further lights in or near the said Straits as may be deemed expedient," it was, among other things, enacted that it should be lawful for the Governor-General of India in Council, from time to time, to raise the tolls payable under the said Act in respect of all vessels passing "the Straits' Lights" to any amount not exceeding the amount in the said Act specified; and whereas by Ordinance No. II of 1867, the powers vested by the said Act in the Governor-General of India in Council were vested in the Governor in Council of the Straits Settlements; and whereas it is expedient to raise the tolls payable under the said Indian Act:

It is hereby ordered by the Governor in Council as follows:—

On and after the 1st day of January 1887, the tolls payable in respect of all vessels liable, under the said Indian Act, to pay tolls for passing the Straits Lights shall be at the rates in the said Act specified (that is to say):—If the voyage be one in the ordinary course whereof the vessel would pass the whole of the Straits Lights, at the rate of one anna per ton; and if the voyage be one in the ordinary course whereof the vessel would pass any one or more of the Lights but not all of them, at the rate of half an anna per ton.

By His Excellency's Command,
A. P. TALBOT,
Clerk of Council.

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th December 1886.—Under section 25 (i) of the Indian Forest Act (VII of 1878), the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to sanction the closing of the Reserved Forests in the Palamow and Hazaribagh Forest sub-divisions and the Horhap Forest Reserve near Ranchi, all situated in the Chota Nagpore Forest Division, against hunting, shooting, and fishing from the 1st January until the 1st June 1887.

P. NOLAN,
Offg Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd December 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information, that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, if no valid objections be raised within one month from this date, to approve of the following notification and rules with regard to the collection of drift timber in the Gunduck river, in the Chumparun district :—

DRAFT NOTIFICATION.

The Lieutenant-Governor of the Lower Provinces of Bengal is pleased to direct, under section 45 of the Indian Forest Act (VII of 1878), and in continuation of the notification of the 3rd November 1879, that the river Gunduck and its tributaries, so far as they flow within his jurisdiction in the Chumparun district or along its borders, are areas within which all unmarked wood and timber, and all wood and timber on which the marks have been obliterated, or defaced, by fire or otherwise, are deemed to be the property of Government unless or until any person establishes his right and title thereto under the provisions of the said Act and the rules made under it.

DRAFT RULES.

Drift Timber Rules of the River Gunduck and its tributaries so far as they flow in or along the boundaries of the Chumparun District, within the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to be made under section 51 of the Indian Forest Act.

1. Drift timber may be salved by any person.—All pieces of unmarked wood or timber, and all pieces on which marks have been obliterated or defaced by fire, or otherwise found adrift, beached, stranded, or sunk in or on the banks of the river Gunduck, and its tributaries, may be salved by any person.

2. Report to be made when wood or timber is salved.—The salvor shall intimate the fact that he has salved wood or timber to the Forest Officer, or to such Police or other officer or subordinate as the Forest Officer may from time to time direct to receive such reports.

3. Salvage fees.—Any such person who shall have salved wood or timber under these rules shall be entitled to receive as salvage fees—

(a) in the case of wood or timber, the ownership of which is proved and admitted under section 47 of the Indian forest Act—from the owner, through the Forest Officer, 50 per cent. of the value thereof, as adjudged by the Forest Officer ;

(b) in the case of wood or timber that becomes vested in Government, under section 48 of the Indian Forest Act—from Government, 50 per cent. of the net balance of the sale account of the said wood or timber after deducting therefrom all expenses of transport and other charges (if any) : such salvage fees to be paid after the sale has been effected.

4. Payments required when drift timber is shown to be the property of a claimant.—No such wood or timber shall be delivered to any claimant who (under section 47 of the Indian Forest Act) has been recognized to be the owner until, under section 50 of the said Act, he shall have paid to the Forest Officer 50 per cent. of its value as adjudged by that officer, together with such other expenses as may have been incurred in salving the said wood or timber. Should the recognized owner fail to make these payments within 10 days of his receiving intimation from the Forest Officer of the amount due, the property salved shall be dealt with (under section 48 of the Act) as unclaimed timber.

5. Salved timber which may become vested in Government to be sold to the best advantage.—All drift and stranded wood and timber salved under these rules, which may become vested in Government under section 48 of the Indian Forest Act, shall be sold to the best advantage after two months from the expiry of the period fixed for the disposal of claims under section 46 of the said Act.

6 Penalty clause.—Any person who shall infringe any of the provisions of these rules shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

P. NOLAN,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules for Private Students desiring to appear at the ensuing Entrance Examination from the Eastern Circle.

Definition.—A private student is one who has not been a pupil of any one school continuously since the 1st November next preceding the examination.

Rule 1.—Every candidate from the Eastern Circle who desires to appear at the ensuing Entrance Examination will, at least fifteen days before the date on which the test examination of the school begins, submit an application to the head-master of the zillah school of his district for permission to appear at the said examination.

Rule 1 (a).—As it often happens that candidates repeatedly fail at the Entrance Examination, Rule 1 will be strictly enforced in regard to all failed candidates who wish to appear a second or third time.

2. Every candidate will be required to pay a fee of Rs. 2 on the first day of the test examination.

3. Immediately after the result of the examination is known, the head-master will send to this office the name of each private student who has successfully passed the test, together with the form of application, to the Registrar of the Calcutta University, duly filled up by the candidate. The application, with the necessary certificate, will be returned to the head-master for delivery to the candidate, who will forward it to the Registrar with the usual entrance fee of Rs. 10.

4. The head-master will send separately the names of those private students who appeared at the test examination but failed to pass.

N. B.—By the permission of the Principal of the College, the words "zillah school include the Dacca Collegiate School.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 900 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1885-86, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,

NOTIFICATION.

The 18th December 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, in the exercise of the powers vested in him by section 180 of Act IX (B C.) of 1880, to confirm the following bye-laws, which have been framed by the District Road Committee of Manbhoom at a meeting, unless good reasons are shown to the contrary within one month from the date of the publication of this notification.

BYE-LAWS.

1. No person shall make, or cause to be made, any obstruction, by means of buildings, huts, fences, or otherwise on any road or its side drains

2. No person shall cause any obstruction to any waterway or channel in the immediate vicinity of any bridge or culvert constructed, or being constructed, on any road so as to injure, or tend to injure, such structure or roadway.

3. No person shall excavate a hole, pit, tank or well, or make a bund for heading up water, within 20 feet from the outer edge of any road, drain, or bottom of any road—slope without the permission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman.

4. No person shall, without the premission of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman, cut any part of any road for the purposes of irrigation, drainage, or any other purpose.

5. No person shall cause the destruction and removal of, or damage to any tree planted by, or in charge of, the District Road Committee on any road, or to any gabion erected for the protection of the same.

6. No person shall remove, or cause to be removed, any post of any description fixed on or along any road.

7. During the course of repairing any road, or repairing or renewing a bridge or culvert on it, it shall be lawful for the person in charge of such repairs to forbid traffic from passing over such portion of the roadway, or over such bridge or culvert as is undergoing repair or renewal, provided he leaves some portion of the roadway, or makes a temporary diversion over which traffic or carts can pass. No person shall displace or remove any fence or barrier by which any portion of the road may have been so closed.

8. Any person committing a breach of, or disobeying any orders issued under, the above bye-laws shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 (ten rupees), and to a further fine of one rupee per day as long as the source of the offence is not removed.

24-Pergunnahs Collectorate, the 22nd Nov. 1886. A. W. PAUL, Covd. Dy Collr. in charge.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government as specified in the conditions of sale below to the undermentioned estate situate in the district of 24-Pergunnahs will be put up to sale at the Alipore Collectorate on Monday, the 11th January 1887, corresponding with the 28th day of Poush 1292 B.S. (Bengali year).

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

Conditions of sale.

1*st.*—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd.*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force, and purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3*rd.*—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th.*—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser after issue of advertisement as in the case of original sale.

Dated Mozufferpore, the 25th November 1886. H HOLMWOOD, Covenanted Deputy Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Noakhally, will be put up to sale at the Noakhally Collectorate on Monday, the 10th of January 1887, corresponding with 27th Pous 1293B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

Conditions of sale.

1*st*.—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd*.—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and the purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3*rd*.—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th*.—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

Pubna Collectorate, the 7th December 1886.

G. N. CHATTERJEA, for Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given, under sections 6 and 13, Act XI of 1859, that the undermentioned estates or shares of estates, in the district of Sarun, will be put up for sale at the Collector's office of that district on the 7th January 1887, corresponding with 27th Push 1294 T.S. (Friday), for arrears of revenue and other demands for the kist of September 1886, which, by the Regulations and Acts in force, are directed to be realized in the same manner as arrears of revenue.

When in columns 5, 7, and 9 of the appended statement it is stated that only a share is to be sold, a separate account is kept for such share, and the other share or shares in the estate are excluded from the sale.

NOTICE.

IT is hereby notified, for general information, that subscriptions to the complete series of the Indian Law Reports should be registered during the first three months of each calendar year. Subscribers are therefore requested to send in their subscriptions for the complete series before the 31st March in each year. Those who register their names after that date will understand that copies will be supplied only if available.

H. A. D. PHILLIPS,
Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 24th November 1886.

The following revised advertisement is published in substitution of that which appeared at page 1084, Part II of the Calcutta Gazette of the 9th July 1884:—

The Indian Law Reports,

Published under Authority.

THE Indian Law Reports, published under the authority of the Governor-General in Council, appear in monthly parts, published as soon as possible after the first of each month at Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad, and comprise four series—one for the Calcutta High Court, a second for the Madras High Court, a third for the Bombay High Court, and a fourth for the Allahabad High Court. The cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from each High Court are reported in the Series for that High Court. Cases heard by the Privy Council on appeal from Provinces in India not subject to any High Court are reported in the Calcutta Series.

The Calcutta Series is distributed by the Bengal Secretariat; the copies for subscribers registered by Messrs. Thacker, Spink & Co., are distributed by that firm; and the Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad Series are distributed direct from Madras, Bombay, and Allahabad respectively.

In supersession of the previous advertisements, on and from the 1st January 1885, the terms of subscription and sale will be as follows:—

SURVEY OF CALCUTTA.

The HON. MR. REYNOLDS, in introducing the Bill for a Survey of the Town of Calcutta, and moving that it be read in Council, said:—The Bill which I have the honour to introduce is based partly upon the old Calcutta Survey Act of 1847, and partly upon the Bengal Survey Act of 1875. The original draft of the Bill was prepared by a Committee consisting of the Secretary to the Board of Revenue, the Vice-Chairman to the Calcutta Corporation, and the Collector of the 24-Pergunnahs This Bill is substantially the same as the draft which they prepared, with some amendments of no very great importance which have been introduced in accordance with suggestions made by the professional officers of the Survey Department. The Bill has been circulated, and is in the hands of hon. members. In all its main features it is nothing more than an enabling measure. It empowers the Lieutenant-Governor to direct a survey to be made of the Town; and to appoint a Superintendent and one or more Assistant Superintendents of Survey for the purpose. It goes on to authorize the Superintendent, either by himself or through his Assistants, to enter upon lands or premises, to procure the attendance of persons whose presence may be necessary, and to do all things which may be required for effecting a survey and demarcation of boundaries. It next provides for the settlement of disputes either by judicial decision or by reference to arbitrators, and here I may explain that it is intended that the Survey, so far as the professional and scientific part of it is concerned, shall be under the charge of a professional officer of the Revenue Survey Department, and that to the survey shall be attached a civil officer of the standing of a Deputy Collector, who will decide such boundary disputes as may arise, subject to an appeal to the Board of Revenue or to such other authority as the Lieutenant-Governor may appoint. But it is not contemplated, or probable, that boundary disputes in Calcutta will be numerous, as the land is very valuable and the boundaries for the most part are well ascertained. Then the Bill goes on to provide that on the completion of the survey, the maps and other papers relating to it shall be deposited in the Calcutta Municipal Office, and that any person interested may lodge any objection, if he thinks fit, within a specified period, and that such objection shall be considered and decided, and that when all objections have thus been disposed of, the Local Government, if it approves the survey, may signify its approval by a notification in the local Gazette. That was the usual course adopted when a survey is made under Act IX of 1847. The Bill proceeds with the usual provision giving the Government power to lay down rules for regulating proceedings taken under the Act, and finally there is a section authorizing the Government to extend the whole or any part of the Act to such portions of the Suburbs as may hereafter be connected with the Town for municipal purposes.

The motion was put and agreed to

The Bill was then referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon. Messrs Allen and Anundo Mohun Bose and the mover.

CHITTAGONG PORT TRUST.

The Hon. Mr. Macaulay, in introducing the Bill to appoint Commissioners for the Port of Chittagong, said :—The Bill, as hon'ble members will observe from the marginal references, follows in its main features the Rangoon Port Commissioners' Act, passed in 1879 by the Governor General's Legislative Council. In one important particular, however, we have had to depart from that model. You, Sir, have decided to give effect to the elective principle in the constitution of bodies of this character in these provinces. As you have already informed this Council, it will be my duty at a subsequent meeting to ask for permission to introduce a measure to amend the Calcutta Port Commissioners' Act for this purpose. As regards the port of Chittagong, I would ask the attention of the Council to section 5 of the Bill. It is there proposed that there shall be nine Commissioners, of whom six shall be appointed by the local Government, and three elected by such body or bodies or firms engaged in the commerce of the port as the Lieutenant Governor on the report of the local authorities may direct. I may explain that considerable as has been the expansion of the port of Chittagong, it has not yet reached the point of having a Chamber of Commerce or any other commercial representative body of its own The only feasible plan therefore was, until such a body should be created, which the local Government would be very glad to recognize, to leave it to the local Government to entrust the right of election to such firms as the local officers might report as being qualified by the extent of their transactions and other considerations to exercise it. Then as regards the removal of the Commissioners. The Rangoon Act provides that any Commissioner may be removed at any time by a written order of the Local Government, and in this respect it differs—and differs, I think, for the worse—not only from the Bombay and Madras Acts, which contain the elective principle, but also from the Calcutta Act of 1870 Under that Act, although all the Commissioners are nominated by the Government, still the disqualifications are laid down by law. I have no doubt the Council will approve of my having introduced the new section 8, laying down the circumstances of disqualification, and not leaving the matter to the discretion of Government. As regards the remainder of the Bill, as I have said, it mainly follows the Rangoon Act, with the exception that, on the precedent of the Bombay and Madras Acts, we have introduced a special chapter providing borrowing powers for the Commissioners

The Council will observe that the sections regarding works may appear at first sight somewhat formidable. They provide for possible expenditure upon wharves, jetties, and piers, and also for compelling ships to use the jetties and to pay dues, and they provide penalties for disobedience of these orders As this measure has been regarded with a little apprehension by some mercantile authorities, who consider that the commerce and prosperity of the port of Chittagong may not perhaps be permanent, I will make a few remarks on that point. It has been suggested that the expansion of the commerce of Chittagong has been due to fortuitous circumstances, and that if these circumstances are altered it may disappear. It has been suggested that if the railway freights were reduced, a great part of the jute trade which now goes to Chittagong might be diverted to Calcutta. Without going into this question, I may point out that the commerce of Chittagong is not confined to jute. In the last year the exports of rice were even greater than the exports of jute. The amount of exports of rice was 63,510 tons as against 48,951 tons of jute. There is also a large import of salt, though I am aware, of course, that the imports of salt very often depend upon the exports of some other staples, because salt is sent out in ships which might otherwise come in ballast. But there are other articles of import which are deserving of consideration regarding the prosperity of the port Besides salt, there is a considerable trade done in the import of mineral oil. Although in the last year the trade fell off to some extent, owing to its having been somewhat overdone in the previous year when nearly a million gallons of oil were imported, still Mr Lyall, the Commissioner of Chittagong, whose opinion, I think, is entitled to great weight on everything concerned with that province, assures us that a great part of Eastern Bengal is supplied with mineral oil from Chittagong, and he told us in his last report that two petroleum ships were at the time on their way to Chittagong I mention this because I think it necessary to remove a possible misapprehension At the same time, I have to observe that there is no danger whatever of this section being made use of for the purpose of launching into any extravagant schemes. We have introduced this Bill to provide for the absolute necessities of the port, but we have thought it well to make the enactment as complete as possible. Regarding jetties, I may say there is no intention of constructing them until the trade of Chittagong has increased a great deal more, and, indeed, until the commercial prosperity of the port has been practically assured. This is what Mr. Lyall writes:—"The trade of this port is peculiar, the larger proportion, both of jute and rice, being transhipped from smaller craft into the sea going ships, and for vessels loading in this manner single moorings are preferred. Jetties are not at present required, the bulk of the freight being transhipped as above remarked. When the railway is made, the question of the necessity for jetties will come up." Apart from this expressed opinion of the Commissioner, I would draw the attention of the Council to the penultimate paragraph of section 65, which provides that "no contract under which a sum greater than Rs 10.000 may in any event be payable by the Commissioners shall be valid without the consent, in writing of the Local Government." I think, therefore, that the Council and the public may be fully assured that there is no danger of these sections being enforced unnecessarily, and they have only been introduced to make the enactment complete if the need should arise for their use.

With these observations, I beg to move that the Bill be read in Council.

The HON. MR. ANUNDO MOHUN BOSE said, having regard to the fact that this Bill was delivered to members after they entered the Council Chamber this morning, it will not be possible to discuss its provisions to-day, but I would beg to draw the attention of the Council to certain matters connected with the procedure in the introduction of Bills. According to our standing rules, it is necessary that a Bill should be delivered to members three days before the motion can be made to have it read in Council. I do not mention this matter with the object in the slightest degree of raising any technical difficulty. But it would be an advantage if in all cases the rule could be observed, so that members might have some clear idea of the leading provisions and outlines of a Bill before the present stage is passed. And this is not an isolated instance. Not only with regard to the present Bill, but it so happens that with regard to the Bill already introduced this day, as also the one which is to be introduced on the motion which will come next in order, the copies of the Bill were delivered, so far at any rate as I am concerned, too late for any proper consideration of the Bill, and certainly too late for compliance with the standing rules of the Council. They were delivered on Thursday evening, and with only one day intervening it would be hardly possible to consider the Bill as it would be the duty of Members to do. In this connection, I would draw the attention of your Honour to another suggestion, and it is this. With regard to this Bill, the Council were favoured with a speech by the hon'ble Member then in charge of the Bill last Saturday, in addition to the observations made to-day by the HON. MR. MACAULAY. It would be an advantage if the official proceedings of the Council could appear in the local Gazette which is published on the following Wednesday, instead of, as ordinarily happened, on the Wednesday following. He mentioned this because he intended to refer to some remarks that fell on the last occasion, and he could only trust to the report which appeared in the newspapers. They were grateful to the press for the reports which appeared of their proceedings; but these reports were often very meagre, and might sometimes not be altogether correct. I believe, if your Honour expressed a wish in favour of this course, it would generally, if not always, be found possible to have the official proceedings of the Council published in the following Gazette, and this would be an advantage to Members of the Council in their discussions, and they would also often have the benefit of the discussions in the newspapers, based on full information contained in the official account of the proceedings. And thirdly, I would suggest for your Honour's consideration that it would be very desirable, especially in the case of Bills affecting limited local areas, that the official papers leading to the introduction of a Bill or its inception should be placed in the hands of Members. No doubt if we had in this Council representatives of local areas the inconvenience felt in discussing the provisions of a Bill without Members having access to these papers might be comparatively a good deal less. But on the present occasion, as the only source of information would be the official papers on which the Bill is based, it would be desirable that these should be put before Members. I imagine in most cases they could with advantage be placed in the hands of Members, and this would certainly secure a better and more effectual consideration of measures brought before the Council. I venture to hope that this suggestion may also meet with your Honour's favourable consideration.

With regard to the Bill itself, having regard to the circumstances of its introduction, it will not be possible, as I have stated, to discuss its provisions. But, as far as I can gather from what was said on the last occasion and to-day by the hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, I think the time has fully come for a measure of this kind being introduced with a view to its being considered. I wish on this occasion to make one or two remarks with reference to one matter. I wish to accord, if I may do so, my cordial thanks for the recognition made in section 5, to which attention has been drawn by the hon'ble Member, of the elective principle in the constitution of the Port Trust. Nothing is more remarkable in the recent history of political progress in this country than the steady growth of this idea, and the strong hold it has obtained on the public mind; and within this Council chamber itself it has received full recognition in the legislation with which your Honour has been so intimately associated. In the constitution of Municipal Boards, as well as of Local and District Boards, that principle had been conceded in the course of the last two years. In referring to the recognition of this principle in the Bill before us, your Honour remarked, in the course of the motion for leave to introduce the Bill, that there were special difficulties, having regard to the circumstances of Chittagong, in the way of giving effect to this principle as far as the representatives of the mercantile interests were concerned. That difficulty, your Honour pointed out, arose from the fact that there was no constituted or organized body representing the commerce of the port of Chittagong. It was worthy of note therefore that, even under those circumstances, we find the importance of the elective principle recognized and an attempt made to give effect to it. Without discussing the question at the present time, whether the proportion of elected Commissioners might or might not be made larger than is contemplated in the Bill, it is my duty to accord to your Honour and to the hon'ble Member in charge of the Bill, on behalf of the native community, their thanks for the elective principle finding a place in the Bill; and if it is not presumption on my part to say so, I trust that not in the dim and distant future, but before many years have passed away, that principle will be recognized in the constitution of the Legislative Councils of this Empire. If there is one desire more widely felt than another; if there is one conviction in the public mind getting more settled than another, it is the desire that in the constitution of the Legislative Councils of the Empire the principle of election should, as far as may be practicable, be given effect to: it is the conviction that, subject to whatever powers of control may be deemed necessary, public opinion should be more largely, more directly, represented in those Councils If the utterances of one of the most honoured and respected members of the non-official European community at the late St. Andrew's dinner—I refer to our present popular Sheriff, who presided on that occasion—may be taken to represent the opinions of that community, then there is no question more ripe for consideration than that of widening the doors of our Legislative Councils and altering their character. I cordially support the principle of election embodied in this Bill, and venture humbly, but earnestly, to hope that, before many years have rolled away in their course, that principle will be recognized in a larger sphere to the honour and glory of the British administration, and to the safety and advantage of the vast interests entrusted by a wise Providence to its care.

His Honour the President said:—The hon. member is certainly within his right in bringing to our notice that we are infringing a rule in proceeding with this Bill before it has been three days in the hands of members, and I may say at once that if he chooses to press that consideration upon us, I shall quite acquiesce in the suggestion that the further proceedings in connection with this Bill be postponed to the next meeting of the Council. But if he is not anxious to press the point, I think the fact that we have gone beyond the actual rule might be condoned in view that the Bill has been drafted on lines well understood in connection with other ports and that it will be referred to a Select Committee, in which it is proposed that he himself shall be a member. With regard to the publication of speeches and of the proceedings of this Council in the following Gazette—that is, that the proceedings of our Council of Saturday should appear always in the Calcutta Gazette on the Wednesday following—I am afraid that very often when our proceedings are long, and the speeches of hon. members are long, it is totally impossible to frame any such rule on the subject. We have to depend upon the Press to give the first notice of the proceedings in this Council, and I think hon. members will agree with me that it too often happens that it takes us a considerable time, having regard to our other duties, to revise the detailed proofs of the speeches we make here. It is impossible, therefore, to formulate any rule in accordance with the hon. member's suggestion.

As to the publication of the papers relating to the Bill, the rules, so far as I am aware, do not directly provide for any such arrangement. It says that the Bill must be accompanied by a full Statement of the objects and reasons, with any papers which the hon. member in charge of the Bill may consider necessary. But I may say with regard to this point, that it is the desire of the Government to place all information in connexion with legislative proceedings in the hands of hon'ble members, and that is our usual practice; and certainly, so far as I am concerned in the present matter, I shall be glad to bring all the information in our possession before hon. members when this Bill goes into Select Committee. In this case I have no doubt that the report we have received from the Commissioner of Chittagong, and other papers which appear on the subject, will be placed on the table in connexion with the Bill which it is now proposed to refer to a Select Committee, and an opportunity will, therefore, be given to any member to take a note of what might have been written, to take objection to anything which he objects to, or to give reasons for supporting the measure. I need not follow the hon member into the larger question to which he adverted as regards introducing the principle of representation into our Legislative Councils in India, based on the suggestion of adopting the elective principle in the constitution of the Port Trust at Chittagong.

The motion was then put and agreed to, and the Bill referred to a Select Committee consisting of the Hon. Messrs. Reynolds, Allen, Cruickshank, Anundo Mohun Bose and the mover.

CHOTA NAGPORE RURAL POLICE BILL.

The Hon. Mr. Allen introduced the Bill to provide for the regulation of the Rural Police in Chota Nagpore, and in doing so said:—There is no need for me to take up the time of the Council with a long speech upon this Bill, as it is nothing more or less than a reproduction of the existing Act VIII of 1878, with one slight change,—that in place of the village headman on whom the working of that Act was imposed, we have substituted the circle tehsildar. It was found impossible without a paid agency to make assessments and to realize the amount of taxation which each village had to contribute, and as usual the provisions of the law had to give way to the necessities of fact. It is now proposed to recognize these facts, and to make legal the nomination of the paid tehsildar. Beyond this substitution of the circle tehsildar for the village headman, the present Bill makes no substantial change in the existing Act. The maximum rate which was allowed to be paid to the chowkidar has been raised in order to meet the rising prosperity of certain villages in the neighbourhood of coal mines, where it is impossible to procure chowkidars upon the pay which was legal under the former Act.

The Hon. Mr. Annoda Mohun Bose said, with your Honour's permission, I beg to make some observations at the present stage of this Bill. It seems to me that we have no information on which exactly to justify the proposed changes incorporated in the Bill. The whole basis of the Bill, to use the language of the Statement of Objects and Reasons, is this, that the headman, on whom the hinge, so to speak, on which the whole machinery of the former Act rested and turned, was a mythical person. Now, Sir, this certainly was strong language to use with respect to the very existence of the fact which formed the basis of legislation not of so many years ago, but of only eight years back. It becomes, therefore, necessary to examine what is our present position with regard to the Bill itself. This is what the Hon. Member is reported to have said when moving for leave to introduce this Bill "The existing law under which the police are paid is Act VIII (B C.) of 1878; but it has been found in practice that the state of things assumed by this Act has no existence in fact. By this Act provision was made that the pay of the police should be raised through the village headman; but it is said that as a fact there was no such person generally throughout Chota Nagpore" This is a remarkable statement, and there could possibly be no mistake as to its meaning or significance. Its essence was this, that this Council, in legislating in this very matter in 1878, was, so to speak, as regards the very foundation of the Bill, in absolute ignorance of the actual state of things; that the Act passed in that year did not rest on a foundation of stone or even of sand, because that would imply some foundation, but on no foundation whatever. This certainly ought to impress on us that we should proceed with great caution and full information in our legislative course; and it is necessary to consider carefully what we have before us at the present time to justify us in proceeding with this Bill. We find with regard to this matter that we are hardly in a much better position at the present time. It is necessary to know a good deal about this headman, because it is proposed to do away with him, and to substitute in his place tehsildars to be appointed by the Deputy Commissioner for every circle of villages. The Hon. Member is reported to have said, with regard to the village headman, that there was "no such person generally throughout Chota Nagpore." I am not quite sure that I understand what is intended, and whether the meaning is that he does exist in certain limited portions of the division in question, and not in other portions. Then if the fact be so, it becomes important to examine the provisions of the proposed Bill with regard to that fact. That is to say, it might not be necessary to introduce the change in regard to those portions of the division in which the headman exists. Instead of introducing the general principle now advocated, it would be desirable to limit it to areas where the headman does not exist. In the next place, I would draw the attention of the Council to the fact that there seems to have been a serious alteration in the character of the Bill since the matter was referred to by Your Honour at the opening of the present session of the Council. On that occasion Your Honour was pleased to observe: "Without entering into the practical details of the Bill, which is a very small measure, I may say that power is required to give assistance to the headmen now employed in collecting the police dues, and to legalize the agency which they employ." It seems, if I understand the Bill correctly, that instead of assisting the headman, it is proposed to abolish him altogether; and further, instead of legalising the agency they employ, to substitute that agency in his place.

This is a very important, nay radical, alteration in the entire scope and character of the Bill since it was referred to by Your Honour on the 27th November last. I am not aware whether in the few days that have elapsed since that date any circumstances have come to light which have led to the proposal for the entire abolition of the headman, instead of providing him with assistance and legalizing the agency employed by him I think the Council is entitled to some information on this subject Then there is the fact—a fact of more than ordinary importance, having regard to the circumstances connected with the history of the legislation—that there is no member in this Council who might be said to represent in any sense the Chota Nagpore Division or the districts of Hazaribagh or Lohardugga, because in that case such members might have been of help in throwing light upon the questions now before us. It will therefore become all the more necessary to have official information on this point placed fully before the Select Committee and the Council. Let us realise that we are now receding from a position which was deliberately assumed by the Legislature in 1878, not as regards a question of principle, but a question of fact, viz. as to the existence or non-existence of a certain functionary in the village economy of the districts of Hazaribagh and Lohardugga. The next point I would notice is this. Reference was made in the speech of the Hon. Member to a paid agency which has had to be introduced for the collection of the chowkidaree dues, and to help the headman in making the assessments; thus, in the language of the Hon. Member, turning the corner of the law. It is desirable that there should be information with regard to this paid agency unauthorised by law; as to the character, cost, and efficiency of this paid agency which it is now proposed to substitute altogether for the village headman. Another point which I will notice is in regard to the definition of village headman in the existing Act VIII of 1878. A headman is defined in section 2 of that Act to mean "the person entrusted with collecting the village rents, by whatever designation he may be called." It would have been an advantage if, in the remarks which the Hon. Member has addressed to the Council, he had referred to that definition. I do not know whether even a headman, according to the definition given there, is or is not found to exist in the villages of the districts referred to in the Act. I do not fancy the villagers there are in the happy position of not having to pay any rent, being peasant proprietors of their own little farms or holdings. I do not think that is the state of things. But if it is not, one would like to know whether there are not persons entrusted with the collection of village rents. We may presume that there would be such persons. Does then the difficulty arise from just the opposite reason, viz. that there are more persons than one entrusted with the collection of rents in a village, because the Act does not contemplate a number of persons, but one person in each village as headman? Whether that is the circumstance which has led to the difficulty about finding a headman, is a point which requires to be cleared up, but about which we are left in absolute obscurity. Under these circumstances the basis of the alteration intended to be introduced by the present Bill, viz. the non-existence of the village headman, does not seem to have been as yet sufficiently established.

Then, Sir, passing on from this point, there are one or two other matters which I should like to notice. The Hon. Member referred to the fact that it is proposed to increase the maximum pay of the chowkidar from Rs. 3, as laid down in the present law, to Rs. 4; and I am not prepared to say at the present moment that the reason he has assigned, viz. that in certain villages situated in the neighbourhood of coal-mines labour has risen in value, and it will be necessary to employ policemen on higher pay, is not sufficient But I do not think the Hon. Member is strictly correct in stating that there is no other substantial alteration of the law proposed in the Bill. There are, however, one or two other matters of much greater importance than the point he has noticed as to the proposed increase in the maximum pay of the rural police. In the present Act the margin of excess for collection is 15 per cent. over the actual pay of the chowkidar It is proposed by section 7 of the Bill to make it 3½ annas in the rupee, which means 21·875, or roughly speaking 22 per cent, thus increasing it from 15 to 22 per cent. That is a matter which, I think, requires explanation. We are all aware that in no other division of the province is the peasantry, as a whole, so poor and ignorant and helpless as in the division of Chota Nagpore. That being so, any increase of taxation proposed to be made on them requires to be zealously watched, especially bearing in mind the fact that the whole thing is to depend upon the decision of the Deputy Commissioner, even without the help of any consultation with the villagers. It seems to me that some justification is needed for the proposal for increasing the excess portion of this rate from the present limit of 15 per cent. to 22 per cent. We have had no figures laid before us to show us the present cost of the machinery, or that which it is proposed to substitute for it, which would make it necessary that probably the poorest population in all the provinces under Your Honour's Government should be under the liability of having increased taxation laid upon it. Not only is it that no reasons are found sufficient to justify such increase, but not even is an attempt made to show that there is any occasion for such proposed increase. That is one of the substantial or important changes with regard to which no explanation is given.

Then there is another point which seems even of greater importance. The existing Act is limited to the rural police in the districts of Hazaribagh and Lohardugga In the Bill under consideration it is proposed to introduce the operation of the whole Act at once in those districts and of some parts in the district of Manbhoom, and to give power to the Lieutenant-Governor to extend the whole of it to any other districts in the Chota Nagpore Division. That seems to me to be a very important extension as far as the legislature is concerned, in respect of which it would be desirable to have further light and further information At the present time the other districts in the division, besides Hazaribagh and Lohardugga, would, I presume, be ordinarily subject to the operation of the general Village Chowkidari Act, viz Act VI of 1870 as amended by Act I of 1871 and the Act I of the present year. The proposal to take away the applicability of the general law, which was of a very different character from the limited law now proposed, is a change of a very wide character in respect of which nothing whatever has been said. It is true that it is proposed not to extend the Act directly to the other districts, but to give the Local Government power to extend it. But as far as the Legislature is concerned, it makes the law applicable to the whole division, without the necessity of any reference to the Supreme Government.

These are the considerations which present themselves at this stage of the Bill, and with regard to which the fullest information is certainly necessary.

I do not wish to propose that this motion be postponed until we have that information; but I venture to suggest that if this Bill goes to a Select Committee, before the Committee begins its consideration of the Bill, a pretty long time should be allowed to elapse, so that after the publication of the Bill we may have some information from the inhabitants themselves in Chota Nagpore with regard to matters of fact and the existence or non-existence of the headman, and with regard to the various points to which I have drawn attention. It may be, as is stated in the Statement of objects and reasons, that there are no intelligent and influential headmen of villages; but there may be some intelligent men in the whole division, who may be able to render assistance in the discussion of the proposed measure; and I hope that all the communications on the subject which have been received by the Government will be placed before the Select Committee and the Council.

His Honour the President said:—I have no intention of following the hon. member in all those points of details upon which he has spoken. It is not intended to refer the Bill to a Select Committee to-day. We have decided that, considering that the reports upon which the Bill is based are now of some months' standing, it would be preferable that the draft of the Bill which has been prepared should be circulated to the Commissioners and Deputy Commissioners of the districts to which the Bill will apply, in order that they may consider our proposals and give us the benefit of their suggestions. Therefore, there will be at least one month's delay before the Council is asked to refer the Bill to a Committee. In the meantime I can give the hon. member the assurance that whatever papers we have in any way connected with the proposal before the Council will be printed and circulated to hon. members. The interest which the hon. member seems to take in this Bill justifies me in suggesting that his name should be included among those to whom the Bill will be referred. There is only one point to which I shall further allude and that is this. The hon. member takes us to task for throwing a slur upon our predecessors of 1878. He said that the Government and the Legislature of that year proceeded on the assurance that there existed in every village such a personage as a headman, and that we now say that he has no existence. I think if the hon. member had carefully looked at the Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Bill, he would have noticed the qualification which the hon. member in charge of the Bill had introduced in the first portion of it. It said that the Act of 1878 had proved a failure, because the intelligent and influential headman who was assumed to exist in every village of Chota Nagpore had, in fact, no existence. The want of intelligent and influential headmen did not justify the Government in leaving in the hands of incompetent persons the difficult and delicate task of making the assessments and levying the tax, and therefore, in carrying out the objects of the Act, we had to substitute a paid agency which was not recognized by the law, and this practice it is now proposed to legalize.

The motion was then put and agreed to.

The Council was adjourned to Saturday, the 18th instant, at 11 A.M.

THE CANAL REVENUE REPORT FOR 1885-86.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT—IRRIGATION.

No. 1785I.A., Calcutta, the 18th December 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Canal Revenue Reports for 1885-86 and the Chief Engineer's note on the same.

THE total outlay, direct and indirect, to the close of the year 1885-86 on canals in Bengal, of which capital accounts are kept, has been Rs. 6,88,13,181. Of this sum, Rs. 7,82,000 have been contributed by the Imperial Government from Famine Relief and Insurance funds, Rs. 86,52,056 have been provided from Provincial revenues, and Rs. 5,86,02,070 have been charged to Loan funds. In addition to the sums mentioned above, Rs. 7,77,055 have been expended on surveys for irrigation works, which have not been carried out.

2. There are now in actual operation in Bengal 782½ miles of canal, of which 553 miles are navigable. The total area commanded by these canals is 2,698,846 acres, of which 455,987 acres, producing crops of the estimated value of Rs. 1,13,94,483* were irrigated during the year. The number of boats plying in the canals during the year was 241,951. The total value of goods passing through the canals in boats and rafts aggregated Rs. 8,51,21,950 approximately.

3. The receipts from, and expenditure on, the canals in operation for the last three years are given in the statement below: the figures include indirect charges:—

NAME OF CANAL	1883-84.		1884-85.		1885-86.

GRAND TOTAL ...	13,75,465	17,56,983	15,51,866	18,86,588	14,59,206	21,19,280

* Includes Rs 1,61,974 for Sarun Canals.

4. The net income for the year was therefore Rs. 6,60,074. Interest amounting to Rs. 22,49,193 was, however, payable to the Imperial Government, so that there was a deficit of Rs. 15,89,119 to be met from Provincial revenues.

The revenue collected for the last three years on the works mentioned in the above statement is shown below :—

Head	Revenue.
	1883-84.	1884 85.	1885-86.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Water-rates	7,49,122	9,46,808	12,33,612
Navigation	9,29,968	8,22,187	8,84,780
Miscellaneous	77,893	1,17,593	50,888
Total ...	17,56,983	18,86,588	21,19,280

The increased revenue of the year was entirely due to the collection of arrears of water-rates due for former years, and not to the revenue earned in the year 1885-86 itself, which was less than the two previous years. This is shown by the following statement :—

	Earnings.
	1883-84.	1884 85.	1885-86.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Water-rates	9,85 208	13,41,655	10,45,339

Miscellaneous	1,01,075	81,519	90,481
Total ...	19,91,101	22,45,050	19,70,600

5. The arrears of water-rates outstanding at the close of each of the last three years are shown in the statement following :—

Name of Canal.	Arrears
	1st April 1884.	1st April 1885.	1st April 1886.
	Rs	Rs	Rs.
Orissa Canals	52,203	77,869	64,884
Midnapore Canal	1,44,691	1,11,212	69,972
Sone Canals	4,23,793	6,95,208	3,98,321
Sarun „	25,218	40,022	15,912
Total ...	6,45,905	9,24,311	5,49,089

The prevalence of large balances outstanding on account of water-rates in the province had for some years past forced itself on the notice of the Local Government. The matter had indeed attracted the attention of the Imperial Government and of the Secretary of State. Not only were the arrears large in themselves, but they showed a constant tendency to increase At the end of the year previous to that now under review these arrears had reached the enormous sum of 9¼ lakhs of rupees, which was more than 40 per cent. in excess of the outstanding balance of any previous year. In August 1885 the Commissioners of the Orissa, Burdwan, and Patna Divisions were specially addressed on this matter: it was pointed out that the Lieutenant-Governor was reluctantly forced to the conclusion that very little real effort was made by the civil officers of districts in the collection of canal revenue, and that Government must insist on the same attention being given to this important branch of duty as to any other work which devolves on Commissioners and Collectors.

6 Sir Rivers Thompson notices with approval the response to these instructions in the large reduction in the arrears which has been effected by the district officers in the Orissa and Patna Divisions. The favourable results are most conspicuous on the Sone Canals, where reform was most needed. The above figures, however, are but an imperfect representation of the facts; for though they show a large reduction in outstanding balances, they give no indication whether that reduction has been effected by collection of the arrears or by the far easier method of remissions. The note of the Chief Engineer gauges the results obtained, on each of the three large systems, by a more detailed and accurate method than can be fitly followed in this resolution. The results obtained on the Sone Canals are, on the whole, the most satisfactory in themselves, and they have the greatest weight since the amounts involved are by far the largest. The work done by the revenue officers in the Orissa Canals is also satisfactory in itself, although the amounts involved were less than those dealt with on the Sone Canals, and the ultimate amount outstanding shows a comparatively small reduction as compared with that of the outstanding balance of the previous year. The results on the Midnapore Canal, on the other hand, are, both relatively and actually, unsatisfactory. It is true that the outstanding balance has been largely reduced; but this result is not so much due to the realization of arrears as to the adoption of the easy expedient of writing off, as irrecoverable, balances as to the collection of which no sufficient investigation was made before the demand was abandoned. The stringent orders recently issued on this subject will prevent the recurrence of such a practice.

7. The areas irrigated during the last three years are detailed in the following table:—

		1885-86.	1884-85.	1883-84.
		Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Orissa ..	Kharif	70,563	54,181	47,035

	Rabi, including hot weather ...	3 677	5,307	.....
	Total Minor Work ...	4,565	7,223	21,122
Grand Total, Major and Minor Works ..		455,987	490,166	518,415

Taking the grand total of the figures in the above statement, there would seem to have been during the last three years a steady decline in the area irrigated in the province. The falling off in the annual leases in the Sone Canals indicates the most prominent cause of this decrease; but to some extent it is due to the fact that a portion of the area irrigated by these canals is omitted from the returns. The reason of this is explained in paragraphs 68-71 of the Chief Engineer's note. On the other hand, the increase in the area irrigated on the Orissa Canals is the most satisfactory feature in the operations of the year. It shows that the opposition to irrigation in this province, which was so marked in the year 1883-84, has subsided. There seems to be every probability that the area irrigated in Orissa will in a short time rise to the standard which was obtained in 1882, when 70 per cent. of the entire area provided with distributaries was irrigated. This favourable result may in some measure be attributed to the enquiries of the Commission appointed to examine the working of the Orissa Canal system, and the changes introduced upon their report. It is, however, necessary to point out that the figures given above for the Orissa Canals are not strictly comparable, and that the actual increase in the area irrigated is somewhat less than these figures show. This is explained in paragraph 14 of the Chief Engineer's note. The steady increase in the area held under long leases on all the canals is a satisfactory indication that the fluctuations in irrigation, which were noticeable in former years, are likely to be less marked in future.

8. The tollage collections from the various canals for the last three years are given in the table following :—

Year.	Orissa Canal.	Midnapore Canal.	Hidgellee Canal.	Orissa Coast Canal.	Sone Canals.	Calcutta and Eastern Canals.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1883-84	61,602	1,08,931	62,317	.....	48,032	5,24,752	8,05,634
1884-85	52,784	1,19,797	41,382	.....	37,335	5,08,466	7,59,764
1885-86	64,093	1,25,331	52,143	13,663	41,712	5,13,839	8,10,781

There has been an increase both in the gross tollage receipts and the receipts on each navigable system as compared with the previous year. A portion of the Orissa Coast Canal was opened to traffic for the first time in July 1885. It produced a moderate revenue, which, considering the circumstances under which the length of canal was working, may be considered satisfactory. In the course of the current year the whole line should be opened to traffic, providing thus an inland and secure navigation for the entire length from Calcutta to Cuttack.

9. The Calcutta and Eastern Canals sustained their reputation as the most productive Public Work in Bengal. The statement in paragraph 110 of the Chief Engineer's note shows that the net revenue gives more than 5½ per cent. interest on the capital invested. More than 20 lakhs of rupees have been expended from Provincial funds in the last ten years on the improvement of these canals. The whole of this expenditure is now returning a revenue of 5½ per cent. The effect of the improved condition of the canals is that the cargo borne to Calcutta is now carried in larger boats than was formerly the case. The amount of cargo delivered by the canals has slightly increased, but the number of the boats which carry it was considerably less.

10. The only navigable system in Bengal on which the traffic and receipts are declining is the Nuddea Rivers. On these streams the traffic shows a steady decline, of which no satisfactory explanation has yet been given. The net revenue of these rivers shows an increase in the last five years, which is examined in the Chief Engineer's note and found to be mainly due to artificial causes, which are not likely to continue.

11. The revenue reports of the Commissioner of Orissa and of the Superintending Engineer of the Orissa Circle were again unduly and unnecessarily delayed. The reports of the Commissioners of Patna and Burdwan were received with exact punctuality. Those of the Superintending Engineers of the Sone and South-Western Circles were slightly delayed by the circumstance that the finance accounts of the Examiner were six weeks in arrears.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution, and of the note and its accompaniments, be submitted to the Government of India, in the Public Works Department, for information; also that copies be forwarded to the Appointment, Revenue, and Financial Departments of this Government; the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces; the Commissioners of the Presidency, Burdwan, Patna, and Orissa Divisions; the Collectors of the 24-Pergunnahs, Nuddea, Hooghly, Midnapore, Burdwan, Patna, Shahabad, Gya, Sarun, Cuttack, and Balasore; the Superintending Engineers of the Orissa, South-Western, and Sone Circles; and the Examiner of Public Works Accounts, Bengal, for information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. I. HARRISON, Major, R.E.,

Offg. Joint-Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Charges for interest on Capital ...	2,92,24,482		Not calculated.
Net results, including interest to end of 1885-86 ... Loss	3,00,95,817		.....

The gross capital invested in major works is Rs. 5,86,02,070, so that the loss to the end of 1885-86 on those works is rather more than 51 per cent. of the capital invested: it is, however, necessary to remember that in Bengal, owing to the permanent settlement, no increase can be made in the land revenue on account of works of public improvement. There is, in consequence, no credit to the works on account of enhanced land revenue, as there would be were the circumstances different.

7. The following abstract shows the expenditure on, and receipts from, irrigation, navigation, and agricultural works during the year 1885-86, as compared with those of the year 1884-85:—

The amount of water-rate, which is "earned" during the year, is held to be the sum due during the year as defined in Rule 31 of the water-rate rules of the Orissa canals. It thus occurs that the sum "earned" includes a portion of the assessment of the crops of the previous year, and excludes a portion of the assessment of the crops irrigated during the year under consideration. Moreover, as a matter of fact, owing to various causes, such as the omission of unauthorized and doubtful irrigation from the assessment until the issue of final orders, the "earnings" above shown include assessments on account of other years prior to 1884-85.

11. The lengths of canals and distributaries in operation at the close of the year 1885-86 are given in the following statement:— LENGTHS OF CANALS.

The only increase in the mileage during the year is that of four miles in the lengths of distributaries. This adds 1,000 acres to area provided with distributaries. The area protected from flood was increased by 17,645 acres by the construction of the Pingua embankment on the 1st Range of the High Level Canal.

12. The average rainfall in the immediate neighbourhood of the Orissa canals, calculated on all the figures available at thirteen stations, for seventeen years is 55·87 inches. The fall of the year 1885-86 at the same stations was 51·49 inches, or 3·61 inches below the average. RAINFALL.

RAINFALL.

The following statements are deduced from the subsidiary rainfall returns given by the Superintending Engineer and from previous reports:—

These statements show that, although the rainfall of the entire year was below the average, the rainfall of the kharif season was not exceptionally small: it was in fact better than that of the two previous years, and only slightly below the average of the previous four years. The deficient rainfall of the whole year is accounted for by the fall in the month of June, which was only 4·05 inches as compared with an average of 10·9 inches of the previous four years. The rainfall of the year was fairly well distributed, but was most deficient in the Kendraparah system, where the area commanded by distributaries is larger than that under any of the other canals in Orissa.

AREA LEASED.

14. It appears from the report of the Deputy Superintendent of Canals that the area leased during the year was 71,955 acres. The whole of this area was not assessed for water-rates, as the failure of the escape at Patamoondee and other causes prevented the assessment of the entire area. Out of the 71,955 acres leased, 67,585 were assessed as irrigated: there were also 4,754 acres of unauthorised irrigation which raised the total area irrigated to 72,339 acres. This is compared with the areas irrigated in the two previous years in the following table:— AREA IRRIGATED

		1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86
Kharif ...	Five-year leases ...	46,003	54,241	65,762
	Annual leases	1,032	20	50
	Unauthorised irrigation ...	26,061	1,570	4,754
Rabi		1,381	2,915	1,604
Perennial ... Sugarcane		344	196	169
Total, including unauthorized irrigation ...		75,421	58,942	72,339
Total, excluding unauthorized irrigation ...		48,760	57,372	67,585

In the accounts for the year under review, the unauthorised irrigation appears for the first time, in appendix VIII of the report of the Deputy Superintendent of Canal Revenue, as a portion of the assessed area: this unauthorised irrigation has hitherto been excluded both from that return and from the figures in the Chief Engineer's notes giving the area irrigated during the year. The areas which were actually assessed for water-rates during the last three years were—

	Acres.
1883-84	75,421
1884-85	58,942
1885-86	72,339

15. The steady increase in the area held under five-year leases is the most satisfactory feature in the above statement. In November 1882 a number of five-year leases for a large area expired simultaneously; the cultivators then showed a strong opposition to renew leases in the hope that Government would reduce the water-rates. The agitation which arose at that time against the canals in Orissa was maintained for a considerable period, but has now, the Commissioner reports, entirely died out; and there seems to be every probability that the area irrigated on these canals will in a short time again reach the ratio obtained in 1882, when 70 per cent. of the entire area provided with distributaries was irrigated. The Commission which was appointed in 1884 to enquire into the complaints of the people and the Orissa Canal system generally, appears to have contributed in no small degree to this result. FIVE-YEAR LEASES

16. The report of the Orissa Canal Commission was under the consideration of the Government of Bengal at the time the Chief Engineer reviewed the revenue report of the year previous to the one now under consideration. The chief measures which Government decided to adopt in consequence of the recommendation of that Commission are these:—

(a) To depute an experienced officer to assist the Collector of Cuttack in disposing of certificate cases.

This has already been done.

(b) To lay down principles to regulate certain questions regarding drainage.

Rules on this matter have been issued.

(c) To transfer the work of assessment of canal water-rates to the officers of the Public Works Department.

This measure will be adopted from the 1st April 1887.

17. The assessment of the year 1885-86 on account of water-rates was Rs 1,05,020. That figure does not represent the assessment of the crops irrigated in the year; it is the assessment which is legally due within the year, and includes a portion of the assessment of the crop of the year and a portion of the assessment of the crop of the previous year, and some arrears for still earlier years. The balance unrealised on the 1st April 1885 was Rs. 77,869, making the total demand of the year Rs. 1,82,889. Of this sum Rs. 1,06,842 were collected in cash, Rs. 10,420 were remitted, Rs. 744 were written off ASSESSMENTS, COLLECTIONS REMISSIONS.

as irrecoverable, leaving a balance of Rs. 64,883 outstanding on the 1st April 1886. The following statement criticises more closely the operations of the year under review:—

	Outstanding of all years up to and including 1884-85.			Demands due in 1885-86 for the irrigation of that year.
	Rupees.	Percentage of demands outstanding on 31st March 1885.	Rupees.	Rupees.	Percentage of demands for the year.	Rupees

Adjustments made in 1885-86. { Collections ...	76,360	65·2	.....	30,483	46·4	.....
{ Remissions ...	10,706	9·1	.....	458	0·7	.....
Total adjustments ...	.....	74·3	87,066	.....	47·1	30,941
Outstandings on 1st April 1886 ...	.....	25·7	30,067	.....	52·9	34,816

The arrears on the 1st April 1885 extended back to the demands of the year 1880-81. The entire arrears of that year have been adjusted during the year under review. The outstandings on the 1st April 1886 were for—

	Rs.
1881-82	615
1882-83	4,323
1883-84	9,022
1884-85	16,107
1885-86	34,816
Total arrears ...	64,883

The collection of the older arrears during the year is most satisfactory: the comparatively small proportion of remissions is also noticeable. The collections of the sum due in the year for the irrigation of the year, although they are not as high as they should be, are a decided improvement on the results obtained in previous years. The percentage of collections to demand for the irrigation of the year is 46·4 in 1885-86, it was 28·2 in 1884-85, and 37·1 in 1883-84.

DUTY OF WATER.

18. Paragraph V of the report of the Superintending Engineer deals with the question of the duty of water on the Orissa canals. The results obtained on the second and third ranges of the High Level Canal appear to be based on incorrect data. On the Mahanuddee Series of canals the quantity of water said to have been utilised during the kharif season is but slightly more than half the quantity admitted into the canals. The extra quantity admitted is apparently required, partly for purposes of navigation, and partly to maintain a high level in the Pattamoondee canal. It appears to be necessary to run that canal at a high level in order to effect irrigation directly from shoots in its banks. It is obvious that under these circumstances any calculation of duty based on the discharges at the heads of the canals is of no value at all. It appears doubtful, moreover, whether the duties calculated on the discharges utilised are trustworthy; it is always a matter of considerable difficulty to gauge with accuracy the quantity of water escaping from a canal, and when the quantity escaping bears a large proportion to the quantity admitted, there must always be doubt as to the accuracy of the calculation which determines the quantity utilised. The figures given for rabi duties are evidently based on incorrect data. Statement IE, submitted by the Superintending Engineer, gives the rabi duty on the discharge utilised as ranging from 0·52 to 6·75 acres per cubic foot of water per second. The higher of these two duties represents a depth of water of more than 30 feet as having been placed on the rabi fields in four months: the lower figures would mean a depth of more than 400 feet. These results are altogether unreasonable.

CROP EXPERIMENTS.

19. Experiments were made on crops in 81 cases during the year. The results showed that on the average the outturn of grain was 4·3 maunds greater, and the outturn of straw 6·3 maunds greater on irrigated than on unirrigated lands. The difference in the value of the produce was assessed at Rs. 4·86

REVENUE ESTABLISHMENT.

20. The revenue establishment of the year cost Rs. 34,304. The following statement shows the details, and compares the figures of the year under review with the similar figures of the two previous years:—

	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.

NAVIGATION

21. The receipts under the head "Navigation" amounted to Rs. 84,012, of which Rs. 19,919 were on account of the earnings of the transport service, and Rs. 64,093 from tolls on boats and rafts. The collections for 10 years under the above heads are given in the table below:—

1885-86	64,093	19,919	84,012

TOLLS.

22. In the Chief Engineer's note on the revenue reports of 1884-85, it was explained that the falling off in the tolls which occurred that year was due to the fact that a large reduction in tolls had been made. It is satisfactory to have to record that the increase in traffic, during the year under review, has been sufficient to compensate for the reduction in tolls; the tollage receipts of the year are superior to those of any year since the canals were opened, except those of the year 1882-83.

23. There are now three Companies which run steamers in the Kendrapara canal. These are the India General Steam Navigation Company, the Orissa Carrying Company (Messrs. Bullock and Company), and the Orissa Boat Launch Company. These Companies paid Rs. 30,691 in tolls during the year under review, which is nearly one-half of the entire sum collected under that head. The first of these Companies now runs a steamer direct from Calcutta to the lock at Albah, which is the terminus of the Gobri canal; this steamer only commenced to run in direct communication with the canals in December 1885. As far as can be seen at present, there is every prospect of this new route being permanently established.

TRAFFIC.

24. The following table compares the traffic of all the canals in Orissa during the year under review with that of the year preceding:—

NAME OF CANAL.	Miles open.	Tollage.		Number of boats.		Tonnage.		Value of cargo.		Tollage per mile of canal

This statement shows that the results have improved under all heads and under all canals, with the exception of the Taldundah canal. The falling off on that canal was due to the stoppage of the construction works and the consequent decrease in the number of Government boats carrying materials. Form IID shows the details in quantity and value of the goods carried on the canals during the year.

PASSENGERS.

25. One of the most noticeable features of the traffic on the Orissa canals is not shown in the returns which have been hitherto given; this is the rapid development of the passenger traffic on the Kendraparah canal. The Superintending Engineer reports that in 1883-84 the number of passengers on this canal was 26,669, in 1884-85 it was 32,698, in 1885-86 the number had risen to 42,993.

26. The cost of the establishment employed on working the locks and collecting the tolls was Rs. 8,917, against Rs. 8,379 so expended in 1884-85.

TRANSPORT SERVICE.

27. The transport services on the Kendraparah canal are entirely in the hands of companies, but Government still maintains a transport service of its own on the High Level canal. This is the only transport service in Bengal which is now worked directly by Government agency. It was noticed in the Chief Engineer's note on the revenue report of 1884-85, that this service would be withdrawn as soon it was apparent that an efficient service would be maintained by private enterprise. Up to the present time no eligible offer has been made by any Company to undertake the service. The Government service on the High Level canal was worked during the year at a cost of Rs. 16,540: the receipts were Rs. 19,919.

MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.

28. The miscellaneous receipts for the year amounted to Rs. 16,496, showing an increase of Rs. 3,958 compared with those of the previous year. The following table shows these receipts by sub-heads:—

The figures in this and the foregoing statement show that these canals have been worked during the last five years at a loss, which was as follows:— DEFICIT

These figures include direct charges only.

31. Out of the sum of Rs. 2,22,690 spent on "Works, including transport service," the sum of Rs 10,238 is for transport service; the sum of Rs. 2,12,452 was expended on repairs to works. This is divided under the main heads, and compared with the corresponding figures of the previous two years in the following statement:— MAINTENANCE.

Weirs

32. The cost of the repairs to the seven weirs which form the various head works of the Orissa canals is shown in the statement given in the appendices to the Superintending Engineer's report. There was nothing unusual in the expenditure of the year.

The average cost was Rs. 2·40 per foot run in 1883-84, Rs. 3·19 in 1884-85, and Rs. 2 79 in 1885-86.

The increase in the cost of maintenance of the main canals is partly due to the opening of the Gobri canal in the previous year. The charges for the maintenance of that canal appear for the first time in the accounts. The increase was also to some extent due to heavy expenditure in earthwork and silt clearing and to damage done by the cyclone in September 1885. The canals were closed for repairs on the following dates:—

	Closed.	Re-opened.
Kendraparah canal and extension to Albah ...	2nd May 1885 ..	5th June.

Ditto, Range II	1st May 1885 ...	4th do.
Ditto, Range III	Ditto ...	4th do.

The quantity of silt excavated by hand was 5,359,651 cubic feet at a cost of Rs. 15,559, or at a rate of Rs. 2·9 per 1,000 cubic feet. The sumof Rs. 7,377 was expended during the year on dredging ; no complete record was kept of the work done.

Distributaries.

34. The following statement shows the cost of repairs to distributaries for the last three years :—

RAINFALL.

On this canal the water-rates on lands irrigated are due within the year in which the irrigation is effected. The earnings of the year are held to be the assessments of water-rates made during the year.

37. The following table shows the rainfall for the last three years:—

Stations.	Rainfall, 1883-84.	Rainfall, 1884-85.	Rainfall, 1885-86.	Average of 16 years previous to 1885-86.
Midnapore	43·61	54 98	76·20	55·15
Panchcoorah	51·92	48·84	86·03	54·77
Contai	60·31	77 30	76 45	69·80

The rainfall of the year at Midnapore was copious. It was larger than any fall during the last sixteen years. The fall in the Kharif season, which is taken to be the four months July, August, September, and October, was 60·79 inches on an average of seven stations The fall in the Rabi season, which is taken to be the four months November, December, January, and February, was 1·88 inches. The corresponding figures of previous years are not given by the Superintending Engineer. The rainfall in August and September was particularly large, and completely stopped all demand for canal water.

38. At the end of March 1885 the area leased under five-year leases, was 65,830 acres. None of these leases expired during the year 1885-86, but during that year five-year leases for 1,569 acres were executed; so that the total area held under long leases at the end of March 1886 was 67,399 acres. These leases may be thus classified:—

AREA LEASED.

Leases for	19,722 acres	will expire on the 31st March	1887.
Ditto	33,826	ditto ditto	1888.
Ditto	11,977	ditto ditto	1889.
Ditto	1,874	ditto ditto	1890.
Total	67,399

It must be held to be satisfactory that in a year of such copious rainfall any leases at all were executed. On the other hand, it is probably owing mainly to the fact that no leases happened to fall in during the year that there was not a decrease in the gross area held under leases, for it is probable that had they fallen in, only a few of them would have been renewed.

AREA IRRIGATED.

39. The area actually irrigated during the year was 70,604 acres. No annual measurements are made of the areas actually irrigated under five-year leases; but it is supposed that the entire area under those leases is irrigated. The area irrigated may be thus divided:—

	Acres.
Held under five-year leases	67,399
Irrigated under annual leases	263	70,604
Illicit (or surreptitious) irrigation	1,107
Boro rice irrigated in the Rabi season	1,835

The entire area irrigated by this canal is rice. There are no other irrigated crops grown. The following table compares the irrigation of the last three years, and gives the proportions between the areas irrigated and commanded:—

Percentage of area irrigated to that commanded	.....	56·80	60·35	60·58	44·45	35·77	40·10	78·33	55·43	56·48

Only 102 acres were irrigated by lift out of the total of 70,604.

40. The very abundant rainfall of the year reduced the demand for water to such an extent that calculations of the duty of the supply are of little value. In such a year as the one under consideration water is really a luxury, and by no means a necessity in the Midnapore district. The total quantity of water, said to have been utilised, distributed over the area said to have been irrigated under the Midnapore weir, during the four months of the kharif season, was sufficient to have irrigated the fields to a depth of about seven inches only. That is, the depth which would have been given if the entire discharge "utilised" had reached the fields: the quantity actually given was probably less. This depth of water is but a small proportion of that necessary for the cultivation of the rice crop.

ASSESSMENTS.

COLLECTIONS.

REMISSIONS.

41. The amount outstanding at the end of the year 1884-85 on account of water-rates was Rs. 1,11,212. The assessments of the year 1885-86 amounted to Rs. 1,10 867, making the total demand Rs. 2,22,079. The cash recoveries of the year were Rs. 1,08,709: the remissions amounted to Rs. 43,399; the balance outstanding at the end of March 1886 was thus Rs. 69,972. In the Chief Engineer's note on the Revenue Report of the year 1884-85, it was noticed that "the large remissions which Government has been, from time to time, asked to sanction appear to a very great extent due to needless delay in collections." During that year the remissions on account of water-rates amounted to Rs. 38,993. During the year under review they were Rs. 43,399. In the former year the remissions amounted to 14·6 per cent. of the gross demand of the year: in the year under review the corresponding percentage was 19·5. The Commissioner of Burdwan, in paragraph 10 of his report on the revenue administration of the Midnapore canal during the year under review, refers to the very peremptory orders of Government concerning the adjustment of old outstandings. These orders do not appear to have produced results in the Midnapore district which can be regarded with satisfaction. The actual cash collections bear a slightly increased proportion to the gross demand, but are actually less in amount than in the previous year; the remissions are larger both in their percentage on the demand and in actual amount. These results compare unfavourably with those which have been obtained in Orissa and Behar in response to the orders of Government to which the Commissioner refers.

CERTIFICATE PROCEDURE

42. During the year under review the certificate procedure under Act VII (B.C.) of 1880 was put largely into force for the collection of water-rates. The matter is referred to in the 21st and following paragraphs of the report of the Deputy Canal Revenue Superintendent. No less than 17,501 certificates were filed during the year, and 7,426 were pending from the previous year, making a total of 24,927 in all. In 9,576 cases the demand made in these certificates was realised; in 3,438 cases the certificates were cancelled: 11,913 certificates were pending at the end of the year.

REVENUE ESTABLISHMENT.

43. The cost of the Revenue establishment employed under the Collector was slightly reduced during the year under review. The cost of the establishment is given by the Commissioner as 17·89 per cent. on the actual collections, as compared with 19·03 per cent. in the previous year. This result compares favourably with the corresponding one in Orissa, where the revenue system is on a similar basis.

44. No crop experiments were carried out during the year under review.

NAVIGATION.

45. The total receipts under the head of Navigation amounted during the year to Rs. 1,37,578. Of this, Rs. 1,25,331 was on account of tolls on boats, Rs. 7,682 was received from the Calcutta Steam Navigation Company, and Rs. 4,565 was for the hire of the "Midnapore" steamer. There is an increase of Rs. 8,831 in the gross receipts.

TRAFFIC.

The form No. IID shows the quantities and value of the different classes of goods carried on the canal. The increase in the tollage coincident with a decrease in traffic is explained by the Superintending Engineer as being due to the circumstance that the boats passed over longer lengths of the canal than in the previous year.

MISCELLANEOUS

47. The miscellaneous revenue of the year amounted to Rs. 16,197, which is an increase of Rs. 3,796 over that of last year; Rs. 13,558 was collected by the Deputy Canal Revenue Superintendent, and Rs. 2,639 by the Executive Engineer. The increase is mainly under cost of processes and fisheries.

50. The cost of the maintenance of the Head works was Rs. 12,864 during the year. This, when divided according to actual expenditure, gives a rate of Rs. 3·24 per foot run on the Midnapore weir, and Rs. 1·13 per foot on the Panchkoorah weir. The cost is higher than in the two previous years, but compares favourably with the corresponding figures of earlier years. HEAD WORKS.

51. The upper reaches of the canal under the Midnapore and Panchkoorah weirs were not closed at all for repairs or silt clearance during the year 1885-86. The tidal reaches known as ranges I and II were closed from the 15th February to the 30th April 1886, when a large quantity of silt was removed by hand: the cost of this work will appear mainly in the accounts for the year 1886-87. The working expenses of the year are smaller in amount than those of any year since 1881-82—a fact which is due rather to the smaller quantity of silt clearance and dredging, which was executed and charged in the accounts of the year, than to any actual decrease in the repairs necessary for the proper maintenance of the works. This will re-act to a certain extent on the expenditure of 1886-87. MAIN CANALS

52. The report of the Superintending Engineer in paragraphs 15 and 16 enters into details concerning the maintenance charges of the year. The following table is that usually given showing the maintenance charges per mile of main canal and distributaries:— DISTRIBUTARIES.

YEAR.	MAIN CANAL			DISTRIBUTARIES.
	Length of canal, exclusive of river crossings.	Total cost of works.	Rate per mile	Length of distributary channels.	Total cost of works.	Rate per mile.
	Miles	Rs.	Rs.	Miles.	Rs.	Rs.

1881-82	48	1,05,910	2,186	277	11 834	42
1882-83	48	1,01,821	2,121	277	21,697	78
1883-84	48	1,01,435	2,113	277	21,195	6
1884-85	48	1,15,171	2,399	277	19,865	66
1885-86	48	1,10,250	2,299	277	14,424	52

The figure given for the total cost of works main canal includes the expenditure on Head works and Drainage works and Plantations: this has been done in previous years, and the custom is followed this year, although it is hardly a correct statement of the facts. The decrease in the mileage rate for Distributary repairs is satisfactory.

53. Paragraph 16 of the Superintending Engineer's report gives details of the dredging work of the year. An increased quantity of work was done at a reduced cost as compared with the preceding year: this apparent advantage was, however, to a considerable extent, due to the fact that in the previous year the cost of working inspection steam-launches was wrongly charged against the dredging operation. Another reason for the improvement is, that whilst in 1884-85 the various dredgers were in the aggregate working for 1,076 days and 935 days, or nearly half their time, under repairs, in 1885-86 they worked for 1,322 days, and were only 568 days, or not one-third of their time, under repairs. 55. The total receipts show an increase of Rs. 8,948 over those of last year. The increase was entirely in navigation receipts, which exceeded those of the previous year by Rs. 10,761. There was a decrease of Rs. 1,813 in the miscellaneous receipts. The increase in the navigation receipts is attributed by the Superintending Engineer to the increased trade caused by the opening of a portion of the Orissa Coast canal. That canal is practically an extension of the Tidal canal. The decrease in miscellaneous revenue was mainly due to the falling off in fishery rents, due to the closure of the canal. Range II of the canal was closed until the 15th May 1885, so that during the first one and half months of the year no tolls were collected.

56. The table below gives the usual particulars regarding the traffic since 1876-77 :— TRAFFIC.

Form IID shows the quantity and value of the goods carried during the year on the Tidal canal. The chief increase was in timber and bamboos.

57. The expenditure on maintenance and repairs during the year was Rs. 34,099. This is the largest sum that has been expended on the repairs of this canal since it was opened for traffic in 1873. The increased expenditure was mainly due to heavy silt-clearances both during the year and on account of work done in the previous year. The expenditure on the repairs to bridges and navigation works was also higher than the average of previous years. MAINTENANCE.

58. A proposal to remodel this canal, so as to render it more efficient, as the main feeder to the Orissa Coast canal, has been submitted to the Government of India. The estimated cost of the contemplated improvements is Rs. 10,39,571.

The water-rates "earned" during the year are, in the Sone canals, held to be those of which the assessments reach the Collector during the year. The assessments are due within the year, so that when the demand statements are punctually submitted, the water-rates "earned" are identical with the assessments on the crops of the year.

The lengths of main and branch canals are the same as last year: the distributaries have been increased by 19 miles. Of the gross area commanded, 1,350,396 acres are said to be culturable.

63. In the foregoing table the area which can be irrigated is determined by crediting the maximum calculated discharges in the kharif season, and the average available discharge in the rabi season, with duties of 80 and 180 acres per cubic foot respectively. For reasons which have been mentioned in previous reports, and for further reasons which are given in paragraph 1 of the Superintending Engineer's report of the year under review, it appears doubtful whether it will ever be possible to actually irrigate more than two-thirds of the estimated kharif area, and whether more than one-fifth of the estimated rabi area will ever require water from the canals. As regards the kharif irrigation, it has never reached more than 250,000 acres (exclusive of sugarcane), although the demand for water has more than once exceeded the supply.

VILLAGE CHANNELS.

DISCREPANCIES IN AREAS

65. The demand statements (or khatianis) of the area irrigated on the Sone canals are all due in the Collector's office within the financial year. And, since the rabi irrigation is practically completed within the financial year, the areas irrigated during the year ought to agree with the areas dealt with in the demand statements submitted to the Collectors within the year. It has hitherto been the custom on these canals to write of the area dealt with in demand statements submitted to Collectors within the year as the "assessed area," and further to consider this "assessed area" as being the same thing as the "area irrigated." The correctness of this method of expression manifestly depended entirely upon whether the demand statements were submitted to the Collectors within the financial year or not. As these statements were not always submitted with punctuality, the result has been that in previous years the "area irrigated" has been somewhat understated. Accurate figures have, however, in the latter years been taken in dealing with questions of duty of water.

The Chief Engineer has little option, in this note, except to follow the procedure of former years. But he is of opinion that it will be better in future to modify the lines on which the Superintending Engineer's report and forms are drawn, so that the facts should be stated without ambiguity. The "irrigated area" of any crop should be the area watered during the time the crop was on the ground. The "assessed area" of any crop should be the entire area of that crop which is assessed as liable to pay water-rates, and this figure should be quite independent of the date on which the demand statements reached the Collector. The "assessed area" and "irrigated area" should, as a rule, correspond.

The difference has in former years been comparatively small between the areas actually irrigated and the areas of which the demand statements reached the Collectors within the year. In 1884-85 the difference was 14,084 acres. In the year 1885-86 the difference is 24,091 acres; in paragraph 4 of the report of the Superintending Engineer it is stated that it is not expected that so large a difference will occur again, and the cause of the difference is explained. At the same time it is clear, from his remarks in paragraph 7, on the remissions in the Eastern Sone Division for 1884-85, that if care be taken to make the demand statements correct, they can scarcely be submitted by the date at present fixed. It may be found advisable, therefore, to fix a later date, in which case the method of calculating the assessed area, above suggested, will be all the more necessary. Further remarks on this point are made in paragraph 90. It appears requisite to point out here that, according to the precedents of former years, the figure of the differences just mentioned drop out of the majority of the statements, and the areas irrigated in the years concerned have been and will be, under present conditions, understated to the extent of the figures given.

66. The areas leased for irrigation during the year 1885-86 show a slight falling off compared with those of the previous year. The figures are— AREA LEASED.

The year, owing to the favourable rainfall, was one generally unfavourable to the extension of irrigation : this fact at once accounts for the decrease in the annual leases. The increase in the five-year leases, during such a year particularly, must be regarded as a fact bearing marked evidence that the five-year system is favourably regarded by the people, and that irrigation is making certain progress. This is especially the case in Shahabad, where the increase has been 23 per cent.

67. The area assessed in the year was 308,479 acres. It must be remembered that this is the area assessed in the demand statements submitted to Collectors within the year. This area, which, as above explained, is considered to be the "area irrigated" is thus compared with the similar figures of 1884-85 :— AREA ASSESSED.

68. The area under five-year leases is measured at the time the lease is given, but not during or subsequent to the irrigation of the crop The actual areas of the different crops irrigated under these leases is not accurately known. It is usually assumed that 80 per cent. of the area is kharif, 10 per cent. rabi, and 10 per cent. sugarcane. In the Buxar Division a slightly different proportion is taken. The Superintending Engineer divides the

The falling off was both in the kharif and rabi seasons.

As already mentioned, that in the former was due to the generally favourable rainfall; and the Superintending Engineer explains that the rabi decrease was chiefly due to the rainfall in December.

RAINFALL. 71. The average rainfall during the year 1885-86 in twenty-two stations situated in the immediate neighbourhood of the Sone canals was 44·99 inches as compared with a general average for a series of years of about forty inches. This rainfall was not only favourable to the crops in quantity, but in its general distribution; that is, both as regards fairly equable apportionment in different places and as regards the seasonable fall of the rain. The following statement compares the rainfall with that of the previous years: the year 1884-85, it should be noted, was one of unfavourable rainfall, both as regards the actual amount of rain that fell and as regards its distribution. The rainfall statistics are shown in detail in the seven subsidiary rainfall returns which are appended to the Superintending Engineer's report:—

The average rainfall of the whole year has only exceeded 45 inches once in the previous decade. The year under review was therefore one, as regards rainfall, generally unfavourable to the extension of irrigation.

72. Form No. III E shows the various descriptions of crops irrigated (i.e., of which assessment reached the Collector) during the year. These aggregated Rs. 86,44,997 in value, as compared with Rs. 93,92,583 in the previous year. The comparatively small decrease in the value of the irrigated crops, when the reduction in area is considered, is due to the increase which has taken place in the area under sugarcane. The area under that crop was 24,143 acres in 1884-85; it increased to 29,946 acres in 1885-86. There are discrepancies between the figures in this statement and those previously given, especially under sugarcane. This is mainly due to the fact that no measurements are made of the areas irrigated under five-year leases, and that whilst the figures given generally in this note and its appendices are based on the proportions estimated by the Superintending Engineer, those in Form No. IIIE are obtained from the estimates in the divisional reports. It is hoped that similar discrepancies will be avoided in future. Crops

There is a further improvement this year in the proportion of the area irrigated for which leases had previously been granted.

74. The proportion of flow to lift irrigation has again increased; the figures for the last three years are—1883-84, 90 to 10; 1884-85, 93 to 7; and 1885-86, 95 to 5; the increase is no doubt due to the favourable rainfall. Proportion of flow to lift irrigation.

75. In the report for the year 1883-84 and in that of previous years the duty of water on the Sone canals was calculated in a manner different to that now adopted. The kharif season was in some cases held to include the four months July to October, and in others the five months June to October. The rabi season has generally been taken as comprising the five months November to March. For the year 1884-85 and for that under review these seasons have been taken to include, for the kharif, the three months August to October, and for the rabi the four months, November to February. The Chief Engineer feels some doubt whether this alteration is desirable, and whether the new arrangements of the months is more correct in itself than the old one. The new arrangement is, however, established, and there were no doubt, good reasons for its introduction. The results obtained are obviously not strictly comparable with those of previous years. As usual, for the reasons given in paragraph 73 of last year's note, the duty for the kharif has been calculated on the supply entering the heads, and for the rabi on the discharge utilised. The discharge utilized is held to be that entering at the Duty of water.

heads, less that registered as actually escaping. The following table shows the duty obtaining in the year under review and in the previous one:—

			Eastern Main Canal Series.	Arrah Canal System.	Buxar Canal System.	Western Main Canal Series.	Sone Canals.

		Duty on supply utilized	42·6	128·0	116·1	121·7	99·9

76. The following figures are obtained from Form I E:—

	Duty in Kharif Season, 1885-86.
	On discharge utilized.	On discharge at head.
Eastern Main Canal series	51·5	45·4
Western ditto	112·2	93·6
Sone Canals generally	94·3	79·9

The figures based on the discharge at the head are perhaps more useful as a gauge of the irrigating capacities of the canals, but those based on the discharge utilized may more properly be taken as comparable with duties obtained on other large canal systems. It is necessary to remember also that all the figures given in connection with the duty in the kharif season are taken with reference to three months only: in the North-Western Provinces and in the Punjab the corresponding figures are taken with reference to a season of six months. Bearing these facts in mind, it may be said that the duty on the Sone canals generally in the kharif season is a satisfactory one, and that on the Western Main Canal series it is a favourable one.

77. In the report for the year under review the Superintending Engineer has introduced a new element in connection with the duty of water in the kharif season. The duty of the water during the period of greatest demand has been expressed: the period is taken as one of ten days' duration. The Superintending Engineer writes in respect of the kharif season—

> There has frequently been a demand in excess of the supply available, and for this crop the maximum discharge for ten days—the time rice can wait without injury—has also been used in calculating the duty. The latter duty is probably the nearest approximation to that which present experience justifies in expecting, in the course of a few years, to obtain steadily on the maximum possible discharge of the canals."

The duty thus calculated for the ten-day period of maximum intensity of irrigation is given by the Superintending Engineer in a table in paragraph 5 of his report as—

In 1884-85	...	49·6 acres per cubic foot of	discharge per	second.

The Superintending Engineer writes:—

> "It will be noticed that the variation in the duty based on the maximum discharge is inconsiderable, and this is what may generally be expected: the lower duty, in the case of average discharges extending over a series of months, being mostly due to little or no water being required in one or more of these months. It very rarely happens that some time during the season there is not a sharp demand for ten days or more."

78. The Chief Engineer has great hesitation in accepting the view which the above extracts appear to take of the ultimate extension of kharif irrigation on the Sone canals. This view must apparently be based more or less on the following assumptions:—

1.—That, at the time of maximum pressure, ten days is the maximum period rice can wait without injury between two successive floodings.

II.—That the discharge during the period of pressure is a gauge of the absolute necessities of the crop.

III.—That the fact that the greater portion of the kharif irrigation is under five years' leases has no effect in reducing the intensity of the pressure.

IV.—That the pressure will be simultaneous in all divisions.

As regards I, it is possible that the assumption may be correct under present conditions of irrigation, when in the hope of timely rainfall, or belief that there is no difficulty in obtaining canal water, the cultivators run the water off their fields shortly after it has been run in. But from enquiries lately made, it appears likely that, even under present conditions, the period between two successive floodings may be taken as nearer fifteen days than ten, and that with more experience of irrigation and of the supply available, even this latter period may be considered as below the mark. Even the Superintending Engineer's own figures would appear to go against the hypothesis—for, if 51·5 acres is all that is irrigated by one cubic foot of water per second in ten days, then the supply passing the head would give a depth of $\frac{10 \times 24 \times 60 \times 60}{51{\cdot}5 \times 43{,}560} = 0\ 385$, or say $4\frac{1}{2}''$ over the whole area irrigated; and allowing for the loss in canal, distributary and village water-course, this would probably not represent more than 3″ on the field. Under present conditions, is this all the depth of water the cultivator gives his rice-field in a time of pressure? If not, the critical period must be of more than 10 days' duration.

Next, in respect of II. There is, of course, a period in every year when the demand for water reaches its maximum. But in some years that period may not be one of real pressure at all; and in any case, the discharge during that period cannot, under present conditions, be held to be a gauge of the absolute necessities of the crop. To some extent it is so, but the inexperience of the cultivators in the economical use of the water is so large a factor as to vitiate it for that purpose. It is probable that, if every cultivator were to have entirely his own way, there would, in nearly every season, be periods in which the consumption of water would be out of all proportion to the ordinary supply required during the season; in fact so much so that it would be impossible to meet the demand by canals of ordinary size. It is hoped that as the cultivators gain experience, the discharge during the period of maximum pressure may become more and more a true gauge of the necessities of the crop: at present it cannot be so accepted.

There do not appear to be good grounds for accepting the correctness of assumption III. Those cultivators who only take annual leases may be considered as doing so, because of the absolute necessity or desirability of irrigating their fields, and they have a strong inducement to delay until the last moment. Were the greater portion of kharif irrigation executed under annual leases, the pressure would no doubt be intensified, and the period, within which water must be given to the area where irrigation has thus been delayed till the last moment, reduced to a minimum; and it might be that in years of abnormally deficient rainfall the maximum area irrigable by the canals might be gauged in the manner indicated by the Superintending Engineer. But, under the conditions of the five years' leases, the cultivators have no inducement to delay irrigation of their fields until irrigation becomes a necessity; and, since the greater portion of the kharif irrigation on the Sone canals is under five years' leases, both the intensity and period of demand will undoubtedly be affected beneficially.

As regards IV, it may be said that the Superintending Engineer, having taken the maximum discharge period for all the canals together, has practically taken the period of maximum demand. But unless that period was the period of maximum demand on each canal also, it cannot be considered that the pressure was simultaneous; and it will not be, until the average discharge during the period of pressure approximates closely to the full supply which the canals are capable of carrying, that any trustworthy estimate can be made of the area they can efficiently irrigate.

79. The maximum possible discharge of the Sone canals, as given in paragraph 62 above, may be taken to be 6,000 cubic feet per second, and the area irrigable, on the hypothesis suggested by Mr. Odling, viz., a final duty of some 50 acres, would be only 300,000 acres which agrees with what is stated in paragraph 63. But a kharif area of 270,422 acres, including sugarcane, has already been reached; and with the encouragement to steady and timely irrigation which five years' leases afford, and with the increase in experience in irrigation which every year gives, there seems every reason to suppose that the period within which water must be given to the whole area during times of maximum pressure will increase in duration, and that the intensity of the demand during such periods will diminish. It is obvious that these results will vastly affect the duty of the maximum discharge during the periods of pressure, and will therefore tend to increase the ultimate area of kharif irrigation beyond that which may be anticipated on the basis of duty obtained during the periods of pressure in the earlier years of the existence of the canals

INTRODUCTION OF TATILS.

80. There is, no doubt, much force in what Mr. Odling says on this subject. But, if his arguments and deductions are entirely correct, they seem to point to the necessity of keeping steadily in view the reduction to the utmost of the intensity of the pressure during the ten-day or other period. This can best be done by encouraging steady and regular, and discouraging what may be called hysterical, irrigation, and, in Chief Engineer's opinion, "tatils" would probably be found the best means of obtaining this result. There are no doubt very grave difficulties in introducing them, but possibly these are not insurmountable. They will result in reducing the rush which now takes place, for, when the cultivators discover that water can only be obtained on certain days, they will learn, as others have done elsewhere, the advisability of exercising forethought and taking the water when they can get it. This will materially affect the intensity of the pressure, and thereby tend to increase the area for which water can be made available. It would further be probably more easy to introduce the system now, when, as a rule, there rarely is any difficulty in meeting the demand, than later on, when the full supplies of the canal are being worked up to.

It is probable that, at present, the system would not be found a serious hardship, and when the real pressure comes hereafter, the cultivators will have become accustomed to it, and will not then have to learn to adapt themselves to it under the worst conditions.

81. The low duty of water on the Eastern Main Canal series, as compared with that on the Western series, demands, and is receiving, the careful attention of the local officers.

DEMAND.

82. The following statement shows the demand, collection, and balance of water-rates for the last five years:—

Year.	Demand.			Remission.	Net demand.	Collection.	Balance.	Percentage of collection to current demand.

83. The figures here given are those compiled by the Examiner of Accounts: they do not exactly correspond with those given in the tables prepared by the Commissioner and Collectors. The discrepancies are not important: new forms of account have been introduced during the current year, which will, it is hoped, obviate all discrepancies in future. In the remarks which are given in the following paragraphs the discrepancies are eliminated by omitting the consideration of amounts less than one thousand rupees.

COLLECTIONS.

84. The balance of Rs. 6,95,000 outstanding at the end of 1884-85 included arrears of all years extending as far back as 1878-79. During the year 1885-86 further demands pertaining to irrigation effected in previous years increased the demand for those years from Rs. 6,95,000 to Rs. 7,67,000. Of this latter amount Rs. 4,89,000 were collected in cash and Rs. 1,23,000 were remitted, leaving a balance outstanding of Rs. 1,55,000 for irrigation effected in 1884-85 and previous years.

The assessments made in the year 1885-86 for irrigation effected in that year aggregated Rs. 7,35,000. Of this amount, Rs. 4,89,000 were collected in cash; Rs. 3,000 were remitted. The balance outstanding for that year was thus Rs. 2,43,000. This balance represents the outstandings which were legally due in the year, but the whole of the rabi assessments, though legally due, are not payable (under rule 35 of the rules under the Irrigation Act) until the 15th April. Out of the balance of Rs. 2,43,000, a sum of Rs. 1,12,000 is for rabi, legally due, but not payable; so that the actual arrears of the year 1885-86 are Rs. 1,31,000 only.

85. The arrears outstanding at the end of 1885-86 may be thus divided:— ARREARS.

	Rs.
Arrears of 1884-85 and previous years	1,55,000
„ 1885-86, which were payable within the year ...	1,31,000
Total bonâ fide arrears ...	2,86,000
Arrears of 1885-86 legally due, but not payable in the year	1,12,000
Total ...	3,98,000

86. The results which have been obtained are very satisfactory as compared with those of previous years. It is desirable to analyse a little more closely the manner in which the large reduction in outstandings has been effected. The following statement compares the results by districts:—

DISTRICTS.	ARREARS DUE FOR IRRIGATION EFFECTED IN 1884-85 OR PREVIOUS YEARS.				DEMANDS FOR IRRIGATION EFFECTED IN 1885-86.

Average ...	100·0	63·7	16·0	20·3	100·0	64·5	0·4	35·1

87. In the Shahabad district the demands are more than six times as large as those in Gya and Patna. The results obtained in the Shahabad district are in themselves the most satisfactory, but they appear the more commendable when it is borne in mind a far larger mass of work has to be performed. The Patna district shows the smallest percentage of remissions, but the largest percentage of arrears. The Gya district, while showing a very small percentage of old arrears, has apparently obtained that advantage by the doubtful procedure of large remissions which were made almost entirely by canal officers. The superiority of the administration in the Shahabad district is very marked in the results of 1885-86. The percentage of collections to demands is nearly double the percentage in Gya, and more than double that in Patna. The Collector of Shahabad in his report of the year under review describes in detail the operations of the year and the results obtained in his district. The system of collection underwent a radical change, which is described in paragraphs 5, 6, and 7 of the Collector's report. The Commissioner is of opinion that it is too early to express an opinion how the new system will work.

88. The remissions made during the year under review were large. They exceeded in amount those of any previous year, except 1883-84. In that year the remissions were mainly due to irrecoverable balances of former years being written off, but partly to a breach in the canal, which caused, for nine days, a complete closure of the canal. In the year 1883-84 there were, then, exceptional causes affecting remissions: this was not the case in 1885-86. REMISSIONS

In the latter year the remissions were—

	Rs.
By canal officers	85,780
„ civil „	40,486

89. The remissions made by canal officers may be divided as follows:—

	Percentage of remission to gross demand.
Eastern Sone Division	11·8
Arrah Division	7·2
Buxar „	0·8

Or they may be more critically examined thus:—

Division.	Percentage of remission under the heads given to the total sum remitted in each division.
	Remitted owing to double assessment, land having been subsequently included in a five-year lease.	Remitted under rules 15 and 61, and owing to failure of crop.	Remitted owing to irrigation not being proved and incorrect measurements.	Remitted owing to wrong rate having been charged.

Remissions.

The remissions in column 1 are not, strictly speaking, remissions at all, but rather corrections made in the demand: such remissions are not due to faulty administration. The remissions in column 2 are in most cases due to causes which are beyond the control of the canal officers. The remissions in columns 3 and 4 are mainly due to carelessness or inefficiency in the assessing staff. Judged by these figures, the Buxar Division stands prominently forward as that in which the assessments appear to have been most carefully prepared.

90. In the case of the Eastern Sone Division the large remissions which have been made were due to the pressure put upon the assessing officers to submit the khatianis to the Collectors by the dates fixed in the rules. Punctuality in this matter is certainly desirable, but it should not be obtained by hastily preparing incorrect documents. The Chief Engineer entirely concurs in the remarks made by the Superintending Engineer:—"The policy of sacrificing all attempts at supervision of the measurements and assessments, in order that the demand statements should reach the Collector by a fixed date, is radically wrong." It would be better to extend the time now allowed by the rules for the submission of demand statements if experience has shown that the date now fixed does not permit of thorough and efficient enquiry into all reasonable objections. Indeed, the Chief Engineer doubts whether in any case it would not be desirable to alter the date for the rabi khatianis from the 15th March to 1st or even 15th of April. The fact that the water-rates for this crop are assessed as legally due on the 15th March, while they are not payable until the 15th April, when taken in conjunction with the fact that many of these demand statements do not reach the Collector within the year, introduces a confusion into the accounts which it appears desirable to avoid. In connection with this subject it may be mentioned that, while the Collector of Patna reports an improvement as regards punctuality in submission of the khatianis, the Collector of Shahabad, in which the bulk of the irrigation lies, reports that upwards of 63 per cent. of the khatianis were received after the demand became due, and a large proportion, again, of these long after the demand became due.

91. The remissions made by civil officers in the Patna and Gya districts were quite insignificant. Out of the sum of Rs. 40,486 remitted on the Sone Canals, Rs. 40,203 was remitted in the Shahabad district. These remissions are thus explained by the Collector of Shahabad:—

"As regards the remissions sanctioned by the Commissioner upwards of Rs. 14,000 were on account of untraceable arrears for the years 1878-79 to 1881-82. The demand statements for those years were overhauled, and the whole of the balances that were found outstanding were adjusted. The arrears which could not be ascertained as due from any individual rate-payer had to be written off. The accounts in the Special Deputy Collector's office did not tally with the accounts rendered by the tehsildars, which were found to be incorrect. The discrepancies were of so long standing that it was hopeless to attempt to reconcile them. Rupees 26,000 in round numbers were remitted owing to the rate payers having either absconded or died, or being too poor to pay. This amount is not large, compared with the total demand adjusted during the year, and considering that the arrears adjusted were of very long standing."

REVENUE ESTABLISHMENTS.

92. The expenditure on the revenue establishments employed is shown below:—

	1885-86.		1884-85.
	Amount.	Percentage on collections.	Amount.	Percentage on collections
	Rs.		Rs.
Permanent and temporary establishments, such as zilladars, ameens, &c. ...	56,110	5·73	63 064	8 19
Establishment employed under Collectors	29,573	3·02	25,007	3 24
Headmen's and putwarees' fees ...	60,345	6·17	41,237	5·35
Total ...	1,46,028	14·92	129,308	16·78

The gross collections on account of water-rates amounted to Rs. 9,78,323. The increased cost of collection was due to the increased work done. The percentage of the establishment on collections was 23·54 in 1883-84, 16·78 in 1884-85, and 14·92 in 1885-86.

COST OF MEASUREMENTS

93. The following statement shows the cost of the establishment employed on assessments during the year. The areas assessed, as shewn in the statement, are the gross areas assessed in the year less the areas under five year leases, in force at the beginning of the year:—

NAME OF DIVISION.	Areas measured and assessed	COST OF MEASURING CROP.		COST OF PREPARING DEMAND STATEMENTS.
		Total.	Per acre	Total.	Per acre.
	Acres.	Rs.	Pies.	Rs.	Pies.
Eastern Sone ...	24,144	481	3·83	773	6·14
Arrah	52,681	4,618	16 83	3,669	13 37
Buxar .. .	82,469	2,770	6·45	1,502	3 49
Total 1885-86 ...	159,294	7,869	9·48	5,944	7·16
Total 1884-85 ...	255,255	7,862	5 91	10,971	8·25

The figures are necessarily only approximations. The high rates in the Arrah Division are ascribed by the Superintending Engineer chiefly to the much larger number of complaints in that Division than in the others. This larger number, in its turn is due, firstly, to the proximity to the sudder station inducing men to complain on the chance of getting a remission; and, secondly, to the large amount of land held by Rajputs and Brahmins, who try in every way to avoid assessment and payment. Every complaint at least doubles the work to be done, and hence the high rates for measuring and assessing.

PUTWAREES.

94. The attendance of the putwarees at the measurements continues to be unsatisfactory. In paragraph 7 of the Superintending Engineer's report a statement is given showing the attendance of these men. There appears to be a slight improvement over the previous year. The Collector of Shahabad writes as follows:—

"I have nothing new to say regarding the putwarees. They are as a body altogether useless for collection purposes. I do not know how far they assist the assessing Public Works Department, but it is certain that they generally fail to carry out the principal duty enjoined on them, viz., that of supplying each person charged in the khatianis with a percha shewing the rate due from him. This neglect keeps the rate-payers in ignorance of the sums assessed till they are called upon to pay, and consequently the rates assessed begin to be disputed at a time when all disputes should have been set at rest."

The attendance in the Nasrigunge and Ramnuggar subdivisions, which was so good last year, has fallen off sadly, though no explanation is given of this.

COMPLAINTS

95. Complaints of wrong assessments, &c, slightly increased during the year under review: 2,821 were pending at the beginning of the year; 10,768 were received during the year. Of these, 11,770 were disposed of during the year, remissions being granted in 5,320 cases and refused in 6,450 cases. In paragraphs 18 to 22 of the report of the Collector of Shahabad will be found some interesting remarks regarding certificate cases, and the work and the difficulties with which the collecting establishment have had to deal in realizing the demands on account of water-rates In addition to the complaints mentioned above, 660 miscellaneous petitions were disposed of during the year out of a total of 728 pending and received.

CROP EXPERIMENTS

96. Experiments on crops irrigated with canal water were made in 221 cases on the rice crop and 150 cases on the wheat crop. Similar experiments on crops irrigated from other sources were made in 205 cases in the rice crop and 157 cases in the wheat crop. The average result showed the outturn of grain, in the case of crops irrigated with canal water, was 49 per cent. greater in the rice crop, and 6 per cent. greater in the wheat crop. The actual excess grain per acre being in the rice crops 5 maunds 24 seers and in the wheat crop 26 seers.

NOTE.—The figures in these two statements do not agree, the reason being that the first statement is prepared from the Examiner's returns, whilst the second has had to be based on returns obtained from the Superintending Engineer, and, as mentioned elsewhere, there are some unadjustable discrepancies between these.

TRAFFIC.

98 The following statement compares the traffic of the last five years :—

(a) Inclusive of metals.

The decrease in value was wholly on the Arrah Canal due principally to a large quantity of specie having been conveyed in 1884 chiefly for opium advances.

100. The expenditure on the establishment employed on the collection of tolls and working the locks was Rs. 13,644 as compared with Rs. 13,590 in the year 1884-85. The increase is mainly due to establishment employed on the new lock and regulator at mile 5 of the Western Main Canal. The charges for the establishments employed on this work are particularly high on the Sone canals: the matter is referred to in paragraph 143 below. The Superintending Engineer will be asked to consider whether any reduction in this establishment is feasible. The heavy incidence of the charges is mainly due to the length of the canals as compared with the traffic which is smaller than that on any other system in Bengal.

TRANSPORT SERVICE.

101. The steam transport service on the Sone canals is managed by a contractor to whom the Government steamers are leased. Steamers run once a week on the Patna canal and twice a week on the Arrah and Buxar canals. The service was maintained efficiently during the year.

MISCELLANEOUS RECEIPTS.

102. The miscellaneous receipts are given in detail in paragraph 12 of Superintending Engineer's report. They amounted to Rs 39,246 against Rs. 47,007 in 1884-85, or a falling off of some 16 per cent., but they are slightly less than the average of the previous four years. The decrease is mainly due to the fact that no profit was made on workshop manufactures.

FINANCIAL RESULTS

103. The receipts on revenue account and working expenses (direct charges) of the Sone Canals for the last five years are shown in the statement below:—

	1881-82.	1882-83.	1883-84	1884-85.	1885-86

Net profit, exclusive of indirect charges	2,78,970	1,54,836	89,330	2,58,513	5,10,276

The large increase in the net revenue is partly due to the decrease in the working expenses, but mainly to the large collections of arrears of water-rates which were made during the year.

REPAIRS TO HEAD WORKS.

104. The repairs of the head works cost as follows:—

	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Sone weir	18,848	29,922	34,908
Other works	9,861	9,462	7,697
Total ...	28,709	39,384	42,605

The increased cost of the maintenance of the head works was due to the injuries sustained by the weir in the flood of August 1885. Considerable damage was done to the piers of the under-sluices. The piers were reduced in number and materially strengthened.

REPAIRS TO MAIN CANAL AND DISTRIBUTARIES.

105. The expenditure per mile incurred on repairs to the canals and distributaries for the last four years is given in the statement following:—

The main cause for the decreased expenditure on maintenance of the Sone Canals for the year under review is to be found in the Arrah and Buxar Divisions. The cost of the repairs of the Main and Branch Canals in these divisions is considerably less than in the previous year. The cost of the maintenance of distributaries is also less. The cost of maintenance of the first few miles of the Western Main and Eastern Main Canals, where the heavy silt is all deposited, has also slightly decreased. The amount of silt dredged was greater by about 30 per cent. during the year under review than in the previous one. In the Eastern Main Canal 4,522,399 cubic feet were dredged at a cost of Rs. 19,415. This gives an average rate of Rs. 4-4-8, or about 10 annas per thousand less than in the previous year. In the Western Main Canal 7,618,532 cubic feet were dredged at a cost of Rs. 57,391. This gives an average rate of Rs. 7-8-6, or about Rs. 2 per thousand higher than in the previous year. The great difference in the cost of the work done on the Eastern and Western canals respectively is not explained by the Superintending Engineer, nor the reason why the rate has decreased on the canal where the working is more economical, and increased on the canal where the working is more expensive. The very economical working of the Fouracres' dredgers is apparent. It would be interesting to know what the actual cost of dredging by each of the different kinds of dredgers actually is when the interest on prime cost and repairs is fully taken into account.

DREDGING.

106. There is again a satisfactory decrease in the cost of weed-clearing. This is to some extent attributable to the satisfactory working of the new steam weed-rake:— WEEDS.

CALCUTTA AND EASTERN CANALS.

107. The canals are for navigation only: they extend from Calcutta, mainly through the upper part of the Sunderbuns, to Burrisal in Eastern Bengal. These canals have been constructed and improved from time to time since quite the beginning of the century when they were first taken in hand by Government. All money which has been expended on them has been given from provincial funds. They may be conveniently divided as follows:—

				Miles.
I.—Calcutta and new canals				10
II.—Tolly's Nullah				17
III.—Eastern Canals—
(a) Inner boat route			186
(b) Outer boat routes			127

IV.—Steamer route				350
		Total	...	690

108. A brief description of these different channels follows:— DESCRIPTION.

I.—The Calcutta and new canals form a connecting link between the Hooghly river and the Sunderbun channels on the north of Calcutta. The Calcutta canal is a loop line, and the new canal a chord line between the locks, which at each end are common to both. In this part of the system the water is subject to no tidal influence, as in all other parts of these canals, but is impounded by the locks. The Calcutta canal is chiefly used by boats unloading cargo; the new canal, by boats passing through to the Hooghly, or to the godowns at the western end of the canal. It is on this section of the whole system that by far the largest part of the capital expenditure has been incurred.

II.—Tolly's Nullah is another link between the Sunderbun channels and the Hooghly: it lies to the south of Calcutta. Tolly's Nullah is an open tidal channel: the tides of the Mutlah river (locally called the Biddiadhuree in this part) enter its eastern end: those of the Hooghly its western end. It is proposed to canalize the Nullah for purposes connected with the Kidderpore Docks. It is in close proximity with the new docks.

III.—The Eastern Canals extend from the eastern ends of the two systems just described to Burrisal: they are mainly natural tidal channels, but some important portions of them are artificial. The "inner boat route" (a) is that usually followed throughout by the smaller boats: it may be briefly described as generally running on the northern margin of the Sunderbuns. The "outer boat routes" are three loop lines, entirely natural channels, by which the larger boats avoid the shallow portions of the other route. These dip down into the forests of the Sunderbuns.

IV.—The steamer route lies to the south of the boat routes: it runs through the heart of the Sunderbuns forests. The channels are entirely natural, but have in one or two places been improved, or rather improvements have been attempted at the cost of the province.

109. The capital account of the Calcutta and Eastern Canals is given below. This includes the expenditure on all the channels which have been mentioned:—

(a) This figure is not quite accurate; it is exclusive of receipts on demurrage of boats and toll on steamers and flats which have been incorrectly shown as miscellaneous revenue.

During the year 1884-85 a sum of Rs. 35,185 was wrongly credited to revenue instead of being treated as a receipt on capital account. This sum has been written back in the year under review. The figure (Rs. 4,79,484) as shown in the above statement is the result of the adjustment, and is not therefore a correct representation of the revenue pertaining to the year itself, which was really Rs. 5,14,669.

110. The following statement shows the financial results of these canals for the last ten years. The figures are for direct charges only. The average net revenue has exceeded five and a half per cent. on the capital expenditure:— FINANCIAL RESULTS.

111. Capital and revenue accounts for these canals were not kept previous to the year 1883-84. The remunerative nature of the works was therefore less apparent than it now is. The improvements lately effected in the Calcutta Canals were in progress from about the year 1880. They may be said to have been practically completed when the new lock at Chitpore was opened for traffic in February 1883. The marked increase in the revenue in the year 1882-83, and in those following it, may be taken to show that the improvements were demanded by the traffic. The percentages of profits during the last three years, during which the improvements have borne fruit, show that the expenditure of some twenty lakhs of rupees on these canals during the last ten years has been financially remunerative.

112. The revenue administration of these canals was vested during the year under review, as in previous years, in the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces. From the 1st April 1886 this arrangement has been altered: the entire control of the canals has been placed in the hands of the Public Works Department. The Board of Revenue have submitted the usual administration report for the year 1885-86. The Superintending Engineer has given in addition a full report concerning the operations of the year.

113. The following statement shows the details of the revenue collections:— COLLECTIONS.

To obtain results which would be strictly comparable for the two years mentioned, it is necessary to apply the corrections referred to above, which will give the grand totals as Rs. 5,14,669 and Rs 5,34,541 respectively.

Boats.

114. It has been customary hitherto to divide the boats into two classes only —those over and those under 25 maunds each. The Superintending Engineer has adopted a better classification, which should be followed in future. Under this classification the boats using these canals in 1885-86 were as follows:—

Traffic.

	Number of boats of the following measurement by canal rules.
	Up to 100 maunds.	Between 100 and 1,000 maunds.	Between 1,000 and 3,500 maunds.	Between 3,500 and 5,000 maunds.	Over 5,000 maunds.	Total.

Total ...	47,846	44,657	22,553	1,715	31	147,099

These figures do not include the dinghees and other small boats which take monthly passes to ply outside the Dhappa lock and in Tolly's Nullah One thousand three hundred passes were issued for such boats in the year.

In future returns the Superintending Engineer will be asked to show the boats at Tolly's Nullah separately from the others, following this classification.

115. The following statement shows the traffic in the Calcutta and Eastern Canals during the year under review and the two previous years:—

* Approximately correct the demurrage of the year not accurately known.

It will be noticed that, while the number of boats has steadily decreased, the gross tonnage per boat entering the canal has increased. This is explained by the fact that the improvements which have been effected in the Calcutta canals have been such that larger boats can now find accommodation than could do so before the new locks were constructed. To some extent the increase in tonnage may also be due to more efficient check being held over the measurements made by the revenue establishment.

Tolls.

The traffic on these canals is most largely from the Eastern districts to Calcutta. About 90 per cent. of the tonnage enters from the east. The toll at the east end of the canals on boats entering from that direction is 14 annas per 100 maunds of boat measurement. On boats entering from the west the toll is 6 annas per 100 maunds. These chief tolls have been unaltered for the last 12 years, but some small variations have been made in subsidiary tolls. One of these, a small toll on return cargo, which was introduced for a time, whilst adding to the full tonnage of the boats, only added to the receipts in a minor degree. This is one of the chief causes of a result shown in the statement above, viz., a decrease of the tollage receipts with an increasing tonnage of boats. The toll in question has now been discontinued.

116. Tolls in these canals are only collected in Calcutta, or within a few miles of Calcutta. The number of miles of canal traversed by the boats is not registered, so no returns of ton-mileage are possible. They would be of little value if they were kept, as a large portion of the Eastern Canal is formed of natural channels, and the boats frequently leave the route and return to it again The tolls bear no proportion to the length of channel. The moderation of the tolls may be gauged by the percentage which the tolls levied bear to the value of the cargo. A charge of 0·82 per cent. can hardly be felt by the importers of goods. The steady reduction in the number of missing tickets is very satisfactory.

Goods.

117. Form IID shows the quantity and value of the goods carried by the Calcutta and Eastern Canals. The classification is that laid down by the Government of India: it is hardly suitable to the traffic on these canals, as it affords no separate place for jute, which has to be included under the head "Miscellaneous." The value of goods classed as Miscellaneous amounts to nearly half the entire value of all the goods passing over the canals. The subsidiary statement which is given on page 82 shows the details of these "miscellaneous" goods. The decrease in the quantity of goods carried was chiefly under "miscellaneous;" probably due to depressed trade and to the decrease in the demand for jute.

Cost of collections.

118. The revenue of these canals is collected, with trifling exceptions, by the Supervisor. This officer is appointed, under sections VIII and XIII of the Canals Act, to collect the tolls and to regulate the traffic in the canals. His jurisdiction only extends to the channels in the immediate neighbourhood of Calcutta. He is paid chiefly by a commission on the receipts. Paragraph 8 of the Superintending Engineer's report gives the cost in detail of the entire revenue establishment employed, including the Supervisor's commission. The following statement shows the main facts:—

	Gross collections made by Supervisor.	Cost of entire revenue establishment.	Percentage.
	Rs.	Rs.
1883 84	5,63,214	51.587	9·15
1884 85	5,33,694	47,280	8·85
1885-86	5,13,839	44,751	8·70

The reduction both in the actual cost of the revenue establishment and in the percentage charge on the decreasing receipts is satisfactory in itself, although the actual charge and the percentage are both higher than they ought to be. The correct gauge of the cost of the revenue establishment on these canals is not the percentage charge on the collections, but the cost of the establishment per boat measured. The work is no greater, or but very little so, in measuring and collecting the toll on a large boat than on a small one. During the eight years previous to 1883-84 the average cost per boat was rather over 3¼ annas: on the average of the three years given in the statement the cost was about 4⅛ annas per boat. During 1885-86 the cost was nearly 5 annas. The average number of boats which entered the canals each year during the last three years was about 30,000 less than the average number of the previous eight years. These circumstances point to the possibility of reducing the establishment charges.

Maintenance.

119. The maintenance charges were reduced during the year 1885-86 to the lowest possible point. The charges are given in detail in paragraph 15 of the Superintending Engineer's report. Only such repairs as were indispensable were carried out. The sum expended on repairs to works was Rs. 1,00,219, out of which Rs. 32,277 was expended on the improvement of certain bridges on Tolly's Nullah. The mileage rate for repairs are given in the Superintending Engineer's report. The rate for the Calcutta canals includes the cost of keeping up a metalled road along both banks of the greater part of the length of this canal. The work done on Tolly's Nullah and the Eastern Canals is little more than that required to maintain a towing path on the bank, and rough timber bridges over tributary khalls. The maintenance of the steamer route was confined during the year under review to the up-keep of a snag boat, which is constantly employed in clearing snags from the banks.

121. The revenue account of this canal was opened during the year under review. It is as follows:—

TRAFFIC.

122. A portion only, Range III, of this canal, 36 miles in length, was opened for traffic on the 15th July 1885. It ends in a small village and does not form a through line of communication. The revenue of Rs. 13,718, which was collected during the year, is therefore no index at all to the receipt which will accrue when the entire canal, which is 99 miles in length, including the river crossings, is opened for through traffic with Orissa.

123. Form IID shows the quantity and value of goods carried in the canal.

124. The maintenance charges of the year were enhanced by the cost of making good the damage done to the banks on another and unopened range of the canal by the cyclone of September 1885. Out of the total expenditure of Rs. 23,155 on repairs to works, Rs. 20,088 was due to this cause. Excluding this the actual charges on the open range were Rs. 3,067; and the profit therefore Rs. 13,718—3,067 = Rs. 10,651. MAINTENANCE

126. In last year's report it was anticipated that there would be little difficulty in realizing the current revenue on this canal, as well as the arrears. This anticipation appears to have been in the main fulfilled. The collections during the year 1885-86 were larger than in any previous year, and it is mentioned, in the statement which accompanies the Commissioner's report, that there are no arrear balances extending over more than one year, except in the case of one of the guarantors. ARREARS

127. The average rainfall in the area under the influence of the Sarun canals is about 37½ inches. During the year 1885-86 the average rainfall of ten stations was 39·22 inches. The fall in the kharif season, which is taken to include the months of August, September and October, was 24·93 inches as compared with 15·92 inches in the previous year: in the rabi season, which includes only the four months November to February, the fall was 1·26 inches as compared with 0·39. The fall of rain was both abundant and well distributed. Further details concerning the rainfall will be found in the subsidiary returns appended to the Superintending Engineer's report.

IRRIGATION

128. The very favourable rainfall again led to a restriction in the area irrigated. Paragraph 4 of the Superintending Engineer's report gives the details by crops. The area actually irrigated was only 4,565 acres. The irrigated area in previous years was:—

	Acres.
1881-82	666
1882-83	1,741
1883-84	21,122
1884-85	7,223

The Executive Engineer makes the following remarks concerning the irrigation of the year:—

"In consequence of the rainfall during the season having been sufficiently distributed, there was hardly any demand for water for rice, and as there was a good fall of rain at the end of the season, the guarantors were able to prepare all their indigo fields and keep them moist enough for sowing, so that scarcely any indigo land was irrigated. Owing to some of the first sowings having been eaten by insects, there was a slight demand later on in the year. Rabi was also irrigated to a small extent for the same reason. There was a slight fall of rain in December and January, which helped to retain the moisture in the land"

129. It is necessary to bear in mind that the Sarun Canals were not mainly constructed with the intention of irrigating crops. They were constructed to supply water to the sotas or old river beds which traverse the district, so that the numerous indigo factories in the district might be well supplied with water for manufacturing purposes. It is for this supply of water that the guarantors have given their guarantees to pay a sum of Rs. 21,750 yearly The guarantee is dependent on water being supplied in all months of the year, which is not possible in all parts of the system.

MAINTENANCE

The maintenance charges during the year 1885-86 were the smallest which have been incurred since the canals were opened. The small expenditure appears to have been mainly due to the urgent demands for economy which were made by Government rather than to any actual decrease in the repairs necessary. The amount expended on repairs to works was Rs. 18,013 only: details of this amount are given in paragraph 15 of the Superintending Engineer's report.

NUDDEA RIVERS.

130. No capital or revenue accounts are kept for this work. The revenue management is under the direction of the Board of Revenue and the civil officers of the district.

REVENUE

The following statement shows the revenue and expenditure on these rivers during the last six years: the figures are for direct charges only:—

YEAR.	REVENUE.			Charges.	Net revenue.
	Tolls.	Miscellaneous.	Gross revenue.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
1880-81	2,31,957	676	2,32,633	1,21,846	1,10,787

1885-86	1,83,382	,399	1,83,781	77,068	1,06,113

The steady increase in the net revenue, in spite of the downward tendency of the gross revenue, appears to be a matter for congratulation. The following statements will investigate the cause of this.

131. The reports of the Commissioner of the Presidency Division give the following information concerning the traffic:— TRAFFIC.

YEAR.	NUMBER OF BOATS.					NUMBER OF STEAMERS AND FLATS.		Number of rafts, &c.	Total number.	Tonnage of boats by measurement.
	Below 100 maunds.	Above 100 maunds.	Passenger boats.	Empty boats.	Total boats.	Steamers.	Flats.

It would appear from this statement that there is a tendency to steady decrease in the traffic in these rivers, which is most marked in the native boat traffic. This decrease is not counterbalanced by the increase in steamers and flats, which has been very marked in the last four years. The tonnage of boats is taken from the printed returns in the Gazette; no statement of tonnage is given in the Commissioner's report, or in that of the Board. The figures of the tonnage show a decrease in traffic which corresponds with the figures of the numbers of boats. There is no doubt that the decrease in revenue is due to an actual decrease in the trade passing down these rivers.

132. The charges against revenue are detailed in the following statement:— WORKING EXPENSES.

YEAR.	CHARGES IN PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.							CHARGES IN CIVIL DEPARTMENT.	GRAND TOTAL.
	Works.	Maintenance and repairs of works.	Working Government steamers.	Petty items.	Establishment.	Tools and plant.	Total.	Charges for collection.

1881-82	10,359	74,776	.....	85	32,526	1,32,198	2,50,944	20,793	2,71,730
1882-83	5,063	54,748	139	1,278	14,181	2',409	99,802	18,729	1,18,531
1883-84	1,031	31,075	843	252	12,207	—1,502	1,01,249	21,129	1,22,378
1884-85	30	57,579	935	2,276	13,976	1,740	76,545	20,780	7 97,325
1885-86	.....	42,124	800	1,412	9,901	1,769	55,006	21,062	7,648

The expenditure in the year 1881-82 was altogether abnormal on account of the heavy charge of Rs. 1,32,198 for tools and plant. This sum was an account of a dredger and set of barges which was charged against these rivers. The decrease in the last four years in the gross charges appears from this statement to be partly due to an actual saving in the amounts expended on works and repairs, but mainly to a diminution in the Public Works establishment charges. The former decrease is one which shows actual economy, and is a satisfactory feature in the account, but the latter saving is one which is due to the system under which the charges for establishment are divided, and is not due to any actual economy. The steady increase in the net revenue, which appears to be so satisfactory, is therefore less so than at first sight it appears to be.

133. There was an increase in the charges for collection for the year under review, which is explained by the Commissioner as being due to increased rates of salary granted to a new darogah, to an annual increment granted to a toll-collector, and to travelling allowance granted a toll-collector for inspecting the Kissengunge toll-office. COLLECTION CHARGES.

134. The charges for the collection of the revenue on these rivers show little variation, but it is increasing with reference to the actual work performed. The decrease in amount is mainly due to the fact that to a certain extent payment is made by a commission on the collections. During the five years ending March 1880, these charges averaged Rs. 23,509 per annum: during the next period of five years they averaged Rs. 20,469; during the first-named period, however, the charges were 9·0 per cent. on the collections and 4·5 annas per boat measured; during the next five years the collection charges were 9·9 per cent. of the collections and 4·8 annas per boat; during the year under review the charges were 11·8 per cent. of the collections and 5·6 annas per boat measured. It may be that it is not possible to reduce the collection charges in accordance with the reduced traffic on the rivers. The number of boats and rafts during the first period averaged 83,392 yearly; during the next five years they averaged 67,258; during the year under review only 61,555 craft required to be measured, and it may be necessary to retain the full establishment of former years, notwithstanding the decreased work which has to be done. The work of collection on these rivers is in some respects more difficult than on other navigable systems in Bengal, as there are no locks to act as toll-bars to the boats, and it is necessary to keep a somewhat larger establishment to see that boats do not slip past the toll-stations without paying the dues.

135. The establishment charges on the Nuddea Rivers compare unfavourably with those of all the other systems, except the Sone and Orissa canals as will be seen from the statement in paragraph 143 of this note. On the Sone and Orissa canals the traffic is small and the toll-stations are scattered. These facts appear to merit the consideration of the Board of Revenue and of the officers of the Civil Department, who control the collecting establishments.

EDEN CANAL.

EXPENDITURE.

136. No capital or revenue account is kept of this canal. The expenditure on it during the year was—

	Rs.
Works	17,062
Repairs	21,099
Establishment	8,777
Total ...	46,938

The only revenue derived from the canal was Rs. 848 on miscellaneous items.

AREA IRRIGATED.

137. The Superintending Engineer reports that the canal fulfilled its purpose of affording drinking water to the town of Burdwan and to the people living on the banks of the canal itself; also along certain streams into which the canal throws a supply of good water.

About 56,440 acres of land are said to have been irrigated from the canal during the year: 25,000 acres were boro rice, and the remainder wae ordinary rice land. These figures are not reliable, as no measurements were made. No charge was made for the water which was supplied.

MADHUBAN CANAL.

138. This canal is a small irrigation work on the borders of Nepal It was formerly known as the Teur Canal. It was constructed by Government at the cost of the proprietors, but during the year under review the proprietors' right was purchased by Government The principal contributor to the original cost of the canal was Baboo Bishun Prokash Narain Singh. He has given the land occupied by the canal free of cost. To him has been accorded the right to irrigate, in perpetuity, 200 local beegahs from the canal free of charge. At his request the canal has been officially named the "Bishun Prokash Narain Singh of Madhuban" canal, but it will in future be ordinarily known as the "Madhuban" canal.

The expenditure on the canal during the year was Rs. 2,044.

GENERAL REMARKS.

NET INCOME.

139. The net income of the year 1885-86 from Major Irrigation works in Bengal amounted to Rs. 4,31,619, thus:—

	Rs.
Gross direct receipts	15,84,935
„ charges	11,53,416
Net revenue ...	4,31,619

The budget estimate for the net revenue was Rs. 1,00,000, and the revised estimate was Rs. 1,83,000, thus:— BUDGET.

	Budget.	Revised estimate.
	Rs.	Rs.
Direct receipts	12,00,000	13,50,000
„ charges	11,00,000	11,67,000
Net revenue ...	1,00,000	1,83,000

So that the results of the year were far more favourable than had been expected. This result was almost entirely due to the energy displayed in the collection of arrears of water-rates on the Sone canals, but to a small extent it was due to increase in the navigation receipts on the Midnapore canals. The collections on Sone Canals were more than 3½ lakhs above the budget estimate.

140. The following statement shows the principal results of the year calculated by the "earnings" as compared with similar results of the previous year:— EARNINGS.

143. The revenue derived from navigation receipts on the canals in Bengal shows a slow but steady increase, which has perhaps not hitherto been sufficiently noticed. The receipts credited under the head "navigation" are mainly for tolls paid by boats, but the receipts under that head include also in some cases receipts from transport services: these latter receipts are NAVIGATION REVENUE.

In this statement the pay of the lascars on the locks is included in all cases except on the Calcutta and Eastern Canals. On the canal the pay of those men is charged to works.

All the systems show an increasing revenue except the Sone canals and the Nuddea rivers. The extremely heavy charges in the Sone canals are deserving of attention. The increasing cost of the collection charges in the Calcutta canals and the Nuddea rivers is brought into more prominent notice by the fact that in all other systems except the Sone canals those charges show a tendency to decrease.

144. A searching investigation into the figures which are given in this note would show that they are not in some cases in accordance with those given in the reports of the Commissioners and Superintending Engineers, appended to this note, or perhaps with those given by the Examiner of Accounts in the various statements issued by him. The fact is that there are occasional discrepancies between the figures given by these officers, which are irreconcilable without an amount of labour which the result would not repay. The discrepancies are probably less than they were in former years, and will, it is hoped, be entirely obviated in time; they are not in any case of great moment. The figures given by the Chief Engineer are based on consideration of those given by all the officers mentioned, and may be presumed to be the most correct of any.

Punctuality of reports.

145. In the note written by the Chief Engineer on the revenue report of 1884-45, it was noticed that as the date for the submission of revenue reports to the office of the Chief Engineer had been altered from the 1st September to the 15th September, it was expected that the reports would in future be submitted with complete punctuality. This result, however, has not yet been attained. The following statement shows the dates when the different reports were received :—

		In 1885.	In 1886.
Orissa Circle	Commissioner's report ...	21st September ...	18th October.
	Superintending Engineer's report	14th October ...	1st November.
South-Western Circle.	Commissioner's report ...	25th August ...	14th September.
	Superintending Engineer's report	4th December ...	23rd ditto.
Sone Circle ...	Commissioner's report ...	17th August ...	15th ditto.
	Superintending Engineer's report	7th September ... and 11th September ...	17th ditto.

The finance and administration accounts of the year 1885-86 were not received from the Examiner until the 13th of September 1886. This fact must be held to be a valid reason for some delay in the submission of the revenue reports by Superintending Engineers. The revenue report of the Orissa Circle, which was the one most delayed, was submitted by an officer who had only been in charge of the circle since 3rd July 1886, and who was necessarily entirely without experience of the facts of the year concerning which the report was written. In the South-Western Circle and in the Sone Circle this was not the case; in the former circle the officer who submitted the report had held charge during the whole of the year 1885-86, and in the case of the Sone Circle the Superintending Engineer, who prepared the report, had been in charge of the circle for nine months of the year 1885-86.

C. W. I. HARRISON, Major, R.E.,

Officiating Chief Engineer.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—CALCUTTA PORT TRUST.

Calcutta, the 16th December 1886.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta for the year 1885-86.

The report opens, as usual, with a statement of the actual financial condition of the Port Trust. A reduction of Rs. 1,08,412 was made during the year under review in the consolidated debt owing to Government, and a sum of Rs. 56,400 was invested on account of the sinking fund for the debenture loans of 1881 and 1883. A loan of Rs. 22,17,000 was raised during the year, and an advance of Rs. 29,06 498 was received from Government to enable the Commissioners to proceed with the dock-works. The total debt of the Port Trust at the close of the year was as follows:—

	Rs.
Consolidated repayable debt due to Government ...	47,56,681
Port book debt not repayable	17,65,000
Due on debenture loan of 1881	10,00,000
Ditto ditto of 1883	20,00,000
Ditto ditto of 1886	22,17,000
	1,17,38,681
Advance from Government	29,06,498
Total ...	1,46,45,179

2. The assets of the Trust, on the other hand, exclusive of the value of Strand Bank lands, which the Commissioners received free of cost from Government in 1870, are shown as amounting to Rs. 2,01,34,011, thus:—

		Rs.
Expenditure on jetties and appliances for sea-going vessels to the end of March 1886		71,20,559
Ditto on inland vessels' wharves, landing-stages, tramway, &c., on the Calcutta bank of the river		62,11,572
Ditto on inland vessels' wharves, landing-stages, tramway, &c., on the Howrah bank of the river		14,92,432
Ditto on dock for docking and repairing vessels, &c.		5,25,000
Ditto on moorings, anchor-vessels, Harbour-Masters' boats, light-ships, survey vessels, &c.		38,64,559
Ditto on Reserve Funds ...	Jetty reserve fund	99,244
	Jetty insurance fund	50,000
	Port reserve fund	3,64,250
	Port depreciation fund	1,99,995
	Debenture loan sinking fund	2,06,400
	Total ...	2,01,34,011

In addition to this expenditure, a sum of Rs. 29,06,498 was expended up to the close of the past year on the Kidderpore Dock-works. The total nominal value of the property held by the Trust against their debt of Rs 1,46,45,179 is therefore Rs. 2,30,40,509. No allowance is here made for depreciation in the value of the block.

3. The income under revenue account amounted to Rs. 25,86,136 against Rs. 26,28,319 in the previous year, or, including the opening balance of the year, to Rs. 31,26,232 against Rs. 31,06,720 in 1884-85. The total expenditure, inclusive of contributions on account of sinking funds and the Port Approaches, amounted to Rs. 27,31,612, and the net credit balance on the 31st March 1886 was therefore Rs. 3,94,620. The capital account shows an income of Rs. 22,49,479, after deducting the deficit balance of Rs. 13,84,452 at the close of the past year, and an expenditure of Rs. 21,22,977.

4. Out of the expenditure of Rs. 21,22,977 on new works, Rs. 23,364 were spent on jetty works, Rs. 11,517 on the Inland vessels' wharves,

Rs. 2,05,287 on the Howrah Foreshore Road, Rs. 29,692 on the Harbour-Masters' Department, Rs. 1,65,336 on vessels for the Port Approaches, Rs. 1,55,072 on the Tea Warehouse at Armenian Ghât, Rs 1,19,816 on the petroleum wharf at Budge-Budge, Rs. 13,46,854 on the new dock-works at Kidderpore, and Rs. 66,039 on miscellaneous works. Of the outlay on the jetties about three-fourths were expended on a new cargo-boat for the 30-ton crane, and the balance on the repairs of No. 7 jetty shed, where the floor had subsided. The expenditure on the Inland vessels' wharves was mainly incurred for the payment of claims for the Howrah Foreshore Road land; for the construction of two new jetties for the Ganges and Howrah Mills, and a landing stage for the Watson's Patent Press Company at Baug Bazar; for metalling the Shalimar road, and for the laying of sidings from the Shalimar Tramway to the Howrah Mills, and to the Seebpore jute-works and rice golahs. The principal item of expenditure in the Harbour-Masters' Department was a new anchor-vessel, and that in the Port Approaches Department a new light-vessel. Of miscellaneous works, the chief item was a new dredger, which absorbed nearly seven-eighths of the total expenditure.

5. The Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that, notwithstanding the falling off in the receipts from hoisting charges from the abnormally high figure of Rs. 82,423 in 1884-85 to Rs. 44,183 in the past year, and a further decrease in the receipts from overtime fees, the gross income from the jetties was Rs. 13,718 in excess of that of the previous year. This was due to an increase in the receipts on account of goods landed and shipped, and in warehouse rent. Overtime fees decreased owing to the discontinuance of night-work at the jetties, except in urgent cases. The increase of expenditure during the year is said to be due to the landing, shipping, and warehousing of an increased quantity of goods. The net revenue of the jetties was Rs. 4,373 in advance of that of the previous year. This is satisfactory, considering that accommodation was provided for Government vessels at Nos. 1, 5, 6 and 8 jetties for 17 days in October and November 1885 for the embarkation of troops and munitions of war for the Burmah expedition.

6. The earnings of the 30-ton crane amounted to Rs 29,569 against Rs. 61,394 in the previous year, and the cost of its maintenance to Rs. 13,834 against Rs. 11,889. The receipts had, as already stated, been abnormally high in 1884-85, in consequence of the landing of a number of heavy marine boilers, and subsequent outside work in putting them on board inland steamers then under construction. The increase in the charges was caused by the completion of the new 100-ton barge, the cost of the crew and the working expenses of which are met from the earnings of the crane.

7. The receipts from the Inland vessels' wharves amounted to Rs. 3,93,587 as compared with Rs. 3,55,081 in 1884-85. This increase was due to increased traffic at nearly all the wharves, both on the Calcutta and the Howrah banks of the river. As regards expenditure, there was an increase of Rs. 31,420, which was mainly due to increased charge for interest on account of the loans raised for the Howrah foreshore wharves, to the transfer from Part III to the Inland Wharf Department of the rent and municipal taxes payable on the Seebpore chur land, and to increase in working expenses and salaries. The net revenue of the year amounted to Rs. 1,47,176 against Rs. 1,40,090 in the previous year.

8. The receipts from Strand Bank lands amounted to Rs. 1,73,342 and the charges to Rs. 1,06,371, against Rs. 1,84,124 and Rs. 1,28,136 respectively in the past year. The decrease in both receipts and charges was caused by the elimination of the income and expenditure on account of the Seebpore chur land. The net revenue amounted to Rs. 66,971 as compared with Rs. 55,988 in 1884-85.

9. The receipts credited to the Harbour-Masters' Department amounted to Rs. 5,21,061, or Rs. 36,845 less than in the previous year. The decrease was mainly due to a falling off in the receipts from mooring hire and Harbour-Masters' fees, and is explained by the fact that the port charges due from 61 vessels that entered the port during the year remained unrealized at the close of the year It is explained that these charges are seldom paid till a vessel is clearing, and though there is always a considerable amount outstanding, it is seldom so large as in the year under review.

An important amendment was made during the year in the payment of overtime fees to Assistant Harbour-Masters. Under the old rule Assistant Harbour-Masters were allowed extra fees at the rate of Rs. 16 for all work performed on Sundays and recognized holidays, and for all work performed between the hours of 8 P.M. and 5 A.M.: thus if an Assistant Harbour-Master attended a vessel on a Sunday or holiday before 5 A.M. and remained on board till after 7 or 8 A.M., he was entitled to two extra fees of Rs. 16 each. The rule, as revised, entitles him to only one extra fee for night and holiday work, unless he has been on duty for more than eight hours.

10. The following statement shows the number and tonnage of vessels that visited the port during the past three years. Dhoonies, tugs, steamers employed in the Chandbally trade, and inland steamers and flats, are not included.

Years	Arrivals.									Departures.
	Number.			Gross tonnage.			Net tonnage.			Number.			Gross tonnage.			Net tonnage.

It will be observed that there was an increase in the number and tonnage of both steamers and sailing vessels entering the port as compared with those of the previous year, although they were slightly below the figures for 1883-84. Of the steamers arriving in the port in the past year, 191, with an average tonnage of 3,103, came from European ports vid the Suez Canal. The average tonnage of sailing vessels and steamers employed in the trade of the port was 1,361 and 2,323 respectively.

11. Twelve casualties happened to vessels whilst in charge of the Assistant Harbour-Masters during the year. In four of these the Assistant Harbour-Masters are stated to have been in fault. In the other cases the accidents were caused by circumstances over which the officers of the Port Trust had no control. The percentage of accidents was lower than in the preceding two years, being 1·16 against 1·21 in 1884-85 and 1·19 in 1883-84. The percentage is still considerably higher than in the eight years ending 1882-83.

12. The moorings were all examined during the year, those found defective being replaced with new materials. Eight moorings were abolished—six to increase the length of Nos 3 and 4, Hastings Moorings, one at Matiabruz to give free approach to the landing stage, and one at Oolooberiah. An equal number of new moorings was laid, so that the total number of moorings remains the same (228 as at the close of the previous year. Of these, 178 are fixed and 50 swinging. Two fixed moorings are obstructed by wrecks, ten fixed and two swinging are reserved for Government, and nine fixed and five swinging for vessels belonging to the Port Trust: 157 fixed and 43 swinging moorings are therefore available for vessels trading to the port. Of these, 21 fixed and 23 swinging moorings are leased out to private firms, leaving 136 fixed and 20 swinging moorings available for the use of the public. The dredger was employed on 130 days during the year at a cost of Rs. 31,701, the average cost of 1,000 cubic feet dredged being Rs. 22·82.

13. The number of vessels surveyed by the Engineer-Surveyor was 287 under Act V of 1862 and 90 under Acts VIII of 1876 and VII of 1871. The total number of visits paid to them was 734. Only one vessel was measured for registry under the Merchant Shipping Act. Pending the issue of rules under the Inland Steam Vessels Act VI of 1884, and the Indian Steam-Ships Act VII of 1884, which came into force on the 1st December 1885, no certificates were granted under these Acts. Surveys have therefore been made and certificates issued under Act V (B.C.) of 1862.

14 The number of cargo and passenger boats surveyed, registered, and licensed, and of manjees licensed, compares as follows with that of the previous year:—

	1885-86.	1884-85.
Cargo boats	5,913	5,989
Passenger boats	1 808	1,876
Manjees licensed	9,009	8,336

16. The income on account of port approaches, which amounted to Rs. 4,27,943 against Rs 4,81,486 in the previous year, consisted mostly of contributions from the other parts of the Commissioners' account, the direct income being only a small sum derived from the earnings of the anchor-vessel, the sale of condemned stores, and a few other miscellaneous items. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 4,94,133 as compared with Rs. 3,99,853 in the previous year. The excess of expenditure was due to the provision of Rs. 80,000 on account of depreciation, and to the payment of a dockyard charge of Rs. 15,409 incurred in 1883-84. An expenditure of Rs. 13,620 was incurred for converting the survey vessel Clyde into a light-vessel to take the place of the Mermaid, which was destroyed by fire in February 1885. Exclusive of these items, the expenditure amounted to Rs. 3,85,104.

17. With the exception of the Nynan tracks, which have been very low since September 1885, there was no serious obstruction to navigation during the year. The formation of new bars and the shifting of old ones, have however caused considerable anxiety. Besides the survey of the channels in use from Kulpi to Saugor, together with the Saugor Roads and the Gaspar channel to the Bell buoy, a survey of the river from Calcutta to Chandernagore was made during the year. The services of the Deputy Conservator and his staff were placed at the disposal of the Government for a re-survey of False Point Harbour, which was considerably altered by the cyclone of the 22nd September 1885.

18. The damage caused to the light-house at False Point by the cyclone has been completely repaired. The light was extinguished for a time on the night of the 4th December 1885 owing to the breakage of the pin of the lamp valve; but instructions have been issued for the immediate lighting of another lamp in case of future accidents. The light-house at Saugor was inspected and found to be in good order. The light-house at Cowcolly is in need of repairs. These will be executed during the current year.

The new flashing lights were exhibited from the Eastern Channel, Pilots' Ridge and Mutlah light-vessels on the night of the 15th April 1885, and it was proposed to discontinue the burning of blue-lights, except at the Eastern Channel, during the south-west monsoon. In consequence, however, of the strong objections urged to this proposal by pilots and masters it has been decided to continue to exhibit them every half-hour during the south-west monsoon, and every hour during the north-east monsoon at the Eastern Channel, and every hour at the Pilots' Ridge. Certain modifications have also been made in the flashes of the Eastern Channel and Ridge lights.

19. In the report for 1884-85 it was stated that some of the refuge-houses were in need of repairs; that No. 2 house required to be removed further inland, and that enquiries were being made by the Commissioners with a view to ascertain whether steps could not be taken to put a stop to the repeated plundering of the houses. No reference to this matter is made in the report under review, and the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to learn what has been done in the matter.

20. In order to facilitate the export trade of the port it has been resolved to continue the use of the Shalimar wharf and sheds for railway traffic, particularly for the storage of export cargo, at fixed rates, and to provide coolies for handling goods, and to run a steam launch between Howrah and Shalimar during those months when the wharf and sheds at the latter place are occupied. The petroleum wharf and depôt at Budge-Budge, the construction of which had been postponed for want of funds, were put in hand during the latter portion of the year, and have now been completed. They were opened for traffic on the 10th July last.

21. The Commissioners held 26 meetings, the attendance at which was satisfactory, and testifies to the interest taken by them in the management of the Trust. The office of Chairman was held throughout the year by the Hon'ble H. J. Reynolds. The Vice-Chairman, Mr. W. D. Bruce, was absent on privilege leave for about three months, during which period Mr. G. H. Simmons officiated.

22. The thanks of Government are due to the Commissioners for their successful management of the affairs of the Trust.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

ENCOURAGEMENT OF SANSKRIT LEARNING IN BENGAL.

The 21st December 1886.—The following papers regarding the encouragement of Sanskrit learning in Bengal are published for general information.

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 155, dated Simla, the 18th May 1886.

From—A. P. MacDonnell, Esq., Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India, Home Dept
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

With reference to the accompanying copy of a letter* and memorandum received from Pundit Mahesa Chandra Nyayaratna, regarding the encouragement of Sanskrit learning in Bengal, I am directed to say that the Governor General in Council would be glad to be favoured with any remarks which His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor may have to offer on the subject generally, and on the particular recommendations made in this memorandum. I am to add that it has been suggested to the Government of India that if the matter were, as occasion offers, suitably represented to the wealthy and liberal native gentlemen of Bengal, it is possible that as endowments for the promotion of English learning have been largely founded, so endowments for the promotion of Sanskrit learning might be forthcoming on a larger scale than at present. His Excellency in Council would be glad to learn the views of Sir Rivers Thompson on this suggestion. It is known to the Government of India that steps have already been taken by the Bengal Government to offer encouragement to Sanskrit learning, and the Governor-General in Council has no doubt that Sir Rivers Thompson will willingly undertake such further measures as may be deemed practicable in this direction.

* Dated 20th April 1886, to the address of the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy.

Dated the 20th April 1886.

From—Pundit Mahesa Chandra Nyayaratna,
To—The Private Secretary to His Excellency the Viceroy

When, in March last, I had the honour of waiting upon His Excellency at Government House, Calcutta, I ventured to make certain suggestions with regard to the encouragement of Sanskrit learning in this country. His Excellency was pleased to ask me to send up to Simla a short memorandum, embodying the substance of my remarks. I beg therefore to send the accompanying note, and to request the favour of your kindly laying it before His Excellency.

In Bengal, during Sir Ashley Eden's Government, an annual examination was instituted for the purpose of conferring titles on Sanskrit students who proved themselves worthy of them. A few prizes and scholarships also were founded in connection with this examination. The annual cost of this examination has been only Rs. 1,700. The expenditure of this small sum of money has had some effect in encouraging the cultivation of Sanskrit learning in this country. Some of the native nobility and gentry liberally came forward to help the movement thus set on foot by Government by making endowments for rewards and scholarships. This is a hopeful sign that it is possible for Government to prevent Sanskrit learning from languishing to death in its native home, at least for a long time to come, by extending to it a little more help and encouragement. Some pecuniary aid given to the better class of tols, or indigenous Sanskrit schools, under the existing grant-in-aid system, with slight modifications, and a provision made for their due inspection by Government, would go a great way in this direction An annual expenditure of, say, Rs. 12,000 in grants-in-aid and Rs. 3,000 for inspection, or Rs 15,000 in all, would do for Bengal for the present. Much good also would be done if erudite pundits had their worth recognized by Government by having suitable titles, like Pundit Bahadur, conferred on them. This very recognition by Government would raise their position in society, and might induce the richer classes of people to reward, in a more substantial way, men whom Government thought it worth while to honour.

No. 39T, dated Darjeeling, the 23rd September 1886.

From—A. W. Croft, Esq, Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I have the honour to submit the following observations upon the reference made to me in your endorsement No 418T—G, dated 15th June 1886, on the proposal made by Pundit Mahesh Chandra Nyayaratna, Principal of the Calcutta Sanskrit College, for giving further encouragement to Sanskrit learning by the institution of a system of grants-in-aid to the tols or indigenous Sanskrit schools of Bengal. As directed in the Government order, I have consulted the Circle Inspectors on the subject.

2. A brief account of the Sanskrit tols in Bengal, and of the support which has been given to them from time to time by Government, is supplied in my letter No 7554, dated 17th December 1878, to which, with its enclosures, including Mr E. B. Cowell's valuable report of 1867, and Pandit Mahesh Chandra's remarks thereon, I would solicit a reference. The proposals made in that letter for the improvement of the tols, at an annual cost of Rs. 1,500 (since increased to Rs. 1,700*) for rewards to successful pupils and their teachers, were sanctioned in Government order No. 39, dated 14th January 1879; and from that time the annual examination of tols for prizes and rewards has been carried on concurrently with—has indeed formed a part of—the examination for Sanskrit titles, which was established by previous orders of Government in the Resolution dated 22nd June 1878, to the correspondence connected with which I would also invite attention.

* Government No 464T—G, dated 24th May 1884, to the Director of Public Instruction.

3. In 1879 an association was formed at Dacca, under the title of the Pundit's Institute, for promoting the study of Sanskrit in the indigenous tols of the district. Towards the latter part of that year an application for a grant-in-aid of the institution was received, supported by the recommendation of the Circle Inspector. An annual grant of Rs. 500 to meet Rs. 1,000 contributed from local sources was sanctioned; and the institution has since been known as the "Saraswat Samaj" of Dacca. Of this institution Mr. Tawney subsequently reported as follows, while officiating as Director of Public Instruction in 1885:—"The Dacca Saraswat Samaj—an independent organization for improving the teaching in tols, and for conferring titles which shall be a guarantee that their holders are able Sanskrit scholars of the indigenous type—continues to flourish. Its income amounted last year to Rs. 2,670, of which Government contributed Rs. 500, and the balance at its credit amounted altogether to Rs. 9,224. A proposal was made in the course of last year to withdraw support from this association; but Mr. Croft negatived it on the ground that the association was doing useful work, and that, if the Nuddea Pundits had possessed similar organization, it would not have been necessary to found a Government examination for Sanskrit titles In his opinion the grant was calculated to encourage that very spontaneous and independent effort which it is the object of Government to develop."

4. In June 1884, at the instance of Mr. J. Ware Edgar, C.S.I., Officiating Commissioner of the Presidency Division, and on the recommendation of this office, the Government grant to the tols of Nuddea was raised from Rs. 100 to Rs. 150 a month. Towards the close of the year 1884, the Principal of the Sanskrit College submitted to this office proposals for the encouragement of the tols of a very similar character to those now under reference. To these proposals the then Officiating Director, Mr. C. B Clarke, replied in a letter No. 56, dated 5th January 1885, of which I enclose a copy, and to which I would invite attention, as it expresses in very distinct terms the view that the tol system is doomed and dying, and that no encouragement on the part of Government will keep it alive. Upon a subsequent reference made by the Principal, while assuring him of greater sympathy than Mr. Clarke had shown, I stated that the question had been definitely settled independently of the opinion of individual officers, by the Resolution of Government upon the recommendations of the Education Commission in favour of the direct encouragement of tols by Government. I pointed out, however, that the encouragement already afforded to tols in Bengal appeared to have supplied the basis of those recommendations, and consequently that the necessity of giving still further assistance to Sanskrit schools applied less strongly to Bengal than to other Provinces. I added:—"However that may be, I must explain that your present proposals are not definite and explicit enough to form the subject of a recommendation to Government. It should be stated how you proposed to employ the Rs. 12,000 to be spent annually upon tols; and as it appears that you have offered to undertake the inspection of tols yourself without remuneration, it is not clear how the Rs. 2,000 for cost of inspection is to be spent. For that offer I desire to take this opportunity of cordially thanking you: and should anything come of the present proposals, I have no doubt that Government will gladly avail itself of your valuable services in that duty. I should further state that there is no prospect of additional funds being devoted to the proposed objects in the year 1885-86." No detailed proposals were, however, received from the Principal, who was probably deterred from submitting them by the statement that there was no prospect of additional funds being obtained.

5. In the present reference, proposals to nearly the same effect have been put forward. Pundit Mahesh Chandra recommends that a sum of Rs. 12,000 a year should be given to the support of the tols under some modification of the grant-in-aid system, and Rs 3,000 a year to their inspection. Without some increased aid of this kind, he anticipates that Sanskrit learning will "languish to death in its native home." He also recommends that some such title as "Pundit Bahadoor" be conferred on erudite pundits, so as to raise their position in society, and enable them to obtain from the wealthy more substantial rewards than they now receive. I proceed to quote the opinions of the Circle Inspectors on these points:—

Baboo Radhika Prasanna Mookerjea, Officiating Inspector of the Presidency Circle, while giving general approval to the proposals, objects to the ordinary grant-in-aid system being applied to tols, and advocates a rough system either of payment-by-results, or of capitation allowances at the rate of one rupee a month for each pupil in regular attendance. This last proposal would involve an additional outlay of Rs. 5,700 a year in the Presidency Division alone. He states that the tol pundits generally decline to receive payment for their work, but he believes that a more practical spirit is beginning to manifest itself on that point; and instances the case of four tols at Naihati that receive a grant of Rs. 60 a year each from the local municipality—a grant that obtained the cordial approval of the then Officiating Commissioner, Mr Edgar The Inspector does not fully understand how the proposed grant of Rs. 3,000 a year for inspection is to be utilised; but considers that a part of the sum should be placed at the disposal of Principals of Colleges and Inspectors of Schools for the periodical inspection of tols in addition to the expenses that might be incurred by Pundit Mahesh Chandra in his journeys of inspection. He believes that, unless a beginning is made by the State, private contributions are not likely to come forward in aid. He considers that the Pundit is "perhaps right" in thinking that the title of Pundit Bahadoor will be generally acceptable, but is convinced that it will take time to fix itself on the imagination of the people.

Baboo Brahma Mohan Mullick, Inspector of Schools, Western Circle, remarks that in former days grants of rent-free lands and considerable presents of money were made to the pundits by Hindu landholders and other wealthy men, to enable them to maintain their tols—a charge which included the support of their pupils, from whom no fees have ever been levied. In the present day these contributions have greatly fallen off. Something is still paid to the pundits on the occasion of marriages, sradhs, and pujas; but their means of subsistence have been much straitened, the number of pupils has decreased, and even the education given in the tols has deteriorated. Very few tols are now supported by religious endowments. In these circumstances, the Inspector believes that Government aid would be welcomed by the pundits. Little, however, could be done, except by way of encouragement and, as an earnest of more liberal help hereafter, by an annual expenditure limited to Rs. 12,000. At the rate of Rs 5 a month this would afford aid to only 200 tols, while he estimates the total number in Bengal, Behar, and Orissa at something like 2,500. He also expresses some doubt whether the pundits would generally accept so small a grant as Rs. 5 a month. In any case a large number must remain unsubsidised; and he recommends that, for the present, grants from Rs. 5 to Rs 15 a month should to given to selected tols up to the limit of the amount that may be assigned for their support upon the following conditions:—(a) that at least an equal sum be guaranteed from private sources; (b) that there must be 10 pupils under instruction; (c) that the grant be liable to be withdrawn if pupils do not for three years pass the Sanskrit Title examination. For the inspection of the tols, he thinks the best plan would be to appoint a Special Deputy Inspector for each circle, but the expense—not less than Rs. 8,000 a year—would be disproportionately great, and he accordingly recommends that the most competent of the Deputy Inspectors (among whom there are many men fully qualified for this duty) should be appointed to inspect tols in addition to their regular work; the services of the Principal of the Sanskrit College and of the various Professors of Sanskrit being also utilised. He refers to, but declines to discuss, the question whether Bengal is in these days capable of supporting a large number of purely Sanskrit scholars, or whether the course of instruction in the tols should not be reorganised so as to make their pupils more useful members of society. He is not prepared to express a definite opinion as to the proposed title of Pundit Bahadoor. In consequence of social changes that have taken place in Bengal, a Brahman devoting his life to Sanskrit literature and philosophy is now rarely found. If the bestowal of the title were likely to create such a class, he would cordially support the proposal; but he would not recommend the grant of such distinctions for the sole purpose of enabling their holders to get more substantial gratuities from the people.

Mr Bellett, Inspector of the Rajshahye Circle, regarding the tols as institutions in which the study of Sanskrit, decaying elsewhere, is carried on with some thoroughness, is in favour of their receiving aid from Government He would only afford aid, however, on condition that elementary arithmetic and the Bengali language were taught, and that registers of attendance were kept with fixed times of study. A competent officer should from time to time be deputed to report on the working and progress of the tols.

Mr. Hill, Officiating Inspector of the Eastern Circle, expresses general approval of the report (which he forwards) of the Assistant Inspector, Baboo Koilas Chundra Sen; at the same time remarking that pundits of the old class are of little or no use for teaching Sanskrit in our zillah schools, where English-knowing pundits are becoming every day more necessary The Assistant Inspector recommends that a beginning should be made by giving grants of Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 a month, based on attendance, to selected tols, with the object of transferring them hereafter to the management of District Boards, and in the hope of securing in this way liberal donations towards their support from wealthy native gentlemen; but, like Mr. Bellet, he would grant aid only on condition that a little history, geography, and arithmetic were taught. He would also require the pundits to send their pupils to the Sanskrit Title examination of Calcutta, or to the lower examination held by the Dacca Saraswat Samaj. He sees no necessity for a special inspecting agency. The existing staff could visit the tols for the purpose of inspecting the registers, while the efficiency of the instruction would be tested by the examinations above mentioned. He also thinks that the title of Pundit Bahadoor would not prove popular, as being foreign to the traditions of the pundits—a highly conservative body.

Mr. Pope, Inspector of the Behar Circle, approves the proposal to aid indigenous Sanskrit schools by means of grants to the pundits and prizes and scholarships to the pupils, provided they follow some definite course of studies and send pupils each year to a central examination. He characterises the prevalent course of instruction in Behar as "miscellaneous and almost useless." In order to assist and encourage those schools that have not advanced to the highest standard, he advocates the division of the present Title examination into two—a lower and a higher. He believes that the Maharajas of Durbhunga and Hatwa, and the Maharani of Tikari, who already maintain the best and most successful Sanskrit schools in Behar, would afford ready help to a general scheme of the kind proposed.

Baboo Radha Nath Rai, Joint-Inspector of Orissa, gives a general support to the proposal.

6. There appears, therefore, to be a definite consensus of opinion in favour of giving increased aid to the tols of Bengal. That proposal has my cordial support, subject always, it will be understood, to the condition that funds are not withdrawn from purposes of more practical utility for the encouragement of Sanskrit learning—an object which I described in my note on the recommendations of the Education Commission as an educational luxury rather than a necessity of pressing importance. Subject to that understanding, and in the belief that practical measures to give effect to these proposals must probably be postponed until the present financial pressure has passed away, I proceed to state the method in which increased aid should, in my opinion, be given to the tols.

7. The institution of the Sanskrit Title examination had at once the effect of giving definiteness and precision to the course of studies in the tols—a course which, up to that time, had been pursued on no very definite plan or system. Branches of Sanskrit learning, such as Sankhya and Vedanta, which had long been neglected in the tols, now began to receive attention under the stimulus of a competitive examination; while the prescribed courses gave them a fixed standard to aim at, and a fixed time for the preparation of their subjects. For the first five years the number of candidates varied from about 50 to 70, the average being 61. In 1884 the number of candidates rose to 80, and in 1885 to 106. Meanwhile proposals had been made and sanctioned for raising the standard of examination and modifying the courses in certain points in which experience had shown the desirability of change. The revised regulations, which had been sanctioned and circulated to the tols in 1884, came into force in 1886. The result, as might have been anticipated, was a large reduction in the number of candidates, which fell at the examination of the present year to 58. This was obviously due to the fact that the tols had not yet been able in all cases to work up to the new and higher standard; but there is no reason to doubt that the number of candidates will, as in past years, continue to increase, especially under the stimulus of enhanced rewards. A copy of the revised standard is herewith submitted. The original standard of examination will be found appended to the Government Resolution of 22nd June 1878.

8. In my letter of the 17th December 1878, above quoted, I stated my objections to the introduction into the course of instruction pursued in the tols of any "modern" subjects, such as arithmetic or geography. It will be seen that most of the officers consulted are in favour of introducing such subjects into the course as a condition of receiving aid. I am still of the opinion that that proposal is inexpedient. In the orders of the 14th January 1879, His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor concurred in the opinion that "the tols form a class apart, whose nature and objects mark them off sharply from the ordinary schools of the country, and afford little hope of their being taken up into the general system of liberal instruction. Such as they are, however, they have a value of their own in the eyes of a large section of the people of India, and that value would probably be impaired by any radical change in their system of instruction." I may add to this that the tol pundits are quite incapable of imparting any such instruction, and that, with the ideas that they hold as to the supreme value of Sanskrit learning, they would resent and resist any effort to force such instruction on their pupils. What we desire, again, is to raise and keep these institutions up to the highest standard possible as centres of Sanskrit erudition; and it is clear that that object would be made much more difficult of attainment if the time and attention of the pupils were withdrawn to elementary studies in other subjects for which they have neither aptitude nor inclination. In my opinion, it is far better to recognise the special character of these institutions, and to allow them their special value, without any attempt to introduce into them elements which, however valuable in ordinary circumstances, are in the present case incongruous with their character. In 1878 I was inclined to recommend the introduction at some future time of Bengali composition into the prescribed course. At present I am not disposed to require even this, believing that any efforts that may now be made for the further improvement of the tols should be directed to the encouragement and promotion of Sanskrit learning, and of that only.

9. Further, I would not recommend any adaptation of the ordinary grant-in-aid rules to the purpose of aiding the tols. I would not insist on registers of attendance or expenditure being kept, nor on fixed hours of instruction, nor on a minimum attendance of pupils, nor on any guarantee of private income as a condition of receiving Government aid. I would look to results, and results only; and would give rewards to pundits and pupils, as is now done, upon the issue of the Sanskirt Title Examination, leaving the pundits as heretofore to prepare their pupils for that examination, under the stimulus of the rewards that may be offered, in whatever manner custom or convenience may prescribe. This restriction should not prevent additional aid being given, if necessary, to the Dacca Saraswat Samaj, whose objects are the same, though its standard of examination is lower. At the last examination held by the Samaj, 223 candidates appeared and 128 passed—a fact which seems to show, independently of the known character of the papers, that the standard required of candidates is lower than that of the Calcutta examination. It might be a feasible plan to organise these two examinations into one system, the Dacca examination occupying the place of that lower and preliminary standard, the institution of which has been advocated by Mr. Pope, Inspector of the Behar Circle. But the Samaj does not stand in immediate want of funds, since the balance at its credit on the 31st March 1886 amounted to Rs. 9,345.

10. The question of increasing the amount of aid now given to the tols of Bengal cannot be satisfactorily dealt with without some reference to their number The Inspector of the Presidency Circle suggests a capitation allowance of about one rupee a month for each tol pupil as an approximate rate at which the tols might be aided The number of tols is estimated by the Inspector of the Western Circle at something like 2,500, which would imply an attendance of about 25,000 pupils. The returns for 1884-85 gave 1,088 indigenous schools teaching Sanskrit, with 9,841 pupils. The returns for 1885-86 show 577 such schools with 5,446 pupils; this reduction having been confined to the Patna Division, in which 500 tols were removed from the returns of last year by reason of having less than ten pupils apiece—a restriction which, I may incidentally remark, was intended to apply to primary public schools receiving aid, not to unaided indigenous schools. But if even the lowest estimate be taken, the proposed rate of aid would imply an expenditure of more than Rs. 60,000 a year, which I presume to be out of the question. I mention this, indeed, merely in order to dismiss the proposal, for I cannot consider that a mechanical method of aid, based exclusively or chiefly on number, without reference to any principle of selection, could be regarded as satisfactory The fact is that it is only possible, as it is only necessary, to aid selected tols, those, namely, which establish the character and value of their teaching by their success at a public and competitive examination. If liberal aid is given to the best of these, and if at the same time the names of all tols and candidates that do well are publicly notified, and thus brought into the running for the highest prizes, we shall have done all that is necessary in the way of offering reward and encouragement for past progress, and an incentive for the future. The tols will thus be sifted by a self-acting process; we shall concern ourselves with those that are good or promising, and the rest we may afford to neglect. It is by those tols which from time to time are most advanced and successful that the torch of Sanskrit learning will be kept alight and handed on; and it will be sufficient if the efforts of Government are confined to the improvement and maintenance of these.

11. I now come to the more difficult question of the amount of aid that would be necessary and sufficient for the purpose, and the mode of its distribution. Pundit Mahesh Chandra, whose opinion on such a point must be regarded as having high authority, has always recommended a grant of Rs. 10,000 or Rs. 12,000 a year for subsidising the tols. In my letter of 1878, I declared his proposal to be extravagant, on the ground that we could not foresee the results of the experiment, and that it was better to begin on a very moderate scale, to be increased hereafter should the necessity arise. It appears to me that the contingency contemplated has now arisen; that the principle of granting Government aid to tols after a public examination has been fully accepted, and has taken firm root in Bengal; that the result has been to strengthen and improve the tols and to lend increased vitality to the indigenous study of Sanskrit at a very critical period in its history; and that we may now rightly seek to enlarge the sphere of Government influence and extend its beneficent action by offering additional inducements to the pundits of Bengal to read for the highest standards in Sanskrit and qualify for the highest rewards I assume and recommend that a grant of Rs. 1,000 a month, or Rs. 12,000 a year, may be sanctioned for the purpose. With an annual grant-in-aid of Rs. 7,60,000 for primary schools, and of Rs. 5,41,000 for schools of a higher order, the outlay proposed for the development of a scheme, whose success has been established by experience, will not now be regarded as excessive. I accordingly repeat, without modification, the proposal made in 1878 by Pundit Mahesh Chandra for the distribution of a grant of Rs. 10,000—

	Rs.	Rs.
Rewards to pupils—
4 of Rs. 200 each	800
4 of „ 150 „	600
12 of „ 100 „	1,200
		2,600
Rewards to teachers—
2 of Rs. 500 each	1,000
4 of „ 300 „	1,200
8 of „ 200 „	1,600
30 of „ 100 „	3,000
		6,800
Examiners		400
Stationery, &c.		200
		10,000
Inspection and extraordinary charges		2,000
		12,000

I put this forward as a rough distribution without laying any sort of stress upon it. It is quite certain that experience would suggest modifications in this or any similar scheme of distribution, and equally impossible to say beforehand what direction those modifications would take. But should any definite sum in excess of that now given be sanctioned by Government for distribution to tols on the results of the Title Examination, I should take careful counsel with the Principal of the Sanskrit College before submitting final proposals on the subject. The foregoing scheme rewards the 44 best teachers with prizes varying from Rs. 100 to Rs. 500, and the 20 best pupils with prizes of Rs 100 to Rs 200. While I fully agree with the plan of giving substantial rewards to pupils, so as to give them an additional incentive to exertion, yet I think it will occur to most that the rewards offered in the foregoing distribution to pupils are on the side of liberality; that the value of their prizes might easily be reduced, and the saving employed partly in rewarding an increased number of pupils, and partly in extending the area of aid to pundits. All these, however, are matters for future consideration The rough scheme also includes a provision of Rs. 2,000 for inspection and extraordinary charges. If Pundit Mahesh Chandra's offer to inspect selected tols during the vacations of the Sanskrit College were accepted, a provision of perhaps Rs. 500 a year would be required for his travelling expenses, and other charges of a similar kind might be necessary. But I am not in favour of appointing a special inspecting agency for the visitation of the tols. The proposals which I have submitted render such an agency unnecessary: the pundits will follow their own traditional methods of instruction, and they will neither derive nor require assistance from a system of inspection which has been instituted for quite other purposes. The superior inspecting officers of each district will pay friendly visits to the tols, and may be able to give useful hints on certain points of management. The pundits may also be able to learn a good deal from each other at their annual meetings in Calcutta when they present their pupils for examination.

12. I may here remark that the Nuddea pundits have, ever since its institution, held strangely aloof from the Sanskrit Title Examination. Now and then a Nuddea candidate takes a place on our list, and a Nuddea pundit gets a large reward; but the general attitude of the pundits of Nuddea is what I have stated. The Nuddea school has always claimed for itself higher authority than even the schools of Mithila and Benares, especially in the department of Nyaya Philosophy; and it is well known that the Bengal school of law had its chief development in Nuddea under Raghu Nandan and his successors, "curiously anticipating," as Baboo Radhika Prasanna Mookerjea has remarked to me, "some of the liberal principles announced by the later jurists of Europe" There appears, therefore, to be some feeling of reluctance on the part of the Nuddea pundits to submit themselves and their pupils to a test, the superior authority of which they decline to acknowledge. The pundits of Nuddea have recently established a sort of organization, the object of which is to do for themselves what the Sanskrit Title Examination was designed to do for them and what in fact the Dacca Saraswat Samaj has done This movement, if spontaneous and genuine, deserves every encouragement; but as yet little is known of its working. The impulse appears, moreover, to have been derived chiefly from outside; a Master of Arts of the Calcutta University, who is a Deputy Magistrate in another district, taking the lead as the "Registrar" of the "Nuddea College of Pundits" But whatever be the outcome of the new organization, however great may be its vitality and success, it should still be our object to combine all existing agencies into one co-ordinate system. At present I have reason for believing that the Sanskrit Title Examination affords a better test of actual learning than that instituted by the Nuddea College; and I have little doubt that, if such inducements are offered as are provided in the scheme now proposed, the pundits of Nuddea will take advantage of them. In any case, should the organization of the pundits hereafter prove a success, its independent character may very properly be recognised, and a subsidy given to it on reasonable conditions, as has been done with the Saraswat Samaj.

13. The letter from the Government of India refers to the help which may be expected from wealthy native gentlemen in furtherance of the cause of Sanskrit learning. I take this opportunity of submitting, for the information of Government, a statement of the endowments that have been already made with that object since, and in consequence of, the institution of the Sanskrit Title Examination. They are 19 in all, and are numbered 1, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 69, 70, 85, 95, 99, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 110, 111 in the annexed list of Educational Trust Funds. The special purpose of the endowment is stated in each case It will be seen that the total amount of funds that have been invested in prizes and scholarships for the benefit of Sanskrit students is Rs. 44,500, yielding an annual income of Rs. 1,780 There are, further, annual contributions amounting to Rs. 598, in addition to medals and other prizes. These facts are sufficient to show how fully the institution of the Sanskrit Title Examination has accorded with the feelings and wishes of the native community, and what a liberal response has been made by private munificence to the efforts of Government in this direction. I have little doubt that further encouragement would meet with a further response; and I am also inclined to believe that, when Municipalities and District Boards have settled down to the work of directing and controlling education, they also will find means to promote and stimulate local Sanskrit learning.

14. There remains for consideration the proposal that Government should confer the title of "Pundit Bahadoor" on distinguished Sanskrit scholars. The opinions of the Inspectors are, it will be seen, not generally favourable to this proposal. My own impression is that it should nevertheless be kept in view, and that the body of pundits should be consulted on the question whether such a title, if conferred by Government on their most distinguished representatives, would be acceptable to them as an earnest of interest taken by the ruling power in their special pursuits.

No. 56, dated Calcutta, the 5th January 1885.

From—C. B. CLARKE, Esq., Officiating Director of Public Instruction,

To—The Officiating Principal of the Sanskrit College.

IN reply to your No. 249 of 15th November 1884, proposing that the tols be encouraged liberally with pecuniary aid, Rs. 12,000 a year.

2. Under the Grant-in-aid Rules, any school that teaches reading, writing, and arithmetic in the vernacular can get Government aid, whatever else they teach. It is under this rule that the missionary schools, though they may spend a large portion of their energy in teaching doctrine, or on, purely conversion work, yet are given grants in respect of their teaching, the Rs. 3, in the vernacular. On the same lines grants have been given to some maktabs and some tols. In these cases no pressure has been put on the managers to teach the Government course (except in a few female infant schools). Subject to their teaching the Rs. 3 in the vernacular in a useful manner, they are allowed perfect liberty under the Grant-in-aid Rules what else they teach. They are of course unable to compete successfully for the Government scholarships unless they read the standards appointed for those scholarships.

3. As a rule, the tols in Bengal for the last 19 years (and, as I believe, from the earliest introduction of the grant-in aid system) have declined to accept Government aid on these terms; and the Education Department has refused grants to tols where no useful arithmetic was taught, and where the pupils could not write an easy sentence in Bengali.

4. The result has been that Bengal has accepted useful education in the vernacular everywhere: the tols (as your letter correctly says), with their narrow, exclusive, impractical education, are rapidly passing away. Whether in the early days of education in Bengal any compromise could have been effected, and our middle schools could have been founded on the tols, I cannot say. The tol system, with exclusive Sanskrit training, is doomed, and was doomed 20 years ago.

5. It would be no doubt possible, and might be defensible (though I am not sure of that), were the Government purse bottomless, to give special grants to tols outside the grant-in-aid, to keep flickering this national institution after it has become a thing of the past, and been practically superseded by a more liberal system. Such special grants have been given to a small extent as in Nuddea; but in general out of some special fund.

6. The Government encouragement to Sanskrit is given liberally enough (I think already too liberally) in another way. Our middle education culminates in the Entrance examination, at which most Bengali students take Sanskrit as their second language. Through this, Sanskrit is largely rewarded in the Government junior scholarships; and nearly all the High English schools, where Bengali is the vernacular language, have a Sanskrit teacher, and Sanskrit forms in them a regular (though not unavoidable) part of the school work,—I wish it did not

7. Sanskrit is treated in education as the great national classical language and occupies the same position that Latin does in English education. It forms a prominent feature in the work at all Bengali colleges; and there is moreover a special college, specially devoted to it, under a pundit who has received the decoration of C.I.E.

8. Comparing for a moment Anglo-Saxon, which stands in the same relation to English that Sanskrit does to Bengali, I observe that no encouragement is given to Anglo-Saxon in English schools. I believe there are only two schools in England where any Anglo-Saxon is taught: and this, though knowledge of Anglo-Saxon vastly improves "style" in writing English; and though, as regards matter, the Anglo-Saxon chronicle is worth all the result that can be expressed out of the whole of Sanskrit literature extant, so far as I can learn from Mr. Tawney.

9. On the one side the Government funds are limited: on the other the capacity for holding in children's mind is limited. Both restrictions must confine the Government support throughout Bengal (except in a few large centres) to one system of education and to one course of instruction, viz., that which includes the most essential subjects. In a few places Government may support madrassas, and in a few large towns schools of special instruction. With such few exceptions all the money Government can afford must go to support the general system of education founded on the Rs. 3 in the vernacular.

10. The support given by Government now to the study of Sanskrit (though not in tols) is large; but an unanswerable reason for not spending additional money on tols or other fancy departments of education is that no money has yet been found for a department of the first importance, viz., the national education of girls (not female infants).

11. I am aware that the tol Sanskrit has a flavour about it which the school and college Sanskrit wants (is not this flavour to be perceived in the Calcutta Sanskrit College, at least in less intense degree?) I can assure you that I sympathise with you over the doom of tol Sanskrit which has flourished so many centuries; but it would not be averted by Government now devoting Rs. 12,000 a year or Rs 1,20,000 a year to its encouraging. It is not merely that Government does not encourage the tol pundits; the Bengalis no longer encourage them. The rich man who formerly was pleased with a five-days' visit from a tol pundit, and gave him Rs. 50 on leaving, is now impatient to get rid of such a visitor, and gives him the minimum present he thinks possible.

12 I cannot recommend Government to spend money in the endeavour to put life into a tol system close on death from old age. If you still wish to have the matter referred for the opinion of Government, I will forward your letter together with the present one.

13. The Mooktear examination is, I believe, settled by the High Court, and I also understand that in future the Vernacular Scholarship certificate will be of no value in qualifying for that examination.

14. I must strongly oppose your proposal that the pundits of all minor, vernacular, and aided schools be recruited from the tol pundit class. It is rare that a tol pundit is fit even to be guru in a primary school, and the tol pundits employed in general education I have found as a rule to be very bad teachers, whether employed in primary or in middle schools. They used to do best in teaching Sanskrit for Entrance; but partly owing to the English translation now required, your Sanskrit College pundits are now greatly preferred in all zillah schools.

REGULATIONS FOR THE EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR SANSKRIT TITLES

TO HAVE EFFECT FROM 1886 (BENGALI YEAR 1292).

1. The examination will be held annually in the Calcutta Sanskrit College, and at Katak, on the first Monday in the month of Phálguna and the three following days, from 12 to 4 P.M.

2. Any person, wherever educated, may be admitted to this examination.

3. Every candidate for admission to the examination should send an application in the subjoined form, together with a fee, Rs. 2, to the Principal of the Sanskrit College, Calcutta, before the 15th day of Pausha, preceding the examination * Every such application must be accompanied by a certificate of character from some respectable person, and a certificate, signed by some respectable Sanskrit scholar, showing that the candidate has a reasonable probability of passing the examination, and that he has studied with his teacher for the period mentioned in the application A candidate applying for admission to the examination after the 15th of Pausha, and within that month, shall have to pay a fee of Rs. 2-8

FORM OF APPLICATION.

I request permission to present myself at the ensuing Sanskrit Title Examination.

I have &c.,
A. B.

Particulars to be filled in by the candidate :—

4. A candidate who fails to pass, or to present himself for the examination, will not be entitled to claim a refund of the fee

5. A candidate may be admitted to one or more subsequent examinations on payment of the prescribed fee on each occasion

6. The subjects of examination are given in the annexed list.

7. The examination will be conducted by means of written papers, as well as by a vivâ voce test.

8. The written examination will be held on the first three days from 12 to 4 P.M. The vivâ voce examination will be held on the fourth day, and on one or two days following, if necessary

9. To pass the examination, a candidate must obtain 40 per cent. in the written papers and 50 per cent. of the total number of marks, except in the case of Hindu Philosophy and Astronomy, in which a candidate must obtain 33 per cent. in each paper and 50 per cent. in the aggregate

10. Within six weeks after the examination, a meeting of the examiners shall be held, at which the Principal of the Sanskrit College will preside, for the purpose of preparing a report on the results of the examination for submission to the Director of Public Instruction.

11. A certificate of proficiency, signed by the Principal of the Sanskrit College, and the Director of Public Instruction, showing by an appropriate title (e.g., Kavya Tirtha, Nyaya Tirtha, &c.,) the branch of Sanskrit learning which has been studied, shall be granted to each successful candidate

12. The names of the successful candidates and the titles awarded to them shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

Dated Calcutta the 18th July 1886.

From—JOHN BEAMES, Esq., President. Salaries Commission,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

In reply to your memorandum No. 449T—G. dated 15th June 1886, regarding Pundit Mahesh Chandra Nyayaratna's proposals for aid to Sanskrit tols, I have the honour to state that I have recently had the advantage of discussing this subject with my friend, the pundit, who has explained his views to me more at length than he had previously done in his memorial to Government.

2. So far as concerns any practical benefit to the learned world from the study of the Sanskrit language and literature, I do not think that the grant of pecuniary aid to Bengal tols is necessary Sanskrit is now far more earnestly and intelligently studied in Europe and America than in India. Most, if not all, of the leading Universities in those countries have Chairs of Sanskrit and Comparative Philology. Excellent dictionaries and grammars, accurate and critical editions of the principal Sanskrit classics, have been published in England, Germany, and other countries. In India the Asiatic Society of Bengal has for years past been publishing critical editions of Sanskrit works in its Bibliotheca Indica, and this is still going on. In Benares also the editing of Sanskrit texts is carried on in a publication called "The Pandit," which appears periodically. On the whole, however, it is to Europe, and not to India, that we must look for the further advancement of this branch of knowledge.

3. As regards the sentimental regret that Sanskrit learning is languishing in its native home, it may be said that the same fate has befallen all the languages and sciences which Europe has received from Asia. We do not now hear of any one at Jerusalem advancing the study of Hebrew, nor are Mecca or Baghdad known in the present day as centres for the diffusion of Arabic learning. These studies have been transferred to the Universities of Europe.

4. The same process has taken place as respects the ancient classical languages of Europe itself. The profoundest works on the structure and history of Latin and Greek, and the most correct editions of the classical authors in those languages, come to us from Germany, not from Rome or Athens. Sanskrit, therefore, in this respect, is no worse off than the other ancient languages of the world. Indeed, in some respects, it is better off, for it is still studied (if that be really any advantage) on its native soil. The pundits of Benares, and the Shastris of Puna, not to mention other places, still carry on the study of Sanskrit with much learning and industry; and it must be admitted that sacred Benares has a far greater right to be considered the "native home" of Sanskrit than Bengal.

5. I believe my friend, the pundit, agrees with me generally in what I have stated above. He, however, urges that even European scholars acknowledge their obligations to native pundits at the present day, and admit their superiority in some respects. This is quite true. The native scholar, speaking from his childhood a language derived from Sanskrit, and containing a large proportion of pure and unchanged Sanskrit words, has the great advantage over the European of starting with an intimate knowledge of the vocabulary of the language, which the latter only acquires by long study. Besides this, being a Hindu by religion, and practising daily the ceremonies enjoined by that creed, he has a clearer perception of what is meant by the sacred texts, and can thus throw light on many obscure passages which the European fails to understand. It is for this reason that scholars from England, Germany, and other countries so often visit India, and especially Benares, to perfect themselves in the study of Sanskrit.

6. But in all this movement and progress the tols of Bengal take no part. Comparative Philology, that science to which Sanskrit owes so much of its importance and interest to scholars, is entirely unknown to the students of those institutions. To them the study of Sanskrit seems to be rather the end than the means. They spend an inordinately long time over their studies, and when those studies have been completed, it would be difficult to say what practical use they make of them. Some, after spending half a lifetime in learning, spend the other half in teaching others what they have learnt. Some do not appear to do even this much.

7. In the present day, when the knowledge of English and the sciences which are learnt through its medium opens up prospects of advancement in life, which, though steadily decreasing, are still considerable, while the knowledge of Sanskrit possesses no such advantages, it is not surprising that the latter should be neglected for the former. Even native noblemen and gentlemen of wealth and position do not favour the study of Sanskrit so much as they did in former times; but display their liberality preferentially towards students of the English language and European science.

8. If, however, the plea for support to the Bengali tols cannot be based on the argument that they are useful for purposes of scholarship, it might perhaps be urged that they had their use in training a body of men learned in Hindu law. Every transaction of life to a Hindu is regulated by the precepts of his sacred books, and the "vyavastha," or opinion of pundits is to the orthodox Hindu a final and unquestionable decision. But here, again, the tols fail to meet the demand for qualified jurists. In the first place, the students spend (one might almost write waste) many years of their long scholastic career in studying grammar, rhetoric, logic, and philosophy, and are thus not always sufficiently well acquainted with those parts of their literature which deal with the affairs of daily life to be able to give an authoritative opinion; and, in the second place, our courts of justice often decide points of Hindu law without having recourse to the opinions of pundits. The copious stores of recorded cases and the translations of Sanskrit law books now furnish materials for arriving at a decision on almost every legal question, and render recourse to the pundit and his vyavastha unnecessary.

9. I have thought it advisable to make the foregoing remarks in order to set clearly before Government the present position of Sanskrit studies and the place occupied in respect to them by the tols of Bengal. It may be briefly summed up thus:—Sanskrit learning is not languishing on its native soil, being actively prosecuted at Benares and other places in India, although it is more vigorously and intelligently carried on in Europe than in India. The Indian pundits nevertheless possess certain advantages which render their co-operation valuable to European scholars. In this co-operation the Bengali tols take no part; they are useful neither for scientific nor for legal purposes, and they are languishing because of the want of interest displayed towards them by the leading members of native society.

10. If these views be admitted, as I think they must be by all who are acquainted with the subject, there remains only one question—Can these tols be improved and stimulated so as to make them capable of bearing fruit and rendering real service? The idea of my friend, the pundit, is the usual one with all natives that, if Government will take the lead and grant aid, everything will go right. Native gentlemen will make grants of money and in other ways patronize and take an interest in these institutions, which will then become really useful seats of learning. The question is rather one for the Educational Department than for a mere student like myself to decide. I think, however, it would be a pity to allow the tols to perish entirely for want of support. Although they are not very useful at present, it seems worth while to try the experiment of making them useful. Subject of course to the opinion of the Director of Public Instruction, I would venture to suggest that aid might be granted to some of the better conducted tols on the condition of their reforming their style of teaching and bringing it into harmony with modern ideas. The time occupied by the course of study should be considerably curtailed. Indeed, I am informed by competent persons that it would be quite possible to work through the whole range of subjects in half or less than half the number of years now usually spent on them. It is doubtful how far the present pundits of the tols would be competent to conduct a more expeditious method of study, or whether it would be possible to replace them by teachers capable of instructing on a more advanced system without risking the loss of such an amount of popularity among the class that resort to them as they now enjoy. Perhaps the first step to be taken would be to draw up, in consultation with Pundit Mahesh Chandra and some of his colleagues, a prospectus of an improved course of studies, fixing the number of terms or years to be allotted to each subject, so much for grammar, so much for logic, rhetoric, and the rest; and then to ascertain whether the tol pundits would agree to adopt this course on condition of receiving pecuniary assistance. Inspection from time to time would of course be necessary, and could be arranged for by the Educational Department. I am not, however, prepared to say that so large a sum as Rs. 15,000 could be required, or that it could be profitably spent for some years to come. This, however, is also a matter on which the Educational Department is better qualified to advise than I am.

11. This amount of State aid is, I think, as much as can be asked for at present. Any further assistance should come from native gentlemen of wealth and position as pointed out by the Government of India. It is to them and to their countrymen of the Hindu persuasion that the students of tols are likely to be of use as expounders of the Hindu law in matters affecting religious observances and the transactions of daily life.

12. Regarding the proposed title of Pundit Bahadur, I can only say that it sounds to me somewhat incongruous and inappropriate to decorate a peaceful scholar with the martial title Bahadur. More suitable, I think, would be an arrangement by which the Calcutta University might confer an academic degree with its corresponding title such as Doctor of Hindu Law, Doctor of Rhetoric, or the like, on distinguished pundits. Such title need not subject the recipient to the necessity of passing an examination, but might be conferred honoris causa by the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor at the annual meeting of the University, with a diploma signed by the Viceroy. This distinction would probably be highly prized, and be considered as a sufficient recognition of the importance of Sanskrit studies.

Dated Furreedpore, the 26th July 1886.

From—K. G. GUPTA, Esq., Offg. Magistrate and Collector of Furreedpore,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge receipt of your endorsement No. 45 T—G, dated Darjeeling, the 15th June 1886, forwarding certain papers regarding the encouragement of Sanskrit learning, for an expression of my opinion on the subject.

2. There is no reason to fear that Sanskrit is on the road to extinction; on the contrary, there is every indication of its gradually taking deeper and more widespread root in the educational system of the country. It forms one of the standard subjects in all the colleges and high schools, and instead of being confined, as formerly, to one or two castes, it is now the common heritage of all classes, and is at this moment more extensively studied than it has ever been at any time, ancient or modern. There is, however, a radical change in the method of teaching, and tols, which represent the indigenous mode, are no doubt languishing. The causes of their decline are—

1*st*.—Falling off in the demand for the class of scholars turned out by them. Formerly every rich Hindu of any influence used to keep his little court at which he supported one or more pundits. Moreover the services of learned Brahmins were in constant requisition for regulating the numerous observances and ceremonials, social and religious, that constituted the daily life of an orthodox Hindu. But all these are now changed.

2*nd*.—The learning they impart has fallen in value as a means of earning a livelihood. No public profession is open to pundits trained in tols, and their other resources are much curtailed, such as largesses on the occasion of Sradh and other ceremonies.

3*rd*.—Not only are pupils taught gratis, but they have to be found in board and lodging. No wonder, then, that with diminished resources, and with the daily increasing cost of living, few can see their way to keep up tols.

4*th*.—The method of teaching in tols is so defective and dilatory, that unless one is of more than average intelligence and application, one finds, after years of toil, that he has only an imperfect knowledge of perhaps only one branch of study. In these days of struggle for existence, few can afford to spend the best years of one's life in this kind of profitless study. It is undeniable that tols occasionally produce scholars who, by a lifelong devotion to their particular subjects, acquire such a mastery over them as is rarely surpassed or seldom equalled. But the general results are unsatisfactory. Those, therefore, who now-a-days wish to study Sanskrit as the classical language of India, generally adopt the modern method of learning as being simpler and speedier than that pursued in tols.

3. It is thus manifest that the decline of tols is due to natural causes, and it is a question whether public money ought to be spent in bolstering up an institution doomed to certain extinction, or in propping up a method which fails to satisfy modern requirements. It seems to me that the disappearance of tols is only a question of time, and, do what we may, we can never give them a fresh lease of life Perhaps so long as they exist, it may be as well to help and encourage them; but in order to do this, any system of fixed subsidy or grant-in-aid, except at an enormous outlay, would not be of much avail. In the first place, the institutions are, so to speak, personal; that is to say, they are founded and maintained by individuals on their own responsibility, and are in no way controlled or supervised by local bodies of any kind; thus the cornerstone of the grant-in-aid system is wanting here. In the next place, there are still a good many tols scattered all over the province, notably in the districts of the Presidency, Burdwan, and Dacca Divisions, and any attempt to subsidise them at the proposed monthly outlay of Rs. 1,000 would be utterly fruitless. Thirdly, to give a grant-in-aid without at the same time providing for an efficient system of inspection would be money thrown away, and a special inspecting agency would cost a great deal more than the modest sum of Rs. 250 a month asked for by Pandit Mahesh Chandra. Fourthly, Governmental control would interfere with the existing freedom of action which tols have, and would be felt to be irksome. It is therefore not in the direction of a system of grant-in-aid that we should look for the means of lending a helping hand to these ancient institutions. The introduction of an annual examination for the conferring of Sanskrit titles has so far been attended with satisfactory results, and I am inclined to think that it ought to be extended and elaborated, and greater academic value given to it. This could be done by having a separate Faculty of the Calcutta University for the promotion of Sanskrit learning, the members of which would consist largely of eminent pundits brought up in the old school, with a sprinkling of other educated men having an aptitude for business and organization. Like other Faculties, it would be an examining body, fix standards, regulate examinations (which may be of several grades, as in Arts), and confer titles bearing Sanskrit names.

4. In former days, Navadvip alone had the exclusive prerogative of conferring titles; but the function has been gradually usurped by other local bodies, such as the Sarasvat Samaj of Dacca and the Dharma Rakshini Sabha of Rajshahye, with the result that the same titles are indiscriminately conferred on very different standards of examination. It is therefore all the more necessary that Government should step in, and by insisting on a uniform standard, prevent the degradation of titles. It is not desirable that in this matter the privilege of local bodies, especially of Navadvip, should be altogether taken away; and a sort of compromise may be effected by reserving certain titles as the exclusive gift of the Sanskrit Faculty of the University, and making it penal for any other bodies to confer them, the latter being still at liberty to grant other titles. The examinations would be held at the chief centres, be open to all tols and private students, and on the result of them both students and teachers might be rewarded as is done in the case of primary schools. Under such a system a few thousand rupees would go a great way, nothing would have to be spent in inspection, and the pundits would be left entirely unfettered in the management of their tols.

5. The degrees granted by the University would soon be appreciated at their proper worth, and it would then be unnecessary and superfluous to create such hybrid titles as "Pandit Bahadur."

6. The number of endowments for the promotion of Sanskrit learning is no doubt small; but it is not that my wealthy countrymen are insensible to its benefits; on the contrary, large sums are still spent by them annually in gifts to learned Brahmins. An endowment presupposes the existence of an institution to be endowed, and as regards the indigenous method of teaching, there is not one such, for tols are ephemeral from their nature and constitution, and can never be permanently endowed, although so long as they last they are supported by the munificence of rich Hindus. It is noteworthy that, within the short time the system of examination for the bestowal of titles has been in existence, several rewards and scholarships have been founded, and I have no doubt their number would be largely increased were its dignity enhanced and its usefulness extended in some such way as I have proposed.

7. I take it that, as the note of Pandit Mahesh Chandra Nyayaratna evidently refers to Sanskrit learning as taught in tols, I am not called upon to express any opinion on the larger question of the study of Sanskrit in its general aspects; but I may be permitted to make one observation in regard to the Sanskrit College in Calcutta. Living in Calcutta is dear, and there are few Brahmin lads who can afford the cost. An increase in the number of foundation scholarships to enable poor students to join the college would be productive of much good.

No. 623, dated Calcutta, the 18th November 1886.

From—P. NOLAN, Esq. Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Dept.,
To—The Offg. Secy to the Government of India, Home Department.

IN forwarding with your letter No 155, dated 18th May 1886, a memorandum containing the recommendations of Pundit Mahesh Chandra Nyayaratna for the encouragement of Sanskrit learning, you requested me to submit any remarks which the Lieutenant-Governor might have to offer on the subject generally, adding that it has been suggested to the Government of India that if the matter were suitably represented to wealthy and liberal native gentlemen as opportunity offered, endowments might be forthcoming on a larger scale than at present. The recommendations of the Pundit are that Rs. 12,000 a year be spent in grants-in-aid to Sanskrit tols, and Rs. 3,000 in inspection, and that Government should confer on Sanskrit scholars suitable titles, such as that of Pundit Bahadur.

2. Your letter was circulated to gentlemen interested in Sanskrit learning, and I am to enclose copies* of the replies received from the Director of Public Instruction, from Mr. Beames, Commissioner of Burdwan, and Mr. Gupta, Officiating Collector of Furreedpore. These papers contain very interesting views of the present position of the tols of Bengal from three different stand-points—that of the responsible head of the Educational Department, that of the European student of Sanskrit, and that of a native gentleman of high European education, who takes an important part in the administration of the country.

* Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 397, dated the 23rd September 1886, with enclosures Letter from Mr Beames, Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, dated the 18th July 1886.
Letter from Mr K G. Gupta, Officiating Collector of Furreedpore, dated the 24th July 1886.

3 The Director of Public Instruction points out that, in consequence of the institution of Sanskrit Title examinations by this Government, nineteen endowments have been made by private persons for the promotion of this branch of learning, and a sum of Rs. 44,500, yielding an income of Rs. 1,780, has with this object been invested in Government securities. The publication of the present correspondence would probably elicit further aid, particularly if the Governor-General in Council should find himself able, on consideration of the facts disclosed, to commend the object as one worthy of encouragement, and having special claims to the assistance of wealthy Hindus.

4 The papers submitted with this letter will show that there is a definite consensus of opinion in favour of giving an increased aid to the tols of Bengal The Lieutenant-Governor entirely adopts this view, and he agrees with the Director of Public Instruction as to the manner in which such increased aid should be afforded. The system of grants-in-aid generally prevalent in Bengal, which requires that formal accounts and registers of attendance should be kept up, cannot be advantageously adapted to the indigenous tol, in which a small circle of disciples gathers round a pundit. The present principle of payment-by-results, as ascertained at public examinations, is far more suitable to the peculiar requirements of such primeval institutions. With regard to the suggestion that titles should be conferred on representative Sanskrit scholars, the Lieutenant-Governor considers, with the Director, that no present action is necessary, but that the proposal should be kept in view, and that, with some modification of the particular title to be given (as suggested by Mr. Beames), the pundits should be consulted as to whether such honours would be really appreciated.

5. Sir Rivers Thompson must reserve his opinion as to the extent to which the present expenditure on tols can be increased, until the result of the renewal of the Provincial Contract shows what funds will be available for educational purposes in Bengal during the next five years. The returns for 1884-85 gave 1,088 indigenous schools teaching Sanskrit, with 9,841 pupils, and these did not include all the tols which, according to the estimate of the Inspector of the Presidency Circle, must number 2,500 with 25,000 pupils. The popularity of these institutions is proved by the numbers in which they are found, though at present practically unaided, and by the readiness with which private persons have of late years contributed to their endowments. As to their utility, it may be remarked that, though under the prevailing system the students in the aided schools of Bengal acquire some knowledge of a number of useful matters, a certain value must be attributed to the exclusive persistent attention with which the disciple of the tol keeps to a single subject for a long series of years, in the hope of mastering it at last. Considering the extent to which Sanskrit learning is cultivated in the tols, Pundit Mahesh Chandra Nyayaratna has every right to press for a grant of Rs. 15,000 for their encouragement. The Lieutenant-Governor, however, entertains some doubts as to whether the conditions of the next Provincial Contract will enable him to make an assignment such as the Pundit proposes.

From—A. P. MacDonnell, Esq., Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of India, Home Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 623, dated the 18th ultimo, forwarding copies of communications from the officers* marginally named, in connection with certain recommendations, made by Pundit Mahesa Chandra Nyayaratna for the encouragement of Sanskrit learning in Bengal, and expressing His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor's view that increased aid should be given to the tols of Bengal. Sir Rivers Thompson reserves his opinion as to the exact amount of assistance that can be given by him pending the settlement of the Provincial contract for Bengal, and suggests that the publication of the correspondence would probably result in increased support being given to these institutions by the wealthy Hindus of Bengal. The proposal to grant honorary titles in addition to pecuniary assistance, in order to foster improvement in the method of instructions adopted in the tols, will be kept in view by His Honor, but no action in this direction is considered necessary at present.

Mr A W Croft, Director of Public Instruction.
Mr. John Beames, Commissioner, Burdwan Division.
Mr K G Gupta, Officiating Collector of Furreedpore.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Governor-General in Council has perused these papers with interest, and agrees to their being published, under the orders of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, in the Calcutta Gazette. I am at the same time to express the hope of His Excellency in Council that the matter dealt with in the present correspondence will continue to receive His Honor's attention and assistance so far as financial considerations permit, and that the native community of Bengal, interested in Sanskrit learning, will also come forward to assist in promoting the efficiency of the tols.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days is the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional stations for the period in question during the past ten years. The rainfall is the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional stations for the period in question during the past ten years. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 17th December 1886.

The variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater.
Cloud amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "District observations of rainfall" each normal means
The means of the district are the numerical averages of the rainfall return received in the district, i.e., from the total rainfall at the sub-division

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

THE mortuary returns of the districts in Bengal, for the month of October 1886, disclose the following particulars :—

1. That 139,133 persons died among a population of 66,163,884, representing an annual death-rate of 25·20 per 1,000 against 21·60 per 1,000 in the preceding month, and 27·60 per 1,000 in the corresponding month of the past year, indicating, as compared with the latter period, a great retrogression in registration.

2. That the highest death-rates were reported to have occurred in the following districts :—

Districts.	Ratio per mille.	Districts.	Ratio per mille.
Shahabad	77·64	Dinajpur	30·06
Monghyr	43 44	Murshedabad	29·04
Gya	41·52	Bogra	28·92
Julpaiguri	40·68	Pubna	28·44

Patna	34·92	Darjiling	26·64
Rungpore	32·76	Sarun	25·08
Rajshahye	31 44

3. That the total mortality of the month distributed under the following specific heads of disease stands as follows :—

	Ratio per mille during—
	October 1886.	October 1885.
Cholera	1·44	2·52
Small-pox	·01	·01
Fever	18·96	20 04
Bowel-complaints	·81	1·08
Injury	·48	·60
Other causes	3·24	3·12

indicating chiefly that, in comparison with the mortality of the corresponding month of the preceding year, the severity of cholera and fever had, on the whole, declined considerably.

4. That cholera, fever, and the diseases coming under the head of "Other causes" were notably fatal in the following districts, the other maladies exhibiting no local exacerbations :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.

OFFICE OF SANITARY COMMISSIONER FOR BENGAL,
The 20th December 1886

R. LIDDERDALE, M.D.,
Deputy Surgeon-General, Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal.

MEMORANDUM.

THE table appended to this memorandum furnishes the following particulars in connection with the registration of births and deaths in the principal Municipalities in Bengal during the week ending 27th November 1886.

1. That the birth-rate in these Municipalities amounted to 27·1 per 1,000 of population against 24·9 per 1,000 during the preceding week ending 20th November, indicating a sensible improvement in the registration of the events, and the death-rate to 48·4 per 1,000 as opposed to very nearly the same proportion, viz. 48·0 per 1,000.

2. That the following Municipalities furnished the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.

	Ratio per mille.
Naraingunge	66·2
Beauleah	60·4
Durbhanga	52·7
Comillah	46·2
Mozufferpore	38·9
Bhagulpore	38·0
Monghyr	37·1
Serampore	33·4
Howrah	32·6
Gya	30·1

Deaths.

	Ratio per mille.
Serampore	92·2
Puri	79·7
Beauleah	78·8
Suburbs of Calcutta	72·6
Mozufferpore	68·1
Bhagulpore	67·0
Purneah	65·8
Kishnaghur	58·7
Howrah	52·1
Hughli	44·3
Gya	43·7
Bali	42·1
Patna	40·8
Monghyr	40·7
Durbhanga	40·1
Naraingunge	37·2
Midnapore	35·6
Santipore	35·0

3. That in comparison with the results of the preceding week there was a diminution of mortality from fever, but no noticeable differences in the casualty-rates from the rest of the diseases : vide figures quoted below :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	27th Nov. 1886.	20th Nov. 1886.
Cholera	14·1	13·9
Small-pox	·03	...
Fever	17·5	18·7
Bowel-complaints	6·0	5·2
Injury	·3	·3
Other causes	10·4	9·9

4. That while the casualties from small-pox and injury were nowhere noticeably large, the rest of the above-mentioned maladies caused the greatest loss of life in the following Municipalities :—

Cholera.

	Ratio per mille.
Mozufferpore	40·2
Kishnaghur	32·2
Ranaghat	29·9
Bhagulpore	27·1
Serampore	25·5
Puri	25·1
Suburbs of Calcutta	23·6
Howrah	21·2
Santipore	21·0
Hughli	16·1
Patna	15·9
Dacca	5·2
Monghyr	4·5
Gya	3·4

Fever.

	Ratio per mille.
Beauleah	73·6
Purneah	48·4
Serampore	31·4
Bali	24·6
Jessore	24·4
Durbhanga	24·4
Suburbs of Calcutta	22·3
Monghyr	21·7
Burdwan	21·4

Bowel-complaints.

	Ratio per mille.
Purneah	17·3
Puri	14·7
Howrah	13·1
Suburbs of Calcutta	10·9

Other causes.

	Ratio per mille.
Puri	25·1
Serampore	21·6
Naraingunge	20·7
Gya	17·1
Suburbs of Calcutta	15·7
Bhagulpore	13·6
Dacca	11·7
Durbhanga	11·0

It will be noticed from the above table that there was a considerable reduction of cholera mortality in the Puri and Mozufferpore towns, in comparison with its incidence during the preceding week ; that the same disease assumed serious proportions in the Kishnaghur and Ranaghat towns ; and that Beauleah and Purneah, which suffered very severely from fever, during the preceding week, exhibited greatly enhanced mortality from it during the week under notice.

5. That the mortality referable to Sex, Class and Age, stood as exhibited below :—

According to Sex.

	Ratio per mille.
Males	49·1
Females	47·7
Ratio of male deaths to every 100 female deaths	116

According to Class.

	Ratio per mille.
Christians	13·0
Hindus	51·1
Mahomedans	43·5
Buddhists	24·2
Other classes	36·4

According to Age.

	Ratio per mille.
Under 1 year	277·8
1 and under 5 years	65·4
5 „ 10 „	36·1
10 „ 15 „	26·7
15 „ 20 „	30·8
20 „ 30 „	31·5
30 „ 40 „	37·6
40 „ 50 „	36·3
50 „ 60 „	61·2
60 years and upwards	108·5

[1] special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under the head not having been recorded under the authorised form of age classification

This is also due to the hill drainage to the left entering the canal.

GENERAL REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS.

The gross weight lifted during the month under review stands at 16,355·50 tons, against 13,316 74 tons carried during the corresponding month last year, the net increase being 3,038 76 tons or 22 81 per cent.

Increases.

Coal ... ... 612·13 tons.

Increase due to a larger amount of Locomotive coal having been carried during the month.

Cotton piece-goods . ... 370·35 tons.

The falling off under this head during the previous two months will explain the present increase.

Ginger ... ... 151·47 tons.

Due to a good crop and fair demand for export

Jute ... ... 2,313·64 tons.

Increase due to a good demand in Calcutta for export at fair price.

Liquor .. .. 2·62 tons.

The falling off during July last will explain this increase.

Miscellaneous ... ... 668 10 tons.

This is a trade fluctuation. There was decrease under this head in the previous month.

Oil . .. . 25 46 tons,

The traffic under this head shews an increase of 25 per cent. compared with the corresponding period of the previous year.

Rice ... ... 981·89 tons.

Due to a good crop and fair demand in the flooded districts.

Seeds ... . 49·77 tons.

A larger quantity of linseed, mustard and teel seed was despatched from Raninagar, Atrai, Madhnagar and Malanchi during the month under review.

Decreases.

Cotton ... ... 5·07 tons.

During this month only one maund of cotton passed over this line against 139 despatched in August 1885.

Gunny-bags . ... 80·04 tons,

This falling off appears to be owing to incessant rain during the month, rendering carting from the interior to railway stations difficult.

Grain and pulses other than rice and paddy .. .. 126·82 tons.

The present falling off is expected in the face of increased traffic during last month.

Hides ... . 13 04 tons.

There was a falling off in the demand for export.

Intoxicating drugs other than opium ... ... 2·50 tons.

The decrease is trifling.

Metal ... ... 193 85 tons.

The decrease is 93 per cent., and will in all probability be met by increased despatches later on.

Paddy . .. . 162·49 tons.

This is the end of the season, and the continued heavy despatches under this head since October 1885 will account for the present falling off.

Railway materials . . .. 769·76 tons

Due to stoppage of work in the Assam-Behar Railway.

Salt .. .. 146·58 tons.

The falling off is due to the rains, when carting into the interior is difficult

Sugar . . . . 40·37 tons.

The local markets appear to have been well stocked.

Twist ... ... 19·51 tons.

There was little demand for this article in the local markets during the month under notice

Tea .. .. 2·59 tons.

The decrease is slight and needs no explanation.

Tobacco ... ... 539·60 tons.

The demand for export to Burmah has fallen off.

Timber . . .. 35·45 tons.

Despatches from Siliguri, Shikarpur and Jalpaiguri fell off during the month.

Increase. Tons.

Cotton piece-goods ... 28

The increase is due to urgent demands, owing to cold weather

Edible grains (rice and paddy) ... 77

The increase in this staple is due to plentiful crops and larger export from Noodu and Bokharu stations.

Gunny-bags and cloth ... 21

This increase is due to increased grain traffic.

Oil-seeds, mustard and rape ... 15

The increase is due to mustard and rape being imported by retail vendors to Bokharu and Noodu.

Railway plant and rolling-stock ... 32

The increase is due to more railway materials carried during the month.

Salt ... 16

The increase is due to salt being imported by retail vendors to Bokharu and Noodo.

Silk, raw ... 17

The increase is due to tusser cocoons imported from Burrakur.

Decrease. Tons

Coal ... 483

The decrease is due to previous stock not being exhausted.

Cotton, raw ... 10

The decrease is due to previous stock not being exhausted.

Metals (others) ... 9

The decrease is due to iron included under this head last year, but shown separately this year.

THE British Admiralty, London, has given notice—on the authority of the Commander of the Italian gun-vessel Scillia—of the existence of the undermentioned shoals lying about 3½ miles N. E. of Jezirát Dhi-l-kaus, approach to 'Asab bay from the south-eastward:—

These shoals (Scilla shoals), composed of sand, extend one mile in a N. W. by N. and S. E. by S. direction, with a breadth of 5 cables; the shoalest spot, with a depth 2¾ fathoms at low-water, lies near the S. E. end of the shoal ground with the following bearings and distance:—

Rás Makawwa beacon	...	...	S. 16° W, distant 3½ miles.
Saddle Mount	...	...	N. 89° W.
N. E. extreme of Jezirát Fátimah		...	N. 75° W.

Position.—Latitude 13° 01′ N.; longitude 42° 58′ E.

Note.—In a N. W. by N. direction from the above shoalest spot, at the distance of 3½ cables, there is a depth of 3½ fathoms at low-water; and at the distance of 7 cables, 4½ fathoms at low-water; close around these patches the soundings are 5½ to 6 fathoms at low-water.

(2). Shoal eastward of Ràs Makawwa.

Also, of the existence of a shoal lying about 4 miles E. by N. ½ N. from Rás Makawwa, approach to 'Asab bay from the south-eastward:—

This shoal, composed of sand, and about 5 cables in extent, consists of five patches, having 3 to 5 fathoms water on them at low-water with 5½ to 6 fathoms around at low-water. The shoalest patch (3 fathoms) lies near the centre with the following bearings:—

Roheitah bluff	...	...	...	S. 13° E.
Rás Makawwa beacon		...	...	S. 74° W.

Position.—Latitude 12° 59′ N.; longitude 43° 01′ 30″ E.

(3). Position and particulars of Bosanquet shoal.

Also, with reference to this Department Notice to Mariners, No. 59 (2), of the 25th October 1886, on the existence of a shoal lying in the northern entrance to 'Asab bay, about 1¾ miles E. ¼ N. from the position assigned to Bosanquet shoal:—

Further information has been received from the British Admiralty, London, that the shoal therein described is Bosanquet shoal.

Bosanquet shoal (not marked by discoloured water), composed of coarse sand and broken shells, with depths of 3¼ to 5½ fathoms at low-water, extends about 3¾ cables in a N. W. and S. E. direction, with a breadth of 2¾ cables at low-water; on its northern side the depths increase quickly to 11 fathoms at low-water; it lies with the following bearings:—

West extreme of Jázirát Fetimah	...	...	...	S. 33° E.
Saddle Mount	...	...	...	S. 45° W.
Sanáh Bór islet summit	...	...	...	S. 86° 30′ W.

Note.—When on this shoal, Ganga and Saddle Mounts are nearly in line.
The bearings are magnetic.

NOTICE TO MARINERS—(No. 79).

INDIA—WEST COAST.

COAST OF SIND.

INDUS RIVER.

Entrance and approach to Kurrachee Harbour.

THE following revision of a notification on the authority of the Port Officer of Kurrachee is published for general information:—

LIGHTS.—The entrance to the port is marked by two lights called respectively the Manora point and Breakwater. The Manora point light, adjoining the S. W. bastion of Manora fort, West point of entrance, is a round stone tower painted white; it exhibits a dioptric revolving white light of the first order, showing a bright flash every two minutes. The light, which is 150 feet above the level of the sea, is visible in clear weather 20 miles in every direction seaward, and was first lighted in its present position in the year 1848, but was subsequently altered to a revolving light in 1877; latitude 24° 47′ 21″ N., longitude 66° 58′ 15″ E. The Breakwater light is a red fixed light, and is exhibited at the extreme end of the breakwater to facilitate the entry of steam-ships into the port at night; it is 46 feet above high-water level, and is visible about 3 miles.

KURRACHEE HARBOUR.—In supersession of former Notice No. 18, issued by the Superintendent, Marine Survey of India, Calcutta, on the 30th November 1876, on the directions for entering and leaving the Port of Kurrachee, the following, with reference to draught of vessels, received the sanction of the Commissioner of Sind on the 29th September 1886:—

TIDES.—It is high water full and change at Manora point light-house at 10h. 30m.; the average rise and fall of springs is 9 feet 6 inches, and neaps 5 to 6 feet.

DEPTH OF WATER IN ENTRANCE CHANNEL.—During spring tides, there will be found a depth of 29 feet 6 inches, and in neaps 25 to 26 feet at high water.

DRAUGHT OF VESSELS.—Vessels with a draught not exceeding 22 feet 6 inches can enter or leave the port without difficulty or risk during all seasons of the year; in the South-west Monsoon the maximum draught allowed is 23 feet; but for loading during springs and fine weather this might be increased at the discretion of the Marine authorities to 23 feet 6 inches. In the fair season, the maximum draught allowed is 21 feet 6 inches, but vessels can load to a greater draught outside the harbour with safety.

TIME OF TIDE FOR ENTERING PORT.—Sailing-ships should enter the port on the ebb-tide; steam-vessels can enter either flood or ebb at the pilot's discretion; but masters of vessels should not, on any account, attempt to enter the harbour without a pilot.

HARBOUR IMPROVEMENTS.—Among the extensive works executed, a breakwater has been built running out from Manora Point in a S. by E. direction to a distance of 1,500 feet into 5 fathoms of water. This breakwater affords a complete shelter to the Entrance Channel during the South-west Monsoon; a channel has been opened through the bar with a depth of 20 feet at low-water spring tides, which is about 500 feet in breadth.

BUOYS.—The entrance to the harbour is marked by buoys one on each side of the channel.

Note.—A mail steamer arriving off the port during the night should burn two blue lights in quick succession when in the fair season a pilot will at once board; but during the monsoon she must keep off the port until daylight.

APPROACHES TO THE PORT.—General directions—The coast of Sind should be approached with great caution; too much attention cannot be paid to the lead, more especially in passing the banks off the river mouths of the Indus, which are extending considerably to seaward From a survey in March 1877 by Captain A. W Stiffe, Indian Marine (Port Officer of Calcutta), the edge of the shoal water was 3½ miles to seaward of the former position. It was then in latitude 24° 04′ 20″ N., longitude 67° 11′ 50″ E. By night a vessel should give the banks a berth of 15 to 20 miles, and if after passing the "Swatch" she does not get less than 18 to 20 fathoms, she may haul to the northward, not coming into less than 15 fathoms until the Kurrachee revolving light is seen. By day the breakers on the edge of the banks are a good guide, unless the water is quite smooth; but it is hardly possible for a vessel to run ashore by day, on account of the marked discoloration of the water, which extends some distance outside the banks. The tides during the springs are strong, the flood sets to the S.-E. and the ebb to the N.-W. From February to the end of the monsoon a strong south-easterly current may be expected running from 15 to 45 miles a day. During the south-west monsoon, vessels should make Rás Muari or Cape Monze, which is 18 miles W.¼. N. from the Manora Point light-house, and keep to windward of the port if the weather is thick, or if the tide does not suit for entering the harbour. Allowance must also be made for a strong set to the S.-E. which prevails more or less during the south-west monsoon. Care must be taken not to bring Manora Point to the southward of E. by N., or go under 15 fathoms near Cape Monze. Masters of vessels should endeavour to make the port at daylight, and can with safety approach into 8 fathoms to about 2 miles distance from the light-house keeping it on, any bearing from N. E. to N. N. E. and heaving to for a pilot.

ANCHORAGE IN THE ROADS—From June to the middle of September vessels should on no account anchor, but stand off and on, keeping the principal light bearing from N. N. E. to N. E., 1 to 2 miles distance until boarded by a pilot or directed by signal From September to the end of March, the anchorage is with the light-house bearing N. by E. to N. N. E., distant one mile, in 7 fathoms of water; and in April and May with the light-house bearing N. N. E. to N. E., half a mile distant in 8 fathoms of water.

Exhibition of Light at Bulhar.

THE Port Officer, Aden, has given notice that on the 1st November 1886 a light was exhibited from a mast at the Port of Bulhar (which place is marked on the charts as uninhabited), near Berbera, on the Somali coast.

The light is a fixed white light, elevated about 50 feet above the level of the sea, and should be visible in clear weather in every direction seaward at a distance of 8 miles.

NOTE.—This light will indicate the entrance to the Port of Bulhar; and being chiefly for the use of dhows, it will be exhibited annually for six months only, i.e., from the 1st November to 30th April.

NOTIFICATION.

The 22nd December 1886.—It is hereby notified for general information, that the Lieutenant-Governor intends, if no valid objections be raised within one month from this date, to approve of the following notification and rules with regard to the collection of drift timber in the Gunduck river, in the Chumparun district:—

DRAFT NOTIFICATION.

The Lieutenant-Governor of the Lower Provinces of Bengal is pleased to direct, under section 45 of the Indian Forest Act (VII of 1878), and in continuation of the notification of the 3rd November 1879, that the river Gunduck and its tributaries, so far as they flow within his jurisdiction in the Chumparun district or along its borders, are areas within which all unmarked wood and timber, and all wood and timber on which the marks have been obliterated, or defaced, by fire or otherwise, are deemed to be the property of Government unless or until any person establishes his right and title thereto under the provisions of the said Act and the rules made under it.

DRAFT RULES.

Drift Timber Rules of the River Gunduck and its tributaries so far as they flow in or along the boundaries of the Chumparun District, within the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, to be made under section 51 of the Indian Forest Act.

1. Drift timber may be salved by any person.—All pieces of unmarked wood or timber, and all pieces on which marks have been obliterated or defaced by fire, or otherwise found adrift, beached, stranded, or sunk in or on the banks of the river Gunduck, and its tributaries, may be salved by any person.

2. Report to be made when wood or timber is salved.—The salvor shall intimate the fact that he has salved wood or timber to the Forest Officer, or to such Police or other officer or subordinate as the Forest Officer may from time to time direct to receive such reports.

3. Salvage fees.—Any such person who shall have salved wood or timber under these rules shall be entitled to receive as salvage fees—

(a) in the case of wood or timber, the ownership of which is proved and admitted under section 47 of the Indian forest Act—from the owner, through the Forest Officer, 50 per cent. of the value thereof, as adjudged by the Forest Officer;

(b) in the case of wood or timber that becomes vested in Government, under section 48 of the Indian Forest Act—from Government, 50 per cent. of the net balance of the sale account of the said wood or timber after deducting therefrom all expenses of transport and other charges (if any): such salvage fees to be paid after the sale has been effected.

4. Payments required when drift timber is shown to be the property of a claimant.—No such wood or timber shall be delivered to any claimant who (under section 47 of the Indian Forest Act) has been recognized to be the owner until, under section 50 of the said Act, he shall have paid to the Forest Officer 50 per cent. of its value as adjudged by that officer, together with such other expenses as may have been incurred in salving the said wood or timber. Should the recognized owner fail to make these payments within 10 days of his receiving intimation from the Forest Officer of the amount due, the property salved shall be dealt with (under section 48 of the Act) as unclaimed timber.

5. Salved timber which may become vested in Government to be sold to the best advantage.—All drift and stranded wood and timber salved under these rules, which may become vested in Government under section 48 of the Indian Forest Act, shall be sold to the best advantage after two months from the expiry of the period fixed for the disposal of claims under section 46 of the said Act.

6. Penalty clause.—Any person who shall infringe any of the provisions of these rules shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both.

The following are the conditions of sale:—

1.—The opium will be sold for exportation by sea only, and no certificate will be granted except to cover such export.

2.—The opium will be ordinarily offered for sale at an upset price of Rs. 800 per chest, and sold to the highest bidder above that price, except under the circumstances for which provision is made by clause 13 of these conditions of sale. The bids must advance by Rs. 5 at a time.

3.—The sale shall commence at the hour of 11 A.M. of the day fixed by previous notification, and shall not be continued after the hour of 5 P.M.; but if at that hour any of the lots advertised for sale shall remain unsold, the sale may, at the discretion of the Board of Revenue, be resumed on the next day following (not being Sunday or a public holiday), at the hour of 11 A.M., and so on until the whole of the remaining lots are disposed of; or, if the whole quantity advertised shall not be sold on the day appointed, the Board of Revenue may dispose of the lots which remain on hand at a future sale.

4.—Each lot shall contain five chests.

5.—A Promissory Note for a sum, calculated according to the scale noted in the margin, shall be taken as a deposit on each lot from the purchaser in the sale-room and before the lot is registered in the sale-book, and all such Promissory Notes shall be redeemed on the part of the purchasers at this Office by Bank of Bengal receipts or by substitution of other public securities of the Government of India, on or before 3-30 P.M. in the afternoon of the fifth day after the sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the said notes must be redeemed by 1-30 P.M., or, on the other hand, failing such redemption by the time aforesaid, then the lot or lots for which no Bank of Bengal Receipts or deposit of other public securities as aforesaid shall have been delivered in, shall be re-sold at such time or times and under such conditions of re-sale as the Board of Revenue shall see fit; and all losses and expenses whatsoever attending such re-sale shall be borne and paid by the defaulters, whilst any profit accruing from such re-sale shall be forfeited to Government.

DEPOSIT.
When the amount bid is less than Rs. 1,200 per chest, Rs. 200 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,200 and upwards, but less than Rs. 1,600 per chest, Rs. 300 per chest.
On bids of Rs. 1,600 and upwards, but less than Rs 2,000 per chest, Rs. 400 per chest.
And so on, Rs. 100 being added to the deposit for every bid additional, to the extent of Rs. 400.

6.—The said Promissory Notes shall be absolutely payable in any event, and the amount thereof shall be absolutely forfeited upon such default as before mentioned, and the amount thereof shall not go or be credited in reduction of any loss on re-sale or expenses thereby incurred, but shall be recoverable whether such re-sale shall be had or not, or whether there shall be a loss on such re-sale or not.

7.—The Promissory Notes taken on the day of sale under the fifth condition, if remaining unredeemed at 3-30 P.M. of the fifth day following the day of sale, or 1-30 P.M. if the last day falls on a Saturday, will be placed in the hands of the Solicitor to the Government for realization in such manner as to him shall seem fit.

8.—No tender of money, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or public securities, on account of opium upon which the prescribed deposit may not have been made before the prescribed time in clause 5 on the fifth day following the day of sale will be afterwards accepted. Provided always that money so subsequently tendered may be taken in payment of the said Promissory Note, but such acceptance of money shall in no way entitle the payer thereof to any right to delivery of the lot or lots in respect whereof the said note was given, or to any of the rights of a purchaser thereof, or release the payer from liability for any unpaid balance of such notes or from the additional liability for the loss and expenses of such re-sale as provided for in clauses No. 5 and No. 6.

9.—The opium advertised for sale shall be paid for not later than by 3-30 P.M. of the fifteenth day from the day of sale, provided it does not fall on a Saturday; if it falls on a Saturday, the opium must be paid for by 1-30 P.M.; and in case any lots of such opium shall not be so paid for and adjusted, then the cash deposit made under the fifth condition, or any public securities that may have been deposited on account of such lots or chests, shall be forfeited, and the opium shall be disposed of on account of Government at such time and in such manner as the Board of Revenue shall think fit; and the first purchaser shall further be required to make good all expenses and any loss or difference of price between that obtained at the re-sale and the amount at which the opium was first purchased, forfeiting all advantages that may arise from such re-sale, and the liability for the loss or difference of price and expenses shall be in addition to, and wholly independent of, the amount of the deposit so forfeited.

10.—Purchasers taking out certificates or orders for the delivery of opium, after making full payment as above prescribed, shall have the option of naming the number of lots of their purchase, which they may desire to be included in each certificate or order; and it is to be clearly understood that the certificates or orders so taken out shall be considered final, and not afterwards changeable for other certificates or orders authorizing the delivery of single lots, or of a different number of lots or chests, whether more or less, than the number of lots or chests originally required to be included in each certificate or order.

11.—No deposit of public securities under the fifth of the present conditions will be received in this office except from the party recorded as the purchaser in the sale-book, or his authorized agent. The receipt for deposit of public securities will be granted only in the name of such purchaser, and the securities so deposited will be returned when payment in full has been made by the said purchaser or his order.

12.—The officer superintending the sale on the part of the Government is empowered to reject, at his discretion, the bid of any individual, unless such individual shall on demand tender at the time a deposit either in Government of India Notes, Bank of Bengal Receipts, or Government Securities, a sum equal to the amount for which a Promissory Note would otherwise be taken under the fifth of these conditions.

13.—With a view to prevent fictitious biddings designed to obstruct the sale, it is hereby notified that the officer of Government superintending the sale shall be competent, at any time during the sale, to withdraw any unsold lot, and immediately to put it up again for sale at a maximum upset price, diminishing the same gradually until a bid is obtained; and the first bonâ fide bidder for a lot after it has been offered for sale in the mode here described shall be held and declared to be the purchaser of the said lot, and the officer of Government superintending the sale shall also be competent to dispose, in the same manner, of as many of the subsequent lots as he may think proper, provided always that no lot shall be sold below the minimum price of Rs. 800 specified in the second of these conditions.

14.—The purchaser of any lot shall have the option of naming and purchasing in immediate succession, at the same price and under the same conditions, any number of lots of the same Agency opium not exceeding altogether twenty-five lots, provided always that there remain a sufficient number of lots of the opium to complete the said twenty-five.

15.—In the event of any dispute or difference touching or concerning any matter or question arising out of the sale of the opium included in this notification, or adjustment of the account thereof, the same shall and may be tried and decided in the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal.

16.—The following papers will be exhibited for inspection on the day of sale, or may be seen previously to that date by personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue:—No. 1, certificate of the opium advertised for sale; No. 2, report of the examination of such opium.

17.—The public are hereby informed that in providing the investment of the opium manufactured at the Patna Factory and the opium manufactured at the Ghazeepore Factory for the year 1885-86, the same precautions have been taken as those which have been observed during past years to have the drug procured and sent down in a pure state, to have only the prescribed quantity of leaves used in forming the cakes, and to have the due proportion of opium put into each cake. An account of the weight of the drug when packed at the Patna and Ghazeepore Factories, and a statement of the average weight of the chests, indiscriminately taken, for the purpose of comparison, from the despatches on arrival at Calcutta, may be seen on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue.

18.—Any further information respecting weight or quality of the opium advertised for sale that may be desired by parties connected with the trade will, as heretofore, be furnished to them on personal application at the Office of the Board of Revenue. But, in accordance with established usage, under no circumstances will the Board of Revenue entertain or recognize any claim to compensation for loss from any alleged deficiency of weight, abstraction of opium, or adulteration of the drug, which may be preferred on reference to chests after the sale and delivery of the opium for shipment.

By order of the Board of Revenue, L. P.,
C. E. BUCKLAND, Offg. Secretary.

Dated Mozufferpore, the 25th November 1886. H. HOLMWOOD, Covenanted Deputy Collector.

NOTICE is hereby given that the proprietary right of Government, as specified in the conditions of sale below, to the undermentioned estate, situate in the district of Noakhally, will be put up to sale at the Noakhally Collectorate on Monday, the 10th of January 1887, corresponding with 27th Pous 1293B.S.

The purchasers will be subject to the following conditions of sale.

Conditions of sale.

1*st.*—The estate to be sold to the highest bidder above the upset price. The purchaser of this estate will be considered as the proprietor of the estate, and the entire proprietary right of Government in such estate will be transferred to him, subject to the revenue fixed in perpetuity.

2*nd.*—The sale to be subject to existing leases and to the rights conferred by the settlement proceedings, and by the laws in force; and the purchasers to be bound to respect the rights of resident cultivators, who have signed the schedule of assessment prepared by the Revenue authorities.

3*rd.*—If the amount of purchase-money do not exceed Rs. 100, the whole amount to be paid down at once.

4*th.*—If the amount of purchase-money exceed Rs. 100, one-fourth of the amount bid to be immediately deposited. If the balance be not paid by noon of the fifteenth day after the sale, reckoning the day of sale as one, or, if that day be a close holiday, then by noon of the first succeeding office day, the sale to be cancelled (the sum deposited being forfeited to Government), and the estate to be again put up to sale at the risk of the defaulting purchaser, after issue of advertisement, as in the case of original sale.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

[Second Publication.]

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 17th December, 1886:—

No. 27 OF 1886.

A Bill to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Amendment of section 4.

1. In the definition of "Officer in charge of a Police-station" in section 4, clause (o), of the said Code there shall be substituted for the word "therefrom" the words "from the station-house", and for the words "present at the Police-station" the words "present at the station-house".

Amendment of section 312.

2. In section 312 of the said Code the word "four" shall be substituted for the word "two".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The primary object of this Bill is to amend section 312 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, the Hon'ble the Chief Justice and Judges of the High Court at Fort William having represented that, as the law at present stands, owing to the numerous absences from Calcutta of gentlemen whose names are on the special jury list, and to the necessity of excusing special jurors from attendance on sufficient grounds, it is found necessary to summon the same gentlemen very frequently, to their manifest inconvenience and to serious interference with their business avocations.

2. A Bill to amend the Code having thus become necessary, the opportunity has been taken to cure a defect which has been noticed by the Government of Bombay in the definition of the expression "Officer in charge of a Police-station."

ANDREW R. SCOBLE.

The 17th December, 1886.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Offg. Secretary to the Government of India.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY FOR 1885-86.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT—MUNICIPAL.

Calcutta, the 27th December 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Calcutta Municipality for 1885-86.

Read again—

The Report for 1884-85, and the Resolution recorded upon it.

The fourth general election of Commissioners, held under the Calcutta Municipal Act IV (B.C.) of 1876, took place on the 15th December 1885, the term of office of the previous body of Commissioners having expired in October 1885. 14,979 persons applied for enlistment as voters against 15,386 in 1882; 9,548 persons were eventually registered against 10,587 in 1882; and 8,975 persons actually exercised their right of voting against 9,180 in 1882. The applicants for registration showed a falling off of 407 as compared with the number of applicants in 1882, and the number of persons who actually voted was 205 less than in 1882. The number registered as qualified showed a falling off of 1,039, or over 10 per cent. This decrease is said to be due to the more rigid scrutiny exercised in examining claims.

2. Twenty-nine general meetings were held by the Commissioners during the year, of which 12 were special general meetings, three were quarterly, and six were special meetings. Of standing Committees there were 103 meetings, and of special Committees 36 meetings. The Town Council met 46 times, the Water-supply Extension Committee 10 times, the Bustee and Tank Committee 19 times, the Market Committee 11 times, and the Town Improvement Committee only once.

3. The Town Council dealt, as usual, with a large number of matters of various degrees of importance. Among others were the codification and remodelling of the rules and regulations for house drainage, the drainage works for Hastings and Baug Bazar, the opening of the municipal latrines to the public free of charge, the provision of roads in the Kurbulla Tank locality, the appointment of a whole-time Health Officer, the erection of slaughter-houses for the supply of meat for Hindoos, the examination of candidates for appointment in the Municipal office, and the leasing of the Kotrung brick-fields.

4. At the end of 1884-85 the total debt of the Corporation amounted to—

	Rs.
Debenture loans	71,65,800
Consolidated loan from Government	69,43,213
Temporary ditto ditto	5,00,000
Total ...	1,46,09,013

Against the debenture loans the Commissioners had a reserve fund of the nominal value of Rs. 4,38,845. During the year they borrowed Rs. 25,00,000 by debentures bearing interest at 5 per cent., viz., Rs. 12,00,000 for the extension of water-supply, Rs. 5,00,000 for the repayment of the temporary loan from Government, and Rs. 8,00,000 for the extension of drainage works and repayment of the loan of 1865. The year closed with a loan liability of Rs. 1,56,41,972.

5. The following statement compares the income of the municipality under the three ordinary revenue funds during 1884-85 and 1885-86:—

General Fund—
House-rate .	9,99,552	10,30,387
Taxes	4,09,170	3,93,410

Conservancy do.	40,163	37,580
Municipal railway do.	296	1,543
New drainage do.	9,277	6,257
Night-soil department	2,18,318	2,15,327
Slaughter-house do.	40,395	39,835
Municipal Market do	1,27,920	1,40,841
Hospital and vaccination fees ...	1,097	598
Rent	22,534	31,074
Miscellaneous	13,066	22,952
Total	19,54,907	19,99,761
Water-rate Fund—
Water-rate	4,15,440	4,27,515
Sale of water	95,755	87,121
Water-supply miscellaneous receipts ...	2,432	2,511
Total ...	5,13,627	5,17,147
Lighting-rate Fund	2,55,438	2,60,955
Grand Total ..	27,23,972	27,77,883

The receipts of the general fund were Rs. 44,854 in excess of those of the previous year. This is principally due to a general increase in the valuation of the town. In the Water-rate Fund the receipts exceeded those of the previous year by Rs. 3,520. The receipts of the Lighting rate Fund exceeded those of the previous year by Rs 5,517. The total income of the municipality under these heads was better by Rs. 53,891 than in the preceding year.

6. The following table shows the expenditure of the municipality from the three ordinary revenue funds during the period under review as compared with the actuals of the previous year:—

	1884-85. Rs.	1885-86. Rs.
General Fund—

Grand Total ...	29,97,121	29,65,314

The expenditure of the General Fund exceeded the receipts of the year by Rs. 54,300, thereby reducing the opening balance from Rs 3,40,478 to Rs 2,86,178. The expenditure of the Water-rate Fund exceeded the receipts by Rs. 1,26,907. This is due to the charges on account of the extension works, and will be permanent. The rate has therefore been raised from 3¼ per cent. to 5 per cent. from the beginning of the current year. The expenditure from the Lighting-rate Fund showed a small excess of Rs. 6,244 over the receipts of the year.

7. There are certain special funds not included in the above statements. The receipts of the Police-rate Fund during the year amounted to Rs. 2,93,551, and the disbursements made to the Commissioner of Police amounted to Rs. 2,95,077. Including the opening balance of Rs. 26,790, there remained a sum of Rs. 25,264 in hand at the close of the year This rate has been reduced to 2 per cent. from the current year. The receipts of the Jute Warehouse Fund amounted to Rs 22,501, 80 per cent. of which,

Rs. 18,001, together with an unpaid balance of Rs. 120 on account of the previous year, was paid to the Commissioner of Police for maintenance of the fire-brigade. After meeting inspection charges, there was a surplus of Rs. 1,933, which was credited to the General Fund. The Hackney Carriage Registration Fund had an opening balance of Rs. 12,618: the receipts during the year were Rs. 17,913, and the expenditure on account of establishment and contingent charges amounted to Rs. 5,508. The Cart Registration Fund had a balance of Rs. 8,662 at the beginning of the year: the receipts during the year amounted to Rs. 70,428, and expenditure to Rs. 4,848. The Marcus Legacy Fund had at the commencement of the year a cash balance of Rs. 4,275 and Government securities of Rs. 70,000. The securities were sold and re-invested in 5 per cent. municipal debentures.

8. The gross demand made by the Bill Department amounted to Rs. 23,37,310 against Rs 22,59,683 in 1884 85. The outstanding balance on 31st March 1886 was Rs 62,313 as compared with Rs. 63,545 in the previous year. It is stated that this outstanding balance would have been reduced to Rs. 21,901 had not bills to the amount of Rs. 40,412 been returned by the Collector and the Warrant Officer a few days before the end of the last quarter of 1885-86. In the Warrant Department the outstandings amounted to Rs 44,897 against Rs. 46,105 at the end of 1884-85. The receipts under the head of license-fees aggregated Rs. 4,84,597 against Rs. 4,88,104 in the previous year. Trade and profession licenses are shown to have yielded Rs. 2,65,229 ; carriage and horse licenses Rs. 98,786 ; trade refuse fees Rs. 34,947 ; hackney carriage registration fees Rs. 15,008 ; and cart registration fees Rs. 70,464.

37. Rajbullubpara or Goalpara Bustee
38. Bustee north of Baug Bazar.

Though much remains to be done, it may be said that most of the more urgent cases have now been disposed of, and the chief duty of the Commissioners will consist in maintaining the ground they have gained. In the Suburbs nothing of this kind has yet been attempted. On the 20th March last the new main in connection with the extended water-supply of Calcutta was opened at Pultah. The proceedings were attended by a large body of the Commissioners, who had invited the Lieutenant-Governor to preside at the ceremony.

During the year fifteen tanks were filled up by the Corporation, and one by the owner. Besides these, two were being filled up by the Corporation and six by the owners at the close of the year. Twelve tanks have been emptied by the owners, and will be filled up during the current year. The sites of two filled-up tanks in Jorapuker and Goalapara bustee in Ward No. 6 have been acquired by the Commissioners, who propose to convert the space into a place of public recreation.

Forty-one bathing platforms have been completed, and are in actual working order. Six more have been completed, but have not been connected with the piping. Nine sites have been obtained and platforms are under construction; and proceedings have been undertaken for the acquisition of sites for 28 additional platforms, making a total of 84 A census was taken on the 11th and 18th April last of the number of persons who resorted to these bathing platforms. The total numbers amounted to 62,003, of whom 40,194 were males and 21,809 females. These figures are interesting, and show how popular the new bathing platforms have speedily become.

The grant for street improvements was as usual Rs. 30,000, of which a sum of Rs. 24,035-4-1 has been expended. This grant is intended for petty improvements only, all important works being undertaken from the drainage budget.

10. The civil litigation of the Commissioners during the year was insignificant. There was only one small suit for the recovery of rates, which was decreed in favour of the Commissioners. One appeal was made to the Small Cause Court against the assessment of a house, but the valuation made by the municipal assessor was upheld by the Judge. The Commissioners had to defend in the Small Cause Court a suit which had been brought against them by a contractor for the recovery of the value of certain stores supplied; but the suit was dismissed. This diminution in the amount of litigation is said to be due to the establishment by the Commissioners of a "Conciliation tribunal," consisting of three Commissioners selected by the Town Council, to which any dispute between the Corporation and a member of the public may, with the consent of the latter, be referred. This mode of arbitration, which has everything to commend it, is said to be very frequently resorted to.

11. In the Police Court 18,998 prosecutions were instituted for infringement of the provisions of the Municipal Act. In the License Department the fines imposed amounted to Rs. 11,298, in the Conservancy Department to Rs. 4,725, and in the Health Officer's Department to Rs. 482. The total of the fines imposed amounted to Rs. 16,506 against Rs. 10,151 in the previous year. Under the Vaccination Act, 1,565 persons were proceeded against; of these, 892 were vaccinated and 180 inspected, 225 absconded, and only 54 were eventually fined for contumacy. Proceedings were taken by the Commissioners against the Tramway Company in the Police Court for their negligence in keeping in proper repair some of the roadway used by them. There were three such charges, resulting in the Company being fined Rs. 50 in each case.

12. The report of the Health Officer (Dr. McLeod) has been drawn up for the calendar year 1885 instead of the official year. This change is in accordance with the recommendation made by the Army Sanitary Commission. The number of births registered was 8,358 as compared with 8,290 in 1884. The Health Officer is of opinion that birth registration during the year was more satisfactory than formerly; a birth-rate of 29·3 per mille was obtained as compared with the English rate of 34·4. Among the various races the recorded birth-rates per mille were:—

	1885.	1884.
Non-Asiatics	16·4	13·2
Mixed races	49·5	49·6
Hindoos	20·3	20·2
Mahomedans	16·0	15·9
Other classes	4·1	4·2

The number of deaths recorded during 1885 (exclusive of still-births) was 12,707 as compared with 12,694 in 1884, giving a death-rate of 29·3 per mille against 29·2.

At a special general meeting held on the 11th February 1886 a whole-time Health Officer was appointed by the Commissioners, and the appointment, regarding which during the past few years there had been much correspondence, received the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor. Dr. Simpson assumed charge of his duties, after the year closed, on the 15th May 1886

13. The opening chapter of the report refers to the Bill now before the Legislative Council for amalgamating a portion of the Suburbs with the Town, and the Commissioners take the opportunity of expressing, at some length, their doubts whether it will be possible for them, with the probable resources at their disposal, to carry out the works which will be required for the improvement of the new municipal area, unless Government reconsiders its present policy of leaving the Corporation to borrow, as it can, without a guarantee. The matter is one of considerable importance, but the Lieutenant-Governor does not think that it can be conveniently discussed in this place. It will be time enough to re-open the question when the Commissioners, in the administration of an enlarged municipality, the successful working of which demands a liberal expenditure, find any serious difficulty in obtaining the capital necessary for such expenditure.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT FOR THE YEAR 1885-86.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—CUSTOMS.

Calcutta, the 27th December 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Customs Department for the year 1885-86.

The subjoined statement shows the gross and net Customs duty collected in Bengal during the past five years:—

	1881-82.	1882-83.	1883-84.	1884-85.	1885-86.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Import duty (excluding duty on salt)	61,72,991	14,87,018	16,13,590	13,25,339	13,99,392
Ditto on salt	2,37,15,928	1,74,72,613	1,73,13,587	1,91,86,114	1,80,35,154
Export duty	20,46,899	21,28,492	19,92,100	16,24,288	18,10,621
Total gross duty ...	3,19,35,818	2,10,88,123	2,06,19,277	2,21,35,741	2,12,45,167
Refunds and drawbacks—
Imports	3,04,426	3,20,636	2,10,991	2,43,338	2,29,064
Exports	1,05,549	1,16,840	1,20,921	84,539	62,202
Total ...	4,09,975	4,37,476	3,31,912	3,27,877	2,91,266
Total net duty ...	3,15,25,843	2,06,50,647	2,04,87,365	2,18,07,864	2,09,53,901

In the year 1884-85 there was an increase of Rs. 13,20,499, or 6·4 per cent., in the net receipts as compared with the year 1883-84, owing entirely to larger clearances of salt; but in the year under review a decrease of Rs. 8,53,963, or 3·9 per cent., is observed in consequence of the decline of 11½ lakhs of rupees in the duty from salt. Import duty, exclusive of salt, shows an improvement of Rs. 62,316, or 4·8 per cent., due to the larger collections on imported ale, beer, porter, and spirits. The rise in the export duty of Rs. 2,08,670, or 13·5 per cent., is attributable to the recovery of the rice trade from the depression noticed in the last year's Resolution. The net receipts of all the ports taken together show a decrease of Rs. 8,79,383, or 4·1 per cent., to which Calcutta has contributed more than half, and Chittagong and Pooree in smaller proportions. The ports of Balasore, Cuttack, and Naraingunge show, on the other hand, an improvement in the net revenue.

2. Exclusive of Government transactions, the total value of the imports into Bengal, under foreign trade, shows a falling off from Rs. 30,28,51,914 in 1884-85 to Rs. 27,87,05,795 in the year under review. The decline was most marked in foreign merchandise, where it exceeded 1 crore and 44 lakhs. In the coasting trade the imports of merchandise fell by more than 48 lakhs.

3. The exports of the year had a total value of Rs. 40,85,10,234 against Rs. 39,92,99,926 in the year 1884-85. In the foreign trade, exports rose in value from Rs. 33,13,32,666 to Rs. 33,21,15,247, representing an increase in the value of merchandise of Rs. 27,99,468, and a decrease in treasure amounting to Rs. 20,16,887. In the coasting trade, exports of merchandise fell from Rs. 6,14,54,993 to Rs. 6,07,16,194. Exports of treasure, however, show a rise from Rs. 65,12,267 to Rs. 1,56,78,793, owing to a heavy despatch of silver to British Burmah.

4. Calcutta, Foreign Trade.—Government transactions consisted of Rs. 1,22,59,404 of imports and Rs. 1,22,801 of exports. Apart from these transactions, the imports of the foreign trade of Calcutta declined from Rs. 24,07,73,371 to Rs. 22,59,51,097, and the exports from Rs. 32,15,49,602 to Rs. 32,14,62,739. Slight changes are observed in the proportions which different countries contribute to the foreign trade of Calcutta. Thus the share taken by the United Kingdom has increased from 64·01 per cent. to 64·48 per cent., the trade with Hong-Kong has risen from 10·04 per cent. to 10·90 per cent., and that with Treaty Ports from 1·46 per cent. to 1·72 per cent. The United States, Ceylon, Australia, and Austria have, on the other hand, lost ground. The transactions with the United Kingdom, which were, as usual, more than three-fifths of the entire trade of the port, fell off by over 69½ lakhs. The proportion of the foreign trade of Calcutta carried through the Suez Canal was 62·6 per cent. against 63·3 per cent. in 1884-85.

5. Imports.—The imports of cotton twist and yarn show a falling off in value from Rs. 1,14,31,626 to Rs. 99,61,309, and in quantity from 15,300,173lbs. to 14,348,264lbs. At the same time, the total value of the imports of piece-goods of all kinds declined from Rs. 11,08,18,170 to Rs. 10,87,52,904. The total value of metals shows a falling off of Rs. 21,61,699, or 10·3 per cent. The decrease occurred chiefly in unwrought copper and wrought-iron. Machinery and mill-work show a decline from Rs. 66,77,062 to Rs. 39,61,495. The trade in mineral oils was very dull during the last year, 11,614,433 gallons having been imported against 17,282,047 gallons in 1884-85.

6. The imports of malt liquors have advanced in quantity from 436,303 gallons to 560,228 gallons, and in value from Rs. 10,87,848 to Rs. 13,21,676. Spirits, like malt liquors, show a marked increase both in quantity and value. In the total importations of wines and liquors, there has been a small decrease of 540 gallons in quantity, and an increase of Rs. 68,989 in value. The trade in corals has fallen off from 151,892lbs. to 119,841lbs. in quantity, and from Rs. 16,17,434 to Rs. 10,94,257 in value. The imports of tea from Hong-Kong, the Straits Settlements and other countries show an increase of 122 per cent., though the quantity imported is far below the average importations of the years 1881-82 to 1883-84.

7. Exports.—The principal articles of export bore the following proportions to the whole of the export trade during the year:—Opium 19½ per cent.; jute, raw and manufactured, 15⅓ per cent.; tea 13¼ per cent.; grain and pulse 12½ per cent.; oilseeds 11 per cent.; hides and skins 8⅓ per cent.; indigo 8 per cent.; cotton, raw, 3 per cent.; silk, raw and manufactured, 2 per cent.; the rest of the trade, amounting to 6½ per cent., being distributed among a number of minor articles, of which the chief are lac, saltpetre, and castor-oil. The jute crop being deficient last year, the exports of the raw fibre declined by 502,056 cwts. in quantity, and by Rs. 23,42,267 in value. The exports of gunny-bags show a decrease in quantity from 81,626,604 to 62,184,631, and in value from Rs. 1,38,94,455 to Rs. 95,89,549. The prospects of the industry are at present believed to be discouraging. The trade in rice shows an improvement from 4,953,065 cwts. to 5,537,785 cwts. in quantity, and from Rs. 1,99,16,852 to Rs. 2,38,35,260 in value. The exports of tea have increased from 63,330,228lbs to 67,851,749lbs in quantity, with a corresponding rise in the total value from Rs. 3,98,18,726 to Rs. 4,23,75,164. But the average declared value per pound was lower than in 1884-85.

8. The following table shows the exports of wheat from Calcutta for the last five years:—

1881-82.		1882-83.		1883-84.		1884-85.		1885-86.
Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.	Cwt.	Rs.
6,666,896	2,52,03,295	4,436,503	1,79,33,350	7,011,414	3,04,27,244	2,561,677	90,91,067	4,189,531	1,53,96,583

The heavy decline in the wheat trade noticed in the last year's Resolution has been followed by an advance of over 63 per cent. The figures of the last year are, however, still much below the average of the past four years. The exports to the United Kingdom have materially improved. The trade with France has entirely ceased on account of the import duty levied in that country for the protection of the home growers.

9. Of the remaining articles of export, indigo shows a falling off of 28 per cent. in quantity and 15 per cent. in value. A steady advance is observed in the exports of raw hides and skins; in the former there was an increase of 6·5 per cent., and in the latter of 9·7 per cent. The cotton crop of the year being larger and better in quality, the shipments of raw cotton increased from 288,971 cwts. to 416,759 cwts., or 44 per cent. The trade in lac increased by 9,783 cwts. The exports of refined sugar were 4,229 cwts. against 12,852 cwts. in 1884-85, and 159,996 cwts in 1883-84.

10. The imports of gold fell of from Rs. 77,76,346 to Rs. 49,35,489, or 36 per cent. The exports, on the other hand, rose from Rs. 2,000 to Rs. 7,04,055. The imports of silver show an increase of Rs. 21,45,821, and the exports a decline of Rs. 27,18,942.

11. Coasting trade.—The total imports of the coasting trade of Calcutta fell from Rs. 3,47,94,792 to Rs. 3,13,83,717, while the total exports rose from Rs. 4,56,12,750 to Rs. 4,65,40,221. The advance noticed in the last year's Resolution in the imports of cotton, twist and yarn has been followed by a decline of 192,460lbs. in quantity, but the declared value appears to have been higher.

12. Chittagong Port.—The total value of the foreign trade of Chittagong has further fallen off from Rs. 83,10,652 to Rs. 82,94,672, representing a decrease in the imports of Rs. 3,76,564, and an increase in the exports of Rs. 3,60,584. The total coasting trade of the port shows a decline of Rs. 7,20,377.

13. Orissa Ports.—The total value of the trade of the Orissa ports shows a decrease of Rs. 17,30,031, or 9·2 per cent., as compared with the year 1884-85. In the foreign trade of Balasore an improvement is observed, but in the coasting trade the development noticed in the last year's Resolution has disappeared. During the year under review a further advance has taken place in the foreign trade of Cuttack. The total coasting trade shows, however, a decline of Rs. 2,83,282. Both the foreign and coasting trade of the port of Pooree was in a languishing state during the past year.

14. Port of Naraingunge.—The total value of the trade of this port considerably diminished during the past year. The imports fell off by Rs. 1,35,840 and the exports by Rs. 13,70,095.

15. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are due to the Board of Revenue for their efficient administration of the department during the year, and to the Officiating Collector of Customs, Mr. Samuells, for his full report. The names of Messrs. Armstrong and Warden, who are favourably reported on by the Board, will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. H. WILSON,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

MAISADAL ZEMINDARY TECHNICAL SCHOOL AT MIDNAPORE.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

Calcutta, the 28th December 1886.

RESOLUTION.

READ the following papers, herewith published, on the subject of an application for a grant-in-aid to the Maisadal Zemindary Technical School at Midnapore:—

Letter from the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, No. 245, dated the 16th June 1886, and enclosures.

Endorsement to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 538 T - G, dated the 25th June 1886.

Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 5431, dated the 10th August 1886.

Letter to the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, No. 537, dated 17th August 1886.

Memo. from the Commissioner of the Burdwan Division, No. 442, dated 22nd October 1886, and enclosures.

Endorsement to the Director of Public Instruction, No. 1125T—G, dated 1st November 1886

Letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 7438, dated the 27th November 1886.

The interest taken in this school by the inhabitants of Midnapore is proved, not only by the handsome endowment of Rs 5,000 provided by the Maisadal zemindars, but also by the liberal subscriptions, amounting in all to Rs. 790 a year, paid by other residents. It is also evident that the Commissioner and the District Magistrate have given the institution the benefit of their assistance and advice.

Under the circumstances, the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to approve the proposal of the Director of Public Instruction to give the Maisadal Technical School in Midnapore a grant-in-aid of Rs. 50 a month, with effect from the 1st April 1887, in the expectation that with this assistance, and working with the object indicated in the Director's letter No. 7438, dated the 27th November 1886, the managers may be able to provide a sound and practical course of instruction for artizans.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt of Bengal.

No. 245, dated Burdwan, the 16th June 1886.

From—E. E. Lowis, Esq., Offg. Commissioner of the Burdwan Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

WITH reference to the Government Resolution forwarded to this office with your office endorsement No. 101T—G of the 18th April 1885, regarding the establishment of a branch for technical education in connection with the Hardinge School at Midnapore, I have the honour to submit copy of a letter No. 1832 of the 22nd ultimo, with enclosures, from the Magistrate of Midnapore, applying for a grant-in-aid of Rs. 50 per mensem being given to the school.

2. The institution is one well deserving of support, as it seems to supply a great want by exciting an interest, and affording instructions in handicrafts and teaching the educated pupils to look to something beyond employment as a clerk as a means of obtaining a livelihood. When I was at Midnapore I visited the school, and was much pleased with what I saw. I noticed the existence of this school in my General Administration Report for 1884-85, paragraph 212.

No. 1832, dated Midnapore, the 22nd May 1886.

From—R. Cornish, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Midnapore,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

In submitting the accompanying application for a grant-in-aid to the Maisadal Raja's Technical School in this town, I would strongly recommend that Government be moved to make the grant asked for.

2. The school has been established for upwards of a year. I have taken much personal interest in its well-being; and, from my own observation, can vouch for the genuineness of its work.

3. The Secretary, the Chairman of the Municipality, and many other gentlemen have done all that lay in their power to encourage the growth of an institution that has now fairly taken root.

4. All that amateurs can do we have done, but more than this is wanted for the permanent success of the school. Some of us are birds of passage; the time of others is fully occupied with more legitimate work; it can also hardly be expected that the institution shall be always (as now) supported by voluntary monthly contribution.

5 What we really require is a permanent and efficient Superintendent, and it is this need that I would ask Government to supply.

6. You yourself have seen the working of the school, and can, I hope, give your personal testimony to its success

7. I trust therefore that you will see your way in forwarding this application, either direct to Government, or through the Director of Public Instruction, to recommend that the required aid be given and official recognition be taken of an institution founded and maintained in the belief that it tends to meet one of the most pressing needs of Bengal at the present time.

From—Baboo K. N. Banerjee, Secretary, Maisadal Technical School,
To—The Magistrate of Midnapore.

I have the honour to submit herewith an application in due form for a Government grant of Rs. 50 a month in aid to the technical school, in the town of Midnapore, which is called the Maisadal Raja's Technical School, in consideration of the chief support the institution has received from these gentlemen, and to solicit the favour of your sending it to the proper authorities with your recommendation for sanction.

2. The institution has been established since 12th March 1885 in a bungalow especially constructed for the purpose, at a cost of about Rs. 300, within the premises of the Hardinge vernacular school. The idea of opening such a useful institution originated from Mr. Wilson, but as he left the place before he could mature his plan, it was taken up by you, and the institution has been brought to actual existence under your auspices and patronage, and also through the deep interest taken by Baboo Bepin Behari Dutt, Chairman of the Local Municipality, and the gentlemen of the town.

3. The Maisadal Zemindars' endowment of Rs. 5,000 has been invested in the purchase of 4 per cent. Government Promissory Notes for Rs. 5,000, which are kept with the Comptroller-General for safe custody, and of which you have been made the ex-officio administrator by an order of the Government of Bengal. The surplus sum, after purchase of the promissory notes amounting to Rs. 136, has been deposited in the local Savings Bank.

4. The application itself will show the general status of the institution during the last six months. I beg to append a statement showing in abstract the receipts and disbursements from 12th March 1885, the date of the opening of the school, to 31st March 1886. In this statement it will be seen that the proceeds of the school from sale of the articles prepared by the teachers and boys amounted to Rs. 646, and there were, at the end of the aforesaid period, materials in stock to the value of Rs. 204, and the articles ready for sale to the value of Rs. 138, while the amount spent in the purchase of materials was Rs. 618, and in the entertainment of extra establishment Rs. 81. The net proceeds from this source may therefore be taken at about Rs. 300. This result for the first year may be, I trust, considered a favourable one, and it may be hoped that the institution will soon prosper and become self-supporting.

5. The average monthly number of pupils on the rolls, and their average daily attendance for the period from 12th March 1885 to 31st March 1886, were 53 and 24 respectively. The attendance is not of course good, but it is mainly due to our keeping the school open during the Dusserah and summer vacations, which the local schools enjoy, for our pupils are mostly those that attend the said institutions also, and they generally go home during those vacations.

6. The working hours of the school are in the morning, from sunrise to 11 A.M., and in the afternoon, from 4 P.M. till dusk. The majority of the pupils attend in the afternoon.

7. At present no tuition fee is taken, nor is it proposed to be taken for some time; hence the object being to make the institution attractive to the people.

8. The school contains two departments—(1) for carpentry, and (2) tinsmith's work. In the former are taught carpentry (both simple and ornamental), and the building of dog-carts, &c. In the latter is taught tinsmith's work with double and single tin, and also as much of blacksmith's work as is required in making locks and building dog-carts. The head teacher teaches mostly cart-making, and exercises general supervision over his two assistants, who are in separate charge of the two classes of carpentry and tinsmith's work. The head teacher is a good artizan, and a man of much intelligence and skilfulness, but as he has received no formal education, he is wanting in discipline, and he cannot teach drawing, which is an essential part of technical education. He is the best man we could possibly secure here. But to make the institution more useful and successful, the entertainment of a Superintendent, who can teach drawing and impart instructions in practical engineering of an elementary nature has become a necessity. It is simply to remove this great desideratum that the Managing Committee have directed me to apply for aid from Government It should be specially mentioned here that the formal application shows that the Committee ask Government for a money grant of Rs. 50 a month, but in reality they ask Government to assist the institution with a competent Superintendent for whatever salary the services of such a man can be secured.

9. In conclusion, I beg to say that, if the institution be presided over by a competent Superintendent, its numerical strength will be increased considerably, and the institution is sure to prosper soon.

The return of the original papers with the reply is requested.

No. 5431, dated Calcutta, the 10th August 1886.

From—A. W. CROFT, Esq., Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department

IN continuation of my No' 5132, dated 2nd instant, I have the honour to submit the report on the application of the Maisadal (Midnapore) Technical School for a grant of Rs 50 a month, as directed in your No 538T—G, dated 25th June.

2 So far as the disbursements and receipts of the institution are concerned, they appear to be satisfactory At a total outlay for establishment of Rs. 308, and for materials (excluding unused materials in stock) of Rs 414, articles either sold or saleable have been manufactured to the value of Rs 884. This shows an apparent profit of Rs. 162 on the year's transactions if the figures are correct. I have taken the outlay on establishment at Rs 308 from the Inspector's report; but I am unable to say whether this includes the sum of Rs 81 stated in one of the enclosures of your letter under reply to be the cost of "extra establishment." In any case the amount stated seems to be far below the probable cost for a year of an establishment consisting of a Superintendent and two skilled handicraftsmen. The undated letter from the Secretary of the School to the Magistrate of Midnapore, which forms an enclosure of your No. 538T—G above quoted, calls attention (paragraph 1) to an "application in due form" which would show the establishment kept, and (paragraph 4) to a "statement showing the receipts and disbursements" for 12 months. These documents would remove the uncertainty to which I refer; but they do not appear to have been forwarded with the case. I may also remark, before passing from the financial aspects of the undertaking, that interest on the outlay for building and tools, and the cost of renewal of the latter should be taken into account in estimating the financial condition of the school.

3 But there are other considerations of a more fundamental kind, which need to be dealt with in deciding on the application of the school for a grant-in-aid. I refer to the character of this institution, which claims to be called a technical school A technical school, as I understand the term, is either a school that gives to those who are independently learning or practising any craft, special instruction in subjects which will enable them to become better craftsmen, in which case the instruction is purely theoretical; or else it is one that, being attached to a workshop conducted independently on trade principles, gives to the workmen or apprentices a combined course of theory and practice. In both cases the theoretical instruction imparted is of a special kind, and is entirely subordinated to, and illustrative of the practical training In the present case these conditions do not appear to exist. From the report of the Inspector, it seems that the school "is chiefly attended by amateur students belonging to other schools in the town" It started with 68 pupils, but the number had fallen in the following March to 41, because "as the academic session advanced, and the annual examinations became near, those students ceased to attend the industrial school." It also appears from paragraph 5 of the Secretary's letter, above referred to, that, while the average number on the rolls was 53 the average daily attendance was only 24, a result which "is mainly due to our keeping the school open during the Dusserah and summer vacations which the local schools enjoy, for our pupils are mostly those that attend the said institutions also, and they generally go home during those vacations"

4. It follows therefore that the workshops are attended mainly by boys who are going through the ordinary course of school instruction, and who will apparently betake themselves to the ordinary careers open to such boys such as clerkships and other sedentary professions Many of them will doubtless become expert amateur workmen; but the point on which I wish to insist is that the school under its present constitution is designed to train not artizans, but amateurs. It is a common place of technical instruction that for the training of mechanics there is only one course open, namely, that of apprenticeship in a shop by the side of a good workman. Provide the apprentices with instruction specially suited to their requirements, such as mathematics, the elements of mechanics, and drawing, and you have a technical school. But a technical school is not established by giving to boys, who are in no way designed for an artizan's life, or intend to follow it, opportunities for acquiring a certain amount of skill as amateur handicraftsmen. I do not ignore the collateral advantage that a boy may become proud of his proficiency, and resolve to forego, and induce others of his class to forego, their hereditary callings in order to become artizans by trade. But such cases will be rare.

5. Mr. R. H. Wilson, with whose name this school is associated, tells me that it was his object to train boys of the artizan castes in the workshop, and to give them also some education in school calculated to develop their intelligence and make them better workmen; that is to say, he intended to establish a technical school in the true sense of the word. But the information at my disposal does not show to what extent that intention has been carried out, and until it be supplied, I regret that I am not in a position to recommend a grant to the school

6. The original enclosures are herewith returned.

No. 537, dated Calcutta, the 17th August 1886.

From—G. K. LYON, Esq., Offg. Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, General Dept.,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

WITH reference to your letter No. 245, dated the 16th June 1886, and enclosures, on the subject of an application for a grant-in-aid to the Maisadal Zemindary Technical School at Midnapore, I am directed to invite your attention to paragraphs 1 and 4 of the letter from the Secretary of the school to the Magistrate of Midnapore, which forms an enclosure to your letter, and to request that the "application in due form," and the "statement showing the receipts and disbursements" for twelve months, therein referred to, may be submitted.

2. It is not understood whether the school is attended by boys of the artizan castes, who will be likely to adopt carpentry or tinsmith's work as a profession, or by boys of other castes attending other schools as well as this technical school, and never likely to be more than amateur handicraftsmen. From the wording of the Secretary's report, especially paragraph 5, it seems probable that the latter is the case.

No. 442, dated Burdwan, the 22nd October 1886.

Memo. by—J. BEAMES, Esq., Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

COPY, with enclosure, submitted to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, with reference to his No. 537 of the 17th August last.

No. 3638, dated Midnapore, the 29th September 1886.

From—R. CORNISH, Esq., Offg. Magistrate of Midnapore,
To—The Commissioner of the Burdwan Division.

WITH reference to your endorsement No. 162 of the 26th ultimo, regarding the Maisadal Zemindars' Technical School at Midnapore, I have the honour to enclose the application in due form for a grant-in-aid, and the statement showing the receipts and disbursements for twelve months.

2. As to the class of pupils now attending the school, I beg to quote as follows what the Secretary has recently written to me on the subject:—

"As to the social position of the pupils of the school, I beg to say that there are some 12 boys who belong to no other school, and who wish to take to carpentry or tinsmith's work as their profession. There are also some four boys who, though they belong to other schools, yet are resolved to make carpentry the profession of their future life. I have also just secured the admission of some ten new boys into the school, who purely belong to the artizan class, and who go to no other school. These boys will be admitted just after the Dusserah holidays."

It would appear from the above that boys likely to adopt carpentry or tinsmith's work as their future profession in life, as well as those who are never likely to be more than amateur handicraftsmen, are now the pupils of the school, the success of which will depend largely on the sufficiency of its funds.

No. 1125T—G, dated Darjeeling, the 1st November 1886.

Endorsed by the Government of Bengal, General Department.

THE papers within, together with the letter from the Commissioner of Burdwan, No. 245, dated the 16th June 1886, and its enclosures, forwarded in original to the Director of Public Instruction for the favour of a report, with reference to his letter No. 5431, dated the 10th August 1886.

2. The return of the original papers with the reply is requested.

No. 7438, dated Calcutta, the 27th November 1886.

From—A. W. CROFT, Esq., Director of Public Instruction, Bengal,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department.

I HAVE the honour to acknowledge the receipt of your endorsement No. 1125T—G dated 1st instant, enclosing the further papers asked for in my letter No. 5431, dated 10th August last. In reference to the statement of receipts and disbursements therewith forwarded, I find that the account which I gave of the financial position of the school in the second paragraph of my letter above quoted must be modified. It now appears that at a total outlay for establishment of Rs. 798, and for materials (excluding unused materials in stock) of Rs. 414, articles either sold or saleable have been manufactured to the value of Rs. 785. This shows a loss of about Rs. 427 on the year's working, which has been met by subscriptions, Rs. 790; interest on invested funds, Rs. 75; and saving on the donations for initial expenses, Rs. 188; leaving a balance of about Rs. 626 in favour of the school. The subscription of Rs. 45 a month, which the managers guarantee for the future, will be more than sufficient to cover the loss on its working; and the object of the Government grant solicited is to provide a Superintendent and superior teacher for the school.

2. It appears that out of some 50 or 60 boys on the rolls, 10 belong to the artizan class, and 16 others, though not belonging to that class, intend to adopt, as their future calling, one or other of the trades taught in the school. I need not dwell on the importance of training to handicrafts students of the latter class, and thus of relieving pro tanto the pressure on the literate occupations; but it is doubtful how far intentions thus expressed will persist in the face of future experience and social opposition. The most hopeful class, and that which it should be the chief business of the school to attract and train, are the sons of artizans. The rest of the pupils may be neglected in considering the value of a technical school. They will, as explained in my previous letter, be amateurs only; and though their presence in the school will do no harm, a school composed of such pupils has no claim on Government for aid. It in no way promotes technical education. The following remarks are made on the understanding that the school will contain a sufficient number of pupils, who are to be trained to handicrafts as their future calling.

3. The school now contains three teachers of carpentry and tinsmith's work, on Rs. 25, Rs. 15, and Rs. 14, respectively. These teachers are artizans, and the first is said to be an exceptionally good workman. It is to be presumed therefore that the staff of instructors is sufficient for a complete training in the manual portion of these trades; and that a continued course of manual instruction in the school will serve the purpose that is ordinarily served by apprenticeship in a shop by the side of a good workman. It is also presumed, either that the pupils have received instruction in the rudiments of knowledge—reading, writing, and arithmetic, or that they are now receiving such instruction in the adjoining vernacular school: that is, that their intelligence and their hands alike are being trained. What is further required, if this is to be a genuine technical school, is that the pupils should acquire such additional instruction in special subjects, allied to their particular trades, as will make them more skilful and accurate workmen, and raise them above the level of the ordinary bazar mistre. This object can best be secured by appointing a Superintendent, who not only knows by actual experience what good work is, but can also impart instruction in drawing, elementary mechanics, and the use of improved tools. As to drawing, which should include geometrical drawing and drawing to scale the object is to impart notions of accuracy, in which the ordinary Indian workman is remarkably deficient. To quote a phrase which was lately used to me, "he must be taught to understand that the twentieth of an inch is of importance." And it is obvious that only a student who has learnt to draw can work effectively from drawings or models—a branch of manual industry to which great attention should be paid if the standard of work is to be raised. As to elementary statics, though the lessons which it teaches may be held to come to every man by common experience, yet it is reasonable to suppose that a definite (even if elementary) course of instruction in that subject will give clearer notions of stability and strength in articles of daily use and manufacture; and in any case it educates the intelligence in the sphere of the artizan's daily work. As to the use of improved tools, two points are to be considered —first, the desirability and even necessity of extending the use of such instruments if native handicraft is to be brought up to anything near the European level; and secondly, the probability that the artizan, when left to himself after his school-training is finished, will be forced to revert to the tools which he finds in the bazar, and which alone he can generally afford to buy. Thus it is desirable, not only that he should be taught to use bazar tools in the best manner, but that he should also have the advantage of using other and better tools, and of learning, both by practice and by definite instruction, wherein their superiority lies. Mr. F. J. Spring, of the Public Works Department, to whom I am indebted for many valuable hints on the subject of technical education, informs me that a course of 20 lessons on the use of cutting tools could be easily given to students, and would be of great service to them. These three—drawing, mechanics, and the use of tools—are all the special subjects that I would have taught in the school. No error can be worse than that of overloading the learners' minds with subjects that have no special bearing on the trades they are to learn, and that will make them good theorists, but indifferent workmen. On the other hand, there is no advantage to be gained from aiding with a Government grant an institution in which the pupils learn nothing more than they would learn by an ordinary course of apprenticeship in the bazar. Government aid is justified on this sole condition, that the pupils become better workmen by its means.

4. I believe that a Superintendent possessing the required qualifications could be secured for something like Rs. 50 a month from among the passed mechnical apprentices of the Seebpore College On this understanding, and in the belief that the other conditions that I have named can be secured, I have every confidence in recommending that the grant of Rs. 50 a month now asked for be sanctioned. I hope that the Maisadal school will be only one of many of a similar kind to be established throughout the country. On this subject I propose to submit a full report hereafter.

5. The enclosures of your letter are returned.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* Mean for six days. † Mean for five days.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past 5 The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturation being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The numbe the mean or average of the rainfall in that the district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the pa stations in the district reading in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

for the week ending Friday, the 24th December 1886.

variations are negative when the mean for the week is less than the corresponding normal mean, and positive when greater. amount represents the part of the sky covered, the whole sky being denoted by 10. Under the head "District observations of rainfall" the normal means ns of the district are the numerical averages of the rainfall return received in the district, i.e., from the total rainfall at the sub-division

Calcutta, the 24th December 1886.

SUMMARY OF THE METEORGLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 24TH OF DECENBER 1886.

THERE is little to note in the meteorology of the past fortnight. The breaking up of the small cyclonic storm which passed across the Madras coast on the 10th, was followed by general slight disturbance in Bengal. The vorticose motion of the air in the Bay gave a slight influx of aqueous vapour to Bengal. The sky began to cloud over on the 6th, and cloudy weather prevailed from that date to the 14th. Temperature, more especially the night temperature, increased very considerably. Rain in moderate amounts fell in Orissa and the adjacent districts of South-West Bengal on the 11th and 12th, and in the northern districts of North Bengal, and over the whole of Behar excepting Monghyr and the Sonthal Pergunnahs, between the 11th and 14th. Skies began to clear on the 14th, and from the 15th to the end of the period under review, fine, clear, dry weather prevailed throughout the province.

The barometer was below the normal height during the period of slight atmospheric disturbance. From the 14th to the 24th it fluctuated in the usual manner during fine weather. The mean pressure of the week ending the 17th was ·04 inch below the normal mean for Orissa, ·02 inch in South-West Bengal and Central Behar, ·01 inch in Eastern Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. The mean pressure of the week ending the 24th was approximately identical with the normal pressure of the period.

Temperature has been above the average during the fortnight. This excess was very considerable from the 10th to the 17th. The mean daily temperature of this period was from 2° to 6° above the average, and the mean minimum night temperature from 5° to 10° above it. The variations were much smaller during the second week of the fortnight, and the temperature at the end of the period was practically normal. The mean temperature of the week was from ½° to 1½° above the average for the period.

Fairly general rain fell during the period of disturbance (from the 10th to the 14th) in Orissa, the adjacent districts of South-West Bengal, and Behar (except Monghyr and the Sonthal Pergunnahs). The amounts received in the majority of cases were small, no exceeding one or two-tenths of an inch. The average fall exceeded a quarter of an inch in the case of the five following districts :—Pooree 1·55 inches, Cuttack ·55 inch, Durbhunga 1·05 inches, Chumparun ·53 inch, Shahabad ·37 inch. No rain fell after the 15th during the period under review.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 24th of December 1886 :—

MEMORANDUM.

The birth and death returns of the principal Municipalities in Bengal for the week ending 4th December 1886, exhibit the following results :—

1. That births were registered in the above Municipalities at the rate of 26·8 per 1,000 of population, as opposed to very nearly the same proportion, viz. 27·1 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 27th November, and deaths at 46·2 against 48·4 per 1,000, indicating a large diminution in their registration.

2. That the highest proportions of births and deaths were returned from the following Municipalities :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille
Beauleah	49·9	Bhagulpore	88·6
Hughli	49·7	Hughli	84·6
Dacca	48·7	Serampore	82·4

		Naraingunge	37·2
		Patna	35·7
		Purneah	34·6
		Monghyr	31·6
		Midnapore	31·0
		Chittagong	30·5

3. That the mean mortality from the principal diseases mentioned in the following table, in comparison with the mortality from the same diseases in the preceding week, stood as follows :—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	4th Dec 1886.	27th Nov 1886
Cholera	12·9	14·1
Small-pox	...	·03
Fever	16·5	17·5
Bowel-complaints	6·7	6·0
Injury	·1	·3
Other causes	10·0	10·4

indicating chiefly much diminution of mortality from cholera and fever.

4. That while no death was reported to have occurred from small-pox, and the casualties from injury were nowhere noticeably fatal, the rest of the maladies above indicated caused the greatest loss of life in the following Municipalities :—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The rates have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Sex," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the sexes of persons allowed to contract be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.
